Brief Items.

"Near the entire population of Selins-grove have signed the Murphy Pledge," says the Convier.

A very interesting revival meeting has been held and is now in progress at Mt. Gilead, Carroll twp., under charge of Rev. J. W. Cleaver.

Peter A., son of Mr. Henry Arnold, of Snyder county, lost his life on Satur-day a week by being suffocated in a lime kill on his father's place.

Rev. Thomas Still, of Miller town-ship, had an unfortunate Christmas.-By the fall of a large rock he had his great toe smashed.

Miss Swisher, of Duncannon, a few days since made a great mistake in her first blow at a chicken's head, and instead of taking that off cut the end of her thumb off.

Sleighs made their first appearance for the winter on Friday last. About eleven inches of snow had fallen during the night previous, and that morning making pretty good sleighing.

The regular January term of court has began its session. The attendance is not very large as yet, as the roads are not well broken, and the snow is too light to pack enough to make good sleiching. sleighing.

The arctic current has finally struck this part of the country. On Saturday the thermometer registered as low as zero, and on Sunday morning it went down to 5 degrees below, being at zero at 9 A. M.

The Lewistown "Gazette" says :--"John W. Shaver lost a valuable horse recently, which was found in the field penetrated by a rifle ball. It is not known whether it was a spent ball from a hunter's rifle, or done purposely and mallelously for revenge."

On Sunday night last some one or more of the meanest class of thieves forcibly entered the study of the A. M. E. Church and stole the carpet from the floor and several books belonging to the study property. The Trustees of the church offer a reward of ten dollars for the arrest and conviction of the thief or thieves — Carlisle Misror thieves .- Carlisle Mirror.

On Saturday last Mr. Alfred Clugston drove from Franklin county to his brother's on Duncan's Island. During the following night his horse, by some means got out of the stable and wander-ed over the bridge assess the Second ed over the bridge across the Susque-hanna river and down the Northern Central railway track to the Twin taverns, where it was caught by a train and its head cut off .- Record.

An Explanation of the Mild Weather .--Dr. L. B. Woolfolk, of Lexington, Ky., says that the present mild weather vindicates his well known weather theory that heavy canonading draws the Arctic currents to the place of firing, taking with them cold weather and great snowfalls, and giving to the other part of the world mild weather and no snow. The cold at the Crimea in 1854-5 gave to this continent an open winter, and now the bombardment of Plevna is bringing us the same condition of weather as then.

Murphy Meetings.-During the past week, Mr. J. M. Abbott, has been holding temperance meetings in this borough in which he has been ably assisted by the temperance men of this town, So far it seems the movement has met with much success, quite a number having signed the pledge. If they will carry out the most important part of the pledge, which is to sacredly keep it, the meetings will result in very much good, as quite a number of the signers have not heretofore been temperance men. This (Monday) evening the meeting will be held in the Court House. Up to Sunday evening 150 had signed the roll. Tuesday evening Jan. 8th the meeting will be held in the Presbyterian church. Good speakers will be on hand and address the meeting.

Shameful Doings .- New Year's eve was celebrated in this place in a manner that was a disgrace to civilization. Towards midnight a party of boys and some who like to be called young men, took possession of the square, hooting and yelling like Indians, finally making a fire which they replenished by destroying persons' property. Many of the party were old enough to be ashamed of their doings, while some were boys whose parents are even more to blame than the children they fail to control.-The authorities took no measures to stop the proceedings at the time, but the next morning warrants were issued for the arrest of eleven who were supposed to be concerned in the outrage. A police court was held before Esquire Sutch which lasted all day, resulting in six of the accused parties being bound over for appearance at the Quarter Sessions.

It is high time some example was made of the boys who so often commit these night depredations, and parents who do not control their boys, and keep them home nights, have no right to complain if they are made to pay for the damage done. A little fun and jollity is all very well, but boys should be taught that there is no fun in doing malicious mischief, and endangering the entire destruction of the town.

