

THE TIMES.

New Bloomfield, April 17, 1877.

NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS. No Cut or Stereotype will be inserted in this paper unless light face and on metal base.

NOTICE TO SUBSCRIBERS. Look at the figures on the label of your paper. These figures tell you the date to which your subscription is paid.

OUR CIRCULATION. For the information of advertisers and others who may be interested in knowing, we will state that the present circulation of THE TIMES is between eighteen hundred and nineteen hundred copies each week.

WHEN we get a little spare time we are going to look over our money to see if we have any of them, for the U. S. Treasurer says: "A counterfeit one thousand dollar legal-tender note is out on the issue of 1862, letter B. A well-executed counterfeit five hundred dollar national bank note is out. Large quantities of silver half dollars are being manufactured and put in circulation."

The Horse Mail Contracts.

Many persons wonder how it is that strangers and men who never saw the country or route over which they are to carry the mail bid for, and obtain these inland contracts.

The following from the Doylestown Democrat will give some light on the subject:

We hear great complaint in the matter of the letting of the local mail routes in this section of the country. For years several short routes through this county have been taken by those who run the two horse stages over the line. The compensation received for carrying the mail and the fare from passengers enabled the owners to make a living and a little more. In most cases the stage and horses are all the property owned by these poor men; and being well acquainted along the route, they not only accommodated the people, but felt an interest in serving the mails with punctuality.

Daring Bank Robbery in New York.

The New York Times of 9th inst., says: The premises occupied by the Sixth National Bank, situated in Thirty-fifth street, at the junction of Broadway and Sixth avenue, were yesterday the scene of an ingeniously planned and most boldly executed robbery. At about 4 o'clock in the afternoon, while officer Tripp, of the Twenty-ninth precinct, was passing the bank building he was astonished, on looking through the window, to see one of the doors of a safe lying on the floor, surrounded by a disordered litter of burglars' tools.

A Fearful Disaster.

ST. LOUIS, April 11.—At 1.30 o'clock this morning the Southern Hotel was discovered to be on fire. The flames had evidently been at work some time.

When the alarm was sounded, which was no doubt done at the moment of discovery, the entire upper portion of the building was on fire.

Flames were bursting from the roof, while from the windows flames poured forth in dense volumes. Alarm after alarm was sounded, bringing out the entire force of engines to the scene.

The great height of the building six stories, rendered the invaded portion extremely difficult of access by the firemen who worked under serious disadvantage.

The scene which presented itself when a reporter arrived on the ground fairly beggars description and cannot be fairly presented with all its horrors.

The greater number of rooms on the upper floors were occupied by permanent boarders. These were awakened from their sleep by the terrible cry of fire.

Many of those who escaped jumped from the fourth, fifth and sixth story windows. All the stores and buildings in the vicinity are filled with the dead and wounded.

As near as can be ascertained, fifty persons were killed and over one hundred were injured.

Kate Claxton, the actress who narrowly escaped death at the Brooklyn Theatre fire, jumped out of the window and broke both her legs.

The wildest excitement prevails, and in the confusion it is almost impossible to realize the full extent of the disaster.

Great Fire at Stamboul.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 12.—A fire at Stamboul Tuesday night destroyed between 300 and 500 houses. It originated in the Greek quarter at about 11 o'clock at night, and rapidly mounted the hill. It was only extinguished on reaching the Turkish quarter at the summit. No public buildings were destroyed. Several firemen were injured, but no loss of life has yet been ascertained.

Stamboul, the scene of the great conflagration announced above, is the name of the Turkish city of Constantinople, as distinguished from Pera and Galata, the quarters allotted to Christians and foreigners. Stamboul occupies the promontory at the Southwestern extremity of the Bosphorus. On one side it overlooks the sea of Marmora, and on the other side is separated from Pera and Galata by the inlet known as the Golden Horn.

Miscellaneous News Items.

A deficit of about $1500 has been discovered in the accounts of Robert Peysert, postmaster at Bethlehem, Pa. There are charges against Mr. Peysert of tampering with letters, and a general mismanagement of the office.

Great Falls, N. H., has had an Enoch Arden case. The long-lost one came home and found his wife with another husband and five new children. No. 2 magnanimously stepped out and No. 1 took possession of wife, children and all.

LONDON, April 9.—The cattle plague has broken out at Willesden in Middlesex county, on a large dairy farm. The entire farm herd of 150 will probably be slaughtered. Within three miles are from 2,000 to 3,000 cows, nearly all of whose milk goes to London.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The jail at Conyers, Georgia, was destroyed by fire last night. The only prisoners were two negroes, and they were burned to death. It is supposed the negroes set fire to the building so as to escape. Every effort was made to save them but without effect.

