Brief Items.

Such growing weather was scarcely ever seen in April.

Considerable hail in parts of this county on Friday afternoon.

Read Stephens & Beetem's Carpet advertisement on eighth page. The telephone fever has broken out in this town, and already two lines are in working order. Candidates are beginning to take an alarming interest in the state of your

Grain looks remarkably advanced for the time of year. Rye heads are seldom found till May and now they are found on nearly every farm. Two brown stone bases belonging to G. W. Reeder were stolen from the ware house at Newport, some time ago. Would not such a fellow be mean enough to steal grave stones? We were last week shown by Lewis Potter, Esq., a commission issued to Henry Lightner as ensign in September, 1814. The commission was signed by Simon Snyder as Governor and James Trimble, Dep. Secretary.

One of the prettiest trees to be found in this section of the country is a Norway Pine in the yard of the house belonging to Mr. Wm. McKee. The tree is finely shaped and is so covered with blossoms that it looks as though hungall over with ripe strawberries.

A subscriber writing from Ellsworth bunty, Kan. says: "We have a Penncounty, Kan. says: "We have a Penn-sylvania settlement is this county, there being sixty families from that State with lands nearly joining. One farmer has one thousand acres in wheat. All crops

One day last week a little daughter of J. Wesley Young while gathering wild flowers on "Fox rock," which overhangs Stewart's mill dam, Duncannon, fell from it into the water beneath, and was only saved from drowning by the timely assistance of Mr. Thomas Miller. Record.

Our Liverpool correspondent says: On Friday afternoon, the 28th inst., the severest hailstorm known to the oldest inhabitant, visited Liverpool borough and vicinity. Some of the largest hall-stones measured six inches in circumference. Vegetation of all kinds was very much injured, and the damage done windows and skylights produced an active trade in glass.

Two little daughters of Mr. John Rice, of Spring twp., of their own accord, a few weeks ago, very beautifully orna-mented their mother's grave, who died about five years ago, and was buried in the grave yard at the Stone church in Germany. To accomplish this they labored almost two days. The highest en-comiums should be passed upon these dear little girls, for these acts of kind-ness and respect they have shown toward their deceased mother.

The Rev. D. D. Leherman of Meadville, Pa., who declined the position of City Superintendent of Public Schools, City Superintendent of Public Schools, a few years ago, at a salary of $1800, is to assist Rev. J. Kretzing at Markleville next Sunday morning and also at Newport in the evening—either himself or his brother, the Rev. J. J. Leherman, of Louisville, Ohio., preaching the sermon. Both of the visiting clergymen are delegates to the General Synod of the Reformed church convening in Lancaster, Pa., on the 15th of May.

Church Notices.

Union Services the Lutheran Church next Sabbath evening at 7† P. M. Lecture and prayer meeting in the Reformed Church next Tuesday at 75 o'clock P. M.

Preaching in the Presbyterian Church next Sabbath at 11 A. M. Sunday school at 9:30 A. M.; Prayer meeting Wednes-day at 7½ P. M.

Accident. On the 18th inst., S. Kings borough, of son Robert Kingsborough, residing near Ickesburg, fell from the threshing floor to the floor below, a distance of fifteen feet, fracturing his arm far up in the shoulder. Dr. G. C. Dean was called and adjusted the fracture, and at present the boy is doing very well.

A Scared Congregation .- On Sunday a week as Rev. Zener was preaching in the Salem church, af Fishing Creek, part of the ceiling fell down, causing quite a scare in the audience and covering many of them with dirt. Some started for the door with a rush, but as soon as the cause of the trouble was ascertained, the congregation quieted down and the preacher went on with his dis-

Terrific Hall Storm .- On Saturday afternoon this town was visited by the most severe hail storm we ever witnessed. Stones of the size of peas and chestnuts fell so rapidly that in a few minutes we gathered up half a bushel on the porch in front of our premises .-The hail was followed by a rain storm that flooded the streets and many of the cellars in town. Fortunately, the hail fell so straight that but little glass was broken in town, though at the residence of Capt. John McKeehan on the north of this borough, 30 or 40 lights were bro-

The hall storm of Friday afternoon was but very slight here, but in Buck's Valley and Raccoon Valley it was very severe, breaking large quantities of glass and stripping trees of their foliage.— One man in Buck's Valley had forty lights of glass broken, and stones fell as large as an ordinary sized hen egg.

Accounts from various other parts of the county report equally severe storms, and we expect to have reports of much damage from the large quantities of rain that fell.

