THE PRESIDENT has sent another veto message to Congress. This time it is the Army bill he disapproves. He gives as his principal objection to the measure that it would prevent the use of the army for almost any purpose for which it has heretofore been used in quelling insurrection or disturbing of the public peace, and is a dangerous recognition of State rights.

Pay of Auditors and Commissioners.

HARRISBURG, May 18.—The bill providing that the compensation of auditors and commissioners appointed by the court to audit the accounts of administrators, executors, etc., to make distribution of the proceeds of sheriffs' or assignees' sales, shall not exceed ten dollars for each day necessarily engaged, unless the court, for special reasons shown, should allow a higher rate, not to exceed fifteen dollars per day, has passed the Senate finally, and goes to the Governor.

JUDGE HUGHES' decision in the miscegenation case at Lebanon, Virginia, is too important to be lightly passed over. It was claimed by counsel for the petitioner that marriage was a civil contract, and that the rights of a citizen in one State could not be abridged by another State. Judge Hughes did not decide the main question, but threw the case out of court, on the ground that the United States courts had no jurisdiction in questions of marriage. If this is so, citizens of the United States who live unmolested in one State of the Union and have broken no State or national law, may be liable, as soon as they enter the boundaries of another State, to arrest and imprisonment.

The Warner Silver Bill.

A Washington special says the Warner silver bill, now before the House, proposes in effect to make the government buy all the silver, American or foreign, offered to it by private owners, issuing certificates therefor good for duties and taxes. It is positively asserted that the President will veto it if it is passed, and the best interests of the country demand that he should.

Important Treasury Notice.

WASHINGTON, May 13.—The following notice has been issued by the treasurer of the United States: Fragments of national bank notes redeemed by banks of issue for less than their face value will be accepted by the treasurer only when their valuation is equal to the face value of a note of same denomination issued by the bank or some multiple thereof. The required valuation may, however, be made up of several fragments of notes of same or different denominations. In no other case can such fragments be disposed of under the comptroller of the currency requiring the National bank notes to be delivered to him for destruction in sums of even hundreds of dollars. The accumulation in his hands of fragments of which he is unable to dispose of compels the treasurer to adopt this rule.

The Demand for Ten Dollar Certificates. The following was issued this afternoon by the treasury department:—The demand for the $10 refunding certificates has been so great that notwithstanding every effort of the bureau of engraving and printing, the supply of certificates does not equal the demand for them. At present the bureau is delivering them at the rate of $800,000 per diem. By Thursday the delivery will reach about $1,000,000 per diem, and by the first of next week two millions per diem. Certificates will be distributed in proper proportion among the different officers authorized to sell them, to be sold strictly and only upon the terms stated in the circular of April 28. The whole amount authorized is about $40,000,000, and no more than that amount can or will be issued.—About $13,000,000 have already been sold.

The Pocasset Tragedy.

New York, May 14.—A Barnstable dispatch says: Edith Freeman's mother is weeping and starving herself to death. Since the first Sunday after the killing of Edith she has been weeping day and night. She has tried to eat, believing that it was her duty to do so, but in the ten days of her imprisonment, she has eaten less than would make an ordinary meal.

Bold Dash for Liberty.

Wednesday night as the Evansville, Terre Haute and Chicago railway train, passing through Terre Haute, had neared Clinton, a desperate criminal, named Johnson, alias "Bandy Mike," succeeded in making his escape by boldly jumping from the train. Escorting the criminal were Sheriff Copeland, of Fayette county, and several officers of Terre Haute. Johnson, about midnight, complained of being sick, and asked the Sheriff's permission to stand on the platform in order to obtain some fresh air, which request was granted, Sheriff Copeland accompanying the prisoner.

The Sheriff and his prisoner, who was supposed to be handcuffed, were quietly standing on the platform enjoying the air when suddenly Johnson dealt the Sheriff a terrible blow on the head with a sharp instrument, knocking him senseless through the car door. Johnson then made a desperate leap from the car. The night was as dark as pitch, and the train was at the time going at the rate of thirty miles an hour. The train was quickly stopped, and a search instituted for the prisoner, but no trace of him could be discovered. Johnson, alias "Bandy Mike," is a desperate criminal, who was held on a charge of murder and other crimes, and was on his way North for trial. His escape is conceded to be one of the most daring ever effected.

