Where to Stop .- If you are going to visit Philadelphia, and wish to stop where you can have all the comforts of home and all the luxuries of a first-class hotel, stop at the St. Elmo. This house is pleasantly located and well kept in every respect. Try it and you will thank us for this information. For further particulars see advertisement in another column.

Smoke House Thieves .- On last Wednesday night some person took off a part of the shingles on the roof of the smoke house belonging to Mr. P. McNemar, in Centre twp., and after cutting the lath so that they could remove the meat, stole four pieces. Fire .- The Middleburg Post says : The barn and other outbuildings of Emanuel Duck, of Middlecreek twp., were consumed by fire on Sunday morning the 17th inst. It is supposed the fire is the work of an incendiary, as the family of Mr. Duck found a sack of flour stowed away in the barn on Saturday, which they removed and in its stead placed a bag filled with stones and chaff." This bag was found some distance from the burned buildings the morning after the fire. There was a small insurance.

Discovery of Another Cave. - A Lancaster county paper says :- Recently, while Mr. Speece was quarrying stone for lime burning purposes on the farm of Samuel Worst, near Pequea meeting-house, Salisbury twp., he uncovered the entrance of what proved to be a remarkable cave. The entrance was only large enough for a man to crawl in, but after proceeding a distance of twenty feet it becomes large enough for a man to walk erect, and a short distance further on rises to a height of thirty-one feet and varies from eleven to eighteen feet in width. and is four hundred yards long. The roof and sides of the cave are covered with stalactites, some of which are three feet long. A narrow passage leads from this chamber to another which is about six times as large and has an ley-cold stream of water running through it. In it is also a beautiful lake, about one hundred and fifty yards long and about twothirds as wide. A small stream runs from the lake and empties into the large one. In the lake several small fish were seen, which on being caught were thought to be sightless. The cave has not yet been fully explored, and more curious features may be discovered.

Cumberland County.-We copy the following from the Cumberland county papers of last week:

Geo. M. Bricker's son, a boy of about seven summers, narrowly escaped death on Friday morning last. He fell down stairs with a piece of licorice ball in his mouth, which passed into his throat, choking him to such an extent that his life for a few moments was despaired of. His face turned to spots in his agony, but fortunately the obstruction was dislodged in time to save his life.—Star.

A stable belonging to Christian Cramer, blacksmith, in Springfield, early Sunday morning a week, was burned, together with its contents. A horse that occupied the stable had been saddled and bridled and then turned loose.—Loss about $350.

Spring township, Perry co., Pa., February 20th, 1878.

Mr. Editor—Dear Sir, The election in this Township came off very quietly yesterday. A few more than half the voters being present.
Those who were there, were, for once in 25 years allowed to vote as they understood (the monkeys not being present to ride them to the ballot box.)

We had but two tickets in the field—Democratic and Greenback. We believe that the people or rather the leaders of the U. S. Senate have been reading the Acts of the U. S. Senate and examining the vote lately taken by that body, on the Mathewa' Silver Resolution and have imitated their thieving masters of the East, by joining the two old parties together, and supporting the Democratic nominees.—
All right, gentlemen, you have dug your own graves; you are helping to twist the Financial rope about your own necks, still tighter and tighter, in order that you may be lowered to hard pan, your properties seized by the sheriff, and sold to your robbers, that you and your families may go ragged, hungry and starved.
But mark the prediction, when the year 1880 comes, you will be hurled out of existence, and buried in the grave of oblivion, like the worthless dog, unhonored and unsung.

The Greenback party in this township, doubled its vote of last fall.

LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE.

Lippincett's Magazine for March opens with the second paper of Edward King's new series, "With the Russians in Bulgaria," to which recent events have given a special interest. It sketches the historical and political aspect of the Bulgarian question, as well as the characteristics of the people and the country, and is embellished with numerous and well-executed embellished with numerous and well-executed engravings. Prof James A. Harrison's concluding paper on Sweden forms the second illustrated article, and will be found entertaining. The author of the "Reminiscence of the First Iron-Clad Fight," published in the last number, contributes an account of the capture of Fort Fisher, which he saw from the masthead of the "Ironsides," afterwards visiting the scene of action, and noting many details of a striking or pathetic character. "The Strauge Story of Paul Scarron," by Edwin De Leon, "Europe's New Coal-Field," by David Ker, and "Small Farce and Comedy," by Mary Deau, will all repay perusal. "Without Inscription," by a German Author, gives a vivid and touching picture of Jewish life in Eastern Europe. "Jack and Mrs. Brown" is concluded, and there are other stories and papers of an amusing kind,—making a good variety of light reading.
