

THE TIMES Local Department.

PENNSYLVANIA R. R.—MIDDLE DIVISION.

Table with columns for WESTWARD and EASTWARD, listing train routes and schedules between Harrisburg, York, and other stations.

PUBLIC SALES.—Bills for the sale of Real and Personal Property have been printed at this office, as follows:

November 6.—Wm. Mchaffy will sell at his late residence in this borough, two stores, and a lot of household and kitchen furniture.

Brief Items.

The late rains have put the streams in good order for the mills to run regularly. The receipts of the M. E. Festival held in this place held last week amounted to $130.

Why is it that it takes two days for mail matter to come from Altoona to this place?

Copperheads have not yet gone into winter quarters, as one last week bit G. B. Arnold's hunting dog, much to his disgust, as the animal was very sick.

The boys who took the ax from under the fence, back of Mr. Whitmer's house, will please return it. The old man wants it and had put it there to be handy when he went back to work.

We acknowledge the receipt of some ripe strawberries from a son of Captain Loy, in Madison township. It is not often that such fruits are seen growing out of doors at this season of the year.

A disgraceful row took place in the streets on Thursday afternoon, in which several persons got handled rather roughly, but didn't get any more than they deserved. Whiskey was the cause.

The Trustees of the M. E. Church return thanks to the Bloomfield Brass Band for the fine music rendered at the Festival held in this place last week.—Also thanks for the liberal patronage received.

"Give the devil his due," is all very well for a proverb, but there are lots of men around who would not be here if the settlement was required at once, and it soon will be, if they don't stop whisky drinking.

The amount of stealing done in Carroll twp., is enough to cause the farmers to form a lynching party to properly care for the suspected parties. In three instances sheep have been killed on the owners' premises, leaving them only the pelts.

On Friday morning a week, Mr. Geo. Gable, of Chambersburg, was out hunting. While resting on a fence his gun slipped from his grasp, striking the rail, and was discharged, the lead striking him in the right wrist inflicting an ugly wound.

The export of apples this year to Europe, owing to the enormous crop, is the greatest ever known. Some vessels have taken from Boston as many as 3,000 barrels, and the "Canopus" of the Warren Line, October 15, took 5,000 barrels. This will seem strange to farmers in this county, the crop here being an entire failure.

The Franklin Repository says: On Thursday night last, the white crape was stolen from the door of Mr. Henry Bishop, placed there as a notice of the death of his grandchild. We dislike exceedingly to chronicle the fact that we have in our midst a wretch so degraded as to commit such a mean and contemptible act.

We have just received from the Fashion and Pattern House, of Philadelphia, a copy of the "Metropolitan." Any of our lady readers desirous of having the latest fashions will receive the "Metropolitan" gratis by sending her address to J. G. Ramsdell, 1113 Chestnut St., Philadelphia, Pa. Mr. Ramsdell will be found prompt and reliable in supplying patterns.

P. SHEEDER.

An Animal Worth Having.—Mr. Z. Rice has a mare that made the regular stage-trips from Landsburg to Newport for nineteen years. After that time, when she was 23 years of age, he raised a good colt from her. Such animals are pretty scarce.

One Man Marked.—One chap in Carroll township, living up on the mountain, has been loaded with lead by some one. Mendenhall don't tell who did it, or where it was done, and as yet the doctor has not dug it all out. Keep right on with giving lead injections to the midnight mechanics, and mark 'em so they will stay marked.

Accidentally Shot.—James Stayner a resident of Liberty Valley, was badly hurt by being accidentally shot, while out gunning, on Saturday a week. The shot entered the young man's head, inflicting a very serious wound. When found he was in an insensible condition, and when our informant saw him he was still unable to tell how the accident occurred.

An Upset.—On Monday night Mr. McLaughlin, whose mother resides near Blain, arrived at Newport on the late train. As his mother was quite ill he got a team and started at once. When near the crossing, by the mill, a train came along, scaring his horse so badly that the animal turned square around, upsetting the vehicle and smashing the top. No other damage was done, and Mr. McLaughlin shortly was able to pursue his journey, with the same carriage which had suddenly been turned into an open wagon.