Better than a Watch Dog.

The Providence "Press" says: Mr. Orin A. Wehoskey, who keeps a locksmith shop at No. 200 Broad street, has reason to congratulate himself for possessing an animal whose services, Friday night, was fully as valuable, if not more so, than an ordinary watch dog. About nine o'clock last evening, a would-be thief stole around to a side window of Mr. Wehoskey's, and effected an entrance by forcing open the window with a "jimmy." As soon as he got inside, however, he met with a warm reception, for the proprietor's owl, which is generally at liberty during the night time, seized upon the intruder, and there was quite a tussle, until at length the man succeeded in making his escape, leaving his hat and the implements used in opening the window.

When Mr. Wehoskey went to the store this morning blood was found on the floor, desk, near the window, and other places, and the "jimmy" was covered with blood. The owl's feathers were bloody, as well as his claws, thus showing the faithfulness with which he had defended the property of his master's, who searched the store but found nothing was missing.

Navigation Up the Delaware.

DELAWARE, N. J., May 9.—The first steamer that ever ploughed the waters of the Delaware as high as this point passed about 5 o'clock this afternoon. As she went under the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad bridge cheers were given by a large crowd of spectators and were answered by the waving of the national colors on board the boat. The vessel is a small side-wheeler, and is but sixty feet in length. It is named the Kittaning, will carry about seventy-five passengers, and will ply between the Delaware Water Gap and Port Jervis, New York.

Free Fight at an Execution.

AUGUSTA, Ga., May 10.—After the double execution yesterday in Columbia county there was a serious affray between the white citizens of McDuffie county present at Appling to witness the execution. Twenty-five pistol shots were fired, and the following were wounded: Jack Usry, shot in the abdomen, mortally; Shade Hawes, in the hand and hip; Cainy, wounded in the scalp; Tug Smith, a bystander, slightly in the hand. The shooting is supposed to have been the result of an old feud.

Eels do Spawn.

The Huntingdon "News" says: We happened to be present on Friday last when Major Nightwine was cleaning a young eel at his cabin near the slab dam. Upon opening it he discovered a large quantity of eggs in the egg sack, and although he is an experienced fisherman and has cleaned hundred of eels, this is the first time he ever noticed that they had eggs. This fact may go far towards solving the mooted question whether eels spawn. From the large number of eggs in this young eel we are inclined to believe that they do spawn.

The U. S. Flag Never Carried.

As to the use of the U. S. flag in Georgia, a friend writes us as follows:—"I have lived twelve years in Georgia, and I never yet have seen the United States flag carried by a white military company on any occasion, and it is not now displayed anywhere except over national institutions."

Miscellaneous News Items.

PROXIMITY, May 12.—Isaac Anderson, of Charlestown, was thrown from his horse while returning from church yesterday and was killed.

PROVIDENCE, May 13.—Andrew Manning killed his wife at Elmville yesterday, and then went to the mill pond, filled his pockets with stones and drowned himself.

ALLENTOWN, May 13.—A boy named Nagel fell from a wagon in this city this morning. A barrel of water fell on him, crushing his head, and he was instantly killed.

CINCINNATI, May 12.—Mary Ruggles, aged eleven years, stepped on a parlor match, at Bettsville, Ohio. The match exploded, and her clothes catching fire, she was burned to death.

Two human fiends near Johnstown caught a rabbit a few Sundays since, after which they skinned it alive and then amused themselves by chasing it around a room till it expired.

James Cassam, one of the clowns of Bailey & Co's great circus and menagerie, met with a terrible death at Johnstown on the 14th inst., being literally ground to pieces by a train of cars, passing over him.

ALTOONA, May 11.—A young boy, son of Porter Orner, was almost instantly killed this afternoon by a horse falling on him.—He was watching the unloading of some circus horses at the time.

CINCINNATI, May 13.—Chas. Wallace and Louis Gable, two young men of Wheatland, Indiana, had a quarrel about a young lady friend. Wallace, becoming greatly enraged, shot Gable, killing him instantly.

Robert Held eloped with a Denver widow, and his own wife aided him in the exploit. The object of the Helds was to get the widow's one thousand dollars, and after that Helds deserted the widow and returned home.

