Beware of the Peddlers.

Some months since some cloth peddlers sold to several farmers in Marion county cloth to the amount of ten dollars each, for which they gave notes.

That Lewistown Sensation Again.

Some time ago we printed a story of a sensation in Lewistown, to the effect that a young man who stopped off a train and boarded for a week or two at a private house at the Junction had mysteriously disappeared.

Limited by Assassination.

Another case of the attempted assassination of a public official in the streets of the Russian capital is reported by cable, but on this occasion the attempt had less success.

A Schoolboy Dies of a Whipping.

MILWAUKEE, March 27.—Robert Sheenaa, the boy who was so severely punished at Racine about four weeks ago by Mr. Skewes, Superintendent of Schools, died to-day.

A Terrible Vengeance.

FORT SCOTT, March 27.—Bill Howard, a negro, who raped Clara Pond, a 19-year-old daughter of George Pond, was discovered in an old mine half a mile distant from the residence of Mr. Pond.

marched to the jail, tore the iron bars from the windows of Howard's cell, and forcibly took him out. A rope was tied around his neck, and amid yells and shouts the negro was dragged by a hundred hands a distance of five blocks and hung to a lamp-post on the corner of public square.

Found Dead in Bed.

Matthew Garner, who resided near Marklesburg, Huntingdon county, was found dead in bed at the Farmers' Hotel in Huntingdon Wednesday morning.

Charged with Killing his Mother.

BUFFALO, March 26.—Patrick Dwyer, a noted desperado, who has already served two terms in the Auburn State prison, was arrested last night, charged with matricide.

In a melee at his home with his father, Mrs. Dwyer attempted to separate them, when it is charged the son struck her, the effect of the blow killing her. It is, however, claimed the mother was subject to heart disease, and the undue excitement of the fight between father and son caused her death.

A Woman Mysteriously Murdered.

PORT MONMOUTH, N. J., March 26.—The body of a woman, who had evidently been murdered, floated ashore on Sunday near this place. There were deep wounds on her head from pistol shots or some sharp instrument and a rope around her neck, by which it is supposed the body had been sunk by heavy weights. There was a ring on one finger with "F. H." on the plate.

Robbed on a Train.

BOSTON, March 26.—J. H. King, of New York, and his wife, Madame Rine King, the pianist, were robbed of their watches and $165 in money in a sleeping car on their way to this city yesterday.

A Sister's Mistake.

CINCINNATI, March 26.—George Snyder, of Fort Wayne, Indiana, was walking in his sleep and was mistaken for a burglar by his sister. She beat him with a club, and it is feared, so badly that he will die from his injuries.

Miscellaneous News Items.

A Williamsport exchange tells us ventures throughout Lycoming county are numerous, owing to the fact that many of the people contemplate going West.

Near Warrenton, Ga., a colored infant was burned to death. The nurse, a negro girl, is charged with firing his clothes to get rid of caring for it.

William A. Wood, near Paris, Mo., while in an insane fit, drove his wife out of the house, cut his child's throat and slashed himself with a butcher-knife. The child will recover.

Lillian Groves, of Des Moines, a girl of 12 years, was struck in some way by a playmate a few days since, the blow bringing about hemorrhage of the lungs, which resulted, three days after, in her death.

Another defaulting bank officer has been found, this time in Reading, Mass., where the treasurer of a savings bank has for years been engaged in a systematic robbery of stockholders and depositors.

There are fourteen ex-Governors in the Senate—Messrs. Anthony, Booth, Barnside, Coke, Garland, Groome, Grover, Hamlin, Hampton, Harris Houston, Kellogg, Kirkwood and Vance.

ELIZABETH, March 24.—Twelve hundred striking miners met here to-day and resolved to continue the strike for higher wages. They were enthusiastic but not demonstrative. Three brass bands furnished music for the occasion.

A party of 160 Dunkards have left Marietta, Lancaster county, for Kansas, where they have purchased large quantities of land. They took with them a bishop and a full church organization, and were joined in Harrisburg by others of their faith from Cumberland county.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 25.—In the Mariposa mine rich ore has been struck, assaying $800 per ton. In the Eureka south drift a vein of solid quartz eight feet wide has been discovered. The ore is improving as the drift advances.

The New York Central and Hudson River Railroad averaged about $74 per mile per day, of which about $19 was from passengers. On the main line of the Pennsylvania Railroad the earnings in 1878 were at the rate of about $150 per mile per day.

Horse thieves are very numerous throughout La Salle county, Ill., and almost nightly valuable horses are stolen from farmers in various parts of the county. Vigilance committees have been appointed, and every effort will be made to capture the gang.

Mrs. Cregar and Mr. Hodge, of Elba, Lapeer county, Mich., were married a few nights ago, and a charivari party broke all the windows in their house, knocked off the chimneys, etc. The inference is that the laws of common decency have no influence at Elba.