Week of Prayer.—The Y. M. C. A. of Bloomfield observe their week of prayer, commencing Monday, November 11th, and continue throughout the week. Rev. J. W. Cleaver will preach the preceding Sunday morning, and Rev. J. Edgar in the evening for the benefit of the young.

The topics for the services during the week are as follows:

Monday eve.—Young men—their power for evil. Tuesday eve.—Young men—their power for good. Wednesday eve.—Something stronger than the strength of young men. Thursday eve.—How to reach young men. Friday eve.—Young men—their special temptations. Saturday eve.—The pattern for young men. Due notice will be given next Sunday where the meetings will be held. All persons are cordially invited to these meetings.

Doings in the Register's Office.—Since our last report the following business of public interest has been put on record:

Letters of Administration have been granted on the estate of G. W. Brown, of Newport, Elizabeth Brown, Administratrix; on the estate of Silas L. Fleisher, of Newport, Geo. Fleisher, Administrator; on the estate of Charles Ashton, of Duncannon, Samuel Sheller, Administrator de bonis non, with will annexed; on the estate of Kirk Haines, of Millerstown, Jeremiah Rinehart, Administrator; on the estate Ann E. Detrich, of Liverpool, J. Calvin Wallis, Adm'r.; on the estate of Magdaline Messimer of Carroll tp., R. L. Magee, Adm'r.

on the estate of Joseph Jones, of Juniata twp., Elizabeth Jones, Adm'r.; on the estate of Sarah Gehr, of Carroll township, G. W. Gehr, Adm'r.; on the estate of Samuel G. Butler, of Juniata twp., G. D. Raffensperger, Adm'r.

Letters Testamentary have been granted to B. F. Shoemaker and David Roth, on the estate of Bernard Roth, of Jackson twp.; to Dr. W. R. Cisna, on the estate of Geo. Hench, of Tuscarora twp.; to Maggie S. Branyan, on the estate of Eli Brayan, of Penn twp.; to Jacob Long, on the estate of Ann Martin, of Millerstown; to David Wentz, on the estate of Hannah Hollenbaugh, of Jackson twp.

Assignments have been made as follows: Samuel Smith of Bloomfield, to Wm. Grier and J. W. Gantt; John Harrold and wife, of Marysville, to Jno. S. Weaver.

Removal.—We are now located in our new brick building, in the rear of Clark's tin shop. We think we have one of the best offices in this part of the State, and will be glad to have our friends call and see us.

New Ware-house.—Messrs. Garber, McKee & Co., the proprietors of the new Warehouse at Newport, are now ready for business. They have a good stock of coal of all kinds which they will sell at low prices, and are prepared to purchase grain and produce for which the best market rate will be paid. One advantage this Warehouse offers to farmers of the upper end is, that they can unload and load without crossing the railroad. They ask their friends throughout the county to give them a trial.

Lost.—On the 31st ult., a package of Sagendorph batteries, was lost between the residences of David Clouser and P. McNemar, in Centre twp. It belonged to D. F. Brehman and the finder will please leave it at the store of F. Mortimer.

Reported by Chas. H. Smiley, Esq.

Court Proceedings.—The regular October Term of the several courts began on Monday, the 28th ult. The President Judge and both Associates were on the Bench, and there was the usual attendance of Constables and Jurors. The Constables were called, sworn and their returns received, and the Grand Jury was empanelled, instructed by the court and set to work. After having done all the legal swearing that was required the otherwise moral and efficient Prothonotary, to whose obliging disposition the patrons of this newspaper are largely indebted for the detailed proceedings of the courts, gave way to the Attorneys, who occupied the attention of the court the remainder of the afternoon with miscellaneous business.

