ment, and the two were married in Michigan. He transferred to her cer-tain property, and made the discovery that she was a little wild. He followed her to San Francisco and offered some advice. They separated, and the wife now sues for divorce and such part of Mr. Musselman's $25,000 as the court may see fit to give her. Mr. M. makes affidavit that he is not worth a cent, and exhibits an eagerness to swear that he is willing to let his wife have a divorce and half of the ceut.

Express Thieves. - On Monday night, when the Philadelphia express was on its way East from Pittsburgh to Baltimore, the messenger discovered, when he reached Altoona, that the door of an express car which had been securely locked when the train left Pittsburgh had been forced open and a lot of goods stolen from the car. The thief, or thieves, had destroyed the manifests to prevent the messenger from ascertaining what amount of goods were missing, but as the goods were all registered at the Pittsburg office before leaving that city, the amount of the loss and the description of the goods missing can be readily ascertained. The car was what is termed a "through car," and had been carefully locked at Pittsburgh. The thleves, evidently, had spotted the car before it left Pittsburgh. The remaining goods were removed from the car at this city by Colonel Bingham's employees.-Harrisburg Patriot.

Almost Suffocated .- On Tuesday night Capt. James Elder's wife and three sons narrowly escaped suffocation under the following circumstances : The captain was absent from home on business, and the mother, with her three children, slept together in one room ; but before retiring for the night, a coal fire was prepared to burn until morning; the damper was properly fixed, a hod full of wet coal was dumped into the stove, the top lids of which were left about half open. Some time during the night little Mac, the youngest boy, awoke from his stupid slumbers, exclaiming that "his head was bustin." He managed to arouse his mother, who immediately divined the cause of the trouble with the boy's and her own head. McIntire became unconscious, but the doors of the house were thrown open, the other children awakened in time to help themselves out into the open air, and while the severe effects of inhaling a quantity of sulphur did not pass away at once, we are happy in announcing the fact that both mother and children recruited again from the severe sulphurous inhalation .- Newport News.

Shocking Accident at Bridgeport. -

Robert Lovegrove, aged twenty-one years, who was the main support of his widowed mother, residing at York, and a worthy young mechanic, finding work scarce, entered the service of the Northern Central railroad company about four weeks ago. Last Saturday a week while coming north as brakeman on one of the through freights he fell between the cars, in the deep cut, just north of the Cumberland Valley railroad crossing at Bridgeport, and one truck passed over both legs. Amputation was

Juniata County .- We copy the following from the Juniata county papers of last week

On Sunday evening last fire was dis-covered in an upper room in the resi-dence of Mr. J. C. Conn, at Spruce Hill. Its timely discovery prevented the house from being burned. Several dresses and some other clothing were considerably dismaged by fire. Let every person take precautionary means against fire. Look well to your flues and stoveppes.—Port Royal Times.

Holmes Parvin, a citizens of Patterson, was instantly killed about 3 o'clock, on Monday afternoon. He was assisting in Monday afternoon. He was assisting in the yards of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, in that borough, in unload-ing out of a wagon, crates containing glass insulators used in putting up tele-graph wire. When in the act of taking one of the crates out at the hind end of the wagon, he slipped and fell, the crate falling on his head crushing in his skull. He was aged about 45 years, and leaves a wife and five small children.

On Monday morning as Miss Bell Mathers, and Mrs. Orlando O. Mathers, Mathers, and Mrs. Orlando O. Mathers, of Sidney, Ohlo, with her two children, were turning from coming down Bridge into Main street, at Murray's hotel, in making the turn the hind axle broke, upsetting the carriage. The horse was immediately stopped by the bystanders. All escaped unhurt except Mrs. Mathers, who received a cut on the nose and fore-head. Her nose bled very profusely. If the horse had not been stopped immedi-ately, the accident would have been a ately, the accident would have been a very serious one, as the occupants were so bundled up, as to be unable to extri-cate themselves without assistance.

Mr. William Rice, of Lack township, died very suddenly at 12 o'clock noon, on Monday last. He was well enough in the morning, and engaged in measur-ing up oats to bring to market. He had visited his neighbor, Mr. Thomas Mur-phy, for the purpose of getting the loan of a few bags, and was talking to Mr. Murphy in a field adjacent to the house, when he felt a peculiar sensation about his breast and said he would have to lay down. Mr. Murphy assisted him into the house, and scated him upon a rocking chair, shortly after which he expired. He was aged 39 years and leaves a wife and daughter.—Democrat & Register. Tribute of Respect.

