The tramp bill has received the signature of the Governor, and the measure is now the law of the State of Pennsylvania, taking effect the 15th day of August, next.

DISCUSSING the causes of the depression in English trade, the Pall Mall Gazette remarks that the substitution of steel for iron by the Bessemer process, and still more by the elimination of phosphorus from the Cleveland ores (now positively accomplished) is a revolution as great as followed upon the inventions of Crompton and Arkwright.

IF WE could only give our own Legislature such a send-off as the Massachusetts law-makers have received from the State press. They have cut down all the salaries—beginning with their own department—abolished a number of offices, consolidated several commissions, and taken a new start in the management of charities and corrections, which will result in the still further diminution of the expense of their management.

Light on a Dark Subject.

The Memphis Appeal, a Democratic paper, gives some light on the subject of the Negro exodus. We quote the following from that paper:

The incendiary teachings of the Bourbon press and politicians have furnished in great part the material now feeding the emigration movement that so alarms the planters of the Mississippi Valley. These presses and politicians have taught only bitterness. They marked for social proscription all who refuse to submit without question to their partisan guidance.

A Religious Lunatic Kills His Child.

BOSTON, May 2nd.—Full particulars from the Pocasset (Mass.) tragedy state that Freeman, the mail carrier at Pocasset between the railroad station and the post-office, woke his wife at 3.30 o'clock on Thursday morning, and told her that he must make a sacrifice to the Lord of his youngest daughter.

POCASSET, Mass., May 3.—The Selectmen arrived at Pocasset this morning, and a public meeting was held at the Bay View House. Several persons gave in their testimony who have held conversation with those who are said to be accessories to the crime after the deed.

Dr. Munsell, of Harwich, had a conversation yesterday with Freeman and his wife. He came away with the conviction that the case is more marvelous than any of a similar kind recorded in the medical books. He says that neither Freeman nor his wife is insane. They are perfectly rational in every respect.

They are, however, in a morbid mental state, and have one delusion—that God can and does speak directly to human beings. Freeman said, and his wife also, that whatever course was taken with them, they did not want any plea of insanity entered. He admitted that he undertook the act with a full understanding of what he was doing.

The District Attorney said that the case legally was clear enough. Here are a man and woman who, with complete and perfect knowledge of what they are doing, with abundant opportunity to reflect, and admitting that they understood the responsibility they were meeting, kill a child. They must be indicted for murder in the first degree.

A Gallows Candidate.

Two months ago Dr. Pierce, of Factoryville, Wyoming county, deserted his wife and family and eloped with Mrs. Riggs, the wife of his hired man. He had the day before prescribed some medicine for his wife, who was sick. After the flight of her husband Mrs. Pierce took the medicine. She died two hours afterward. Pierce and Mrs. Riggs went to Texas. The woman had taken her little boy, four years old, with her.

A Careful Mother.

When Wilhelmj was at Lancaster he was asked by a newsboy to buy a paper. Wilhelmj declined to purchase but handed the boy a dollar "to make him glad," as he expressed it. After the concert, while Wilhelmj was busily engaged packing up, a boy appeared on the stage and inquired for him.

A Murder in Juniata County.

MIFFLIN, Pa., May 4.—Peter Evans, a huckster, aged about 68, was murdered on Saturday morning on Black Log mountain. The murderer escaped. Evans resided at Johnstown, Juniata county. It is supposed the crime was committed for money.

We found the above in the Altoona Tribune. Peter Evans was in Patterson, on Monday of this week, alive and well. He don't know anything about being murdered. — Democrat and Register.

Preparing for the Threatened Strike.

FALL RIVER, May 9.—Manufacturers are preparing to meet the threatened strike in the mills here. They have signed an agreement to shut down their mills in the event of a strike at one or more of the mills, and to keep them shut until the strike is over.

Timber on Fire in Berks County.

POTTSWOWN, May 6.—A fire on a chain of high hills in Union township, Berks county, is destroying hundreds of acres of timber. The flames seem to have originated on Bear hill and are rapidly extending eastward, doing great damage, with little hopes of their being soon extinguished.

A Druggist's Fatal Mistake.

