A LECTURE
To Young Men!

Just Published, in a Sealed Envelope, Price,6 ets.
A Lecture on the Nature, Treatment and Radical cure of Seminal Weakness, of Spermator, thea, induced by Seil-Abuse. Involuntary Emissions, Impotency, Nervous Deblity, and Impediments to Marriage generally; Consumption, Epilepsy, and Fits; Mental and Physical Incapacity, &c.,—By ROBERT J. CULVERWELL, M. D., author of the "Green Book," &c.

The world-renowned author, in this admirable Lecture, clearly proves from his own experience that that the awful consequences of Self-Abuse may be effectually removed without medicine, and without dangerous surgical operations, bougies, instruments, rings, or cordisis; pointing out a mode of cure at once certain and effectual, by which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.

23. This Lecture will prove a boon to thousands and thousands.
Sent, under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, on receipt of six cents, or two postage stamps.

G"'A man can't help what is done behind his back," as the loafer said when he was kicked out of doors.

At what time of life may a man be said to belong to the vegetable kingdom? When experience has made him sage.

Ts it not reasonable to suppose that when a young lady offers to hem cambric handkerchiefs for a rich bachelor, she means to sew in order that she may "My dear," said a wife to her husband, "did you ever read of the plague in London ?" "No I don't want to read about it; it is enough to have a plague in my own house." A preacher being requested to perform the last sad office for a young woman at the point of death, pressed her to believe that flesh and blood could not enter the kingdom of heaven. "I am safe," said she, "I am nothing but skin and bone." "Jane," said her father, "I thought you hated stingy people; and yet your young man—" "Why pa who says he is stingy?" "Oh nobody," replied pa; "only I could see that he was a little 'close' as I passed through the room." An agricultural paper tells " How to Dress a Hog." We know how to dress a hog. Give him a cane, a stove-pipe hat, a pair of eye-glasses. After that he will try to pass for a man. But pshaw! a hog will be a hog, no matter how he may be dressed. A friend of ours was once on board of a schooner wind-bound in the Bay of Fundy. Speaking of it afterwards to an old lady friend, she exclaimed: "Wind bound, were you? Why didn't you take some saffron tea?-its

the best thing in the world for wind!" "I think," said a farmer, "I should make a good Congressman; for I use their language. I received two bills the other day, with a request for immediate payment; the one I ordered to be laid on the table, the other to be read that day six months." A sailor being summoned to give testimony before a court, was questioned by the judge as to his religious creed.

"Are you an Episcopalian ?" "No. sir." "A Methodist "" "No, sir." "A Catholic ?" "No, sir" "What are you then ?" "I am captain of the foretop, sir! "

An Irish woman called at her grocer's the other day and asked for a quart of vinegar. It was measured out, and she put it in a gallon jug. She then asked for another quart to put in the same vessel. "And why not ask for a half gallon, and have done with it?" impatiently asked the grocer. "Och" bless yer little soul, isn't it for two that I want it?"

"I say, old boy," cried Paul Pry, to an excavator in North Shields whom he espied at the bottom of a yawning gulf, "what are you digging there?" A big hole," the old boy replied. Paul was not to be put off in this fashion. "What are you going to do with the hole?" "Going to cut it into small holes," replied the old boy, "and retail them to farmers for gate posts." There is a story of an Irishman who had been Father Mathewized, or pledged, and it bore heavily on him. Going into one of the apothecary shops where it was understood that something stronger that syrup was to be had, he said: "If ye plaze, doethor, I'm a timperance man; but if ye have any sodawather of a stringth and a quality sthrongly resimblin' whisky, I'll throuble ye for a little."

Business Notions.

A gentleman recently about to pay his doctor's bill said, "Well, doctor, as my little boy gave the measles to all my neighbor's children, and as they were attended by you, I think you can afford, at the very least, to deduct ten per cent. from the amount of my bill for the increase of business we gave you."

A Congressman, tired and feeling unwell after a long journey, stood before the bar of a leading New York hotel the other day and called for brandy, and was requested to pay for it before swal-lowing. "What!" remarked the gentleman, at the unusual demand. "Yes." replied the barkeeper, "that's my order to strangers." "Gracious!" said the M. C., walking away, "If its fatal effects are so instantaneous I'll not take it.
