There are over one hundred Chinamen in Chicago, and one-fourth of this number have become Christians, and are regular attendants at Sundayschool. Chicago is not the most moral city in the world, but in its treatment of the Chinese it is a vast improvement on San Fransisco, and the results are certainly very encouraging.

Swill fed cattle are now sent eastward from the West and the result is that eastern markets are supplied with line of beef utterly unfit for use, tough, stringy, unsavory and unhealthy. There are several large establishments and so-called firms in the neighborhood of St. Louis, where cattle are fed in this manner, kept for weeks on swill, and thereby bloated for the eastern market. The subject is attracting attention, and the feeders are compelled to protect themselves in statements which are pronounced utterly false by people who understand the whole subject.

The New Four Per Cents.

WASHINGTON, March 18 .- The Tresurer of the U. S., and the Chief Clerk of the Treasury Department were at the Post-office Department to-day in consultation with First Assistant Postmaster General Tyner and Mr. McDonald, superintendent of the money order office, in relation of the placing of the new four percent, refunding certificates. The Post-office Department will aid the Treasury in distributing them by every means in its power, and it was decided that a circular should be issued by the Post-office Department to all its money order postmasters calling their attention to the offer of the Treasury Department to designate them as depositories in placing the certificates, requesting them to act as such and to assist the Treasury Department by every possible means.

Dividing the spoils.

NEW YORK, March 19.-This afternoon a meeting of the pedestrians, O'Leary, Harriman, Rowell and Ennis, was held, and the following statement was submitted: Receipts at the box office, $51,624; sale of bar, $2525; shooting gallery, $100; glass balls, $22; programmes, $40; total receipts, $54,814; cash in the Second National Bank, $40,-488; cash short on account of counterfeit tickets, $600; expenses, $12,986; cash on hand, $31,774. The meeting decided that O'Leary was not entitled to $2000, which he claimed, and agreed to give him $1000. A portion of the money has already been given to the pedestrians, and the remainder will be divided in a few days.

A DECISION recently given by Judge Ress at Norristown, will, if sustained, do very much to put a decided check on horse racing in this State. He says that the Pennsylvania statues declares horse racing to be a nuisance, that all trials of speed are races, and that all wagers made on such trials are void and all horses entered may be forfeited.

He directs the attention of agricultural societies to a law of 1820, still in force, which provides that any person who in any way advertises the time and place of a horse race shall be fined $20. It is probably that www persons in Pennsylvania have been aware of the existence of such a law, and we expect to see an effort soon made to have it changed. That agricultural fairs have been given up too exclusively to horse racing is admitted. Perhaps, if the law is regarded in Pennsylvania, means will be found for making such exhibitions more generally attractive. As the custom now is the feature of all our agricultural fairs in the races or "trials of speed," and these to the almost total eclipse of all other exhibits. A reformation is greatly needed if the advancement of agriculture is the aim of such exhibitions.

A Remarkable Case.

A woman named Mrs. Sarah Groff, who resides at Beartown, Lancaster Co., about thirteen mouths ago, while taking a drink at a spring swallowed something which she took to be a piece of wood. Three months ago she lost her appetite and began to grow thin and de. Doctor after doctor was tried until the number had reached eleven, but none of them succeeded in reviving her. At last her case was given up as hopeless and she was told that she must die.

She was now reduced to a mere skeleton, weighing only forty pounds. Several days ago she went to Lancaster and there was discovered at the Leopard house by Dr. Campbell, the worm doctor of that city, who undertook to treat her for a tape worm. His method was so far successful that last Friday evening she was relieved of no less than seven crabs, two large and five small ones, the former being fully one Inch and the latter at least half an inch in length. This woman has regained her appetite and bids fair to ultimately recover her former health. The case has excited a great amount of interest in Lancaster.

A Strange Incident.

Alonza Gilson, a contractor in the employ of S. L. Wilson, resides on the Worthman farm, toward the head waters of Oil Valley. A pathway leads from the house up the hillside to the tank directly above. About ten days ago the oil was overflowing from the tank. One night last week, after the family had retired, Mr. Gilson was wakened from his slumbers by a strange feeling of suffocation. As soon as he became thoroughly aroused his practiced senses, told him that gas from crude petroleum was rising. A bright gas fire was burning in the stove. Mr. Gilson stepped out of bed on to the floor. His feet touched a greasy liquid, he had stepped into crude oil. He shut of the gas from the stove, and called to the men who were sleeping up stairs, to extinguish the light which was burning. When the lights and the fire had been extinguished an investigation was made. Oil had run down the hillside, crept under the rear door and covered the floor for an inch in depth. In passing over the snow it had become slightly chilled and the gas was not generated rapidly after it had backed up in the house. Had it been thoroughly warmed the gas would have been fired by the red hot stove. Had the oil on the floor of the house been fired the sleeping family must have perished. It certainly was a narrow escape.-Bradford New Era.

In sawing up an old pear tree for fuel two laborers in Chester county discovered a stone embedded in the heart of the tree about a foot below a fork. The stone had probably been thrown after a certain luscious pear, lodged and was overgrown. It was a tree that had waved, budded and bloomed for more than a hundred years.

A 15-years' old lad has been arrested in Lenawee county, Mich., and brought before an Adrian justice on a charge of assaulting a woman. It is shown that he has a terrible antipathy for women and cannot keep the peace when he is in sight of one. His case is a curious one, and they have sent him to the reform shool in hope of curing him of his idiosyncrasy.

Three weeks ago Patrick Curran left his home at Princess Furnace, in the vicinity of Ironton, O. Since then nothing has been heard from him till the other morning, when a dog was seen with a human arm. A search by the citizens discovered the remains of Curran scattered in a deep beliew, about two miles from the furnace. It is thought he was deranged, and died from hunger and exposure.

James Ellis, a colored blacksmith in Americus, Ga., who, by industry and economy, has acquired a competency, and quite a lucrative trade in his profession, on learning that his old mistress was in very reduced circumstances, without even a shelter, went before Justice Pilsbury and made her a deed to a small place in Macon county, Ga., thus giving her a home in her old age without fee or reward.

Mr. Harry W. Baldwin, of Cincinnati, who was found dead on the sidewalk with a bullet through his brain, had been married only a few months. It is supposed that he was "accidentally" killed by a pistol shot fired at random by one of a party of drunken men on the opposite side of the street. He was the son of the cashier of the Third National Bank of that city, and a young man of exemplary character.

Two freight cars on the Northern Central Railroad collided Monday morning at a point one mile east of New Cumberland. Both engines were badly wrecked, and about thirty cars were thrown from the track, eight of them going over an embankment in the Susquehanna river. Chas. Delvaney, a firemen, had a leg torn off, and one of the conductors was slightly injured. One of the engineers jumped from his engine into the river, a distance of about 28 feet, and escaped unhurt.

The Jacksonville, Ala., "Republican" says : Some years ago one Cannon hired a man in Texas to murder an enemy. The man who did the murder was condemned to die, but the night before the execution his wife brought him poison in her mouth, and both were dead when found next morning. Cannon has just been captured and will probably hang. This man Cannon is said to be the same one who lived near Landiga in this county.

Peter Smith, a farmer living near Clear Creek, Ia., went into his smoke house on Sunday and being absent an unusual length of time his wife went to see what was the matter. The door had been closed, and on opening it, she found her husband on the floor in the agonies of death. It is supposed that the door of the smoke house closed suddenly, and being unable to open it soon enough Smith was overcome by the dense smoke and fell to the floor, where his wife found him.
