MARSHAL MACMAHON has resigned the Presidency of the French Republic. M. Grevy was elected by Congress as his successor.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Dr. Henry W. Linderman, Director of the Mints of the United States, died this afternoon.

Dr. Linderman, whose death is thus announced, was well known throughout the country. He was an able numismatist, and was the author of a work upon the coins of the various nations, which was widely read. Deceased was born in Pike county, Pennsylvania, in 1825.

A Bad Record for York County.

Last Wednesday night Martin Ealing was waylaid in an alley in York and beaten so badly that the chances are against his recovery. A man from Baltimore has been held for the crime.

On Friday morning Daniel Wallace, of Dover township, York county, was found dead in his bed, and his wife was arrested for having poisoned him. This makes five murders in York county within a few months.

What Next?

CINCINNATI, Ohio, January 27.—J. H. Dieckman, treasurer of St. Anthony's Roman Catholic church, is defaulter to the amount of $6,000.

Jacob Renneker, treasurer of the German Catholic cemetery association, is a defaulter to the amount of $1,200.

There have been five important embezzlement cases here within a week, and as yet not a single arrest has been made. The authorities were thrown entirely off the track of Coffin, the La Fayette bank embezzler. Officers were sent on a false scent to San Antonio, Texas, and it is now believed that the embezzler escaped to Canada.

Arrears of Pensions.

The commissioner of pensions is evidently determined to lose no time in securing to persons entitled to its benefits their rights under the bill granting arrears of pensions which has just become a law. To this end he has issued the following circular letter:

Persons who are entitled to arrears of pension, under the act granting arrears, approved January 25, 1879, and whose pensions were granted previous to that date, will not require the assistance of a claim agent in obtaining the amount due them. All correspondence in relation to any claim for such arrears will be with the person entitled, and no claim agent will be recognized in such claim.

A letter addressed to the commissioner of pensions, signed by the person who was in receipt of the pensions at the date aforesaid, and two witnesses in the presence of a magistrate, will be the only application required, and upon which rights of all parties concerned will be adjusted.

The Pension Certificates should not be sent to this office, but it must be exhibited to the magistrate.

The letter should be in the following or equivalent form:

To the Commissioner of Pensions: I, _____, a pensioner under pension certificate No. _____, hereby apply for the arrears due me, under the act granting arrears of pension, approved January 25, 1879. My postoffice address is—[here insert the name of the post-office, and if the claimant resides in a city, the name and number of the street and residence must also be given].

Two witnesses. Name of claimant. STATE OF _____, COUNTY OF _____, ss:

Signed in my presence, by _____, who is known to me to be the person he describes himself to be, and at the same time he exhibited to me his pension certificate, which is numbered _____.

Magistrate's signature.

Back from Brazil.

One hundred men of the Collins party, who sailed for Brazil to work on the Madeira and Matmore Railroad, are home again from a foreign shore, arriving in N. Y. last week. A few of them have already reached this city, and the others will arrive to-day. From one of the party who arrived here last night it is gathered that the returned adventurers have had quite enough of life in South America, and, as he expressed it, they couldn't be hired to go back for love or money. Some three miles of the road had been completed in the face of the most difficult obstacles, and the remainder, if constructed at all, will be by native laborers directed by American foremen. The old stories of hardships, bad water, unhealthy climate, insufficient food and lack of medicines are being repeated and magnified, but it must be borne in mind that these men—many of them—are of the class who went out to make a fortune without working for it at railroad making. These are a part of the crowd who went out in the Mercedita, and who, it will be remembered, gave evidence of a mutinous conduct before the vessel was out of the Delaware.—Phil'a. Press of 30th ult.

Blown From a Train.

BALTIMORE, January 25.—Shortly before seven o'clock this evening, while the express train from New York was nearing Linwood, on the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore railroad, between Chester and Wilmington, three students of Princeton college attempted to pass from the car in which they had been seated to the car in the rear. The wind was blowing fiercely from the northwest, and the first student was nearly blown from the platform. He lost his hat and had to hold on tightly to the brake wheel. The second student, a son of Dr. Vaughan, a prominent physician of Wilmington, Del., was not so fortunate. The wind blew open his overcoat, and the garment filling by the fierce gust the young man was blown backward and hurled with terrific force over on the Delaware river side of the track. The train had gone about four miles before the conductor was apprised of the accident. He was urged to return, but thought it safer to run rapidly to Wilmington and dispatch the particulars to Linwood. This was done, and when the express train reached Perryville a dispatch from Linwood awaited her, stating that a hand car had been sent out and that the dead body of young Vaughan had been picked up. His death must have been instantaneous, owing to the velocity at which the train was going when he fell. He had intended to take dinner with his father on Sunday and return to college on Monday. He was about 25 years old and of slender build.

