OUR CIRCULATION.

For the information of Advertisers, and others interested in knowing, we make mention of the fact that we begin this year with a circulation of NINETEEN HUNDRED copies.

VICTOR EMANUEL, the king of Italy died on Wednesday last. Prince Hubert was at once proclaimed as his successor, and confirmed the present ministers in their various posts.

THE London Times says: "The stagnation in the money market, exceeds anything experienced for a long time. The rise in consols is partly due to investment by banks and others having the disposal of large sums of money which cannot be used in the way of loans. There seems no longer any justification for the Bank of England maintaining the present rate of discount."

WE suggest that the mails for local points be carried by canal boat or on horse back as a more speedy way to have them reach their destination. Under the present arrangements only the large cities are benefited, while the smaller towns at intermediate points get their mails when it suits the convenience of the officials. Most of the time for the past few weeks New York papers have been received here the third day after publication. If this is a "fast mail" schedule give us a slow mail again for a change.

THERE is now a slight prospect of peace in Europe. Turkey has asked for an armistice, proposing terms. Russia has agreed to treat and it only remains to come to an agreement. Turkey will probably agree to anything that does not prejudice her position in the negotiations for peace that must follow. If terms are not now made, there is little chance to avoid a long and disastrous war, in which England will probably become involved.

Since the above was in type the following despatch dated the 10th inst., has been received:—"I am happy to congratulate your majesty upon a brilliant victory gained this day. General Radetzky has, after desperate fighting, captured the whole Turkish army defending the Shipka pass, consisting of forty-one battalions, ten batteries and one regiment of cavalry. Prince Mirsky has occupied Kezanlik. General Schobeleff holds Shipka."

Our Trade With England.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—The United States Consul at Bradford, England, in reply to the trade circular of the Department of State, says: Our agricultural implements and mechanics' tools are of acknowledged superiority; our roof slates and lumber could supplant those of Norway, now so extensively imported.

American watches are rapidly displacing those of Swiss and English make, through their superiority and cheapness; pork and beef are fast growing in importance; the trade in butter and cheese is astounding, the latter being sold as "Cheshire;" importations of lard, tallow and eggs are increasing; petroleum is a necessity of life, and is enormously used. Apples are largely shipped to England, but are too often injured by bruises in picking and barreling. Potatoes, oil cake and dried and preserved fruits are all largely imported. A market may be found in time for California and Pleasant Valley wines, which have an increasing reputation, to be further increased by more delicacy of taste and greater freedom from spirit.

Mr. Shepard calls attention to the effect of the wool and dye stuffs duties in the United States in preventing the free competition of American woolen goods in foreign markets. American wool is lustrous, and the manufacturer must import the raw material and pay the duty thereon if he desires to compete in the foreign market for lustre goods.

A Fly Wheel Broken.

At Cincinnati on Monday morning of last week while the workmen of the Globe Rolling Mills were busily engaged in their respective places, an accident occurred which resulted in a serious manner.

From some unknown cause the belt flew off from the large belt-wheel, and all restraint thus being taken off from the speed of the engine, it began running at a fearful rate. An effort was made to check it, but before this could be accomplished the large heavy fly-wheel flew to pieces and scattered in every direction.

One piece, weighing several hundred pounds, was hurled through the roof and buried itself in the bank of the river. Another piece of equal size, after passing through the roof, fell again through another part of the building, and struck within two feet of one of the men. Three men were badly hurt. The mill was seriously damaged.

Unpleasant Experiments.

A recent suit of Ira Melendy, of Bradford, Vt., in which he recovered $5,000 from the town for injuries received on the highway, was a singular one in some respects. He claimed that his accident resulted in paralysis of his legs, so that these were as if dead as far as movement and feeling were concerned. The efforts of the defense were to show that he was shamming, and so medical experts were called, pins stuck into his legs, cuts made and ammonia applied and his muscles never contracted. Some of the physicians testified that such a paralysis as was claimed was an impossibility, but the jury didn't believe that a man could have nerve enough to stand such tests if there was any feeling in the parts experimented upon. He will probably have to go through all this again, though, for the defense have appealed.

A Counterfeiter Arrested.

HAZLETON, Pa., Jan. 9.—Domineck McGlenn, of this place, was arrested for passing counterfeit money—five dollar bills on the bank of Hanover, Pa. In default of bail the prisoner was held for a further hearing.

A gang of counterfeiters has been operating in this section for several weeks and have succeeded in passing a considerable amount of the spurious money, principally on the First national bank of Tamaqua, the Third national bank of Buffalo and the Hanover national bank. The counterfeiters are well executed and have deceived even some of the bank officials.

Not Easily Scared.

A large number of people assembled in Alphonsus' Catholic Church, Wheeling, W. Va., after morning service on Sunday to witness a marriage. The priest had commenced the ceremony when smoke was discovered issuing from the ceiling. The couple glanced up and calmly told the clergyman to proceed, which he did, and the two were soon united. A piece of the ceiling cracked and fell, causing a general stampede, in which several persons were slightly injured. The flames were soon subdued, but not until damage to the extent of $1200 had been occasioned.

