Accident to an Eye.-On Thursday a week a man named Bryant, employed at the Duncanuon nail works, received a serious injury to one of his eyes by an iron splinter. He was admitted to the Harrisburg Hospital where an operation was performed on Monday of last week. which it is hoped will save the eve.

A Narrow Escape .- A little daughter of Sol. Tresslers' aged about 5 years, fell off the bridge into the race at Markelville on Monday of last week. Mr. Jacob Markel happened to be looking out of the window, saw the accident, and hastening to her rescue, succeeded in bringing her to shore. It was with some difficulty that the child was resuscitated, as several minutes had elapsed, from the time the child fell in before he could reach her.

Engineer Killed .- An old freight engineer in the employ of the Pennsylvania railroad company, named Hettrick, in charge of engine 161, while laying on the middle track at Penningtonville, Chester county, was struck by the engine of the Harrisburg express train westward bound, about seven o'clock Wednesday evening, and was so seriously injured that he died on the express train in about one hour after the accident. Chicken Hawks in Jail .- Two darkies named Strafford and Green were too fond of poultry and consequently visited the premises of Mr. John C. Gantt in Millerstown, and he charges them with having taken away some of his chickens. The result of the matter was that Constable Gilfillen insisted upon their visiting Bloomfield jail in his company, and on their arrival here the Sheriff thought best to keep them in his charge until they could have an interview with his Honor, Judge Junkin.

Quite Unfortunate. - A lively race took place between John Minich and McDivitt, a few days ago. They had made a bet of $5 in regard to the purchase of a certain horse and each started for the place where the horse was for sale. They both arrived at about the same minute and then began a search around the premises for the owner. Mr. Minich found him first and instantly asked for the price accepted the offer and handed over $10 to bind the bargain. Just then McDivitt came in and finding he was beaten made haste to get back to where the stakes were put up in order to claim them. Unfortunately he was in too much of a hurry and in consequence got upset, breaking his buggy and hurting himself quite seriously. So he lost the horse purchase, lost his bet, upset and broke his buggy and has a doctor's bill to pay. Moral:-Don't make bets.
