After having inspected a pile of calleo in one of the Woodward avenue stores recently, a somewhat rusty-looking man blandly remarked to the clerk be-

"Credit must be given me---" "No, sir-we don't trust," was the

"I was going to remark that credit must be given me for----"We couldn't do it sir. The rule applies to every one."

"Couldn't do what?" asked the man.

"Couldn't give you credit." "You are very uncivil, sir very, but yet I will say before I go out of here that credit must be given me for being honest and impartial, when I say that I never saw three hitching-posts look nicer than them out there. That's all, sir, and I wish I hadn't said that much.

A Sharp Repartee.

Mr. Wendell Phillips was once riding in a railroad car, when he was addressed by a man of such rotundity that he seemed to carry everything before him. The man asked Mr. Phillips what was the object of his life.

"Te benefit the negro," was the reply. "Then why don't you go South to do It ?" "That is worth thinking of. I see a white cravat around you neck; what is the object of your life ?"

"To save souls from hell?" "May I ask whether you propose to go there to do it ?"

W " My folks are going to the country to begone all summer !" enthusiastically exclaimed a little girl as she met another on Cass avenue. "Your pa must be awful rich," replied the second. "Oh, no, he isn't; but if you'll never tell anybody I'll tell you something. "I never will— hope to die if I do." "Well, then pa was telling ma that we'd all go out to Uncle John's. Ma she'll work for her board; pa will work in the saw-mill; I'll pick berries and ride the horse to plough corn; brother Tom will go around with a lightning rod man, and while you folks are in the awful heat, we'll be putting on airs and fixing over our old clothes for fall. Don't you tell, now, for ma is saying to everybody that she must have the country air to restore her shattered nerves."-Detroit Free Press.

Please, I want the doctor to come and see mother," said a boy who had knocked at a doctors door. tor's out. Where do you come from ?" replied the servant. "What! don't you know me?" Why, we deal with you. We had a baby from here last week!" earnestly asserted the boy .-Sondon

A woman in Omaha choked almost to death, and entirely destroyed her power of speech, the other day, by swallowing a gaiter button, whereat some saucy paragraph writer remarks: "We have said a thousand times that some serious trouble would yet come of Omaha women unbuttoning their shoes with their teeth."

ar A man in Kansas was present at the funeral of a neighbor of whom no good could be honestly said. But everybody was saying something, and this man, not wishing to appear singular, but being incapable of a lying eulogy, remarked that it was "a nice, quiet corpse."

A facetious physician, an old bachelor, said the other day to a single lady. "How can you with a clear conscience answer St. Peter when you shall reach heaven's gate, for your heartlessness in refusing so many marriage offers?" The lady archly replied, "I shall tell the Apostle that Dr. ---, did not ask me."

The devil picked up a paper and said: "Here's something about a woman; must I cut it out ?"

"No!" thundered the editor; "the first disturbance in the world was occasioned by the devil fooling around a woman.'

A dreamy writer says it would be curious to follow a pound of silk from its spinning until it became a lady's dress. No doubt. But most men would prefer to follow it after it became a dress. and while the lady was in it.

An exchange says the business men of a western town have presented their editor with a horse and buggy, as an evidence of their appreciation of his paper. Much sympathy is expressed for the horse.