"Gentlemen of the jury," said a Baltimore lawyer in the criminal court, "do you believe that my client was guilty of selling beer to a boy in a small bottle?" The jury thought it was a mixed proposition, and disagreed.

The "six-cornered church," near Greenville and Peunburg, Montgomery county, has just been torn down to provide a site for a church. It stood seventy-four years. It was built of rough stone, which will be used for the structure. The "six-cornered church" was known far and wide. It was built in 1803.

Seven Chinamen are partners in business in San Francisco. A creditor, finding it hard work to collect a debt, learned that the money was in the safe, that the safe had seven different locks, that each partner had one key, and the firm had to be unanimous before the money could be touched.

The trial of C. A. Reese, charged with killing Dr. J. A. Shade, his father-in-law, of Huntingdon county, has been postponed until the 2d of June. The accused was to have been tried last week, but the panel of jurors was quashed because not properly drawn. About 300 witnesses have been subpoenaed in this trial.

Fatal Accident at Baldwin.

Mr. Langfelt taking with him his little daughter, aged between five and six years. The top of the hoist is about 100 feet high. While the elevator was descending, and when about 80 feet from the ground, the little girl stepped aside, and before she could be grasped by her father fell over the side and was precipitated to the bottom, fracturing her skull and receiving other injuries from the effects of which she died about eleven o'clock the same night.

In New York on Monday morning, while the funeral services of Mr. Gustavus Schmitz, late organist of St. Patrick's Cathedral, were being conducted at that church, the mourning drapery surrounding the organ gallery took fire and sprang into a blaze. The audience made a rush, but the flames were speedily extinguished and the excitement subsided. It is believed that a few persons were seriously hurt.

The Greencastle Echo says: An unknown horse disease is prevailing in some portions of this township, which baffles the skill of the veterinary surgeons. Captain Samuel Leaser informs us that within the past two weeks, Mr. David Byers, residing in the marsh, lost four valuable work horses by the disease, and Mr. David Kohler, of the Clay Hill settlement, has lost two. The animals exhibited no pain and died shortly after being attacked.

A pleasant instance of true generosity and its reward occurred, last week, at Rockport, Mass. A woman who supported her two children by hard work was asked by a fellow-workman in the mill to aid in making a purse "for a poor woman." She had but 60 cents left to carry her and her children through the month, but she gave 25 cents. A little later the person returned and told the woman the purse was meant for her, and handed her $35.

Hiram Arbuckle, of East Montpelier, Vt., shot George Short twice Thursday. Then leaving his victim for dead Arbuckle repaired to the blacksmith shop of his brother-in-law, George Bancroft, and shot him through the arm. Bancroft ran and Arbuckle pursued, shooting him in the back and the third time through the head, killing him. The murderer then went to his house and shot himself through the breast. He is believed to have been insane. Short is still alive, though in a critical condition.

From the Pittstown Ledger we learn that the citizens of Amityville, Berks co., and vicinity, have been thrown into the wildest state of excitement over the fact that their dogs and cattle have been seized with hydrophobia, and are doing much mischief. Sad to relate three ladies have also been bitten.

It appears that an ordinary house cat belonging to Mr. Jeremiah Schaeffer was first seized with hydrophobia and bit two dogs. They also became mad and bit the chickens. One of the dogs bit a little child of Moses Yecum in the foot, but fortunately the dog's teeth did not penetrate through the leather.

Coroner's Verdict in the Jewett Tragedy. NEW YORK, April 12.—The inquest in the Jewett tragedy was finished this afternoon, and the jury returned the following verdict: We find that Geo. W. Jewett came to his death by the explosion of a hand grenade at 182 Front street on April 5, 1877, brought to the office by Orville D. Jewett, and that said Orville D. Jewett came to his death by pistol shot wounds caused by the firing of a pistol by the said Orville D. Jewett.

It will be a matter of interest to all our readers who are desirous of adorning their homes, to know that there has been incorporated in New York a Stock Company with a cash capital of a quarter of a million of dollars, for the manufacture of Pianos, which will be sold direct to the people at factory prices. Its name is the MENDELSON PIANO CO., office No. 56 Broadway, New York.

These Pianos made one of the finest displays at the Centennial Exhibition, and were unanimously recommended for the Diploma of Honor and Medal of Merit.

This Company are the first to do a general business with the purchaser direct, saving him more than one-half the price charged by other first-class makers.

We would recommend any of our readers who have any idea of ever buying a piano, to send for their Illustrated and Descriptive Catalogue, which will be mailed free to all.
