The 30th of May is Decoration Day.

The farmers in this county have began planting corn and some are already done.

O The Lutherans have put an excellent new roof on their church in this place,

After the first of July the Marysville post-office will be made a money-order office.

Ward Rice, formerly clerk in the bank in this place, has charge of Harding's Starch factory at Peoria, Illinois. —

O A good, substantial fence has been erected around the cemetery in this borough.

O Mr. Jas. B. Hackett, of this borough, is adding another story to the back build-ing adjoining his residence.

• Mr. Wm. McKee, of this borough, has put a new roof on his house and other-wise improved his property.

Messrs. Stouffer & Crist, Carriage Manufacturers of this borough, are turn-ing out some splendid work.

• Shad fishing in the Juniata above Newport has opened for the season with pretty good results.

O Mr. James Kretzinger had the ends of his fingers cut off recently, by the saw at the Duncannon stave mill.

O James Smith and Charles Giler each had a thumb smashed at the Duncannon solling mill.

The wheat crop as a general rule in this vicinity promises well, though rain would now be very beneficial.

Mr. Daniel Glace, of Harrisburg, will be in this place on the 15th or 16th inst., with a fine collection of flowers.

The Altoona Tribune says, eighteen licences in that town were refused. How many were granted is not stated.

• Rev. A. H. Spangler, of Liverpool, has received and accepted a call from the Lutheran charge of this place.

It required 182 pounds of silver avordu-poise weight, or 221 pounds troy weight to pay off the employees at the Harris-burg car shops on Friday afternoon.

We had several heavy frosts in this section last week. Fortunately fruit and vegetation is not foward enough to be seriously damaged.

Wm. Kistler after 2 years legal fight for it, has recovered his horse that was stolen by Houser, who is now in the penitentiary for the offence.

Search brought to light the fact that a hen had taken possession of the flue for her nest, but when found was dead, having been sufficiented by the smoke.

Anying ocen subscated by the should one o'clock the large bank barn of Freder-ick Shetterly, near Allne, in Perry township, Snyder county, was totally destroyed by fire with all its contents. The cattle were got out. It was insured in the Lykens Valley Fire Insurance Company. The fire is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary.— Post.

The field of wheat belonging to Judge Junkin, just below town, if a fair speel-men of what can be done by the new process of cultivation, is a proof of the excellence of that method. He has several fields put in by the same style of drill that he says are as good as this one. Farmers through the county will anx-iously look for a report of the yield.

Last Tuesday afternoon an unknown man was found on the railroad track above Patterson, in an insensible conabove Patterson, in an insensible con-dition. The man was well dressed, and in his person was found over twenty-eight dollars, and a letter addressed to John Allen, Jr., McVeytown, Pa., and the envelope having the card of J. A. Cottele & Bro., merchant tailor, Milroy, printed thereon. He is about 38 years of age, and will weigh about 135 pounds.

Fire in Duncannon .- On last Wednesday morning about 4 o'clock fire was discovered in P. F. Michner's wagonmaker shop on High street and before 8 o'clock the shop, blacksmith shop, engine and Joseph D. Hawley's dwelling house were in ashes. The fire was under full headway before any assistance arrived, and the shop with all its contents was burned. Mr. Hawley's house standing near could not be saved on account of the hose of the fire engine not being long enough to reach from the river and there being no other means of getting water. Nearly everything in the house was saved. The residence of Mr. Michner made a narrow escape, as it was on fire several times, but was saved by the use of buckets, as were several other buildings. The origin of the fire is unknown, but it is supposed to be the work of an incendiary, if it could be possible that such a dastardly, low lived being could be in our midst. No punishment could be severe enough for such a person. Mr. Michner's loss is about $1,400; insured $1,000. On opening the shop when the fire was first discovered, it was found that the shavings were scattered all over the floor and set on fire in such a way as to make it impossible to save anything. Several wagons, buggies and sleighs were burned. It was without doubt an incendiary .- Record.

A Boy Killed .- A colored boy named " Pid" Banks, about 7 years of age, was almost instantly killed on Monday afternoon last. He with a comrade were playing near the Cumberland Valley freight depot when a wagon heavily laden with lumber passed by. The deceased bantered his companion to run under the wagon, which offer was refused, started to do so himself, when he was in someway struck by the wagon .--The owner, Mr. Jere Kyle, as well as several others who were with the team, did not witness the accident nor were they aware of it until some one called to them when they stopped and went back. The boy gasped three or four times and died. The body was carried to the oil house of the railroad company, where

Juniata County .- We copy the following from the Juniata county papers of last week

Within the past month a number of valuable horses in Tuscarora valley have died of some fatal distemper.

