Brief Items.

The Duncannon Record has suspended for the present.

Mr. Jerry Bair, of Buffalo twp., sends Timothy stalks 5 feet 10 inches high.

Jacob E. Bonisall has been appointed postmaster at Liverpool, this county.

Lebanon has had a sheriff's sale of coffins. They sold at $1 and $2 a piece.

The Supreme Court has decided that a man who gets drunk three times a year is a drunkard.

A valuable horse belonging to Judge Junkin, died last week from the result of a kick.

When there is danger of staining the hands from preparing fruit or vegetables, rub them with fresh lard first.

The next meeting of the State Teachers' Association will be held at Reading, commencing on July 23rd and ending July 25th.

Two American girls have scandalized pious Paris by fanning themselves in church. They were admonished to stop fanning or retire, and retired.

A fine black mare belonging to Mr. Jeff. Gussler, in Centre twp., while rolling on Saturday last, broke her leg, making it necessary to shoot her.

The daughter of Samuel Bell, of Juniata county, who we noticed last week had been bitten by a copperhead snake, we are informed has since died of the wound.

A communication making rather serious charges against some persons in Ickesburg, we cannot publish. If the allegations are true, the matter will probably receive legal investigation.

Mr. Samuel Spotts has shown us specimens of timothy from his farm in Spring township, measuring 8 feet, 2 inches. He reports that he has 50 acres of oats, 35 acres in one field.

Wilbur, son of Rev. J. W. Cleaver, of this borough, jumped on a rake one day last week, one of the teeth of which entered his foot and caused a very painful wound.

A Chester county exchange says: "We have a citizen 92 years of age who does as much work in the harvest field as any of the young chaps, so let Perry county keep quiet about her 78 year old harvester."

On one of the Coleman farms, in Lebanon county, twenty-seven men were last week seen mowing in one field with the old-fashioned scythes. Rather an unusual sight in these days of machinery.

The gathering at Newport on the fourth, as a failure, was a success; but as a successful demonstration was a failure. Such at least is the opinion of persons from this place. Harrisburg drew too many from this county.

The postmaster at Duncannon informs us that arrangements have been made by the department by which the mail from that place to New Bloomfield will go through in one day. Heretofore it has taken two days.

On Saturday night the residence of Mr. William Smith, near the new cemetery in Oliver township, was entered by thieves, who carried off pies, bread, canned peaches, &c. The thieves gained entrance at the first story window.

On Thursday we helped to kill a large rattle snake. That is, we stood at a safe distance and saw Fred Horn kill it, and then we boldly measured it and took its nine rattles, which we keep in remembrance of the first live rattle snake we ever saw.

This county was largely represented at Harrisburg on the 4th of July. The parade was a success. The various branches of industry were represented in the procession. McCormick's Nail Works, of West Fairview, Cumberland county, presented the most notable appearance.

A little daughter of Geo. Yohn, aged about 2½ years, residing with John Sweger, in Carroll twp., while playing in front of the house on Friday last, was severely bitten in the thumb by a copperhead snake, which she attempted to pick up. Her hand and arm were terribly swollen, but it is thought she will recover.

At the regular meeting of the temperance union on Saturday evening last the following officers were elected: President, Benj. McIntire; Vice Presidents, Wm. Wallace, Harry Smith; Rec. Sec. Chas. Kitzer; Cor. Sec. Elton Wallace; Treasurer, Valentine Blank; the Financial Committee and Executive Board to be elected by the President. Meeting next Saturday evening at 8½ o'clock.

The following are the officers of the Rural Council, No. 105 O. U. A. M., of Ellittsburg:

C.—G. W. Reeder; V. C.—D. Kistler; R. S.—Dr. Bailor; A. R. S.—K. Fry; F. S.—J. C. Stuart; T.—T. Hench; I. N. D.—P. Shatto; E. X.—A. Barge; I. P.—G. Titzel; O. P.—G. W. Swartz; Trust.—W. Hassinger.