Accident. - A correspondent sends us the following: As Mr. Daniel Rine, of Rye twp., was cleaning a well for Mr. Emanuel Keller, on Saturday, the 20th inst., he went down and was taken sick from the effect of foul air. He started to go up the ladder, and when about 20 feet from the bottom he fainted and fell, landing on his head, breaking his nose and lacerating his forehead in a shocking manner, and causing concussion of the brain. Dr. Epley was sent for, who dressed his wounds and has attended to him since, Mr. Rine is still deranged and laying in very dangerous condition at this writing, 26th. The doctor has very little hopes of his re-

Wholesale Burglaries .- No less than seven attempts at burglary were made in Newport on last Thursday night. The premises operated on were the carriage shop of A. J. Beatty, the Harper House, where they obtained a small amount of plunder, the store of Mrs. Ickes, the shop of Mr. Ickes, where they were scared away by a person who heard them, the residence of Peter Wertz and the Farmers & Drovers Hotel. Suspicion rests upon some residents of the place.

Serious Accident. - A distressing accident occurred between nine and ten o'clock Tuesday night, at the residence of Joseph Tompkinson, 604 Boas street, Mrs. Tompkinson (mother of Misses Ellen F. and Martha M. Tompkinson, teachers in the high school, West State street) having bid the family good night, ascended the stairs for the purpose of retiring for the night. As she reached the topmost step she lost her balance, and, being quite a portly lady, rolled down the stairway breaking both wrists and receiving such internal injuries as may perhaps prove fatal. Dr. Van Cleef was immediately summoned and afterwards the family physician, and everything was done to alleviate Mrs. T.'s sufferings, but up to last evening she was still unconscious.-Patriot, 25th inst.

Getting Names for Bad Purposes. - In all the papers of the flashy sort, as well as some that claim a higher standard, may be read the advertisement, " Your name neatly printed on fifty eards for 10 cents-postage paid," etc. We caution our readers to have nothing to do with these advertisements. Every printer knows that the cost of the cards furnished, which are of fine board generally, together with the work and postage, will cost at least three times ten cents. How, then, can men make their traffic pay, and pay for their advertising, also, which amounts to consider-

It is claimed that the lists of names of thoughtless young ladies and innocent young girls, as well as of young men and boys, gathered by advertisements of this kind in every city and village, and at almost every post office, command a big price when offered for sale to men who deal in literature of the kind which poisons the young mind and prepares a foundation for a blasted life. In the hands of these soulless wretches, the preserved lists are an unerring guide to the hearthstone of almost every family. The cards are frequently somewhat nice, but circulars offering books and pamphlets, sensual and beastly, at high prices, will doubtless follow. It may be that advertisers of cards do not want the lists for sale, and are themselves the vampires upon society who take this method of getting addresses for a nefarious traffic. Be this as it may, the thousands of names sent for cards thus advertised, are on a dangerous journey.

Important Road Law Decision.-The Harrisburg Patriot says that Judge Pearson, of that city, rendered a decision the other day which is of considerable interest to farmers everywhere. He decided that supervisors are by law compelled to assess the usual road taxes immediately upon entering upon their duties, and that the books in which the assessments are made shall be open to the imspections of the taxpayers, and that every man who chooses to do so may work out his own road tax instead of paying it in money. No supervisor can exact cash for tax in case the assessed party chooses to pay it in labor.

Shocking Railroad Accident.-The Harrisburg Patriot of the 25th inst., says :-An accident of a shocking nature occurred shortly after four o'clock yesterday morning, at the crossing of the P. R. R., on Second, below Vine street .-At the hour above designated, the Pacific express train from the East, engine No. 8, Mr. Lillie, engineer, came round the sharp curve below the crossing, the pilot of the engine striking the market wagon of Mr. John Eby, of the Locust Grove hotel, on the Chambersburg road about five miles East of the city.

Mr. Eby had with him in his wagon -an ordinary spring wagon-his daughter Emma, aged sixteen years—a comely and well beloved child - and a quantity of produce for the morning market. The vehicle when struck was on the middle of the crossing and was caught between the front and rear wheels, on the left hand side (where his daughter sat) and was carried with the horse as far up the track as the watchbox on Second street, about one hundred feet from the crossing, where the running gear of the wagon was thrown aside and the horse became detached, uninjured, and fled up the street to the Market

The body of the vehicle with Mr. Eby, his daughter and the produce was carried up the track 60 or 80 feet further by the pilot to a point opposite the small alley running past the American house from Second street, to the railroad-the body and top being crushed and broken into fragments and scattered over and around the unfortunate peo-

When Engineer Lillie saw the wagon on the track he applied the air brakes as quickly as possible. Mr. Eby, who was greatly shocked and scratched considerably, jumped from the pilot of the engine soon as possible and went to his daughter's assistance. The young lady had been dragged under the rubbish, and the pilot wheels of engine running over both legs crushed them in a shocking manner, one of them from the thigh down to near the ankle. Mr. Eby said to his daughter :- "Get up, Emma."-She replied :- "Father, I can't, my legs are so heavy!" Then Mr. Eby cried out: - " My God, Emma, they are smashed!"

