The Presbyterian and Reformed Sunday Schools will meet in the Reformed church next Saturday evening to practice singing.

Y. M. C. A. meeting in the M. E. church next Sunday at 6 o'clock P. M. Subject- How to serve God. All are cordially invited to these meetings.

Bishop Bowman will preach in the Evangelical Church at Marysville, on Friday evening, June the 6th, at half-past seven o'clock.

We fear our Loysville friend "A Citizen," in his communication is tramping some ones toes. The article seems to us too personal.

Albert Kingsboro of Saville twp., broke his wagon tongue by trying to turn his four horse team too short a corner in Millerstown on Monday of last week.

Geo. Callan of Buffalo twp., lost a horse on Sunday morning by the animal falling into a gully in the pasture field, in such a manner that he could not get out. When found the horse was dead.

In burning off a clearing in Rye twp., a couple of weeks since, the fire got into the woods and burned up a quantity of lumber and cord wood for Emanuel Keller.

A son of John Finnicle, residing in Fishing Creek, had his hand badly lacerated in a corn sheller a short time since. The injuries required surgical operation, which was performed by Dr. Fuget.

• Mr. Jacob Crist of this borough in-flicted a serious cut on his foot while pointing rails last week. Mr. Wm. Kepner also while repairing a fence made a mis-cut but did not lame himself so badly.

Jacob Hoffman of Centre township. brags about his clover, and as a proof that it is worth bragging about, he sends us one root that has 121 stalks commutation of the death sentence to imprisonment for life, in the case of Peter Swingler, convicted of murder in Franklin county, and sentenced to be hanged June 5th. The board approved the sentence of the court below, and re-fused to interfere. Swingler will ac-cordingly be hanged on the day desig-nated. nated Accident to a Horse.-Mr. E. C. Gault, of Rye township, lost a valuable horse a few days since, in a singular manner.-He let the animal out of the stable, when it began to run and play, but suddenly stopped and dropped dead. Upon examination it was found that the horse had ruptured his bladder.

The Railroad project is again revived by some enterprising, responsible railroad contractors, who propose, if the citizens interested will back them properly, to take hold of the matter and build the road. The proposition they make is such that no loss can be sustained, and success is certain. Those interested in having a railroad up this valley, should investigate the proposition made by these contractors, and see if this is not the opportunity to get what is so badly needed to properly develop the resources of this county-which is a railroad.

C Horse Thief Captured .- On Tuesday last a fellow named Samuel Reed, of Dauphin county, was brought here and lodged in jail, on the charge of stealing a horse belonging to E. C. Gault, of Rye township. The horse was stolen on the night of the 20th ult., and was taken to Harrisburg and traded off. The thief was arrested when he came for the horse he had traded for. He had first taken a gray mare that was lame, but finding that out he had brought her back and had taken a sorrel horse. He also took a saddle and bridle.

Two Men Killed .- At an early hour on Wednesday morning two young men were struck by the Pacific Express going West, when near Baily's, and were instantly killed, their bodies being badly mangled. The men were on the track and stepped from one track to avoid a coming freight train, only to get in front of a train going in an opposite direction. The men proved to be Filmore Dutton and David Berger, of Chambersburg. Their remains were taken to Baily's and placed in charge of the foreman there and were subsequently sent to Newport, where an inquest was held. They were cigar makers and had been in search of employment. The bodies were afterward sent to their friends in Chambersburg.

Fell Off a Train .- On Tuesday morning, the number of emigrants to go West necessitated two sections of Way Passenger, the second consisting of eleven cars filled with people. When the train was near Vandyke station, (three miles west of Thompsontown,) a five-year old child fell from the platform to the side of the track. Flagman, C. Steiner, who was at his post at the rear end of the train, noticed the little waif and pulled the bell cord, signaling the engineer to stop. When the train came to a stand, he ran back and met the child running towards him. The little thing received