A Couple Who Couldn't Wait.

The Rochester Express says: A romantic incident of the recent storm was the marriage by telegraph of two young people. The young man is a resident of this city, while the lady resides some miles this side of New York. On the day appointed the young man was in a railway train stuck fast in the drifts some forty miles this side of the residence of the bride expectant. The hours passed on and they did not succeed in getting out of the drifts. Finally, it was suggested that rather than submit to a postponement the marriage be conducted by the aid of the wires. All parties having agreed to this, the wire was stretched from the office to the house of the bride's parents, and the two were made one by electricity. Afterwards, when the track was cleared of the snow, the husband and wife met for the first time as such.

The Result of Being in Bad Company.

On last Monday evening the police of Philadelphia made a raid on a variety show known as the Arcade, and arrested and locked up in the station-house all who were present, performers and spectators. The result has been a sad experience to some of the latter. One, a young married woman, who was induced to go to the show by a female acquaintance, and who knew nothing of its character, has been released on bail, but a divorce will follow. Several young men, clerks in stores, passed the night in their cells, and when their employers heard of it discharged them at once. The result will be a warning to others to keep out of such places.

Power of a Silk Dress.

Mr. Nathan Lyon, of St. Paul, said that Misses Emma Faber and Mary Hendricks were too proud to stoop to the duties of farmers' daughters, and promised them each a $50 silk dress if they would drive or lead a cow through the streets of the Minnesota metropolis. Accordingly at high noon Miss Faber took the cow in tow with Miss Hendricks, armed with a broomstick, acting as rear guard, and thus they escorted the animal down Third street and earned their silk dresses.

An Attempt to Wreck a Train.

YONK, Pa., January 29.—Shortly before the arrival of the mail train from Harrisburg yesterday afternoon, a pile of stones and brake blocks were discovered on the track a short distance above the station. They had been placed there by a party of tramps who afterwards visited the station and were very abusive to the passengers. About thirty of them were arrested and locked up.

Marshall MacMahon has sent orders to the French admirals at foreign stations, and to the Governors of French colonies to treat Grant with all the honors due the head of an independent State.

The engine of a freight train on the Kansas and Pacific Railroad, which, in falling through a bridge over Kiowa Creek last summer, disappeared in a quicksand, has just been found at a depth of forty feet below the bed of the stream.

"What did you do then?" asked Colonel George, after badgering a witness in the Lowell Railroad case, at Salem. "I went to the rescue, like a lawyer for a man's pocket-book," replied the artless witness.

The auditors of Pike county have completed the examination of the defaulting Treasurer's accounts, and find that the deficiency amounts to $16,400. The good people of the county hope that Quick will suffer from a quick-ended conscience.

ROCKFORD, Ill., January 27.—Marshall S. Pritchard, town collector of Cherry Valley, was mysteriously murdered here yesterday. His body was found with a ball in the head and a deep gash in the temple. His pockets had been rifled. Several parties are under suspicion.

F. F. Holt, aged 15, the son of one of the foremen in Diston's saw works, Tacony, arrived home complaining of severe internal pains. An examination revealed that a pistol in the boy's pocket had exploded, the ball lodging in his abdomen. It has not been extracted, and the lad lies in a very critical condition.

The late Dean Richmond once asked a would-be deadhead the grounds of his application for a free pass. "Simply because I don't want to pay." The testy old railroad king at once handed him a pass, and said: "Sir, I respect you. You're the first deadhead that ever told the truth."

KITTANNING, Pa., January 25.—Judge Boggs yesterday overruled the motion in arrest of judgment in the case of the Commonwealth against Sheriff Williams, who was convicted of offering and paying rewards for votes which helped to elect him. Saturday next was fixed as the day for sentence.