Last Friday night thieves entered the summer house of Daniel Sieber, in Fermanagh township, and stole there-from a general assortment of provisions, and some clothing that belonged to Mr. Sleber, and also some that belonged to Mrs. Sieber. On Sunday night the thieves visited the cellar of John Sto-ner, in the same township.

ner, in the same township. About ten o'clock on last Saturday morning, a building connected with the Shirleyaburg Alms House caught fire, which in a short time communicated with the main building—a large brick structure, all efforts to stop the ravages of the flames being futile the two were entirely destroyed. The barn and a number of out-buildings were saved with great difficulty. The almshouse originally cost $5,000 and some time ago an addition was put to it costing $2,800. There were $5,000 insurance on the burned property. The fire is sup-posed to have occurred through the carelessness of some of the inmates of the insane department. The inmates were all removed in safety and all the contents were saved except a few iron bedsteads,—Mo Veytown Journal.

Cumberland County .- We copy the following from the Cumberland county papers of last week :

Jacob Weaver, an old and esteemed citizen of Green Spring, died at his resi-dence on Tuesday. A few weeks since he was thrown from his wagon, his head striking the ground, producing con-cussion of the brain and resulting in his death. Mr. Weaver resided in the vi-cinity of Green Spring for many years, and was highly esteemed for his many Christian virtues.

Samuel Cramer's dwelling, in New-burgh, came near being destroyed by fire on last Saturday. Its timely discov-ery and ample assistance from the neighbors alone saved the building from the flames. Newburg is without fire apparatus, and from the many warn-ings, in the way of destructive fires, any further neglect in this direction should be considered little short of criminal.

Rev. W. L. Wallace, pastor of the United Presbyterian church, Newville, has resigned his pastorate and accepted a call from the church at Sewickley, near Pittsburgh. Rev. Wallace has served the people of his charge at New-ville for the past eighteen years in the most acceptable manner and we believe his leaving his present field is regretted by all. by all.

A most singular accident occurred in South Middleton township a short time ago, which was attended with fatal conago, which was attended with fatal con-sequences. An aged gentleman named Henry Lackey was engaged hauling stone for the erection of a new bank barn. Whilst so engaged one of the horses began to choke, when Mr. L. went to the assistance of the animal and it fell upon him, when one of the arteries of his neck burst, and in a short time he was a corpse.

A sensation has been' rife for some weeks past, occasioned by the continued absence from her home of a girl named Cora Clendenin, about sixteen years of age. This girl, a year or more ago, was brought from the Home of the Friend-tees in Harrisburg and indentified to brought from the Home of the Friend-less, in Harrisburg, and indentured to Mrs. Eliza Wolf. Early in the winter she saw fit to leave Mrs. W., but return-ed before many weeks elapsed only to remain a short time, however, for she, soon again left in a rather mysterious manner, since which time nothing very definite has been elicited concerning her. Efforts to ferret out her where abouts are now being made, and it is abouts are now being made, and it is thought that traces of her have been of the West seems to be overdone with emigration. Hundreds of emigrant wagons have already passed through Beatrice, Wil-ber, Crete and points north of this place this spring, and "still they come." These emigrants intend to homestead in western Nebraska, and in north western Kansas, many of them are adventurers, seeking fortunes in the mines of Colora-do. There are public lands yet in north western Nebraska, but they are being taken very fast by settlers. Upon this subject we will write again, and give some information for all concerned in western lands.

subject we will write again, and give some information for all concerned in western lands. We are now living on the west bank of the Big Blue river, near the junction of the Beatrice branch with the B. M. R. R. Crete is a "2nd class" city con-taining about 1,600 inhabitants. It is growing fast, over twenty houses have already been erected this spring, and many more will be built this summer. A brick bank building 100 feet in length is just commenced. The farmers are busily engaged in planting corn. There has been scarcely any rain here since last fall and yet the soil is moist, and vegetation is springing forth with great vigor. This is owing to a natural pecu-liarity of the soil of Nebraska. It re-tains in the subsoil strata all the rain that may fall during a long season of wet weather and the surface soil is mois-tened by evaporation. The roads do not cut up in ruts and ridges as in the east, but shortly after the weather clears, they are dry and smooth again. But in order to be brief I must conclude for this time. J. W. RICE.