Stretching Up.—Oats this season are trying to show people what they can do. The average height of many fields is over 4 feet, and stalks much longer than that are very common. Mr. Emanuel Dugan, of Wheatfield, sends us some that are 6 feet 8 inches, and Wm. Clark, of Centre, beats this by coming in with some 7 feet 6 inches. These stalks are a little light for bean poles, though by another season we expect Perry county to grow oat stalks long and strong enough for that purpose.

Swindlers.—Farmers in this section of the State are just now marked by the swindlers for their game. This time it is a patent reaper grinder. When a stranger wants you to sign "a contract," get out your shot gun and tell him to "git," and the chance is that you will save money by taking our advice.—Many farmers in this and the adjoining counties are losers to various amounts by not taking this advice, which we gave them once before.

Feeble-Minded Children.—The Pennsylvania Training School for Feeble-Minded Children is located in the County of Delaware, twelve miles from Philadelphia. Media is the postal town, and Greenwood its railroad station, a short walk from the buildings. A Beneficiary Fund is created by a special act of the Legislature, on which indigent children of feeble-mind, may be admitted from the various counties of this Commonwealth. The Institution cannot receive on this State Fund, children who are Epileptic, or seriously paralyzed, or profoundly idiotic. The State Fund is appropriated to the care of such children of poor parentage as cannot be educated and cared for in the ordinary way, but who can by the special methods of the Institution, in its school, gymnastic and industrial departments, be trained to some degree of intelligence, self-care and usefulness.

Perry county is at this time entitled to the admission of one feeble-minded child, who will be admitted on suitable proof of their condition and dependence. For reports, and full particulars as to how to proceed, address ISAAC N. KERLIN, Sup't., Media, Pa.

Cumberland County.—We copy the following from the Cumberland county papers of last week: The Shippensburg Chronicle says: John C. West, of Path Valley, delivered the first load of new wheat, at Joab Martin's warehouse, on Monday last.

Charley Foulke was released from the county jail, Tuesday, the amount of bail required being $2,700, Peter Spahr and Stephen Weakley being his bondsmen.

On Monday afternoon a child of Mr. George Lutz, residing on the York road, about one mile below Boiling Springs, was drowned by falling into a spring in the rear of the house. The child was about sixteen months old. It was supposed that it was in the water but a short time, but all efforts failed to restore it to life. The spring is used by the family and was partially covered over.

One day last week, one of these rare and singular animals, a porcupine, was captured in a grain field in the vicinity of Orrstown, by Benj. Wingert and Richard Carr. The whereabouts of the porcupine was first discovered through a dog, who was making unusual demonstrations over some object which attracted the attention of these men, who were harvesting near by. The dog was badly pierced with the animal's horn-like quills but was captured alive with the greatest difficulty.

An Improved Coffee Pot.—This is an age of invention, and in proof of the fact that this is so, we will call attention to an improved coffee pot, warranted to make more and better coffee with less material. The patent for this county is owned by David Owen, and he is now preparing stock to supply the demand at wholesale and retail. At the present time they can be had of John Cromleigh, at Duncannon, and other agents will soon be appointed in other parts of the county.

Farm Bells.—I have on hand several of the patent rotary farm bells, suitable either for farm, factory or school house which will be sold at about half price to close the consignment.

Information Wanted That we Can't Give.

Mr. EDITOR:—My wife and I always read your paper for the news. I have never written any for the Times, but being a regular subscriber, I am going to ask for a little special information that you may not otherwise deem necessary to give through your columns. A few days ago my wife and I got a circular in which everybody was asked to lay aside all work, and business of every kind and come down to Newport, to join in one of the old time celebrations of the Fourth of July. There was to be a grand Fantastic Parade, a parade of the different orders, a greased pole was to be climbed, races run, etc., all before dinner. Then there were to be flags flying, drum corps playing, balloons to be sent up, and from a stand erected in the Square, elegant speeches were to be made. My wife said the grain could not be hurt for another day, and that we would take our marketing along and join in this Perry county celebration of the Fourth of July. But then the circulars said for everybody to quit business, so we concluded that we couldn't get into the stores. Well at last we arranged things so we could join in the celebration. We started from home early so as to be in time for the parades. The day was bright and pretty, and expected a good time, but when we got into town we found it just like any other day. The stores and shops were all open, people were working, and nobody there seemed as if they were going to lose any time. We saw no flags, nor did we hear any drums.—The Band from your town came in, and a few boys gathered around it and shot off some fire crackers. There was no stand erected in the square. We went up to the greased pole at 11 o'clock, but there was nobody that would either climb or run a race. We came back to the square and saw a man trying to send off some balloons, but they all burned up before they left the ground. In short, the flags that were to float didn't fly; the drums didn't beat; the people themselves didn't cease business; nobody would run a race nor climb a pole; the stand that was erected didn't stand, and the balloons went up, but wouldn't fly. Mother (I call my wife mother for short sometimes) got mad, said she wouldn't wait for dinner, and so we started for home. Now, what mother and me wants to know is this, was this one of the "Old time celebrations that our fathers so much enjoyed?" FARMER.

