

Amusing Mistake of Two Young Preachers.

An amusing scene occurred in the Christian Church at Larksville, Pa., on Sunday a week. It appears that the Methodist pulpit at that place was to be supplied by a preacher from the Wyoming Seminary, and two young men proceeded thither for the purpose of conducting the service. Instead of going into the M. E. Church, however, they went into the Christian Church, on the opposite side of the street, where they found a large congregation. Thinking that they had been waited for they proceeded at once to the vacant pulpit, and, after a brief pause and a glance at the congregation, one of them rose, read a chapter in the Bible, and said he had selected it as the foundation of a few remarks. The Rev. Mr. Bevan, pastor of the church, who was a little behind time, walked in at this interesting juncture, and much to his surprise found his pulpit occupied. He did not make a demonstration like Robert of Sicily, when that monarch found an angel in his place, but proceeded softly up and took his seat inside the railing to await further developments.

The young preacher was about to go on with his discourse, unconscious of the sensation he was creating, when a lady from the church on the opposite side of the street entered, and walking straight up to the pulpit beckoned to the young man, who was about to hold forth. Her conduct seemed somewhat strange to him, but he stopped to listen, and she whispered something in his ear that made him change color quickly. She told him that he was in the wrong pulpit, and that the congregation over the way was waiting somewhat impatiently for his arrival. The two young men were very much discomfited, but after a moment they mastered the situation and sought a short interview with Elder Bevan, to whom they made suitable apology. They then proceeded to the church across the road, but as they left the congregation smiled audibly over their mistake.

TITANS AND MEN.

"Blessed are the meek," exclaims the voice of inspiration, but can a man be meek with the consciousness that a dreaded monster is consuming his vitals. We are not a race of Titans. A Prometheus might stand chained to the torturing rock with a vulture perpetually gnawing his liver, and his face ever wear an expression of heroic and even meek endurance. But Prometheus has left no descendants. With vultures (disease) consuming his liver, the modern man makes himself and every one around him miserable. Fretful, gloomy, hypochondriacal, he sees the world and life all on the wrong side and all who in any way assert that there is a sunny side, he regards as an enemy, or at best a mocker of his imaginary woes. Unlike the mythical Titan, the victim of disease is not successful. There is an arm to rescue—a balm to cleanse and heal. As remedies for this most depressing of all diseases,—"Liver Complaint,"—none are more efficient or popular than Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Pleasant Purgative Pellets. The Pellets effectually remove the effete and poisonous matter, while the Medical Discovery imparts strength and health to the entire system. They are sold by druggists.

A Singular Accident.

On Tuesday last at Philadelphia a man seeing locomotive No. 64 of the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore Railroad standing on the track jumped into the cab. The engineer and fireman were sitting on the curbstone, reading a newspaper at the time. Before they could reach the engine the man opened the throttle and started down the track at high speed. A gondola car was standing opposite the west end of the freight depot. As the engine struck this man in the cab tried to stop, but instead of doing so he pulled the throttle wide open and rushed through the freight shed to the wharf, where they were two box cars which had just been unloaded with staves. As the man reached the shed he either tried to get out of the cab or fell out into the yard and thence into the river and was drowned. The engine jumped the track and tore up the rails on both sides, but did not go overboard. The cars were pushed against the bumpers at the end of the dock. One of them was thrown forty feet to the left and fell into the water and the other went over on the opposite side.—The gondola car did not go over but was demolished. The engine which was not very badly damaged was run to the shops for repairs. Shortly after the affair had happened the body of the man who had done all the mischief was recovered and removed to the Morgue.

Greatly Eggshited.

New Yorkers are eggshited, and all about eggs. Eggshitedly why they should be is eggshitedly explained by the fact that an act has been hatched by the assembly and sent to the Senate to nurture and bring up into full-grown chickenhood. Governor Robinson will probably have to decide whether the act is a good one or not. It may prove to be a good and it may turn out to be a bad egg, and it is all because some of the solons of that august body want to have eggs sold by weight. If the members of the New York Assembly were to be weighed in the balance against the hen-fruit of the State they might be found wanting to a great eggshited in the albumenic qualities which are supposed to create brain for those who lack it, in the upper stories of New York legislators.
