The advertisement of the Workingmen and Greenback parties will be found in another part of this paper.

The lawful age for sending children to the public schools is that of six years, and one can continue in the schools until twenty-one.

The children of the Loysville Orphan School will be in the procession on Thurs-day and will give a concert in the Court House on Thursday evening.

A tramp who pretended to be a physician was placed in jail on Wednesday last for stealing some medical instruments from Dr. Orris at Newport.

The gray mare belonging to Charley McKeehan, of Centre twp., fell dead while he was working her on Friday last. It will be quite a loss to Charley.

Eels seem to be remarkably plenty. Nearly every day for the past week there has been bushels of them in town for

Rev. J. B. Soule, last week, while visiting a friend in Lancaster fell down a flight of stairs and dislocated one of his shoulders besides sustaining other inju-

The Susquehanna river at Harrisburg was so low last week that the low water mark of "1803," cut on the rock off Pine street, was visible, about a foot below the surface of the water.

A correspondent says "that persons who listen under the windows and repeat conversations, trouble some of the people of Ickesburg." Bloomfield has some such cattle too, so our correspondent will have some comfort, in as much as misery loves company. misery loves company.

On Monday of last week the old bridge at Bridgeport was floated away by the high water. The bridge had been cut loose, (the contractor, Mr. Aaron Shreffler), intending to use it as a staging to work from in erecting the new bridge. The accident will delay the work and be quite a loss to Mr. S.

Nathan Flickinger, employed at the new Pennsylvania railroad bridge at Rockville, while at work near the Perry county side, Thursday morning about 8.30 o'clock, lost his balance and fell into the river, and was instantly killed. The body was recovered during the afternoon, some distance below the bridge.

Hurt .- Mr. James McClintock at Newport slipped and fell while taking his boat through the lock at Thompsontown on Tuesday, and had an arm broken and received other injuries which made it necessary to bring him home, where Dr. Orris attended to the case.

The Re-Union promises to be a success. From various parts of the county we hear reports which show that strong delegations are coming, and the citizens generally appear to be interested in the matter. Five, and probably six bands will come. The address of welcome will be delivered by Judge Junkin, and other good speakers are engaged for the occasion.

Montgomery's Ferry Again.—Determined to maintain its past reputation, Montgomery's Ferry sends another list of stealings. Our correspondent says:-"Sometime on Tuesday night, some persons stole half a hog from Mrs. Bitting. Entrance to the house was obtained by breaking the window.

On the same night, some one entered the house of Adam Fortney, and stole a quantity of provisions, of both solid and fluid, leaving the whiskey they did not steal to run out on the cellar floor. Several other minor deviltries are reported, the facts of which I cannot learn. Can't you get that detective or missionary sent here? I would prefer the detective if a good one."

Good Luck.-Henry Fraclich,a German residing in Penn twp., this county, about a mile from Duncannon, we consider a very lucky fellow. He is about coming into possession of the snug little sum of $500, bequeathed to him some four years ago by an aunt who died in Indiana. His friends who have been searching for him unavailingly all these years, as a last resort inserted an adverment in a German paper, published at Harrisburg, and said advertisement coming under the eye of Mrs. Lewis Harling, she at once reported it to Mr. Fracilch, who immediately put himself into communication with the proper parties, with the result above indi-

Narrow Escape from Death. - On Saturday Mr. Daniel Fleury, of Oliver twp., was in the woods seeking after game, while a Mr. Rider was in the neighborhood of Mr. Fleury for the same purpose, but each were unacquainted with the other's whereabouts. Presently Mr. Rider, our informant states, leveled his gun, which was double barreled, at an object, some distance off, which he supposed was game, the woods being dense and the object partly hidden, and blazed away. But his supposed game neither dropped or run away, and just as he was sending off the second load of shot a man, who proved to be the other subject of this sketch, threw up his hands and shouted aloud not to shoot again, thereby thus narrowly saving his own life.-Upon examination it was found that a shot had struck Mr. Fleury's hat rim, another passed up his coat sleeve, while others lodged elsewhere in his coat, but none of the leaden messengers penetrated his body.-News.

Mr. Entron—With your permition I will reply briefely to "Chool Teacher" in the Freeman of 3d inst. I didn't wish nor intend to agatate the chool question, but I have red and listend for yeares and yeares to this harping about the lowe wages of the commen chool Teachers untill I think that the time to ceape cliance has past a way and in the first place I think the languidge yoused to a set of men whoe give thare time and energe to the commen chool cistom without eany remuneration is unpardingive there time and energe to the commen chool cistom without emp remuneration is unpardinible and shoud be rebuked, now as to the hardness of choole teaching it is all foliderall he cites with his cote on onely six ourse in the twenty fore and five dais in the sevin, sow that it cannot be so hard either fleacally or mentily and some of them is carefull not to take up to soon or to let out to late, and besides the have a week between the Hallow Dayes so that it apeares nothing will do them but all the time and all the money, wile other men and weeman worke lait and erly for haf the wages and has to take traid for it but the chool Teacher's money is scraiped up frome rich and poore and is reddy for him when erned, so Mr. Chool Teacher, we want to here no more whining about hire wages these hare times but put in youre ful time and try and lern your cholars and you can.

