

PROF. TYNDALL'S WARNING.

In concluding an address to the students of University College (London) Prof. Tyndall, who is unquestionably one of the most indefatigable brain workers of our century, said, "take care of your health. Imagine Hercules as oarsman in a rotten boat; what can he do there but by the very force of his stroke expedite the ruin of his craft. Take care of the timbers of your boat." The distinguished scientist's advice is equally valuable to all workers. We are apt to devote all our energies to wielding the oars, our strokes fall firm and fast, but few of us examine or even think of the condition of our boats until the broken or rotten timbers suddenly give way and we find ourselves the victims of a calamity which could have been easily avoided by a little forethought. What began with a slight fracture, or perhaps even a careless exposure to disorganizing influences, ends in the complete wreck of the life-boat. The disease which began with a slight headache or an undue exposure to cold terminates in death, unless its progress be checked, and the disease remedied. The first symptoms, the heralds of disease, give no indication of the strength of the on-coming foe, and the victim trusts that his old ally, Nature, will exterminate the invader. But Disease is an old general and accomplishes his most important movements in the night-time, and some bright morning finds him in possession of one of the strongest fortifications; and when he has once gained a stronghold in the system Nature ignominiously turns traitor and secretly delivers up the whole physical armory to the invader. Like the wily politicians, Nature is always on the strongest side, and the only way to insure her support is to keep your vital powers in the ascendant. Keep your strongest forts—the stomach and liver—well guarded. Do not let the foe enter the arterial highways, for he will steal or destroy your richest merchandise and impoverish your kingdom. To repulse the attacks of the foe you can find no better ammunition than Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines. (Full directions accompany each package.) His pleasant Purgative Pellets are especially effective in defending the stomach and liver. His Golden Medical Discovery for purifying the blood and arresting coughs and colds. If you wish to become familiar with the most approved system of defense in this warfare, and the history of the foe's method of invasion, together with complete instructions for keeping our forces in martial order in time of peace, you can find no better manual of these tactics than "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser," by R. V. Pierce, M. D., of the World's Dispensary, Buffalo, N. Y. Sent to any address on receipt of $1.50. It contains over nine hundred pages, illustrated by two hundred and eighty-two engravings and colored plates, and elegantly bound in cloth and gilt.

On Hunt of a Wife.

The Baltimore "Sun" of Friday says: "Quite a sensation was created at the office of Bayview Trustees in the City Hall yesterday by a 70-year-old farmer who applied for a permit to visit Bayview Asylum for the purpose of choosing a wife. The novel wife-seeker is a German, living in Baltimore county, on the Belair road, and speaks so little English that his wishes were not fully understood until addressed in his mother-tongue by Colonel Snyder. He then stated, in a business-like way, that he wanted a wife, and wished to take his choice from the females at Bayview. The sincerity of the old man in urging his singular request caused his hearers to smile, and he appeared annoyed at the matter being treated with levity. He said that seven years ago, wanting a wife, the idea struck him that perhaps he could find one at Bayview. He obtained permission to visit the institution, made known his request, and was aided by the superintendent in making a suitable selection from the large number on hand. He 'popped the question' without ceremony. The woman consented without ceremony, the marriage ceremony was solemnized, and the couple lived very happily together until her death three years ago. She made him a good 'frau,' he said, and now that he has revered her memory three years, he wishes to cry the Bayview lottery once more. Colonel Snyder furnished a permit to the institution, accompanied by a note to Superintendent Mitchell 'to accommodate the bearer' and the old man went on his way rejoicing. In the afternoon he returned in company with his wife, both of them as happy as the circumstances would permit. Purveyor Hiss ungalantly suggests that if it become generally known that applicants go to Bayview for wives the institution will have to be enlarged."

Going for the Chinamen.

Great excitement is prevailing in Chico, Cal., from the fact that a number of citizens on Saturday morning received threatening letters through the post-office, reading: "Get rid of your Chinese help within fifteen days, or suffer the consequence." An officer received notice warning him if he attempted to discover who killed the Chinamen he would be himself killed. Talking is becoming common on the street of forming a vigilance committee. Rewards offered thus far aggregate $3,500, including $1,500 from the State. Two young men were arrested on suspicion. Circumstances point strongly to one of them. The matter is creating a general sensation, and the press of the city are pronounced in demanding the discovery and punishment of the criminals.

John Lindermath, of Newcastle, Pa., was found on Tuesday, frozen to death at Flowery Field. He has been missing since the 10th instant.
