A Boiler Explodes, Killing Three Men.

CINCINNATI, August 5.—The boiler of an engine running a saw-mill at Enterprise, W. Va., exploded, Saturday, killing George Avery, John Parr, and Frank Dilworth, and seriously wounding Dent Park and three others.

Heavy Failure in Pittsburgh.

PITTSBURGH, August 5.—Reese, Graf & Woods, steel manufacturers, filed a petition in bankruptcy to-day. Liabilities, $1,171,905; assets, consisting of real estate, stock of steel and outstanding accounts, $600,000. Of the liabilities $902,648 are secured. The balance unsecured. Nearly all the firm's paper is held in this city.

A Fiend Served Right.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., August 7.—One hundred armed horsemen went to the jail at Franklin last night, broke it open and took out Calvin Beatty, colored, aged 18, charged with having raped a six-year old daughter of Daniel Christian, a prominent citizen, while returning from school last Friday. They have probably hung him, but no trace of his body can be found.

Journeymen Shoemakers on a Strike.

CHICAGO, August 6.—Six hundred journeymen Shoemakers of this city struck this morning for an advance of wages from nine to twelve dollars.—They have refused an offer of the employers to compromise for $10.50 per week. The employers declare that it is liberal and the best they can offer, and that if it is not accepted they can and will get their work done in the east at less price. There are 1,000 shoemakers of this class in Chicago and those who have not already struck threaten to do. The strike includes all the leading wholesale houses.

A Sam-Patch Leap.

A number of men who were swimming at the old Navy-Yard on Saturday night were amusing themselves by jumping off the lower rounds of the big shears, when Timothy Boyle, a big burly fellow, came up and said:

"I'll show you something," and climbed to the top of the shears, one hundred and ten feet high, and jumped. He went straight, cleaving the air like a cannon ball, and parted the water cleanly. He sank deep, but came up and was soon ashore. He soon, however, began to swell, and in a couple of hours was covered with the marks of bruises, and to-day is so sore as to be in bed. That he survived at all is wonderful, for in New York last week a man who jumped sixty feet was killed.

Terrific Storm.

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 5.—At three o'clock this afternoon this city was visited by the most terrific storm known here for many years. In different sections of the city some forty or fifty houses were unroofed and extensive damage was done to many houses in course of erection. Castle Stewart, which has been rented to the Chinese embassy, was damaged to the extent of $1,500.

Mary Sharp, a colored woman, residing in a small house near the river bank was killed by being blown into the river with the house in which she resided. There are reports of several persons having been injured by lightning. The patent office, the Smithsonian institute, the office of the Post and Holy Cross Church of the Communion were struck by lightning, but not seriously damaged. There was very great destruction to the sewers throughout the city and the cellars to many business houses in the neighborhood of Pennsylvania avenue Seventh street were flooded with water.

The avenue in front of the executive mansion and the treasury department during the storm resembled a rapidly flowing river, and it was with the utmost difficulty that street cars or vehicles of any description could face the wind and rain.

Hundreds of sparrows were killed by the hail which fell with great violence. Shade trees in all sections of the city were broken and torn down. The damage to public and private property will reach at least $75,000. In front of the Baltimore and Potomac depot afternoon the water was at least eighteen inches deep and passengers for the trains were ferried over the flooded street in wagons.

A Startling Robbery.

One of the boldest robberies that ever occurred in New York was committed in broad daylight last Saturday, at Thirty-seventh street and Ninth avenue. C. H. Stone is a son-in-law of Joseph P. Hale, the piano manufacturer, of No. 509 West Thirty-fourth street, and is employed by the firm as its cashier. About noon on Saturday, he went to the West Side savings bank, at Thirty-fourth street and Eight avenue, and drew $2,950 to pay off the workmen at the factory. He presented the check and received the money, partly in currency and partly in silver, which he tied up in a bag and walked out with it under his arm. He went along Thirty-fourth street towards Ninth avenue, and when about to cross to the other side of the street he noticed a red butcher's cart, with three men besides the driver, pass quickly by. Not suspecting any danger other than being run over, he dodged the cart. No sooner had he reached the station of the elevated railway, at Ninth avenue, than the three men leaped out of the cart, and one of them, springing upon Mr. Stone from behind, threw his arm around his neck and attempted to choke him. The other two seized him by the arms and legs and attempted to throw him.