PALMYRA, Ohio, May 6.—Yesterday Dr. Rose, proprietor of a drug store, invited his friend Sylvester Canfield to drink. By mistake both drank aconite. The doctor died in a few hours, and Canfield is in a critical condition.

Notice.—We have in our possession a copy of "A Treatise on the Horse and his Diseases," by Dr. B. J. KENDALL, of Enosburgh Falls, Vermont. It is nicely illustrated with 35 engravings and is full of useful horse knowledge.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 7, 1879.

After the President vetoed the Army bill, some days since, there was a great deal of caucusing among Democrats on the question how to secure all or most of the political legislation embodied in that bill, and still not refuse supplies to the Army.

Be it enacted, &c., That it shall not be lawful to bring to, or employ at any place where a general or special election is being held in a State any part of the Army or Navy of the United States unless such force be necessary to repel the armed enemies of the United States, or to enforce section 4, of the Constitution of the United States, and the laws made in pursuance thereof, on application of the Legislature or executive of the State where such force is to be used.

The Senate was engaged yesterday for some time in a discussion as to whether or not testimony should be taken concerning the right of Judge Spafford to the seat in the Senate now held by Gov. Kellogg.

There will be an early report from the Senate Finance Committee in favor of the House bill allowing the exchange of small silver coins for Greenbacks and to make such coins legal tender to the amount of $20. The bill will probably pass.

To the surprise of many William E. Chandler, of New Hampshire, has been elected Secretary of the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee, over Geo. C. Gorham. The "Greenback" opinion of Mr. Gorham doubtless contributed to his defeat.

Extraordinary efforts are being made here to secure an imposing display on "Memorial Day." The most beautiful of our National Cemetery is at Washington, across the Potomac from this city, and on the 30th of each May for many years the ex-soldiers of this section have assembled there to celebrate the day.

Secretary Sherman has not returned from Ohio. There is an immense amount of curiosity as to what this veteran politician is attempting to accomplish, but the opinion is universal that he will not knowingly do anything to injure his own chances for the Republican Presidential nomination.

Miscellaneous News Items.

The people of Des Moines, Iowa, voted in favor of liquor license by over 500 majority on the 1st inst. It is significant, however, that the women cast 480 votes, and only three of them were for license.

The eldest son of Senator Kernan of New York will go to the Novitiate of the Jesuits at Rochampton, where a son of Gen. Sherman is preparing for the priesthood.

Ex-Gov. Charles Robinson of Kansas is now caring for nine families of colored refugees on his farm near Lawrence, and will keep them there until they can be provided for in homes of their own.

The Madrid journals comment on the agitation caused by the dearthness of bread, and several urge a reduction of importations. In a number of towns flour is nearly thirty-three shillings per hectolitre.

The rivers in Hungary are again swelling, and the water in Szegedin is rising rapidly. A hurricane destroyed most of the works prepared for restoring the railway and filling the breaches in the dams.

A story comes from Memphis that several hundred colored people have armed themselves at Carolina and Leota landings, in Mississippi, with the intention of seizing a steamer to convey them toward Kansas.

A clerk who had been left to watch in a store in Jeffersonville, O., on Friday night a week, shot a burglar who entered by the back door, and was shocked to find that it was a woman. Her injuries are supposed to be fatal.

Three young white women of Ebsenburg, incensed at the conduct of an erring woman living with a colored man, went to his house during his absence and, after giving the woman a cow-hiding, smashed up everything in the most approved manner of doing such things.

GALVESTON, May 5.—A special dispatch to the News from Hempstead says: "As the congregation were leaving the Methodist church yesterday Col. Jared E. Kirby shot and killed John Steele, who, in a quarrel fourteen years ago killed Kirby's father."

GALVESTON, Tex., May 5.—A special dispatch to the News from Overton says:

J. T. Young and John Riley, who had been confined in jail for drunkenness, attempted to escape by setting fire to the building. The flames spread rapidly, and being unable to extinguish them the men were both burned to death.

An apprentice at the Harrisburg Telegraph office named Marcellus Miller, had three of the fingers of his right hand badly smashed, last week, by having them accidentally caught in the machinery of a Gordon job press.