At a regular meeting of Bloomfield Council No. 95, Jr. O. U. A. M., the following pre-able and resolutions were unanimously adopted: Whereas. It has pleased Almighty God, in his wise Providence, to remove from time to Eternity, our beloved filend and brother, William W. Baker, who was esteemed by all who knew him, and was ever faithful to the duties devolving upon him in our Council : Therefore be it Therefore be it

Resolved, That while we how in humble submission to the will of Him who rules over the destinies of men, and doeth all things well, we can not but express our heartfelt sorrow at the loss we have sustained, and that we accept the occurrence as the decree of Providence, warning us of the uncertainty of life; and that, though we mourn the loss of our de-parted Brother, we trust that he has been called up higher to enjoy the rest which re-mains for the nearly of Cod mains for the people of God. Resolved, That we deeply sympathize with the bereaved parents and friends in their sad affliction, and commend them to the love of our Heavenly Father, the great and only source of consolation. Resolved, That, in memory of our departed Brother, our Charter be draped in mourning

SAY!

The Pennsylvania Musical Association, comprising thirteen counties, will hold its Fifth Annual Musical Conven-tion, in the Musical College, Freeburg, Snyder county, Pennsylvania, com-mencing Monday evening, Jan. 14th, 1878, to continue one week

A young man named Cashner, aged 16 years, of Hopewell twp., York county, on Saturday evening aweek, while at-tending singing school at Bowman's, was shot in the thigh, by the accidental discharge of a gun, carelessly left under the fence. The lad, with several others, had built a fire in the road and seeing the gun mistook it for a stick, and in pulling it through the fence received a terrible. If not fatal wound in his thigh. terrible, if not fatal wound in his thigh.

The Law of Estrays .- Many people are unfamiliar with the law in regard to estrays, and for the benefit of such, we print the following information :

The first duty of any one taking up an estray is to place a description of it on the books of the township clerk, and to advertise the same in a newspaper within ten days thereafter. A failure to do this lays such person liable for damages. It is a foolish as well as a dangerous thing to take up property of this kind and hold it awaiting an offer of a large reward.

Married but Not Mated. - Most of our readers will remember the marriage of Miss Seager, of Blain, which took place several years since under rather queer circumstances, and as both of the parties are former residents of this county will be inte rested in the following which we take from a Chicago paper. So far Miss Seager seems to have the best of the bargain.

"San Francisco is troubled by a phe-nomenal divorce case that had its origin, or moving causes, in Indiana. In 1874 John T. Musselman, of the Logansport Sun, and at that time a man of 60, ad-vertised for a young wife. Maggie Seager, aged 17, answered the advertise-

ago Frederick Fletterer, Jr., of Lancaster county, was convicted of fornication and bastardy. Not having been able to pay the usual fine, costs, etc., he was removed to jail. Proceedings were subsequently had looking to his release under the insolvent act, but unfortunately the petition for the discharge of the prisoner was presented to the court at the wrong term. The court, accordingly refused to order his release. At the next term another petition was filed, but the court ruled that after the presentation of a petition under the insolvent act a future petition could not be legally recognized. Application was then made for redress to the county commissioners, but they declined to remit the fine and costs. An appeal was then made to the board of pardons and the case was argued on Tuesday. The board dismissed the application on the ground that as Fletterer had never been sentenced to imprisonment they could not help him out of the difficulty. The prisoner can obtain no relief even from the governor, as his power is confined independently of the action of the board of pardons, to a remission of fine-not of costs. The only remedy the prisoner has is a cancellation of his indebtedness by the commissioners or his friends. Unless this is done, he will probably have to serve for life.

From a Well-Known Writer.

From Mrs. Mary Francis, well known as "Mar garet Blount."

Brightbank, Woodstock, Vt., Oct. 6th, 1876 Seth W. Fowle & Sons :

Gentlemen- Two years ago I began to tak the Peruvian Syrup. I was in a languid, half alive state, through incipient dyspepsia and de fective circulation of the blood. Three bottle of the Peruvian Syrup changed this to glowing bounding health. I have a fine appetite, slee soundly, and can walk five miles easily, with out reating, or busy myself out of doors all da long without fatigue.

A lady cousin who resides with me, took the Syrup during her recovery from a serious 11 ness of some weeks. She had been an invalifor years. Five bottles of the Syrup have a built up her system that she now cats quit heartily, sleeps well, and can walk three mile (in fine weather) without fatigue. I conside the medicine so invaluable to persons of seder tary pursults, or to those who suffer from Ian guor or low spirits, that I relate this persona experience of its effects to you, leaving you to make what use you please of my letter. Yours, very respectfully, MARY FRANCIS. Sold by dealers generally.