Mr. Stone is a powerful man, and struggled violently with his assailants. Aware of the unequal contest, he shouted to a District telegraph messenger boy who was passing, and throwing to him the package of money, told him to run away with it as fast as he could. The boy picked it up and ran up the avenue. Mr. Stone, freeing himself from the robbers, threw himself upon them, and called loudly for help. One of the men, in a rage, struck him in the face, and then pursued the boy, who had nearly reached Thirty-fifth street. Catching up with him, he demanded the money, and meeting with a denial, he knocked the boy down, wrested the package from him, and rejoined his companions, who had overpowered Mr. Stone. The three then jumped into their wagon and drove away at full speed. Pressing an express wagon into service, Mr. Stone started in pursuit. Reining in their horse, the thieves allowed their pursuers to come up, when one of them struck the express wagon horse a powerful blow with the butt end of a whip, stunning the animal, and thus preventing further pursuit. At Twenty-ninth st., one of the traces of the cart broke, but it was quickly mended by the robbers, who soon disappeared.

The hour selected for the robbery was when the policemen change their patrols. Not an officer was in sight. The streets were crowded with people, and although hundreds saw the assault, no one attempted to interfere, probably thinking that it was only a street fight. The robbery was reported to Captain Washburn, of the Thirty-seventh street station. Detective Smith obtained a minute description of the robbers and the cart. The horse was of high mettle, evidently taken from a livery stable. The police think that the robbers belong to the same gang that several months ago boarded a Third avenue car and robbed a collector of $300.

Death on the Railroad.

STUEBENVILLE, O., August 7.—The terrible railway accident on the Pan Handle railroad, about three and one half miles below Steubenville, occurred about 1:20 this morning. The collision took place between the fast line passenger west, which left Pittsburg at 11:47 last night, and the second section of the freight No. 13, coming east. The passenger train left Steubenville at 1:16, which was seven minutes behind time. Half a mile beyond Mingo Junction the engineer saw the freight approaching on the same track and put on the air brakes, but was unable to stop. The passenger train was running at the rate of thirty miles an hour. The result of the collision was that about thirteen passengers were killed, and some thirty or forty wounded. No one on the freight was hurt. The passenger train consisted of the Cincinnati postal car, St. Louis postal car, one baggage, one emigrant, two passenger coaches and two sleepers. The Cincinnati postal car was thrown over an embankment thirty feet and completely demolished. The postal clerks, Frank D. Graham, A. W. Andrews and W. Johnston were killed; Geo. L. Moreau had a leg broken. The St. Louis car was thrown over an embankment on its end and badly wrecked. The postal clerks, G. L. West, W. H. Huston and J. C. Matthews, were injured, but it is supposed not fatally. The following is an accurate list of the casualties:

Killed—Frank D. Graham and W. C. Johnson, postal clerks, of Cincinnati; Augustus Andrews, postal clerk, of Clarkburg, W. Va.; Mrs. Cullen, of Bridgeport, Conn.; Bernhard Miller, of Germany; John Curry, of Ireland; Fred. Gross, of Manheim, Germany; Patrick Gannon, of Ireland; John Dugan, engineer of the passenger train.

WATERBURY, N. Y., August 5.—Chester D. Parkhurst, wife and son, were drowned Saturday night, on the "Bog," in South Woods, thirty miles from Potsdam. They were out for pleasure, and the boat capsized. The bodies have all been recovered. Mr. Parkhurst was a merchant at Potsdam.

NEW YORK, August 6.—Cove Bennet, the man whose name has been conspicuously connected with the Smith murder in Jersey City, was arrested in that city yesterday and lodged in jail. He was arraigned in the Jersey City Police Court to-day charged with suspicion of the murder of Officer Smith. He pleaded not guilty, and was remanded to wait the action of the coroner's jury.