Marysville Correspondence.

MARYSVILLE, Pa., October 10, 1877.

Mr. Editor:—The temperance cause has been brought before the minds of our people by a series of meetings which were inaugurated last Saturday evening in the Bethel church. The Murphy pledge was presented and received several signers. There is to be another meeting next Saturday evening. We trust much good will be done.

ing next Saturday evening. We trust much good will be done.

The schools of the borough were opened on the 24th ult. The general attendance is pretty good, yet there is room for improvement in this direction. Some of the parents here, as elsewhere, do not fully realize the importance of sending their children to school at the beginning of a session, and regularly after their admission.

admission.

Judying from the amount of freight passing through here daily, we might suppose that hard times were among the things of the past. Carloads of apples, pears, other fruit, and grain have passed through, to say nothing of the immense amount of coal and live stock. Much of the western grain formerly shipped from New York, we are told, is now being sent to Baltimore to be shipped owing to the improved facilities for shipping in the latter place, the elevator having been repaired lately and increased in size.

increased in size.

That the ague is making its rounds many of our place will testify through sad experience.

The recent heavy rains caused a considerable rise in the river.

Juniata County .- We copy the following from the Juniata county papers of last week.

On Saturday last Annie, littledaughter of Philo Shively, residing in Fermanagh township met with an accident by which she broke her leg. She was after chestnuts near the house and was in the act of getting off a tree and jumped lighting on the side of her foot with the result above mentioned. The distance she jumped was not more than five or six feet. Dr. Crawford was summoned and set the limb and she is doing as well as could be expected. as could be expected.

The rain last week flooded the streams in Tuscarora valley, and did great damage to fences. Patton, Sterrett, Gilson and others in Spruce Hill township lost many panels of fence.

Cumberland County .- We copy the following from the Cumberland county papers of last week:

Mr. Daniel Clever, of Jacksonville, has purchased the farm of Craig McCune, dec'd., near Oakville, for $65 per acre.

Three cows belonging to Mr. Samuel Stone, of Carlisle, were killed by the cars on the C. V. R. R., near Carlisle on last Saturday night. The cows were valued at $50 each.

George D. Voglesonger, of Shippensburg, while on his way home from the barber shop, last Saturday night, was attacked by two ruflians who robbed him of $21.

On Sunday morning Mr. W. A. P. Linn, who resides a short distance East of this place, discovered that a fine bay mare was missing from his field, and after search had been made, he came to the conclusion that she was stolen, and thereupon telegraphed to various points to intercept or look out for the thief. On Monday morning Mr. Linn came into this office and offered a reward of $20 for the return of the horse by means of hand-bills, and had also a lot of postal cards printed for the purpose of sending broadcast over the country. However, not feeling satisfied that the mare was stolen, he concluded to search the field thoroughly, and in doing so he discover-ed a small sinkhole, scarcely large enough to put a bushel basket in, and at the bot-tom of it he found his mare dead. From the size of the hole and the manner in which the animal was lying, it is thought the ground gave away under her hind feet first, and then dropped into it back-ward. The mare was a very fine one, and quite a loss to Mr. Linn.—Shippensburg News.

burg News.

The fine double-deck barn belonging to Mr. William Watts, near Bowman's Dale, was destroyed by fire between 11 and 12 o'clock, on Sunday night. Everything in the barn was destroyed, including five horses, a considerable number of horned cattle, wagons, etc. The barn was insured, but not the crops. The building was undoubtedly fired by incendiaries. This is the second barn that has been destroyed for Mr. Watts within three years. An east wind prevailed at the time and it was only by an extraordinary effort made by Mr. Watts' family and neighbors that the house was saved.

On Tuesday, as workmen were engaged in hanging a new bell in the cupola of the Lutheran church in Churchtown, a pulley hook broke, when the bell was within a few inches of the place it was to be hanged. The bell, which weighs something over 1,000 pounds, fell about 25 feet, crushing through a scaffolding and a roof into a porch-way below.—Fortunately nobody was under the bell, and no one was hurt, excepting Mr. George Plank, whose hands were somewhat blistered by a rapidly-running rope.