MACON, Ga., March 22.—A tornado struck Milledgeville at 2 o'clock to-day. The Oconee river bridge was totally demolished. Loss, $9,000. A negro and mules were killed in the bridge. Stores were unroofed and several small houses blown down. The general damage about the city amounts to $8,000.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 24.—Gen. Malloff has returned to Wetlianka, where it has been decided to burn sixty-seven houses. The Minister of the Interior has ordered the Governor of the various provinces to co-operate vigilantly against the spread of the epidemic during the spring.

NEW ORLEANS, March 24.—At a meeting of the New Orleans Clearing House Association, held to-day, the condition of the banks members thereof was found so satisfactory that it was unanimously resolved that payments by the banks composing this association shall be made, as heretofore, in currency on demand.

John Dubbert, a farmer in Floyd county, twenty miles north of Charles City, Ia., lost by a prairie fire on Wednesday his barn, granary and all his farm machinery; also six horses, eight head of cattle, eight hogs and a number of young pigs, one thousand bushels of corn and five hundred bushels of oats. Mr. Dubbert himself was badly burned.

There is curious cave near Thomas-ton, Ga., known as Walmer's cave, which was discovered accidentally about three months ago. The cave is filled with the most beautiful rock formations, brilliant as diamonds and scintillating in the sunlight countless and iridescent hues. When one of the rocks, which are all hexagonal, is broken water will flow out, cold and refreshing to the taste.

A prairie fire running over a farm in Shelby county, Ia., burned up close to the house in which a family by the name of Lee resided. Some of Mr. Lee's children being in danger, undertook to jump through the fire. The pantaloons of a little boy about five years of age caught fire, and the child was so badly burned that he died in a few minutes.

A Mr. John Ivis, a farmer of Boone county Ia., hauled a load of hay to one of the citizens of Boone, and the same day he did this he missed his watch and never succeeded in finding it until recently when the man who purchased the hay found it in his barn manger, where he had fed his horses. The watch was returned to its surprised owner.

MEMPHIS, March 22.—A storm of the severest nature swept over Memphis just after midnight. It came from the southwest and continued three hours. During its progress the lightning struck the Memphis cotton and woolen mills, situated in the southern portion of the city, which were entirely consumed. These mills were valued at $90,000, and employed a force of 125 persons, who are thus thrown out of work. The insurance amounts to $60,000.

PITTSBURGH, March 25.—The strike among the coal miners of the Monongahela Valley has become general, nearly all those who resumed work having been induced to suspend by intimidation from striking miners, who encamped at the works where the men were operating. To-day the strike extended to the coke regions, and between 4,000 and 5,000 men will be thrown out of employment. Thus far no overt act has been committed, but miners who are disposed to work are afraid, and thus operations in the whole regions are suspended, except in one or two localities.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—The Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections by a strict party vote to-day adopted a resolution declaring that Charles H. Bell is not entitled to a seat in the Senate under the recent appointment of the Governor of New Hampshire, there being in the judgment of a majority of the committee no such vacancy as may be constitutionally filled by the Governor. Messrs. Saulsbury and Bailey will prepare the report, and Messrs. Hoar and Cameron, of Wisconsin, are to present the views of the minority.

St. Louis, March 25.—The Globe Democrat special from Wichita, Kansas, says gold has been discovered 20 miles southeast of that place and great excitement exists among the farmers and others. A New York company is said to have bought a mile square of land and are trying to secure more. Four companies have already organized. The ore from a shaft sunk some time ago is said to have assayed over two thousand dollars a ton. One farmer has been offered thirty thousand dollars for his farm, and refused it.

Miss Maud De La Clare, of Boston, a beautiful young girl, of not more than twenty years of age, with a wealth of golden hair and eyes of the deepest blue, well educated, refined in conversation, modest in demeanor, tasteful in dress, and possessed of all the qualifications of a perfect lady, got into correspondence with a Quincy, Ill., gentleman through the "personal" advertising column of a newspaper. She became infatuated with her unknown lover and at his suggestion went to Quincy, Ill., to meet him, but her future husband did not put in an appearance and she is left without support a stranger among strangers. The lady claims to be a graduate of Vassar College.

The oil region papers give particulars of the killing of Henry Seely by nitrogen gas near Duke Centre. The explosion took place in a piece of woodland along the public road. Two dwelling houses a dozen rods from the spot had the windows all broken and one of the inmates was thrown to the floor. The remains of the man were distributed among the tree tops in the neighborhood in atoms. Here and there could be seen shreds of the poor fellow's clothing. A man who was in advance of Seely at the time found his clothing, after recovering from the shock, spotted over with blood and bits of Seely's flesh. After the citizens of Red Rock arrived on the ground, and hunted in every direction for what was presumed to be Seely's mangled and lifeless body, they were surprised to find that the only remains that could be found was a human foot.

Profit $1,200.

"To sum it up, six long years of bedridden sickness, costing $200 per year, total $1,200—all of this expense was stopped by three bottles of Hop Bitters taken by my wife. She has done her own housework for a year since, without the loss of a day, and I want everybody to know it, for their benefit." 14.