NEW YORK, August 5.—Mrs. H. M. Smith, the alleged murderess of her husband, was arraigned before the judge of the First district police court, Jersey City, this morning, and pleaded not guilty. She was then formally committed to await the action of the coroner's jury.

NEW YORK, August 5.—Mrs. H. M. Smith, the alleged murderess of her husband, was arraigned before the judge of the First district police court, Jersey City, this morning, and pleaded not guilty. She was then formally committed to await the action of the coroner's jury.

These are the killed that have been identified, although the list foots up fifteen who were either killed outright or have died from their injuries. Many of the killed are emigrants and cannot be identified.

Miscellaneous News Items.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 5.—John P. Warner, in a quarrel yesterday, shot and killed William P. Wilson, a native of New York. Both men were members of the fire department.

Mrs. Rose Boudro, of Cohoes, N. Y., was fatally burned on Saturday evening a week, by her clothes becoming ignited from a burning kerosene can, while using the oil to kindle a fire.

A adopted daughter of Hon. Edward Crosby, aged fourteen, was outraged by a tramp on Saturday, near Brattleboro, Vt. A reward of $500 is offered for the arrest of the villain.

A mighty hunter in the Adirondacks killed a fine deer the other day, but a farmer explained that it was his horse, and thought that about $50 would pay for the damage.

A true story in two chapters: Chapter I. Mrs. Milton, of Jersey City, had a habit of smoking a pipe in bed. Chapter II. The other night she changed that habit for a shroud. The end.

A Montcalm county, Mich., deputy sheriff wished to arrest an Indian, and to make his task an easy one, got him drunk. Then the officer, whose name is Robinson, was himself arrested for giving whiskey to an Indian.

On Tuesday a three year old boy at Altoona placed his mouth over the nozzle of a hydrant, and the water rushing out suddenly and with much force, the child was strangled to death. The boy's teeth had closed tightly on the nozzle, and in extricating him several were broken.

A special from Anna, Ill., states that three women—Mrs. Smith, Miss Miller and Miss Matthias—while seeking shelter from the storm on Sunday evening, were instantly killed by the top of a large tree, which was broken off by the storm and hurled upon them.

Albert Zahreskesy and a companion named Hacha while crossing a railroad bridge at Pittsburgh heard a train approaching and in attempting to get out of the way fell over the iron railing to the ground, a distance of over thirty feet.—Zahreskesy's neck was broken, and the other man will die from his injuries.

An Ohioan has invented a coffin torpedo, to discourage the grave robbing fraternity. It is fastened by small chains to the arms of the corpse, and as soon as any one undertakes to move the body it explodes, scattering a formidable charge of buckshot and bullets.

On Saturday morning Mr. John Treibler, on East Louther street, Carlisle, sent us a curiosity in the shape of a twig from a crab apple tree, bearing on one side of the stem ripe fruit and on the other buds and blossoms. This twig is not an exception, for the tree is covered with a heavy crop of ripe fruit, a large quantity of unripe in different stages of growth, blossoms and buds.

On Friday a man named Frank Bailey entered the National hotel in Mechanicsburg, and being somewhat under the influence of whisky, he asked the proprietor, Mr. McClure, for a room to go to sleep. About two hours later Bailey got up, and in coming down stairs he entered a room on the second floor and stole therefrom a revolver and a pair of black pants, the property of Mr. Stambaugh, a boarder. Bailey was arrested the same day and committed to the county jail for trial.

The following is the Democratic County Ticket:

For Congress, F. E. Beltzhoover, Carlisle; for Assembly, Robt. McCachran, Jr., W. Pennsboro'; Alf. M. Rhoads, Carlisle; for Prothonotary, R. M. Graham, W. Pennsboro'; for Clerk of the Courts, John Sheaffer, Silver Spring; for County Treasurer, John C. Eckels, Silver Spring; for Register, J. M. Drawbaugh, Carlisle; for Commissioner, Jacob Barber, Lower Allen, Hugh Boyd, Hopewell; for Director of the Poor, R. S. Roth, Lower Allen; for Auditor, Samuel Green, Penn. Fred. Perlett, Shippensburg.