An Old Lady Murdered.

DOVER, N. H., January 9.—Mrs. Mariam Berry, of New Durham, a highly respectable widow lady of sixty-five years, was shot and instantly killed this afternoon in her own house by Jno. L. Pinkham, who had been employed by her to do some chopping and for payment of which there had been some dispute. Pinkham then fled. He was soon after found half a mile down the road with his throat cut, it is thought not fatally. He is supposed to have been under the influence of liquor.

Singular Railroad Accident.

Near Pittsburgh on Monday night a lady was struck in the back while sleeping in her house by the bumper of a car, which had run off the track into the building. She was thrown across the room against a hot stove. Timely assistance saved the woman from death and the building from destruction by fire.

Death From a Cat Bite.

The Allegheny Chronicle of a late date says: This morning, at 10 o'clock, the funeral of the unfortunate little girl, Laura Desch, took place at Maconie. It will be remembered that she was bitten some time ago by a pet Maltese cat, from the effects of which she died on Sunday evening last. The funeral was a large one, the Sunday school of which she was a member following her remains to the grave.

The Tax on Whiskey and Tobacco.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—A movement is on foot in favor of the bill of Representative Robbins of North Carolina for a reduction of the tobacco tax from 24 to 12 cents a pound, and spirituous liquors from 90 to 40 cents a gallon. The amendment offered by Representative Cabell allows a drawback of the tax on all tobacco which manufactures may have on hand when such proposed reduction goes into effect. A committee of the tobacco manufacturers of Danville and the surrounding country in Virginia are here to support the amendment. This committee will meet a representation of the trade from St. Louis, New York, Baltimore, Chicago, Detroit, Louisville, and other cities, in formal session on Saturday, and will have a hearing before the Committee of Ways and Means early next week. All are represented as favoring Robbins's bill, provided Cabell's amendments be adopted, as it is an important feature affecting this industry.

Cost of Quelling a Riot.

According to estimates made in the Adjutant-General's Department about $700,000 will be required to pay the troops called out to suppress the riots and other expenses arising from them. Between $70,000 and $80,000 have already been paid the military, three months' men and the regiment of Colonel Bonaffon.

Miscellaneous News Items.

On Tuesday morning two unknown tramps were found frozen to death, holding on to the car bumpers, in Allegheny county.

The explosion of a steam pipe in an Allegheny school house caused a panic among the occupants and resulted in the injury of a number.

James Melville was sent to the Newport, R. I., town farm last week for stealing some bread and milk in his poverty, and has since received from Washington $1,400 in back pension money for a wound in the leg at Fredericksburg.

The Boston Board of Health has decided that dipheria is a "disease dangerous to the public health" within the meaning of the statute, and physicians are ordered to report all cases the same as those of small pox.

David Armstrong, of Vincennes, Ind., captured a burglar, who first attempted to enter the residence at the front and afterwards at the rear. The burglar was a powerful man and armed with a pitchfork, while Armstrong's weapon was a pair of tongs.

The narrow-gauge railroad from the Bradford (McKean county) oil region, in this State, to Olean, a point on the Erie railroad in New York, will be in running order about the 1st of February. A proposition is on foot to extend the road from Olean to Warren, Pa., a distance of 38 miles, along the line of the Allegheny river.

An exchange says a subscriber stops their paper by sending a letter reading as follows:

"Stop sending me the jernal, enny more as you didn't notis the bigg hogg me husband bucheder sunday and it dont fit my pantry shelves ennyhow." The husb—no, the "hogg" weighed 387.

He had proposed to her, and now with fear and trembling waited for her answer. "Only one word," he said, "if but to keep, alive the fires of hope within my bosom." She looked at him tenderly, nay, lovingly, and her lips moved in accents that went to the depth of his soul. She asked him how much he earned a week.

At Walnut creek, Fremont county, Ia., on Wednesday, eight members of a family named Glasgow got into a fight over a jug, during which Prescott Glasgow kicked his brother James' wife in the stomach inflicting probably fatal injuries, while James was twice struck on the head with an axe by his mother, a woman of more than 70 years of age.

A Belfast, Maine, letter says: It is almost impossible for an unknown man to see the inside of a country farm-house, even in the day-time, in the absence of the male members of the family. This state of things has been brought about by that nuisance, the tramp. The doors are kept fastened, and the house has a deserted appearance. In fact, the women in their husband's absence are in constant fear.

Henry Thurston of White Creek, Texas, who stands seven feet six inches high, thinks he is the tallest man in the Union. He is well proportioned, as strong as a giant, and enjoys the best of health. He fought in the Confederate army, and after the war, while passing through St.

Louis, attracted such a throng that he could scarcely walk the streets. Being modest, he has refused very reasonable sums offered by showmen who wished to exhibit him.

