Brief Items.

It cost $29,626.29 to sustain the orphan school at White Hall last year. The biggest yet. Daniel Palmer, of Franklin county, killed a hog that weighed 897 pounds, clean meat. On Sunday morning the thermometer was down to zero, and on Monday to 6 degrees below.

prospect of making their organization at that point a success. They now have a class of Catechumens numbering about fifty, served by Rev. J. J. Kerr.

O Tuesday evening, 20th of January, the members of the Excelsior Literary Society of Germany, had a debate in the Elliottsburg school house, against the debaters of Green Park, on the following question: Resolved that the Noctian deluge was not universal. The decision was given in favor of the affirmative. A debate will again be had at the same place, and on the same question, on Tuesday evening the 19th inst. The ladies are cordially invited to attend.

Fire!—On Friday night at twenty minutes to ten the citizens of this borough were startled by the alarm of fire, when it was ascertained that the coach and wagon shop of Mr. Samuel Smith was in flames. Within a minute after the alarm the blaze broke out of the upper windows, showing that the whole interior was on fire. By hard work most of the tools and the vehicles on the lower floor were safely removed, but all the materials and the carriages and sleighs, some of them being finished that were on the second floor were destroyed. The fire communicated to Mr. Smith's stable in the rear of the shop, and that and its contents, except the horse was also destroyed.

The stable belonging to Mr. Harling, which adjoined the property of Mr. Smith, was pulled down to prevent further extension of the flames in that direction. This precaution and the stillness of the night and the snow on the roofs enabled the citizens to save all other surrounding property.

The total loss is about $2,500, on which there is an insurance of $2,100, as follows: On the stock and materials in the shop, $1,050, in the Reading and in the Farmers' of York, $750 on the buildings, and $300 on the contents of the stable.

In what manner the fire originated is not known, but it is supposed to have been caused by the stove in the painting room.

Mr. Smith will rebuild as soon as possible, and the mean time has provided a place where his business will be carried on as usual.

Scared Off.—Last Sunday night Mr. John Potter, of Buffalo township, was wakened from his slumber by an unusual noise about his horse stable. Thinking that all was not right there he aroused his two sons J. S. A. and Wesley W., who proceeded to the barn and discovered the lower door of the horse stable open, it being fastened with a hook, a lock on the upper one securing both from coming open from natural causes. The men pushed the open door to without further concern, taking it for granted that the horses had kicked it open, a circumstance that not unfrequently occurs. The next morning what was their surprise but to find the door hooked, while a horse stood in his stall bridled and saddled, ready for marching. Mr. Potter thinks that the thief entered the barn some time during the day, several incidents surrounding the circumstance, together with the fact that the barn was carefully locked in the evening, justifying the opinion, and that the brothers' appearance, just in the niche of time to save their horse, scared the thieving rascals away.—News.

Weather Report.—B. McIntire, Esq., hands us the following report of the weather for the month of January, 1878. Average of Thermometer at 8 o'clock A. M.,—26° and 46°, and of Barometer 30 inches, minus 7 tenths. Average of highest degree of heat, 34° and 44°, and of lowest degree of cold 22° and 34°. Tuesday the 22nd was the warmest day, the Thermometer registering 45° above Zero, and Tuesday the 8th the coldest, the mercury sinking to 9° below Zero. There fell 3 inches and 9 tenths of rain and 23 inches of snow.

Frightful Accident.—An accident of a shocking nature occurred at Tippet's boilers works, south Harrisburg, about three o'clock yesterday afternoon which resulted in one of the workmen named William Murphy, being maimed for life. Murphy is a boiler maker by occupation, aged about thirty years, and has been working "off and on" at the works for some time. Yesterday, at the hour above designated, while Murphy and another mechanic, Ed. S. Heller, were about to tighten a belt which had been thrown from the pulley for that purpose, and were standing on a platform about twelve feet above the ground—Heller engaged in lacing the belt and Murphy holding it up with his right hand—by some unaccountable occurrence Murphy's coat sleeve caught in the shafting while the powerful engine was making about 250 revolutions per minute, and before he could extricate his arm he was carried upward against the pulley, where he braced himself with a powerful effort with his left hand and actually stood the fearful strain until his right arm was wound up in the belting and torn off about half way between the elbow and shoulder. The unfortunate man then dropped to the floor, his fellow workmen gathering around him as soon as possible to render assistance. The engine was then stopped and the mangled arm removed. Had not the unfortunate mechanic (who is a strong, muscular man) braced himself with a deathlike "purchase" he would most likely have been carried among the machinery and horribly mangled. He was assisted to walk to Dr. Free's office, opposite the works, where, after the bleeding stump was bound up, he was placed upon a street car and taken to the hospital. Dr. DuNott, assisted by the faculty, made a clean amputation of the arm about an hour after the accident occurred, cutting off the ragged stump about three inches below the shoulder. Murphy is married and has a wife and two children residing in one of Mr. Tippet's tenant houses on Indian alley, south Harrisburg. He was doing well as could be expected under the circumstances at nine o'clock last evening.—Harrisburg Patriot.

Duncannon Items.—A correspondent from Duncannon sends the following: The works at this place are now running only on half time. Money matters here are unsettled and considerable excitement exists over the recent failures announced.

The river is now pretty high with a prospect of a further rise. Murphy meetings are in progress and, already more than two hundred names have been enrolled.

Among those on the sick list at the present time, is our worthy post master.