D The Old Pistol was Loaded. - Mr. Addrew Whitekettle, of Markelville, is the owner of an old-fashioned horse-pistol of large size, which has the appearance of a relic of the last century more than the look of the dangerous weapon it is. This pistol he kept in his sleeping room. A short time since Dr. H-, of York, ac-companied by a friend, stopped with Mr. W. over night and were put in the room where the pistol was allowed to remain. Early in the morning the doctor discovered this pistol and examined it as a curiosity, and thinking it a good joke on his friend to awaken him by pointing it at him and snapping the flint, did so .--The first snap did not arouse him and so he repeated it several times, without success. He then placed the pistol in such a manner that the lock came close to the sleeping man's ear and snapped it again, when, to his horror, and to the terror of his friend, the weapon was discharged with a deafening report, the charge passing down through the bed clothes, tearing a large hole clear through the mattress. The only damage done to either gentlemen was to scare them half to death and to affect the hearing of the man whose head was so close to the pistol, so much so that he has not yet recovered from its effect. The escape of the doctor's friend from death is the more remarkable, as Mr. Whitekettle says he never knew the pistol to miss fire before and, that it should then miss several times in succession seemed like a special Interposition of Providence. It is another instance proving the danger of pointing a gun or a pistol at a person.

Cumberland County .- We copy the following from the Cumberland county papers of last week :

Dapers of last week : On Saturday morning a frightful run-away occurred, the results of which are as yet in doubt. Mr. Wm. McCoy, re-siding out the Baltimore pike, was re-turning from market with his wife, when the horse frightened and ran away, throwing the occupants out of the wag-on. Mr. McCoy was badly bruised and it is feared severely injured internally, while his wife had an arm broken in two places. places.

On Sunday afternoon, last week, a destructive hall storm passed along the destructive hall storm passed along the southern side of the county, from Mt. Holly eastward. At Churchtown thou-sands of panes of window glass were broken, at Boiling Springs the railroad station was wrecked and a Mt. Holly stable was wrecked by the storm. Hail-stones an inch and a half in diameter were numerous and all sizes fell in great profusion. Great destruction to fruit, etc., was a necessary adjunct of the storm. storm.

On Thursday evening about dusk, as W. P. Anthony, of Chambersburg, was driving along the Quincy road, he was accosted by a tramp who asked to be taken in. Mr. Anthony refused him, when with an oath the tramp seized the horse's bridle and declared he would get in. Mr. Anthony drew a revolver and fired on him, the horse frightening and springing forward so that the wheel struck the tramp and knocked him down. The tramp raised himself and fired at Mr. Anthony, but the latter hurrled out of his reach.

Last week a white girl named Lizzie Last week a white girl named Lizzle Garrison, thirteen years old, who had been brought from the Home of the Friendless, Harrisburg, and was in the employ of J. W. Bosler, at Carlisle, ran off from her employer, taking a hun-dred dollars' worth of jewelry and some clubbles. Subsequently, the pollice clothing. Subsequently the police found her concealed in the house of a colored woman in Carlisle, and three darks were arrested as accessories. The The girl stated that when concealed under the bed at the woman's house, a burly negro named Fisher committed an outrage upon her person. Fisher is one of the three negroes now in jail. the three negroes now in jail. Edward Koser, a fourteen-year old son of Wm. Koser, of Frankford twp., was seriously hurt in a runaway acci-dent at Carlisle Tuesday morning. His horse frightened at a baby carriage and ran, and the boy, to save himself as he thought, jumped from the wagon, and in doing so fell violently to the ground, breaking his right leg above the ankle, lacerating the cap of the knee of the same limb and severely injuring him-self in the groin. He was carried to the St. Clair house, and Drs. Zeigler and Keiffer attended him. On Thursday afternoon of last week says the Shippensburg Chronicle as Mr. James Hurly was passing through Middlespring, driving the team and wagon of Mr. J. Clark Stuart, he in attempting to draw the brakes of the wagon fell in front of the hind wheel which passed over both legs between the knee and ankle. The wagon was a three-inch tread and loaded with over three tons of coal. Strange to say Mr. Hurley was only temporarily stunned by the fall and not a bone of either of his legs was broken. Dr. James B. Marshall, of Shippensburg, attended him and rendered such surgical assist-ance as was necessary. How Mr. H., managed to make his escape from a broken leg is what every one wonders who hears of the accident. On Thursday afternoon of last week and a quarter of town, at the buildings of the Yoder farm, they got among the tools in an out-house, and rummaged the contents of the building thoroughly. At the last place mentioned, it is believ-ed, they re-arranged the load in the wagon, for where it stood, they left a number of light cakes and a jug of molaases that they had stolen from the Adams cellar.—Scatinel. Adams cellar.-Sentinel.

