PROF. HARRIS' RADICAL CURE FOR SPERMATORRHEA. THE "SEMINAL PASTILLE"

A Valuable Discovery and New Departure in Medical Science, an entirely New and positively effective Remedy for the speedy and permanent Cure of Seminal Emissions and Impotency by the only true way, via Direct Application to the principal seat of the Disease, acting on the Seminal Vesicles, Prostate Gland and Urethra. The use of this medicine is attended with no pain or inconvenience. It is quickly dissolved and soon absorbed, producing an immediate soothing and restorative effect upon the sexual and nervous organizations wrecked from self-abuse and excess, stopping the drain from the system, restoring the mind to health and sound memory, removing the Dimness of Sight, Nervous Debility, Confusion of Ideas, Aversion to Society, Etc., Etc., and the appearance of premature old age usually accompanying this trouble, and restoring perfect Sexual Vigor, where it has stood the test in very severe cases, and of treatment has stood the test in many cases, and of treatment has stood the test in many cases, and of treatment has stood the test in many cases.

MARRIAGE GUIDE. Just published, a new edition of Dr. Culverwell's Celebrated Essay on the radical cure (without medicine) of Spermatorrhea or Seminal Weakness, Involuntary Seminal Losses, Impotency, Mental and Physical Incapacity, Impediments to Marriage, etc.; also, of the causes, symptoms, and treatment of the disease, and of the means of its cure. Price, in a sealed envelope, only six cents. The editorials in this admirable essay, clearly demonstrate, from a thirty years' successful practice, that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain, and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically. This Liberating should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the country. Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, post paid, on receipt of six cents or two postage stamps. THE HARRISBURG DAILY TELEGRAPH. The Best and Most Reliable Newspaper at the State Capital. The Leading Republican Journal in the State.

THE HARRISBURG DAILY TELEGRAPH is now in its twenty-third year, and possesses a larger patronage and influence than ever before. Its facilities for gathering news and placing it before its readers in the most compact and convenient form are unequalled. The Telegraph is the only paper in the State Capital which receives special telegraphic dispatches from its own correspondents, and is the only evening paper that receives associated press dispatches. Its Congressional and Legislative reports are full and accurate, and its market reports are guaranteed as reliable.

The Telegraph is an unwavering supporter of the Republican party, and advocates its principles at all times and under all circumstances; but while it is thoroughly partisan, it will never defend, or attempt to shield, corrupt deeds committed in the name of the party. On the course of the present National Administration the Telegraph is recommended; while as a newspaper to dictate, rendering praise where it is merited and not withholding censure where it is deserved.

To Republicans throughout the State who desire a reliable exponent of their views, the Telegraph is recommended; while as a newspaper to dictate, rendering praise where it is merited and not withholding censure where it is deserved.

The Weekly Telegraph is a large nine-column paper, made up of original matter and selections from the Daily Telegraph. Its accurate and extensive market reports as well as its varied and interesting reading matter make the Weekly Telegraph a desirable journal for the country people and former citizens of this neighborhood now residing in distant parts of the country.

A Dreadful Mistake.

She gave him a beautifully worked pair of slippers, and although they were an inch too short and pinched him across the toes, he smilingly submitted to the martyrdom which they imposed, and vowed they should never leave his feet.

This reckless statement will be received by the reader with becoming caution.

And so the young man made a return of her offering. It was his picture encased in a handsome frame.

He wrote a note to send with it, and at the same time replied angrily to an oft-repeated dun for an unpaid for suit of clothes. He gave a boy ten cents to deliver the package and notes, giving explicit directions as to the destination of each. It was an unusually intelligent boy with a freckled face, and he discharged his errand in a manner that should give him a niche in the temple of fame.

The young lady received a note in her adored one's handwriting, and flew to her room to devour its contents. She opened the missive with eager fingers and read:

"I'm getting tired of your everlasting attentions. The suit is about worn out already. It never amounted to much, anyway. Please go to thunder!"

And the tailor was struck utterly dumb when he opened a parcel and discovered the picture of his delinquent customer with a note that said:

"When you gaze upon these features, think how much I owe you."

When that unfortunate young man called around, that evening, to receive the happy acknowledgment of his sweet-heart, he was very ostentatiously shoved off the steps and over the fence by the young lady's father; and in the morning he was waited upon by the tailor's lawyer and imperatively ordered to settle or suffer.

People have different notions of time. A landlord who is his own rent collector, recently called on an old tenant, who with pale, trembling lips, faltered, "I'm very sorry, but times are so bad, and—I am not quite ready. If you could only give me a little time."

"Well, well, you have always been a good payer," said the landlord. "A little time, eh? Certainly. I am going up stairs, and—I will look in as I come down."

"Give me some whisky," said a man to a robust Teutonic lady in a saloon in a temperance town not far from Dubuque. The lady looked at him a minute and said, "You're a stranger, I guess. You should not ask for viskey here. Ask for vine, and binch your eye up a leetle. Dot ish de vay to do it in dis town."

"John," said a Cleversburg man to hisson, "John, what do you say when your auntie gives you a doughnut?" Looking up at the old man bashfully, and then glancing at his aunt, John replied, "How d'yr do?"

"That's right, John," said the old man, "never disrecollect your bringing up."

"Your Honor, the defendant was making a great deal of noise, and was swearing at me." "Did he speak English?" asked the defendant's counsel. "No sir, he spoke Italian." "Then how did you know he was swearing at you?" "Why I could tell it by the wrinkles in his face," replied the officer.

"For what am I," he said in a conversational way to his Sunday school class of little boys—"what am I but a something filled with a little air? Without it I could not be—would collapse—in short I'm only—" "A bladder!" was what the good little boy said. The class adjourned sine die.

At a political caucus in Ithaca, N. Y., the chairman made the remark that "some black sheep were to be found in every flock." The words were no sooner uttered than up jumped a colored man, the only one present, and demanded to know whom the chair was "luding at."

Twenty one young girls of Kenosha, Wis., have "Resolved, That if the young men won't come and see us, we will go and see them." And the young men are stepping down and out and taking to the woods.

"Ma," said a little girl, "if you'll let me buy some candy I'll be real good." "My child," solemnly responded the mother, "you should not be good for pay; Why mamma! you wouldn't wish me to be good for nothing?"