A twelve year-old girl, daughter of Jacob Terral, living near Urbana, Ohio, exhibited remarkable pluck when their house was on fire Thursday morning. She climbed to the burning roof, a younger brother, standing on his mother's shoulders, passed buckets of water to her, and she soon mastered the flames.

EASTON, January 27.—E. H. Green, one of the proprietors of Stewart's rolling mills, South Easton, died at his residence in Easton to-day. He was one of the most prominent men in Northampton county, and at one time president of the Easton town council. He fell on the ice near his home Tuesday last and broke his left arm and injured himself internally, from which he died this morning.

EASTON, Jan. 29.—Miss Rose Lewis, of Phillipsburg, aged 16 years, while walking over the railroad bridge last night fell through to the wagon road, twenty-five feet below. She suffered internal injuries, from which she died two hours afterwards. A dense fog prevailed at the time, and she was unable to see her way. Three persons have been killed at this same spot during the past year.

A dime, a nickel and a penny were found in the crop of a Montpelier rooster last week. The cat of a resident of East Berlin, Me., swallowed a five dollar gold piece and the village butcher offered two dollars and fifty cents for her. While Mr. James Rubey, of Bartonis, Ind., was feeding his hogs he dropped his pocket-book among them, and ere he was aware of it his loss had contracted the currency $294.

A farmer living in Catherine township, Blair Co., is responsible for the following opossum story; He says that his boys caught an opossum, and supposing it to be dead, they skinned and threw its carcass out on the road. Afterward he was attracted to a stone pile some rods from the house by the barking of his dogs, and moving the stones to ascertain the cause, discovered the skinned opossum had hid itself in the stone pile, and was not only living but able to travel.

John A. Lloyd, aged 50 years, who has been missing since the 17th, was found in the Moungabala river at Fairmont, West Va., on Wednesday. Against his will, some time ago, he sold whiskey to two young men who became intoxicated, fell into the river, and were drowned.

This prayed upon his mind so that he commenced drinking hard, and threatened to jump off the Suspension bridge several times. He owned and carried on a drug store worth from $5,000 to $8,000. He leaves a wife and eight children.

In a quarrel between two lawyers on the ice at West Chester, Thos. P. Worrall knocked Wm. S. Winkle down. G. Frank Painter, a friend of the latter, saw fit to interfere; he in his turn was also knocked down, and, being too heavy, broke through the ice, thereby cooling his pugnacity.

While Cyrus Mateer, a farmer residing in Catharine twp., Blair county, was engaged in cutting firewood a few days ago, the ax caught on a wire clothes line, thus causing it to strike him on the left cheek, cutting a deep gash the entire breadth of the blade and injuring him so severely that his life is despaired of.

Mrs. Mary Pierce, a shoplifter, who gained notoriety in New Haven, Conn., years ago, but had not been disturbed for seven years, was arrested last week for following her profession in Malley's store. Detectives searched her house and found two wagon-loads of dry goods, including a great variety of articles. The value of the whole is estimated at $800. When displayed in the police office, there seemed to be enough to stock an ordinary dry goods store.

BELFAST, Me., January 27.—At Montville, about fifteen miles from this city, on Saturday evening, John M'Farland, a farmer, his wife and grand daughter, were murdered by one Rowell, an insane man. Mrs. M'Farland was shot with a gun and the others had their brains beaten out. The murderer was afterward shot and killed by a neighbor whom he had attacked.

As it May Happen.

The above is the title of a new book published by Messrs. Porter & Coates, of Philadelphia. It is a book entirely original and exceedingly interesting. The plot is laid in this state and the incidents are natural and life like. The characters are so numerous that the plot is almost overshadowed, but they are outlined by a master hand, and almost appear animated by life. The beautiful character of Emily Grundle in her devotion to her exacting father, with a heart involved in the meshes of love with Volney Slade, and whom she wedded afterwards, is drawn with artistic skill. It is a story of exciting interest, and though seemingly lacking at times clearness and distinctness, this is more than compensated by the intense characteristics of the central figures in the story. The numerous evils of society are satirized with the keenness of the stroke of a Damascus blade, and throughout there is one continued series of surprises. Any person who begins to read the book will not wish to lay it down until the last leaf is turned, and will then wish the book was longer. There is no doubt the book will meet with large sale. We shall look with interest for other books that may be written by the author of AS IT MAY HAPPEN.