After a lapse of fourteen years a wealthy merchant of Rushford, Allegheny county, N. Y., has recovered a bond stolen at that remote time, with others to the amount of $50,000. He expects to secure the balance of his property if the proper steps are taken.

Last week two young men, while intoxicated, drove a carriage at a breakneck pace through the principal streets of Edenburg, Cambria county. The carriage contained one hundred and fifty pounds of nitro glycerine, and the wonder of the people is that they were not blown to atoms.

A three year old boy named Schwab, residing with his parents in Harrisburg, strayed into a neighbor's yard, on Tuesday last, to play with a large dog chained there. The dog, being vicious, sprang upon the child, tore off the upper lid of his right eye, lacerated his face and body terribly, and would have killed him had he not been rescued.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 4.—A dispatch from Victoria, B. C., states that the farm house of Thomas Pool, at Pemberton Meadows, near Siboet, was destroyed by fire to-day. Pool and his two children perished in the flames. Indians are suspected of murdering the parties and firing the premises to cover the deed.

ST. LOUIS, May 5.—Advices from southeastern Kansas say about 2,000 men have gone into the Indian territory within the past week; also that rich silver mines have been discovered just south of the Kansas line, and claims in large numbers are being registered daily in the squatters' registry office, two miles from Baxter Springs, Kansas.

A discharged workman, formerly in the employ of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad, set fire to a bridge near Woodburn, Clark county, Ia., and had it not been for the bravery and presence of mind of a lad working in an adjoining field, and who gave the alarm, an approaching passenger train would have met a terrible fate. The bridge burner was arrested.

Marshal Frederick Douglass, in a lecture at Staunton, Va., last week, advised his colored hearers not to trust altogether on prayer, but to go to work honestly, systematically and conscientiously. He himself, he said, had prayed for three long years that freedom might come to him, but it never came until the prayers got down into his legs and carried him away.

Forty-five years ago Paul Dillingham, ex-Governor of Vermont, took a boy into his service to do chores for his board, and allowed him to use his library and to attend the district school. He is now fifty-five years old; his head is covered with a great mass of sturdy iron-gray hair, and he occupies a seat in the United States Senate. His name is Matthew H. Carpenter.

A good deal of counterfeit money is in circulation at Clinton, Ill. The other day a boy came into the railroad office at that place and asked to have a fifty cent piece changed, which was about to be done, when it was discovered to be bogus. The boy, on being interrogated as to how he came by it, said: "Every person has a right to make money, so it is silver; my father used to make it, and one day he left home and I just thought I would make a little for myself."

Mrs. Sarah Underwood, a woman who has heretofore moved in the first circles of Milwaukee society, was arrested on Tuesday on a charge of forgery. She had been engaged in speculation, and at one time realized $25,000 in a wheat transaction, but subsequently met with reverses which led to the commission of crime. The forgeries are said to reach $13,000.

The young daughter of Mr. Henry Hill, of Holk county, Fla., went with her brother into the cornfield to keep the birds from the planted corn, and as it was cold they built a fire, and while standing around it, the clothes of the girl caught on fire, and her little brother tried to extinguish the flames, but could not. The poor child's clothing burnt nearly off, and she died next day. What is singular, this child, the night before the sad occurrence, dreamed that she had been burnt to death.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., May 7.—At 11 o'clock last night a slight explosion of gas occurred in the Stanton shaft of the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal Company in this city, severely burning Martin Harrigan. Subsequently at midnight, while the men were engaged in "drubbing out" accumulation of gas in the lower vein, it came in contact with a blower, causing a terrific explosion. A large force of men were driving a tunnel at the time, eight of whom were badly burned. The mine was set on fire by the explosion and it attained such headway that fifty feet of solid coal were soon burning. The mine is now being flooded to extinguish the fire. The injured miners are William Smith, Levi Gibbons, Lem Merrod, John A. Davis, Richard Farrell, John Richards, David Morgan and William Watkins. At 10 o'clock to-day they were all still alive, but it is feared that a majority of them will not recover. William Smith and John A. Davis, two of the men injured by the explosion at the Stanton shaft, died this afternoon.
