Schneider's Tomatoes.
Schneider is very fond of tomatoes. Schneider has a friend in the country who raises "garden sass and sich." Schneider had an invitation to visit his friend last week, and regale himself on his favorite vegetable. His friend Pfeiffer being busy negotiating with a city produce dealer, on his arrival, Schneider thought he would take a stroll in the garden, and see some of his favorites in their pristine beauty. We will let him tell the rest of the story in his own language:
"Veil, I walks shust a liddle while roundt, when I sees some off dose der-marters vot vas so red und nice as I neder dit see any more, und I dinks I vill put mineself outside about a gouple-a-tozen, shust to geef me a liddle abbe-dite vor dinner. So I bulls off von ov der reddest und pest lookin of dose der-marters, und dakes a pooty goot pite out ov dot, und vas chewing it oup pooty quick, ven—by chimney!—I dort I had a peese ov red-hot goals in mine mout, or vas chewing oup dwor dree bapers of needles; und I velt so pad, al-ready, dot mine eyes vas voof of tears, und I mate vur an "olt oken bucket" vot I seen hanging in der vell, as I vas goomin' along.

"Shust den mine vried Pfeiffer game oup und ask me vot mate me veel so padt, und if any of mine family vas dead. I doid him dot I vas the only von of der family dot vas pooty sick; und den I ask him vot kind of der-marters dose vas vot I hat shust peen blicking; und, mine cracious, how dot landsman laughft, und said dot dose vas red peppers dot he vas raising vor bepper sauce. You pet my life I vas mat. I radder you give me feefty tollars as to eat some more ov dose pepper-sauce der-marters."
Clergyman makes a pastoral call—lady brings forward her son of eight years, to be examined as to his theological sentiments:
Pastor—"What is a miracle?"
Boy—"Dunno."
Pastor—"If you were to see the sun in the middle of the night, what would you think of it?"
Boy—"Should think 'twas the moon."
Pastor—"But if somebody was to tell you 'twas the sun, what would you think?"
Boy—"Should think 'twas a lie."
Pastor—"But I don't lie. If I should tell you 'twas the sun, what would you think?"
Boy—"Should think you wasn't sober."

A lawyer upon a circuit in Ireland, who was pleading the case of an infant plaintiff, took the child up in his arms, and presented it to the jury, suffused with tears. This had a great effect until the opposite lawyer asked the child, "What makes you cry?" "He pinched me!" answered the little innocent. The whole court was convulsed with laughter.

"Aunt Julia," said a blooming girl of seventeen, "what is necessary in order to write a good love letter?" "Well," replied the aunt, "you must begin without knowing what you mean to say, and finish without knowing what you have written."

As Frank, who had been taught to believe that he had been made of dust, stood watching the dust as the wind whirled it in eddies, he exclaimed: "Ma, I think the dust looks as if there was going to be another little boy made."
"He is a man after my own heart, pa," said Julia, reverting to her Augustus. "Nonsense," replied old Practical, "he is a man after the money your uncle left you." And then all was quiet.

"I have lost my appetite," said a gigantic friend to Snodgrass the other day. "I hope," replied Snodgrass "that no poor man has found it, for it would ruin him in a week."
Wellington, it is said, was always fond of bestowing military names on various articles. He called night-gown a nap-sack.
