A Good Reason.

At the renting of the pews in a Chicago church the other evening, there was a hot competition for No. 78, and bids ran up to a large sum. It was finally knocked down to Brother B. "Why were you so anxious to get that particular seat?" he was asked by Brother C. "Why, because it's just next Brother M.'s" he replied. "Why," replied Brother B. "M.'s as bald as a jug, and he draws flies from everybody around him. I made up my mind to get a pew near him this year, for if there's anything I hate it's to be pestered with files when I'm-when I'm-listening to a good sermon."

"There, my lad," said an Athenian once to a little Hebrew boy, by way of joke, " here is a pruth (a small coin of less value than a farthing), bring me something for it, of which I may eat enough, leave some for my host, and carry some to my family." The witty boy went and brought him some salt. "Salt," exclaimed the Athenian, "I did not tell thee to bring salt." "Nay," replied the boy, archly, "didst thou not say, "bring me of what I may eat, leave, and take some home?" Verily of this thou mayest eat, leave some behind, and still have plenty to carry home."

A gentleman having boasted that it was easy enough to "do" railway companies out of their fares, and that he had passed from one station to another of a certain road the day before without a ticket, was approached by an officer of the road, who wanted to know how it was done. The gentleman agreed to tell for a "consideration." It was paid, and then the officer said: "Now tell me how you did it." "I walked," quietly replied the gentleman.

TA brother of Bishop Clark was one of the wittiest men alive. It runs in the family. He once went to see one of his parishioners, a lady with a prodigious family, which had recently been increased. As he rose to leave, the lady stopped him with "but you have not seen my last baby." "No," he quickly replied, "and I never expect to." Then he fled.

"When a girl gets mad and rises from a fellow's knee," says an exchange, but thinks better of it and goes back again, that's what they call a relapse." And here we have been working for dear life to keep off a relapse, under the impression that it was someway related to cholera morbus.

W" Nothing," remarked a teacher of botany, the other day, "Nothing will come up when the ground is frozen."
If the teacher will just try to put the crupper on a bay mule when it is feeling a little dyspeptic, he will discover there are two things which come uplike rockets without any regard to the weather.

Children," said the teacher, addressing the infant class, "Children, do you know you were all born in sin?" Please sir," interrupted a little one, "I wasn't: I was born in Carlisle." "Well, that's the same thing," said the teacher, impatiently "Don't interrupt me any more."

Samuel Stickney, of Iowa, clasped his best loved girl in an embrace so close that his revolver was discharged, and a small boy standing near was seriously wounded. The lesson of this melancholy episode is that boys shouldn't be standing around at such times. It is when a dry goods clerk of ninety-four pounds weight attempts to help from a farm wagon a farmer's wife of 203 pounds weight, that the reporter seats himself contentedly on the curb stone and waits for the catastrophe. What, going to leave us, James ?" "Yes, sir; I'm very sorry, sir, but I really can't put up with the missus any longer." "Ah, James | but think how long I've put up with her." "Eyes right!" shouted a military officer to his company. "Well," grumbled a green private, "nobody said you was'nt right." Seeing is not always believing, either. There are many men you can see well enough, but you wouldn't like to believe them. 65 A Miss Tanner, who recently married, a widower named Hyde, with eleven children, says she has given up tanning and is now dressing Hydes. Tt was a darkey who exclaimed as he rose from his knees at a camp meeting, "Here I raise my ebon-knees sir!"