New Books.

"MONEY IS POWER."

BY R. W. JONES.

This is a new book, just issued, on the subject of Finance. We always take pleasure in publishing a review of a work of merit, as this is, because it is not only information for our readers, but a merited compliment to the author and publishers. "Money is Power" is the most comprehensive work extant on the subject it treats: it is a scientific, historic, and practical treatise on the science and history of monetary affairs, divided into twenty-five chapters, arranged with reference to all important questions arising under the general subject of Finance. It is not of the old, stale style; but new in matter, in principle and in system, and is very readable and interesting. It embraces special points of Roman, French, and German finance; history; a short, correct, and luminous history of English monetary affairs from 1793 to 1795; and gives a review of United States financial affairs at length. The myriad of facts and figures condensed into this book are marvellous, embracing statistical tables of the gold, silver and paper money of the world, and showing where it is distributed: the gold and silver products of the mines of the world; the gold, silver and paper money in the U. S. for over half a century; exports and imports of merchandise and the precious metals to and from the U. S. for 50 years; the foreign commerce of the civilized world and its growth within the last 50 years; the internal business of the U. S. from 1854 to 1877, and its rapid increase; the bonded debt of the civilized world; the national, state, municipal corporate and individual indebtedness of the U. S. in 1859 and 1877; a chapter on the "money power"; the assessed value of the property in the U. S. in 1860 and 1870, and its present value; bankruptcies; increase of railroads and their failures; tables of prices during several years; increase of pauperism, crime, and death rates; shows how much money the country needs, and how much re-emption will give us, &c.

We unhesitatingly say that every voter in the U. S. ought to have the book, because the information it contains will be invaluable to him, no matter what his preconceived opinions may be. Not only people, but congressmen and writers on political economy, have wandered in ignorance of the history of financial affairs and the laws of monetary science. Send for "Money is Power," and "post" yourself.

The book is an elegant one, of over 300 pages, bound in cloth, at $1.50 per copy. Agents are wanted by the publishers, and we have no doubt it will pay, for such a work is bound to sell. Address DAVIS & FREGGARD, 323 N 3rd Street, St. Louis, Mo.; or order through your bookstore or merchant.

Meals at all hours, and the charges will be less than the regular price anywhere. As we want to feed everybody, don't bring any baskets with you. Remember it is not a picnic, but a Sunday School Festival. Come everybody and have a good time. Opening exercises at 10 o'clock. Speeches and music will inaugurate the day's exercises. A brass band will be in attendance. THE COMMITTEE.

N. B.—If the day should be unfavorable the Festival will be on Monday or the first fair day following.

Business For Ladies.

Our attention has been called to a new article for the use of ladies, the invention of which has conferred an everlasting blessing upon every lady. We refer to the Queen City skirt suspenders for supporting ladies' skirts the most desirable and beneficial article ever invented for the relief of women, many of whom have suffered years of miserable health caused solely by carrying the weight of a number of heavy skirts, completely dragging them down. Something to support ladies' clothing is absolutely necessary. These suspenders are recommended by our leading physicians to all ladies and young girls. Every lady should have them. They are sold only through lady agents. A splendid opportunity is offered to some reliable lady canvasser of this county to secure the agency of a pleasant and profitable business.