On Tuesday morning the first case called on the civil list was Abraham Trout vs. J. Westley Williamson. This was an action of Trespass de bonis Asportatis brought by the plff. against the late Sheriff of Perry county under the following circumstances:

Jerome Trout a young man living in Tyrone township, in this county, confessed a judgment for $600, in favor of his father the plff. who lived in one of the lower counties of this State. An execution was issued upon this judgment and considerable amount of personal property was sold, the father becoming the purchaser thereof, and leaving it in possession of his son. Subsequently J. F. Drawbaugh a creditor of the son issued an execution against him, gave the Sheriff's bond of indemnity, and directed him to levy upon and sell the property above mentioned as though it still belonged to Jerome Trout, alleging that the former sale by which it came into the ownership of the father was through collusion and fraud and could not stand as against creditors. Abraham Trout brought suit against the Sheriff for the value of the property thus sold and the jury awarded him a verdict of $250. A motion was made and reasons filed for a new trial by the counsel for deft. who was really J. F. Drawbaugh, W. H. and W. A. Sponser for plff.,—Wetzel, McIntire and Markel for deft.

Com. vs. John W. Smith, in the court of Quarter Sessions, was the next case. The deft. in this case was indicted for Fornication and Bastardy. Miss Sarah Drawbaugh, a pretty modest young lady, carrying a smiling little infant in her arms, accused the defendant of imprudently increasing the Smith family, contrary to the Act of Assembly in such case made and provided. The young lady's story of how she loved not wisely, but too well, and how she expected to become his wife, was direct and simple in the narration, and the jury believing her statement, and making a very liberal discount of the statement of the deft., whose manner and conduct was in marked contrast to that of the prosecutor, found him guilty. For thus attempting to perpetuate the name of Smith, this immortal name that was not born to die, his Honor Judge Junkin directed him to pay the usual duceats imposed in such case. Smith's bank account not justifying the immediate payment, and no eager friends being on hand to go his security, he took boarding and lodging with Sheriff Gray.—District Attorney McAllister and Barnett for Com.; Sponser for defendant.

The case of the Com. vs. David Graham in its development showed that upon a certain occasion David had married a wife named Amanda, and they domiciled and cohabited for sometime afterward in Wheatfield twp. Amanda, however, complained of having made the discovery that her illegitimate lord had departed from the uniform constancy and regard which they were bound by the laws of God, as well as by their mutual vows and faith to each other pledged. She also claimed that deft. had looked with lecherous eyes, and in an appropriative spirit upon the charms of certain females with frail characters, that he had failed to furnish her with sufficient clothing and food, that he and his father had been guilty of cruel and harsh treatment, by which she was forced to leave his bed and board and therefore she had him arrested on the charge of desertion. David denied the allegation and defied the alligator. Owing to a legal proposition that the case presented, the judgment of the court was reserved until the Argument Court in December. District Attorney McAllister and Sponser for Com.; Barnett for deft.

The Commonwealth vs. Jerome FASTER was a case of surety of the Peace. It arose over the corpse of a deceased hog that had been brought to the yard of the Perdux manufacturing company, for conversion into fertilizing material. After a partial anatomical dissection of the hog by Thomas Doyle, FASTER complained that he should go slower, or proceed in a different way and in the course of his remarks observed that he contemplated chopping Thomas in minute pieces, rendering him bald headed and boneless, extracting his eyeballs, demolishing his lungs, and in short reducing him to an insupportable and invisible condition. This was the tale of Thomas substantially, and fearing that his health might be injured by the operation he had the terrible FASTER arrested. Upon hearing the case the Court deemed Thomas unduly excited in the matter and dismissed the case, directing each party to pay his own costs and enter into recognizance in the sum of $50 to keep the Peace.

The next case was on the civil list and was an action of ejectment brought by John P. Lutz vs. Lazarus Blust, to recover a tract of land of about 60 acres in Tyrone township. The wife of Mr. Blust was divorced from him by the Courts of Cumberland county, and after her divorce she conveyed the land to plff. she having been the original owner. The records of the divorce from Cumberland county, being defective or incomplete, in order to prevent injustice from being done a juror was withdrawn and the case continued. Markel and Wetzel for plff. Junkin and Sponser for deft.

Juniata County.—We copy the following from the Juniata county papers, of last week.