Five hundred shad were caught in one day at Shenk's Ferry, on the Susquehanna. This is the largest haul made at this point for many years. The prevailing opinion that the introduction of black bass destroys all other fish does not seem to be well founded.

The Ann Arbor, Mich., student who "gave away" the gang of student thieves, says they were about to engage in making counterfeit coin when the police came down upon them. Jewelry, furs, clothing, mittens, museum specimens, etc., had constituted their plunder.

While a party of six men were attempting to land from their skiff on the St. Louis side of the Mississippi on Sunday evening in a high wind, the boat was upset and four of the six, John Hieman, Herman Mastius and two others whose names are unknown were drowned.

In a number of northern counties last fall's pigs, owned by farmers in that vicinity, are suffering from a disease which causes a complete paralysis of their legs. In some cases the paralysis is confined only to the hind legs, but in nearly all, the animal is entirely helpless.

POTTSVILLE, May 12.—The body of a little daughter of Michael Hoary, living at Locust Gap, was found in the Creek at Mt. Carmel, in a partly decomposed condition yesterday. She was missed from home several weeks ago, and it was supposed she had been stolen away by gypsies.

A basket full of boy baby was found on the steps of a house in Flint, Mich., a few days ago. A note in the basket said he was of poor but honest parents, but the style of clothing indicated that, like Ralph Rackstraw, he was a "regular patrician." He was adopted by a family who had recently lost a babe by death.

Salmon measuring nine inches in length have been caught in the outlet of the Union canal, Reading. It is thought they are some of the 3,000 young salmon that were put in the Wyomissing creek last December, when 25,000 fish of the same variety were placed in the streams of Berks county.

Information has been received at Chicago that on Saturday night Charles Reed, of Sidney, Nebraska, who was in jail there for having murdered Henry Loomis the preceding day, was taken out of jail by about four hundred citizens and hanged to a telegraph pole in the main street of the town. The mob then dispersed, firing revolvers in the air, and shouting, "Loomis is avenged."

A good deal of excitement was produced lately in an Ohio village, when an old and reverend deacon in the church—a model in words and works—was attacked with what appeared to be delirium tremens. The attack was renewed again and again, and finally the deacon died. The disease really was, as stated by the physicians, similar to mania-a-pots, but had been produced by the excessive use of tobacco, which had slowly but thoroughly penetrated the nervous system.

Chester papers say that last Monday was the biggest shad day of the season. Every boat that went out had good luck and came in full. Many Jersey fishermen came into Chester, disposing of their catch there. Over 6,000 shad were brought into Chester, and any number of herring. William Stewart, during the day, caught 450 shad, which was high boat catch.

Mr. David Reid, of Bristol twp., Fillmore county, Minn., died very suddenly last week. He was stricken down with a sharp and terrible pain in the forehead while at church, similar to that of having been shot, as he described it.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., May 14.—This morning while Mary Scanlon, aged ten years, was walking on the track of the Lehigh Valley railroad, near Shenandoah, she saw a torpedo attached to a rail and not knowing what it was she struck it with a stone, when it exploded, tearing the flesh from her arms and legs. Her injuries, though serious, are not thought to be fatal.

A young woman married an old widower at Tannerville, Ga., and soon fell in love with his son, who was about her own age. The matter was fully discussed by the trio, and all agreed that it would be better for her to become the wife of the son. The transfer was amicably made by means of a divorce. Since then, the old man has married his ex-wife's mother, and the rearranged family is harmonious and happy.

NEW ORLEANS, May 12.—A special dispatch from Bryan, Texas, to the Galveston "News" says: "Last night all the prisoners save one escaped from the jail at this place, a confederate concealed in the jail having overcome and secured the jailor.—Among those who fled are the Jones brothers and Stearns, the murderers of Morse, at Calvert, Texas, and Andrew Walker, the murderer and bond counterfeiter. The prisoners secured the jail arms. Citizens are in pursuit."

The fast train that passed through Pennsylvania a few weeks since en route from New York to Chicago, it was given out, contained a large shipment of tobacco. It is now stated that the train was not loaded with tobacco at all, but was filled with silver. The tobacco story was told in order that the train might traverse the country without being ditched. We are inclined to think that this last story is told to "ditch" the persons who would swallow it.