The train hands and passengers im-mediately rendered Mr. Eby all the assistance in their power. The wounded people were taken to the depot, and from themce Miss Eby was conveyed to the hospital on a stretcher. Her case was at once pronounced hopeless and therefore no amputation was performed by the staff. The young lady was conscious for only a short time and lingered in great agony till nine o'clock, when she diedher father kneeling by her side on the stretcher, smoothing the fair hair of his child with his hands. The last words spoken were, "Father don't leave me." The remains were taken home about noon-Mr. Eby being able to walk to the carriage, but limped somewhat from bruises on his leg and a slight cut on the foot.

A portion of the marketing was destroyed, but several baskets were carried on the pilot to the depot where they were afterwards secured.

Mr. Eby, upon being interviewed, said: "I was driving along the street at the usual speed; a little behind several wagons; had no thought of danger; the first thing I knew the locomotive struck us and we were carried up the road by the cowcatcher; saw no signal from the watchman; heard no sound from the approaching train."

Heavy Sales .- Two weeks ago Messrs. Stephens & Beetem, of the Carlisle Carpet House, had on hand the largest stock of carpets ever seen in Carlisle, yet today their shelves and floors are comparaday their shelves and floors are comparatively empty, so great has been the sales during the past fortnight. A good portion of their stock was sold to parties in western territories. No wonder their carpets sold rapidly. The patterns the firm had selected for the spring trade were wonderfully beautiful and elegant in both design and workmanship. Mr. Stephens is in the east again, and by tomorrow the new goods will be on band morrow the new goods will be on hand and then call if you have an eye for the good and beautiful.-Mirror.

Cumberland County .- We copy the following from the Cumberland county papers of last week:

On Tuesday afternoon, Harry Dewalt, son of Solomon Dewalt, who lives on the Noffsinger farm two and a half miles South of Carlisle, met his death by a most shocking accident. He was assisting in hullding a livest the solution of the solut ing in building a lime stack and in some unexplained manner fell underneath a wagon heavily laden with stone. The hind wheel passed over his head, crushing it almost to a jelly. He was a lad of about fourteen years of age. The news of death occasioned a great shock to the community and much sympathy was expressed for the family so sadly afflicted. afflicted.

The young man Rose, mentioned in connection with a fight a few weeks ago, F. MORTIMER, has added several mores links in his career of crime. Having forged Mr. Jacob Deitrich's name to a money order and received the money (some $20 or $25) he left for parts unknown; but there is a man in Carlisle looking for a fellow of Rose's description, who borrowed an overcoat when no one was looking, and forgot to return it. We hope that justice may overtake and punish him to the full extent of the law. He is, from what we can learn, a first-class rascal, and not be left run at large.—"Chronicle."

On Friday last, in Cartisle, whilst at family worship Mr. Wm. Leeds was taken sick and died in a few moments of taken sick and died in a few moments of apoplexy. For many years he was an an extensive dealer in live stock and was considered the most thoroughly posted in the business of any man in the business of any man in this section. He was a quiet, industrious, energetic man, and despite the ups and downs of life made numerous friends, and retained them until death. His funeral, last Sabbath, was one of the largest that ever took place in Carlisle.

Roland Burkholder, of Shippensburg, who was accidentally shot in leg, some time since, has so far recovered as to walk about. He extracted the ball a few days ago.

Juniata County .- We copy the following from the Juniata county papers of last week :

The youngest child of Mr. James P. Johnston of Port Royal died on Monday evening. Only a few days ago Mr. Johnston buried his wife, and is now called upon to part with another of his loved ones.—Dem. & Reg.

One day last week the roof on the residence of Mr. John Beaver, of Port Royal, was discovered to be on fire, and but for the timely assistance rendered by the people of immediate neighborhood, a disastrous conflagration might have ensued. The fire was extinguished be-fore making much headway.

A Card of Thanks.

The Entertainment given for the benefit of the Temperance Union in this place on Satur-day eve last, was most successful. Had the evening not been so inclement, the room would have been crowded, as it was, there was a good and appreciative andience. The reading given by Miss Beckie Sheller, of Duncanuon, was very fine. The singing both of solos and duets was most excellent and the praises expressed by the audience were unlimited. Miss Jennie Wilson has a beautiful voice and her execution was first-class. Miss Molle Sheller sang some most pleasing solos, showing a power of voice and order of musical talent of which little Perry may be proud. They have the thanks of the Union.