On Tuesday evening last, about dark, as Mrs. Jas. H. Woodburn was in the stable milking a cow she very perceptibly smelled fire and believing it to be close at hand instituted a search. She was not long in discovering that it was in the neighboring stable, Mrs. Gilmore's, the same that had been fired some time since. She immediately ran to front street where she found James McCandlish and her husband who reached the scene just in time to save a conflagration. The attempt was precisely similar to the former, the fine straw and dust were heaped up and smouldering ready to burst out.

This firing of course is puzzling to the neighbors and authorities. But certain parties suspected and if it is again attempted doubtless the matter can be unearthed. A young man named Bitner gave a false alarm in the neighborhood of Bower's livery. He was immediately arrested and had a hearing before Justice Woodburn. After a patient hearing he was discharged having established his innocence.—Newville Star.

CAMP-MEETING.—There will be a Camp-Meeting held by the United Brethren in Christ, near Eshcol, on land of John Jones, commencing on Thursday, August 29th, 1878, and continuing one week.—All Christians are invited to come and tent with us. There will be no huckstering allowed within the limits prescribed by the late law which is one mile. There will be a Boarding tent on the ground and food for man and beast may be had at fair rates. L. A. WICKBY.

Howard was shot in the hip. Doan Roach was shot in the lung and will probably die. Walter Roach had a horse killed, and the deputy sheriff is raising a force of assistants, and will endeavor to arrest all the participants.

Junata County.—We copy the following from the Junata county papers of last week.

Mr. E. G. Sheaffer, of Oriental, some days ago sent a team to the Millerstown warehouse to bring a hoghead of molasses out to his store, and instead of rolling it on the wagon, the men engaged at it rolled it over the wagon.—When it struck the ground, the head flew out, spilling every gallon of the contents (84 gallons), causing, no doubt, considerable of a "smear."

A little son of Mr. John B. Ghnett, of Susquehanna twp., fell off his father's porch, one day last week, and broke one of his arms.

Mr. Philip Keiter, of Susquehanna twp., lost a valuable cow a few weeks ago, in the following manner: The cow broke into an oats-field, partook pretty freely of oats, went to a creek, drank too much and bursted.

A cow, belonging to Samuel C. Miller, tramped down behind the projecting curve of a root on the bank of Mohontongo creek, fell over, and broke her leg, and, to end her sufferings, had to be killed.—Sentinel.

Cumberland County.—We copy the following from the Cumberland county papers of last week:

A young son of Levi Clay, near West Hill, while visiting at Mr. McKeehan's, in West Pennsboro' township, was severely bitten in the cheek by a dog.

A barn belonging to Joseph Booz, of Southampton twp., was struck by lightning on Saturday last and was totally consumed. We have not heard the extent of Mr. Booz's loss.

On Saturday night last a valuable horse belonging to W. D. Green, living about two miles west of Newville, was stolen from the pasture. A wagon saddle and blind bridle were taken from the stable of a neighbor near by.

On Wednesday afternoon at about five o'clock the barn of Mr. Stewart, on the turnpike, a short distance this side of Shippensburg, was struck and set on fire by lightning and totally consumed, together with 1,500 bushels of grain.—We have learned of no other particulars concerning the disaster.

Mr. Wilson, a Cumberland county farmer, while working in his harvest field about four weeks ago, was suddenly bereft of sight in the left eye. Three days afterward total blindness set in. The affliction was pronounced a case of cataract and the other day Dr. H. L. Stiekel, assisted by his student, Mr. Ulrich and Dr. Willett's performed the operation of extraction which resulted in restoration of perfect sight.

On Saturday morning Mr. John Treibler, on East Louther street, Carlisle, sent us a curiosity in the shape of a twig from a crab apple tree, bearing on one side of the stem ripe fruit and on the other buds and blossoms. ### It is Worth a Trial.

"I was troubled for many years with Kidney Complaint, Gravel, &c., my blood became thin; I was dull and inactive; could hardly crawl about, and was an old worn out man all over, and could get nothing to help me, until I got Hop Bitters, and now I am a boy again.—My blood and kidneys are all right, and I am as active as a man of 30, although I am 73, and I have no doubt it will do as well for others of my age. It is worth the trial."—(Father.)