The storm of Wednesday of last week unroofed the barn of our candidate for County Commissioner, Mr. Van Ormer, residing in Fayette township, and the rain wet his crop, not yet threshed. Mr. Van Ormer is a poor man, and this is a loss he can hardly afford to bear.

Curtis Books, of Danville, was on a visit to his brother in this place. On Monday he received a dispatch that his wife had died suddenly on the morning of the day mentioned. When he left home she was in good health. Late intelligence states that Mrs. Books came to her death by drowning in the canal.—She had been to church on Sunday evening. The night was dark, and on the way home she walked off an abutment that had no railing around it, and fell into the canal.—Mifflin Sentinel.

Jacob Bollinger, of Reeds Gap, was shot, one day last week, through the leg, while out hunting near what is known as Willow Run. The parties did not come to his relief after he was shot, and it is said, suspicion is entertained that it was more of malice than accident that inspired the shooting.

Cumberland County.—We copy the following from the Cumberland county papers of last week:

On Friday, Mr. John Snoke, of Middle Spring, had one of his arms broken by having a hog falling upon it while endeavoring to hang it up.

On Thursday last a little son of Mr. John Cramer, of Southampton township, slipped and fell upon the ground breaking his right arm between the wrist and elbow. Hero-like, he did not utter a single complaint, except the fear that he might be kept from school.

At a ball in the village of West Fairview, East Pennsboro' township, on Friday night, John C. May and James Hippensteel became involved in a quarrel, both being intoxicated. During the fight May drew a revolver on Hippensteel, and shot him in the hip, the ball lodging in his back. The wound is not considered dangerous.

Mrs. Israel Halter, of Newton township, this county, lost a pig some time ago, and having vainly searched the country for miles around, gave it up as lost for good. On last Thursday, his son hearing a queer noise in a straw stack, made some investigations and discovered the missing animal buried in its centre. It had lived in its living tomb, without food or water, precisely sixty days, and is now as healthy as any hog needs to be.

On last Saturday night about ten o'clock, as the ladies at Mr. Phillip Koontz's residence, a few hundred yards south of town, were about retiring to bed they discovered the barn to be on fire. The building was entirely consumed, with all its grain, hay and straw, windmill, new carriage, and a fine cutter sleigh. The loss will be about $1,400, which is covered by a policy of insurance in the Lurgan Mutual Insurance Company. The origin of the fire was, no doubt, the work of an incendiary.—Shippensburg Chronicle.

Intelligence reached this place on Monday morning that Mr. Jeremiah Noffsinger, a recent resident of this vicinity and well known here, had been murdered on Saturday evening in Berkeley county, W. Va., by a man named John A. Fife, a horse dealer.—Fife shot Mr. Noffsinger in the back of the head, killing him almost instantly. We have no particulars of the affair other than that the two had not been on good terms for a year or more. The body was brought to this place yesterday for interment. He leaves a wife and seven children.—Carlisle Mirror.

The Carlisle Mirror says: In the hurry to get to press with our last issue, we failed to give as correct particulars as we wished in regard to the shooting of Mr. Johnson. From the testimony given at the coroner's inquest we learned that Johnson was in a buggy, and not "in the act of climbing a fence." Lee was sitting on the fence holding the gun at a careless rest. As the gun was discharged, Johnson threw up his hands and exclaimed, "Oh! Lord," and then fell forward on his face and almost instantly expired. There are some disposed to censure the young man, Lee, and there even are whisperings of non-accidental intentions, but the verdict of the coroner's jury "that it was from gun shot wounds by an accidental discharge of a gun in the hands of John Lee on the day and year aforesaid," should stop all such idle talk.

Dedication.—The St. Peters Evangelical Lutheran church of Adamsburgh, Snyder county, will be dedicated to the service of the Triune God on the 10th of November. Services on Saturday evening previous, Sunday morning, afternoon and evening Lord's supper on Sabbath evening. There will be present on the occasion Revs. H. Seigler, D. D., H. C. Shindle, P. Sheeder, S. G. Shannon, J. Irvine, J. M. Riemensnyder, J. E. Honeycutt and A. Romig. All are cordially invited to the feast of dedication. H. I. ROMIG, Sec.