Mr. James Humes, Poet, of Madison twp., dropped in to see us last week.— He is still the jovial "old Jimmy," and we are always glad to see his pleasant countenance

The trial of Ephraim Snyder for the murder of Christiana Herman, in Hel-dleburg township, York county, in December last, was concluded Friday with a verdict of not guilty.

Would it not be a good idea to organize a vigilance committee in this place for the extermination of a lot of miserable curs? which make night hideous by their howls.

C. A. Reese, who was sent to the pen-itentiary about two years ago from Huntingdon county, for shooting Dr. A. J. Shade, is now in the Dixmont Insane Asylum at Pittsburgh.

We notice daily large wagon loads of iron ore pass through this borough which is taken from Darius Long's mine in Centre township, and which is О sold to the Newport furnace.

Mr. Abram Good had a narrow escape from drowing in trying to cross the Juniata on Saturday aweek, but was rescued by Reuben Sheaffer, who saw his peril, and rowed to his relief. 0

Mr. O. B. Weaver of Bell Springs, Kan., sends a specimen head of Rye that looks as though the grain crop there was promising. It measures 6 inches in length. The letter was dated May 2nd.

A lady in Buffalo township was unable to get the fire to burn in her bake over.

it lay for some time, and was then taken to his mother's residence. There was a slight bruise on the back of the neck and on the abdomen, and a scratch on his hand.

Coroner Ramsey was notified, came to town and in the evening held an inquest. A jury was impanelled and rendered a verdict of "accidental death."-Franklin Repository.

Broke Jail .- On Monday morning of last week, quite an excitement was caused in the Dauphin Co. jall, by hearing that Harvey and Clark, two of the pickpockets, and Pete and Bob Douglass and Harry Spahr, store robbers, had escaped from their cells by cutting through the roof and springing into Strawberry alley from the top of the jail wall

The two pickpockets were caught near Falmouth, close to Conewago falls, by Constable R. Strominger, of Goldsboro, assisted by J. D. Palmer and George W. Law. Detective Anderson sent a descriptive sheet abroad at twelve A. M., one at two P. M.,-one of which reached Strominger at three P. M. Directly afterward a man who had been fishing below the falls came to the York county side and stated to Strominger that two men were in the bushes at the falls and behaved suspiciously. He went over the river and made the arrest, bringing his prisoners to the city on Monday evening on the 7,40 train.

Nearly all the people of this county know an old man who travels from place to place buying and selling dogs. In the course of several years he had saved some money, which he carried on his person. Last Monday he was attack-ed on the road between Mt. Holly and Boiling Springs by two men, who beat him badly, he resisting. During the me-lee his pantaloons were ripped open and the pocket, which contained his hoard, amounting to about $200, was stolen. Nearly all the people of this county amounting to about $200, was stolen. The old man made information before The old man made information before J. C. Lehman, Esq., and on Thursday night Constable Gibb, of Mt. Holly, ar-rested and brought to jail George Smith, of that place, who had been spending money freely in Holly. On his person, when brought to jail, over thirty-nine dollars were found. On Friday the old man appeared and identified him as one of his assailants. Much of the old man's money was in fractional currency, and the possession of so much of it by one person was what led to his arrest. The other man took leg ball and has not other man took leg bail and has not since been seen or heard of. Smith is held for Court to answer the charges of attempt to kill and of robbing.

A telegram from Carlisle on Saturday fiternoon led to the arrest, on the first train south, of a young lady of neat appearance from Carlisle, who did not intend stopping over at this point. She ad deceived her lover into loaning her a sum of money not exceeding five dollars and fearing others might enjoy the pleasure of his lavish expenditures, he had his beloved returned to Carlisle on the five o'clock train, whither she was accompanied by officer Whitmer, She was confronted at the office of a magistrate in that town by the young man but her blandishments and his tender heart led to the withdrawal of the charge and she was soon released. She came on the late train as far as this point where she remained for a few days enjoying the bursting beauties of mature and away from the extravagant devo-tion and jealous eyes of her Carlisle expenses of the officer to and from Car-lisle and the charges for her arrest and hearing,—Shippensburg Chronicle.