A widow named Davis resides near Broad Top City, this county, who is 104 years old. She was born, reared and married in the old country, and has had three husbands, being married twice in this country. Death has separated her from them and her children, and she is now an object of charity, supported by the county and the liberality of her neighbors. She has never wore spectacles, and bids fair to live a number of years yet. She is probably the oldest resident of the county.—Huntingdon "News."

DARBY, May 15.—About ten o'clock this morning Mr. O. C. Armstrong discovered his residence to be on fire, and saved his family only by letting them down from the porch. The building was saved by great exertions on the part of the neighbors, although the walls and floors and the furniture are greatly damaged, which, however, is covered by insurance.

All the appearances indicate that the fire was the work of an incendiary. One of Mr. Armstrong's horses was poisoned recently, and he has suffered from other acts of malicious mischief, although unconscious of having given any one cause for enmity.

TERRE HAUTE, May 16.—Eight persons were arrested here yesterday charged with miscegenation, being married contrary to the laws of the State of Indiana. They are William Melson, Daniel Williams, John Thomas and William Price, all colored men; Elizabeth Butler, Maggie Butler, Annie Johnson and Kate Kennedy, all white women. They are now lodged in jail, and numerous other arrests for the same offence will be made to-day. The grand jury also indicted Rev. Robert Jeffries and William H. Anderson, two noted colored preachers, for marrying them.

Magazines for June.

PETERSON'S MAGAZINE for June is already on our table, exceptionally bright and meritorious in every department. The principal steel engraving, "Among the Hills," is one of the rarest beauty. The double-size colored fashion-plate, not only gives the very latest Parisian styles, but is also an exquisite picture. Then there is a colored design for the covering of a blotting-book, to be worked on black satin, with gold and silver thread, after a Japanese design, so pretty that every lady, we should think, would begin to work on at once. These colored patterns are a specialty of "Peterson's" no other Magazine has them; they appear monthly and must be very expensive. The stories are good, even for this Magazine. Every lady should have it. Its price is but $2 a year, with great deductions to clubs. Specimens are sent gratis, if written for, to persons wishing to subscribe, or to get up clubs. Address G. J. Peterson, 300 Chestnut street, Philadelphia.

GODEY'S MAGAZINE opens with a steel plate from Darley, that will forcibly suggest to mamma to keep base-ball playing outside of drawing-room doors. "The Rosebud Garden of Girls" is continued with increasing interest in every page, and the charming serial, "A Gentle Belle," is also continued, give two novels by distinguished authors to every subscriber. In addition are first-rate stories by Florence Avenel, Ethel Tane, Chas. C. Royce, Ella Rodman Church and others. The mothers will find new suggestions for Fireside Fun; there is a capital fairy story for the little folks, an article especially seasonable, by the eminent florist, Thos. Meslin; and, in addition to this, a feast of fashion matter, profusely illustrated, and the usual pages of Work Department, Hints on Home Adornment, and other specialties of this popular magazine, which with this number closes its ninety-eighth volume. Send $1 to GODEY LADY'S BOOK PUBLISHING CO., Philadelphia, and try it a year.

LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE makes a specialty of articles depicting social life and manners at home and abroad, and this feature is conspicuous in the June number. In "State and Society in Ottawa" we have an entertaining description of the vice-regal court, with handsome illustrations, giving views of the Parliament Buildings, the State Apartments at Rideau Hall, the Boudoir of Princess Louise, etc. The second of Mrs. Wister's two papers on Paris brings the splendors of the Old World into juxtaposition with those of the New. "House-keeping in Texas" is another finely illustrated paper, and presents a graphic picture of domestic life in the Southwest before and since the war. Somewhat in the same vein, and not less amusing, is the continuation of Miss Porter's papers on Village Life in the South. Also a great variety of other interesting and instructive articles.

J. B. LIPPINCOTT & Co., Pubs., 715 and 717 Market St., Phil'a.

DEMOREST'S MAGAZINE for June has been received and is as usual, a welcome visitor. A specialty of "Demorest's" is the colored oil chromo and the picture furnished this month is a gem. In addition, the reading matter is choice and interesting, its fashion reports complete and reliable and its household hints "valuable." We invite our lady friends who are not already subscribers to take this magazine. W. JENKINGS DEMOREST, Publisher, New York, at $3 per year.