Trenton, N. J., is the possessor of a hen with a wooden leg. It was run over by a passing coach and was given up for dead until the extent of its injuries was found to be only a broken leg. Amputation became necessary, and after some days the fowl recovered, but could not walk. With loving ingenuity its owner, Mrs. Dooley, securely attached a piece of stick to the upper part of the hen's leg, and the bird walked forth rejoicing.

A man named Bender, at Dover, Pa., imbibed too much on Monday and started around town with a pistol, shooting indiscriminately. When expostulated with, he ran into the National hotel and threw the pistol on the floor. It exploded and the occupants of the bar room fled. Bender then started out, and was caught in an alley. The constable was then sent for, but was engaged tending bar at another hotel, and refused to come and arrest Bender. The 'Squire came to the hotel to give him a hearing, but by some means Bender got loose and ran off, eluding all pursuers.

A man in Lowell, Mass., had a house but no wife to care for it. In a talk with a friend a bargain was made, under which he was to pay the friend $150 for procuring one. The broker introduced him to a New Hampshire girl, a marriage was made, and the man concedes that it was a lucky match for him; but he refused to pay the broker because that gentleman saw fit to talk about the matter. The broker has sued for the money, the lower Court has decided against him, and the case will go to the Superior Court of Massachusetts on appeal.

Free to Every Reader of this Paper.

In order to introduce the Diamond Spring Wheat in this section, I will send a small package of sample grains, with special terms to agents, and my Seed Catalogue for 1878, free of charge to every reader of this paper on receipt of a three cent stamp to pay postage.—Diamond Wheat is the largest in the world. It grows and matures in any climate in the U. S. The grains average nearly one-half inch in length. One grain produces from 25 to 33 stalks, with heads averaging from 7 to 9 inches, and each head containing about forty grains. Address W. S. TIPTON, SEEDSMAN, Cleveland, Tennessee.

Notice.—Persons desiring me to call sales, would do well to notify me as to the day as soon possible, so that the day they select may not interfere with the date fixed upon by some other party. I intend to have a complete list of all sales, and the date upon which they will take place. Satisfaction guaranteed. DAVID MCCOY, Ickesburg, Pa.

THE WORLD

Since the change in its proprietorship (which took place May 1st, 1874) "The World" has become the bright, sprightliest, most scholarly and popular journal in the metropolis. It is entertaining, interesting, light, decent, fair and truthful. It does wrong wittingly to no man, no creed, no interest and no party. THE WORLD believes the Democratic party to exist for the good of the public service. It does not believe the public service to exist for the good of the Democratic party.

THE WORLD believes the Enemy of Mankind may be trusted to attend to his particular "beliefs" of stirring up strife. It therefore seeks to promote peace on earth and good-will among good men.

THE WORLD believes that even the Moon has two sides. It therefore gives every honest man credit for supposing himself to be right, no matter how wrong it may hold him to be.

THE WORLD believes that sufficient unto each day are the evils thereof. It therefore considers it quite unnecessary to embitter existence to day by fighting over the fights of yesterday.

THE WORLD believes there was some sense in the old superstition according to which every day's fortune was colored by the first objects seen in the morning. It therefore thinks that to lay on a man's breakfast-table a sheet full of unclean things, angry words, personal squabbles and political spites is about as likely a way to prolong his good will as to put spiders into his coffee.

THE WORLD believes that "man the hermit" is not to be trusted without the supervising and civilizing influence of woman. And it therefore holds that a public journal which fails to attract attention and enlist the support of the women of the community, will neither gain the public conscience right nor give wise counsel in public affairs.

As a mere matter of business, therefore, THE WORLD endeavors to be fair to its opponents in politics candid in its discussion of public questions, just to all men—and up to the latest news.

THE DAILY WORLD. $10 00 a year, postage paid. $5 50 six months, postage paid. $2 75 three months, postage paid.

THE WEEKLY WORLD. $1 00 A YEAR, POSTAGE PAID, contains all the news of the week; letters sent by able correspondents from all parts of the world; bright and entertaining editorials, and continued stories written expressly for THE WORLD by the best authors; full reports of the markets of the United States and foreign countries; a Farm-er's Department, edited by D. T. MOORE, the founder and for many years editor of MOORE'S RURAL NEW YORKER.

SEMI-WEEKLY WORLD. $2 00 a year, postage paid. $1 00 six months, postage paid.

CASH PREMIUMS.

To the person from whom THE WORLD shall receive, previous to March 31st, 1878, the money for the largest number of subscribers for one year to THE WEEKLY WORLD we will give a first prize of $300 00. For the next largest number, a second prize of $200 00. For the two next largest lists of subscribers, $100 00 each. For the two next largest lists of subscribers, two prizes of $75 each. For the six next largest lists, six prizes of $50 00 each. For the eleven next largest lists, 11 prizes of $25 00 each.

Those desirous of competing for these prizes (which are offered in addition to the regular club premiums) will please write for full particulars to "THE WORLD," 35 Park Row, N. Y. January 8, 1878 4t
