THE CULVERWELL MEDICAL CO.,

A Hunt for "Drones."

A gentleman living in the northern suburbs secured a hive of bees two or three weeks ago as a nucles for an apiary, and in the course of ten days he had read ten different works on the honey-bee and invented half a dozen patent hives. The other forenoon a man called at the house on business and was informed by the wife that her husband was out inspecting the bees.

"Is he taking up honey?" inquired the man.

"Oh,no-he's looking to see if there are any drones in the hive."

At that instant both were startled by a series of whoops and yells, and the husband came round the corner of the house on the jump, his hat striking the air on all sides of him. He rushed through the current bushes and back, rolled on the grass and lit out for the barn, and the amazed wife shaded her eyes from the sun as she looked after him and continued, in a disappointed

"But I don't believe he found a single drone by the way they stick to him!"

Didn't Like the Price.

At one time brother C--- suffered the loss of a number of fine sheep out of his flock, and, whatever might have been his suspicions, failed to obtain adequate evidence to convict the person suspected of the criminal act. Just about this time, in a season of religious interest, a person of very indifferent previous character became interested in the meetings, and finally came to brother C---- and confessed that he was the offender, and had wickedly stolen his sheep. He quite humbly asked forgiveness, and proposed very properly, to pay for the stolen sheep. Brother C- received him with his usual good nature; and instead of setting a price himself upon the sheep, said, "Well, well, brother, what do you think they are worth?" With a pathetic tone of voice, the new penitent answered, "The Lord told me to come and pay you a dollar and a half apiece for the sheep." "Pay it, then," said brother C-- very quickly; "but I don't want the Lord to price any more of my sheep!"

83 A school teacher asked a pupil to parse the sentence: "Mary milk the cow?" When he reached the last word he said. "Cow is a noun, feminine gender, singular number, third person, and stands for Mary." "Stands for Mary," said the teacher,

"how do you make that out?" "Because," replied the youth, "If the cow didn't stand for Mary, how could Mary milk the cow?"

"I just dropped in to tell you," panted Mrs. A. as she dropped herself into Mrs. B's easy chair, "that our minister's wife has ordered a new winter hat that won't cost a penny short of six dollars; just think of it, and so many poor in the parish to be clothed, to say nothing of the suffering South; but I must go, I'm just tired to death shopping. Bought beautiful silk velvet for a polonaise this morning for four dollars a yard."

Swartzmyer to his wife: "Now, see here, mine lof, better as you had Johnny led a leetle op on dot candy eatin', obber der first ding you don't know he haf some toothach in his teesh, und haf been skwallin' around all night mit der cholera morbus in his jaw-don't it?"

A colored firm recently dissolved partnership and posted the following notice to the public: "De dissolution of co-parsnips heretofo resisting betwixt me and Mose Jones, in de barber profession am heretofo dissolved. Pussons who owe must pay to the subscriber. Dem what de firm ose must call on Jones, as de firm is insolved.

A facetious brakeman on the Central Pacific Railroad cried out, as the train was about entering a tunnel, "This is one mile long, and the train will be four minutes passing through it." The train dashed through into daylight again in four seconds, and the scene in the car was a study for a painter.

A physician finding a lady reading "Twelth Night," said, "When Shakspear wrote about Patience on a monument, did he mean doctors, patients?" "No," she answered; "you don't find them on monuments, but under them."

Really, Mr. Johnson, there's nae end to your wit," said a lady in the west of Scotland to a noted humorist. "God forbid, madam," he replied, "that I should ever be at my wit's end."