Doings in the Register's Office .- The following transactions of public interest have been placed on record since our former report :

Letters of Administration have been granted to Hannah Roth, on the estate of Solomon Roth, deceased, of Saville twp.; to George W. Smiley, on the estate of Daniel Shatto, deceased, of Carroll twp.; to Wm. Leedy, on the estate of Mary Leedy, deceased, of Penn twp.; to W. H. Sponsler, Esq., on the estate of Benjamin F. Clegg, deceased, of Center twp. ; and to G. Cary Tharp, on the estate of Jacob Rush, deceased, of Liverpool twp. Letters Testamentary have been issued to John Henderson, Jr., on estate of Aaron Fry, deceased, of Carroll twp. ; to Geo. Hench and Robert A. Clark, on estate of Martha Adair, deceased, of Madison twp. ; and to Wm. C. Murray, on estate of Samuel Murray, deceased, of Landisburg. Ann J. Liddick and Wm. H. Liddick, of Watts twp., have assigned to John Shelly; Adam Fortney and wife, of Montgomery Ferry, to Samuel E. Buck ; John Patterson, of Newport, to C. J. T. McIntire; Geo. Swartz and wife, of Centre twp., to W. A. Sponsler, Esq. ; Silas W. Snyder, of Liverpool twp., to Geo. C. Snyder.

tion of butter and coffee, nothing in their line ever sold for less than now. Fruits, sugar and the hundred other articles that can be had at a grocer's, are sold as cheap, if not cheaper, than during the period preceeding the war. Pork can be bought for six cents a pound, and choice pigs will bring only about six and a half cents, about one half of the price of several years ago.

From these facts we are permitted to judge that the cost of living is not, as many would have us believe, as high as ever. But a gentleman, not satisfied with calculating from general principles, really kept an account during the year 1876, and at its close knew exactly what his family table had cost him. This gentleman is a man in good circumstances, is liberal but not extravagant, and lives as well as the generality of farmers. He kept an accurate account of all money expended for articles for his table. Whatever was taken from the farm was charged at its market value the same as if it had been purchased for cash. By this means he knew at the end of the year, to the cent, the value of all that had been consumed at his table. He also kept an account of the number of meals taken by his family, hired help and visitors, and by dividing the gross cost of a year's subsistence by the number of meals, learned the average cost of each. And what does the reader suppose each meal cost per person ? Four and a half cents. Many will think this a gross blunder, but we have abundant assurances that the statement is correct.-Argus.

Altempted Robbery In Duncannon.-On last Sunday morning at fifteen minutes before one o'clock, three robbers forced open with a two inch chisel, the front store door of Mr. Samuel Sheller, whose residence is on the corner of Cumberland and High streets. Selecting as the time for their operations, the moment when a freight train was rumbling by, the slight noise these careful workmen made would never have been heard had Mr. Sheller not taken his usual precaution of placing several large rolls of floor oil cloth against the door, and mounting the tallest of them with a half dozen cedar buckets. These things upset with a clatter somewhat more astounding, we imagine, than the cackling of the geese that alarmed the sentinels of Rome and saved the city from the Gauls. Several members of the household instantly sprang out of bed, comprehending at once what the noise meant. Mrs. Sheller ran to a window commanding a view of the store door, and drew open the shutter, which action, on account of the intense darkness, was apparently unob-served by the robbers, whom she was just in time to see sneaking out from under the store door awning, their feet being so carefully shod that one could not hear the slightest footfall on the brick pavement. They paused at the corner, one making a peculiar noise through his closed teeth and all crossed over Cumberland street, and stood in front of Mr. Wm. Charters' house, where they parleyed some five minutes, all unconscious of the fact that several pairs of intense eyes were strained upon them from the darkened windows opposite .--Hearing no stir and seeing no change in the lights, they evidently concluded the family had not been aroused, and one by one they came tip-toeing it back. Mr. Sheller, in the meanwhile, was searching for his revolver where it had been hidden from the children, but in the excitement could not determine its whereabouts; neither could he obtain his son's seven-shooter, who having gone away from home had previously placed it, loaded, in the safe where it was locked up; and thinking delay dangerous, he hurried to the upper window armed with a large iron pipe, once an ornament on a railroad engine. One of the men was by this time, on his hands and knees, mounting the steps to the store door. While he cautiously crept inside to clear up the debris on the floor, another stood by the porch whispering to him and receiving one half of the door lock which he handed out, and a third stood on the corner keeping guard. Thinking things had gone far enough Mr. Sheller threw his iron bar at the man at the porch, unfortunately not hitting him, and with a jump and a quick call of "Joe! Joe!" to his accomplice inside, he was over the street and around the lockup, while "Joe" bounded out and up High street and the picket on the corner dropped the chisel which he held and sped down Cumberland and up the railroad, making the ballast fly to the time of his steps. The family then rushed to the store room and kept guard over the broken door while Mr. Sheller aroused several neighbors with whom he made a detour of the town, but nothing was seen of the men who are supposed to be the three strangers, who about eleven o'clock the same night forcibly entered the railroad watch box at the head of town. Whoever they were, they gained nothing but a good scarce and are minus an excellent twoinch cabinet-maker's chisel.-Record.

