The peculiarity about the A. S. T. Co., Black Tip is that children's fine shoes to which they are applied, not only wear twice as long, but they really add to the beauty and finish of the finest shoe.

A Percentage Problem.—A, bought a piece of land which he sold to B at 40 per cent. less than he paid for it, with the proviso that if B resold the land at a profit, A was to be paid 30 per cent. of that profit. B made a sale and paid to A $4.32 as the amount due him as his share of the gain. The sum received from B left A still out of pocket $4.48. What was the price paid for the land by A, and what did B get for it? Answers published next week.

Leg Broken.—On Thursday evening as Joshua Hess of Carroll township, was taking a colt to water the animal in play kicked him, striking him on the leg above the knee and knocking him over. He was helped in the house, and some liniment applied to the wounded leg, but he getting no better, by Friday morning, Dr. Strickler was sent for, who found that one of the bones was fractured.

Juniata County.—We copy the following from the Juniata county papers of last week.

Willie, son of E. S. Parker, Esq., who was hurt on Sunday a week, is slowly recovering. He was injured more seriously than was at first supposed.

The office of Richard Doyle, Esq., of Johnstown, Beale twp., was broken into on Wednesday night, and notes left for collection taken to the amount of two or three thousand dollars.

A lively time may be expected on Saturday, as on that day the question of the tie vote for Justice of the Peace will be decided by a new election. It's Halter and Parker.

Cumberland County.—We copy the following from the Cumberland county papers of last week:

They have a peculiar method of draining the towns of New Kingstown and Hoguettown. They drain them into ponds in the middle of the streets.

Geo. A. Zinn, of Shippensburg, has been appointed to a cadetship at West Point, and Ralph Kauffman, of Mechanicsburg, has been appointed his alternate. Should Zinn fail in the final examination Kauffman will have a chance at least at the examination.

As Robert Cook, a man on his way from Baltimore to Huntingdon county, was passing along the Walnut Bottom road near Shippensburg one day last week, Mr. Christian Foreman's dogs attacked him, biting him several times through the large muscles of the arm, throwing him down and tearing his clothes very badly. Dr. Shock, of Shippensburg, attended the injured man and recommended that he be taken to the county almshouse to be turned over to the county hospital. Constable J. A. Whitmer brought him down and he was received from his hands as a vagrant.

On Friday morning last David A. McKinney found that his horse (a valuable one by the way) had been stolen from his stable. On inquiry and search he learned that the animal had been discovered tied in the morning at the residence of George Reeder of Millin township. One George Martin was arrested on suspicion as the perpetrator of the act, and at a preliminary trial before Justice Shoemaker was committed to prison in default of bail. Martin was found and arrested two miles further on at the residence of his father. He had been in town the previous evening.—Newville Star.

On Monday a tramp entered the dwelling of Dr. D. Hays, on North Railroad Street, while the family were at dinner, and was making off with several cooking utensils when discovered. The Doctor overtook the villain on the sidewalk, and demanded the articles, but the tramp said that the articles were given to him by the "ladies of the house, and before he would give them up he would rot in the State prison." The tramp showed fight, but he found the Doctor prepared for him, he flung the pots and pans on the ground, and was about to make off, when Constable Witmer appeared on the scene and landed the gentleman in the lock-up.—Shippensburg News.

On Wednesday morning, about two o'clock, our citizens were again startled by the cry of fire, the cause thereof being the burning of a frame building attached to the property of Miss Harriet McLaughlin, on High street. The fire was discovered by Mr. Crane, from Mrs. McCandlish's boarding house, who, with H. A. Barr and the Messrs. McCandlish, gave the alarm, the latter being the first to get out the pet engine. The citizens first on ground, with those living in this High street row, fought the flames manfully with water, and kept the fire in check, and when the "Pet" engine was put in position it did good service until the fire was quenched. The fire was confined to the back building, except that a hole of considerable dimensions was burned in the back house adjoining, occupied by R. Williams.—Newville Enterprise.

The correct answer to the Tree Problem published two weeks ago is 47 feet 8 and ten-twenty-seventh inches.

B. F. B. of Bloomfield, however says there are two answers, either of them correct, as the tree may be broken in two places, and pass the surface at same point. His answers are 43 ft., .0308, and 46.764.

