Brief Items.

The light of the fire on Friday a week was plainly seen in Juniata county. Mifflintown people want street lamps, and want them kept trimmed and burning, too. D. W. Kern, of Tyrone township, recently killed three hogs weighing 363-464-533 pounds, in all 1366 pounds.

paper collar box that was in an unlocked bureau drawer. About forty dollars which were in the pockets of a pair of pants were overlooked.

On the same evening while the family of Mr. G. B. McKee, were attending the same service, their house was entered also, through a kitchen window from the back porch, but the door leading from the kitchen through the lower portion of the house being locked did not gain entrance to the lower portion, but going up the back stairway, ransacked the upper portion of the house leaving all the bureau drawers open. Nothing was taken from the house so far as known.

Made Happy.—Recently Amos Kell of Saville twp., came to this place and consulted Dr. Stites in regard to his eyes, which were so badly crossed that he was enabled to see only by great difficulty. Dr. Stites, informed the young man that it was beyond his power or skill to afford him relief, but referred him to a Philadelphia oculist. Some time afterwards Mr. Kell returned home perfectly cured, and was so delighted at the new aspect that had been put upon his optics that he was hardly able to express himself. He remarked that it was so different in moving around, and that persons unaffected with cross-eyes know not the remotest of their inconvenience.—News.

County Superintendent.—We are asked by friends of Mr. Jacob R. Runyan, to state that they mean to put his name before the directors as a candidate for that office. Mr. R. is a thorough scholar as well as an experienced teacher and his friends think that these qualifications coupled with the fact that he is a crippled soldier give him at least an equal claim to the support of those who are to elect this officer.

Cumberland County.—We copy the following from the Cumberland county papers of last week:

On Sunday a young man residing in Harrisburg drove from there to our town, and after driving around here for awhile started off to Carlisle, where he remained for some time, and then started on his return trip down the pike towards Harrisburg, but before going far the horse dropped dead in his tracks, and the youth and his lady had to find new means of locomotion.

On Friday night last, about 12 o'clock, the stone church, known as the Dunkard's, situated on the farm of Hon. James Chestnut, in Southampton twp., this county, was totally destroyed by fire with all its contents, consisting of benches, chairs, &c., from a defective flue, says our informant. The only assistance rendered to check the flames was two sons of Mr. Chestnut's, who first saw the light; they hurried to the church, and did all in their power to save it, but without avail.

On Monday, the 4th inst., a fire occurred in the smoke-house of Mr. Tobias Sites, which, had it not been immediately discovered, would have without doubt entailed serious loss. The meat of five hogs belonging to Joseph Darr and Jacob Sites had been thoroughly smoked and was about to be taken out when one of the hams became detached from its hook and falling to the floor took fire. The heat from this melted the fastenings of the other pieces and they all dropped one after another on to the burning pile. When the door of the smoke-house was opened the flames had got so far under way that the flames shot out a distance of five feet. By strenuous efforts the meat was removed and most of it saved.—Carlisle Volunteer.

On Wednesday evening, between hours of eight and nine o'clock, the house of Mrs. Wareham, on South Hanover street, was entered, bureau, closets, and trunks rummaged, and the contents scattered over the floor. The family was absent at the time. The key of the front door was left inside of the window shutter as their custom. This the thief secured, entering by the front door. The marauder secured $17 in money from a trunk belonging to the younger Mrs. Wareham, and about 40 dollars was secured from a bureau by removing the top drawer which was not locked, and reaching down into the next. This is a singular transaction and evidences a very thorough knowledge on the part of the person who did the stealing with the ways of the family. Nothing is missing except the money. The clothing was scattered around over the floor and some of the best dresses carried down stairs. Every thing indicates that the party was after money and nothing else.—Sentinel.

Juniata County.—We copy the following from the Juniata county papers of last week.

A horse owned by Mr. E. B. McCrum, ran away and broke a sleigh to pieces on Saturday evening. Mr. McCrum's two sons, Homer and Banks, were unhitching the animal from the sleigh, in front of the stable, back of the school house, when the beast concluded to travel on its own hook, which it did by running away, with the above result.—The horse was captured on Main street.

A man residing near Evendale, entered his home in a drunken frame of mind, a few evenings ago, became angered, upset the table and broke the dishes that were on it. He knocked down the stove-pipe, and assaulted his wife, giving her thirty terrific blows. The cries of murder caused several citizens to enter the house and stop the man in his outrageous career.—Sentinel.

Mary Roth, aged about 41 years, a woman without any local habitation, and a Switzerland by birth, died in the Juniata county jail on Monday night. She came along with her husband, a tramp, to the jail on Saturday evening, being then unwell. Her remains were interred in the Union Cemetery by the Overseers of the Poor.—Democrat & Register.

CHAS. S. LOSH, Principal, Cumberland county, Pa. February 8th, 1878. 2m.

"Mr. Smith, be kind enough to take down your feet, so I can see the gentlemen in the back seat," said a teacher to a student who had his feet on the desk.

All right Professor, I put them up on purpose to show you that a fellow can get a first-rate boot of F. Mortimer. Very good sir, we've known this for some time, and if you have just found it out we're inclined to think your hair is thick, or I might say the skin under it needs scouring, answered the Professor.

Ladies Take Notice.—We shall to-day open a pretty line of DRESS GOODS, which are sent from the city to be closed out, and many of them at prices below the cost to manufacture.