THE LADIES' GALA DAY.

The Spring Opening at Messrs. Straw-bridge & Clothier's. Openings of spring goods, which, of course, have to be arranged for some time in advance, are just as likely as not to be attended by the wintry and disagreeable weather with which we are often greeted at this early season.

It was a curious and happy coincidence that, for their opening, Messrs. Strawbridge & Clothier should hit upon the very day that brought us the first real spring weather of the season. A glorious May-day like Monday, March 10th could hardly have been hoped for, and coming right on the heels of a severe winter, the transition to the mild temperature and thin fabrics of summer was especially refreshing.

The opening was a success of the most gratifying character. The immense salesrooms of the great establishment were thronged with visitors from an early hour until the doors were closed. The many expressions of delight and admiration uttered by the pleased ladies over the choice and various novelties displayed in all the departments of the house testified to the hearty appreciation which such a magnificent display of goods could not have failed to win.

There were shown yesterday some new and desirable styles of Pele in stripes, moire and satin, damase, brocades, jaspé quadrille, lousines, etc. The last-mentioned fabric impresses us as possessing in a wonderful degree a rich appearance and every essential for durability of wear, combined with moderation in price. As an instance of our own country's progress in silk manufacture we mention as American-made silk—the Cachemire Indescribable—in both colors and black, which rivaled the most famous Lyons makes in appearance, and which is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction in the wear. Very large line of neat and pretty striped and checked silks was also shown.

The fine dress goods we noticed differ much from those in vogue last season. The prevailing textures are silk and neat in appearance, and afford a remarkable contrast to the brilliant colors and styles of the novelties of last year, while no less beautiful. Many of the fabrics are interwoven with silk in very neat and exquisite styles. The names of some of these superb novelties which were so greatly admired were: Drap natte, drap moutan, drap russe, drap de soie, chevrons, beige rays, Fanages, and others, too numerous to mention. Two much admired new fabrics were christened Panama and Yedicé cloths. We were informed that every steamer of the American line will bring additions to this magnificent stock of foreign novelties in fine dress goods.

In popular price fabrics, Messrs. Strawbridge & Clothier seem to have made a special effort this season. The display was wonderful in its variety and lowness of prices. The most limited purse could here be suited without fail. No inferior goods were displayed, and even the lowest priced looked as if they would give entire satisfaction in the wear. The spring weather made the beautiful display of foreign cottons appear particularly inviting. Satisfying cravats, jacquets, zephyrs, shawls, marine cloths, etc., were all shown in many new and pleasing designs. The hosiery counters were all day surrounded by buyers eager to inspect some delicately-embroidered articles that especially pleased their fancy. The manufacture of hosiery has been so greatly improved in qualities, designs and comparative cost, that only those who have taken the pains to inform themselves upon this subject can have any just idea of the artistic perfection and elegance attained in this branch of foreign manufacture. All the most celebrated of hosiery makers were represented on the counters. There were several departments new to us, and which we learned had been established but a short time. They were dress trimmings, men's furnishing goods and zephyrs and worsteds. We noted a new department, an elaborately-embroidered chair, the work of the operators of the house, and which we consider the finest specimen of art needlework we have ever seen. In the sales parlors on the second floor everything on display was new and bright. Music un-dressed so cheap as to astonish one, corsets of all makes and kinds, ladies' and misses' suits and the dresses, little boys' clothing, infants' outfits, etc., were all shown in styles new to most of the visitors. The basement was as it always is, thronged with buyers. The Linn Department made a grand display of new-imported goods, and every one marvelled at the extremely low prices. Lin curtain and upholstery material were shown many new designs in cretonnes and raw silks.—We noticed a line of jutes that were exact imitations of raw silk, at one-fourth the price.—New designs in Marcellines quilts were shown, and there were some colored borders that were very elegant.

We were impressed all through the house with the extreme lowness of prices. The firm advertises that the low cost of raw material, the improved appliances for manufacture, and the return to a species basis have all combined to make prices lower than ever before, and certainly no house anywhere is more favorably situated to receive all the advantages than Messrs. Strawbridge & Clothier. We can but regard the brilliant success which attended their opening as an augury of the business of the season.—Philadelphia Evening Telegraph.

Consumption Cured.

An old physician, retired from practice, having had placed in his hands by an East India missionary the formula of a simple vegetable remedy, for the speedy and permanent cure for consumption, bronchitis, catarrh, asthma, and all throat and lung affections, also a positive and radical cure for nervous debility and all nervous complaints, after having tested its wonderful curative powers in thousands of cases, has felt it his duty to make it known to his suffering fellows. Actuated by this motive and a desire to relieve human suffering, I will send free of charge, to all who may desire it, this recipe, with full directions for using and preparing, in German, French, or English.—Sent by mail by addressing with stamp, naming this paper. W. W. Sherar, 149 Powers Block, Rochester, New York. 14844