W. H. of Donally's Mill, gave as the answer 46 ft.

B. P. M. says the answer is 46 1/2 ft.

The leading illustrated article of the April number of "Bailou's Magazine" is on old St. Paul's of London, and then follows half a dozen other articles, all accompanied by engravings. We cannot too highly commend this excellent magazine.

THE LIBRARY MAGAZINE for March will be ready on the 28th—not dated in advance, as is the custom—its contents being mainly from the foreign publication of same date, thus giving what is newest in the literary world. $1.00 a year, or 10 cents a number. AMERICAN BOOK EXCHANGE, Publishers, N. Y.

Wide Awake for April.

Wide Awake opens its April number with a quaint frontpiece by Robert Lewis, being a shipboard scene of the seventeenth century, illustrating the opening historical story by Mrs. Curwen entitled "The Maid of Norway." It is followed by a seasonal and instructive illustrated paper about "April and Other Fools," by J. E. Packard. Belonging to the same class is the spirited account of "Mardi Grass in Nice," by M. J. North. There is also a delightful illustrated story of child-life in one of our frontier forts, by Mrs. Le Boutillier, of Dakota. Perhaps one of the most amusing stories in the number is "The Forbes-Doolan Affair," written and illustrated by Mr. Bishop, the author of "Detmold" in last year's Atlantic, and many other good stories.—There are also several illustrated poems, the two finest being "Fanny Uncle Phil," by Amelia Daily-Alden, and "A Hop," by Mrs. Carr. There are several noticeable funny drawings by "Box," J. G. Francis, Palmer Cox, etc., which will keep all the family in a good humor until the May number comes with its promised host of good things. Only $3 00 a year. Ella Farman, Editor.—D. Lothrop & Co., Publishers, Boston.

Lippincott's Magazine for April, 1879.

Lippincott's Magazine for April offers a list of contributions not only varied and attractive but with subjects sympathetically treated by writers who seem one and all to have chosen their themes from a special disposition to handle them con amore. General Strother ("Porte Crayon") takes on a "Pilgrimage to the Shrines of Old Virginia," and pictures the old life with a loving hand and a deft pencil.—Henry James, who appears for the first time in the garb of illustrations, gives us "English Vignettes," traced with a sparkling delicacy all his own. Mary Dean depicts the "Hoolsters at Home" as only one in herself thoroughly at home among them, and has noted all traits with eyes keenly open and bright with humor, can do. The gorgeous "Ancient Decorative Stuffs" of the churches and museums of Europe are enthusiastically described by H. M. Benson. "Mollere—the Life and Legend," by J. Brander Matthews, gives us the fruit of careful research, enriched by portraits and other reproductions from old engravings. The second chapter of "My Village in the South," by Annie Porter, leads us into the intimate of domestic life in Louisiana; while another lady writer gives us a delightful glimpse of home life in Brazil. "A Bit of Old Satsuma," by Prof. Griffin, should be read by all lovers of bric-a-brac; and other short papers, especially some sparkling gossip on "Dangerous Girls," which, with the serials and short stories, will be found entertaining by everybody.

J. B. LIPPINCOTT & Co., Pubs., 715 and 717 Market St., Phil'a.

The Illustrated Christian Weekly

is an attractive, interesting, pictorial and literary journal, especially adapted to the wants of the family. The many testimonials of the press and public, and its great success, abundantly attest the fact that the "Weekly" meets a felt want, and is eminently fitted to be useful in the line marked out. It contains 12 pages, and is the only highly illustrated religious weekly paper in the United States. The price at which it is offered, $2 50 a year in advance, postpaid, brings it within the reach of all, and makes it the cheapest illustrated paper in the world. It is characteristically an art paper, and is willing to be judged here by the highest standard of excellence. Each volume affords a rich variety of pictorial illustrations, portraits of eminent men, process of manufactures, remarkable works, sketches of scenery at home and abroad, home adornments, and pictures of sentiment and feeling; all have their place and minister their delights. It is also peculiarly designed as a family paper, containing much in every issue to interest every member of the household. It is educational, political, thought recording religious work in general, and noting the great events that transpire the world over. It is a paper for parents and children, the old and the young; pure, elevating and instructive in tone,

It will make better and happier every home into which it comes, as each page contains something to delight, instruct, or benefit. The practical hints offered in regard to discipline, moral training, and religious instructions of children, will be found exceedingly useful to parents and those who have the care of youth. It will be its aim to make this the best and cheapest illustrated journal, family newspaper, denominational religious weekly, and Sabbath-school helper in the land. We shall strive to afford instruction, amusement and social enjoyment, and to become more and more a powerful auxiliary to the cause of virtue, temperance, and true religion. Address, 150 Nassau street, New York.