Thanks. — With sincere gratitude I tender my thanks and that of my fami-ly, to the "smiling crowd," who, on the evening of the Bist ult., entered the Lutheran Parsonage, and deposited numerous good things for the use of the inmates inmates.

A very pleasing feature of this un-lookedfor visit, was, that the visitants consisted of members of all the churches of our town and neighborhood, as also of those not holding church-fellowship. I hereby acknowledge also the appro-priate contributions of some members of the Markelville congregation on the 1st inst., as also that of others a few weeks prior.

Juniata County .- We copy the following from the Juniata county papers of last week.

J. M. Dougherty has sold the stage line from this place to McCulloch's Mills to Henry Forney. Mr. Forney will at-tend to all the duties connected with the line in a proper manner. Mr. Dougher-ty tenders his thanks to the postmasters and others along the line for their unand others along the line, for their uni-form kindness to him.

On Monday afternoon, two tramps each stole a pair of boots from in front of the Great Eastern boot and shoe store. Mr. Frank, the proprietor, noticed them take the boots, and immediately gave the alarm, and in a few minutes both of them were captured and the boots recovthem were captured and the boots recov-ered. The tramps were then taken be-fore Esquire Kreider, and committed to jail until February court. They gave their names as George Plack and Jacob Scharf. They just took the boots to get into jail.—Democrat & Register.

Cumberland County .- We copy the fol-lowing from the Cumberland county papers of last week :

On New Year's day, a young man named Ewing, aged about seventeen years, was shot and seriously injured by years, was shot and seriously injured by the accidental discharge of a gun in his own hands. He and his brother were shooting mark in the orchard of his father—Abram Ewing—about one mile south of Locust Point, when the acci-dent occurred. Young Ewing had aim-ed his gun and pulled the trigger, but the cap only exploded, and the gun did not go off. Wishing to see why the load did not come out, he very unwisely drew the muzzle of the gun towards his load did not come out, he very unwisely drew the muzzle of the gun towards his face, and was just in the act of looking into the barrel when the charge explod-ed. The shot just grazed his left eye, fortunately not hitting him, but the powder burned him very severely. Dr. E. N. Mosser was hastily summoned, and gave the patient skillful attention. but it is feared he will lose the sight of his eye. his eye.

Our townsman, Mr. Johnson Ware-ham, made a very narrow escape from a ble burning accident at his residence on Thursday night. While he was going up stairs with an infant son in his arms the kerosene lamp exploded, and scat-tered the glass and oil in every direction. Fortunately for Mr. W. and his son, neither were injured in the least.—Volunteer.

On Christmas day, while Mr. John Gish and wife, of Shippensburg borough were returning from Mr. John Immel's, Green township, Franklin county, the buggy overturned and threw the occu-pants to the ground. Mrs. Gish received injuries of quite a serious character. Be-sides being considerably bruised, her collar bone on the left side was broken. Her injuries were attended to by Dr. Her injuries were attended to by Dr. Robert C. Stewart, and she is getting along as comfortably as the painful cir-cumstances of the case will permit. Mr. Gish was badly shaken up, but not otherwise injured.

Returned and Arrested .- A man named Wm. Cook who our readers will remember absconded from Newport with a girl named Annie Smeigh about a year since, returned last week to his deserted Hearing of his arrival, Wm. wife. Smeigh, the father of the girl, made complaint against him, charging him with abduction and adultery. Upon this charge Cook was arrested and after a hearing before 'Squire Zinn, he was held to ball for his appearance at court.

Weather Record.-B. McIntire, Esq., hands us the following report of the weather for the month of December, 1877:

Average of Thermometer at 8 o'clock A. M., 37° and 3'; of Barometer, 30 inches minus 5-tenths. Average of greatest degree of heat, 44° and 13', and of lowest of cold, 329 and 33'. There fell but 1 inch and 4-tenths of rain. The average of the Thermometer at 8 o'clock was higher than any December since 1854, at which time I commenced keeping a record of the weather, and the only December except in 1863 in which there was no fall of snow. The wind blew front the South-East for seven consecutive days with but 3-tenths of an inch of rain. Monday, the 17th, was the warmest day, the mercury running up to 55. Tuesday, the 4th, the coldest, the mercury registering 20.

What it Costs to Live .- In times like the present everybody is apt to talk about the costs of living. From grocerymen we learn that with possibly the excep-