Mr. Geo. A. Anderson, of Fermanagh township, lost his cow some time ago, and as he had but recently bought her, supposed she had only strayed away; but in hunting for her, found that she had got into a bog along the ridge, and had died there. It is a great loss to Mr. Anderson, who is a poor man, and had no use yet of the cow.

Eleventh Annual S. S. Convention.

The eleventh annual Sunday School conven-tion of Perry county was held at Blain on the 27th and 28th of May, 1879. There was a large attendance at all the sessions of the convention. The convention was called to order at 1015 A. M. by President Linderman. De-votional exercises, hymn, "All hall the power at 1015 A. M. by President Linderman. De-votional exercises, hymn, "All hall the power of Jesus name," prayer by the Rev. J. W. Cleaver. On motion, a committee on organi-zation, consisting of Rev. Cleaver, W. W. McClure, E. A. Flickinger, Milton Gibson and J. E. Ballor were appointed. Rev. M. C. Piper, of Blain, delivered the address of wel-come, to which Rev. Davenport, of Laudis-burg, responded. r The following statistics are appended to the proceedings:

A few days since as Mr. Brown and Mr. Hopple in Fishing Creek valley, were chopping down a tree, the ax used by the former came off and struck Mr. Hopple, inflicting a severe eut in the leg.

On Saturday last, Richard Thomas, while working in the ore bank in Cen-tre township, had one finger on his right hand split open, by getting it between the end of a pick handle and a post as he struck a blow.

O On Saturday night a week, during the absence of Lewis Mitchell from his home in Greenwood twp., two men entered his residence and robbed it of what money they could find, and badly fright-ening Mrs. Mitchell who was in bed indisposed.

Some unknown scoundrels went to Mr. John Read's stable in Huntingdon, on Saturday night and hitched up his horse and buggy and indulged in a ride. After driving the horse almost to death, the property was returned to the stable the same night.

We acknowledge the receipt of the Colorado Guide Book which is the finest book of the kind we have seen. Parties can get a copy by sending two three cent stamps to R. J. Shapely, Market Street, Harrisburg, Pa. The book con-tains several hundred illustrations of prominent places on the route west.

A few days since a lad in Carroll twp, was playing with a gun by pointing it at his grandmother and snapping it. After several snaps he got the gun at half cock and could not get it down when he handed it to his father asking him to fix it. His father took it for that purpose when the hammer slipped and the gun was discharged, fortunately the load passed over the old lady's head into the celling.

Accident from Reckless Driving. - On Tuesday last as Mr. Henry Meyers was driving down to Newport in a spring wagon, he was startled by "Butcher" Jones coming behind him at a rapid rate, and in another moment his hind wheel was struck by the wheel of Jones' wagon. The collision upset Mr. Meyers' vehicle, throwing him and his son who was with him out. His horse was badly frightened and started to run, pursued by the boy, as Mr. M. was partly stunned by the fall. After running some distance the horse was stopped by running against a tree. Fortunately no serious injury was caused to any person, but the wagon was badly broken. Jones drove on to Newport after the accident, in the same reckless manner.

O More Jail Birds. - On Sunday night aweek a party of tramps, consisting of two men and one woman, stole a spring wagon from Wesley Hays, in Penn twp., and then loaded the wagon with carpet, books, &c., which they stole from Pennel's Church, in Wheatfield twp. The party were followed as far as Lewistown, where they were arrested and brought back to Newport. After an interview with Esquire Zinn, they were brought to this place and placed in the custody of Sheriff Gray. The horse is supposed to be stolen property, and the animal re-mains in the care of the Mifflin county officers awaiting an owner. The morals of the country must soon improve, or the size of the jail will have to be increased, as it is loaded to its full capacity now.