Attention! Temperance People.

The undersigned having been appointed by the State Christian Temperance Union a committee to call a County Convention to select delegates to a State Convention to be held at Harrisburg on the 23d and 24th of April next, do hereby invite those who belong to Unions, or to other temperance associations, and those who sincerely have the cause of temperance at heart, to meet in convention at Newport on the 11th day of April, 1879, at 1 o'clock P. M., to select such delegates and transact such other business as will conduce to the advancement of temperance and the final and complete overthrow of alcohol.

Delegates will please send their names to Milton B. Eshleman, at Newport, one of the Committees, a few days before the Convention meets, so that we may know the number that will be present, as the temperance ladies of Newport intend giving them a temperance reception.

On the same evening of the Convention there will be a temperance meeting, when Hon. M. B. Holman and other members of the Legislature will be present and deliver addresses. John Hartzell, M. B. Eshleman, W. H. Logan, M. B. Holman, John Edgar.

Newport, Pa., March 18, 1879.

For THE TIMES. Sherman's Letter.

Mr. EDITOR:—There are still some improvements made by the way of building in the vicinity of Sherman's Creek; Mr. David Hair is putting up a large bank barn on his farm; S. B. Smith is building a barn on his property; Bryan Gibney is erecting a dwelling where his old one now stands, and J. H. Jones is making preparations to replace the dwelling that was destroyed by fire some time ago. The waters of the Sherman's Creek have not been as low as they are at this season, for many years, and the ice which was of considerable thickness on it, moved off very quietly. The most of the schools here, close this week, and although most of them have been taught by young teachers, yet they compare favorably with the schools in other districts. S. B. Smith, has recently sold his store here, to parties from Millin county. There are now three doctors located here, and as this is the case, this should be a healthy section.

The literary society here, will close for the present on Friday the 31st. The exercises of this society were, for the most part interesting, and the members have improved very much.

For The Bloomfield Times LIVERPOOL, Perry County, Pa. March 14, 1879.

Mr. EDITOR:—The ice has passed off the river doing no damage. Many prophesied a high river and great damage, but were mistaken. We were without mails only one day. Our faithful and bold mail carrier is not slow in risking a little for the enjoyment of his fellow mortals. The river is now clear of ice and falling. The funeral of the Hon. Joseph Shuler, on last Sunday was largely attended. He had been so long and so well known, so highly respected, and the sympathy for the bereaved family moved all to unite in paying this last tribute to his worth and excellence.

There is now talk—more interest manifested by a certain chosen few on the "Indendary" fight than we have known for some time. Even on Sunday P. M. witnessing the consultations and buttonholing of certain interested parties, urged by parties claiming no interest whatever, we really thought we were about entering another political campaign. The community, or at least seven-eighths of it, have settled down to their own opinion, as to the causes—the guilt or innocence of the parties. The dark horse which we believe was the main cause in bringing forth the arrests and strenuously urging on the parties, will eventually be brought forth and all will end in punishing the really guilty and acquitting the innocent.

If the $250 reward had really anything to do with it, we say to the parties "continue in informing, reward or no reward and we will have less thieving in our midst." John Thomas Huggins and John S. Trimmer, Esq., of Clark county, Missouri, who have been enjoying themselves in our midst so pleasantly and agreeably—return to their western home on Monday next. No inducement of any kind could keep them here after tasting of the sweets of western life. All we can say is "go or spend a starving existence with us." Our boatmen are preparing for the summer campaign. Water is in the canal, and we understand navigation in branches will open next week. We have an army of those fellows here and will miss them. Rain to-day—though our weather prophet do not predict much.

Phoenix Pectoral will cure your Cough. Phoenix Pectoral cures Hoarseness quickly. Phoenix Pectoral tastes good and brings rest. Phoenix Pectoral costs 25 cents per bot., 5 bottles $1.25 Sold by B. M. EBY, Druggist, Newport.
