Balloon Found .- On the 24th of May, 1879, Mr. Jacob Billow, of Carroll twp., this county, found a balloon in his corn field, having on it the name of LINA PERKINS, Northumberland, Pa., stating that it had been put up by her there. He does not send us the date upon which it was started, however.

Rail-Road Meeting .- On Saturday evening a meeting was held in the Court House to consider the project of building a railroad from this place to Duneannon. The attendance was large and the feeling was enthusiastic in favor of building the road. Articles of association were signed by enough persons to warrant the formation of a corporation. The subscribers to the articles of association will meet again next Saturday evening at 8 o'clock for the purpose of electing the officers of the company, and in the meantime all who would like to sign the articles and participate in the election of officers can have an opportunity of so doing by calling at the office of Mr. Sponsler. All persons interested in this enterprise are urged to be present at the meeting on Saturday eve-

Terrible Hall Storm. - On Thursday evening at about seven o'clock a terrible hall storm swept over this place. The hall was accompanied by floods of rain and great wind, and for about ten minutes, the scene was terrific. Many of the hall stones were the size of hulled walnuts and we measured some that were over four inches in circumference.— Probably five hundred lights of glass were broken in this place, among them were two of the stained glass windows in the Presbyterian church.

A cherry tree in front of Mr. Powell's house was blown down, and a large limb was broken off an apple tree on the Spotts property, falling across the sidewalk and knocking off some of the tence pales. In some places in town chickens were killed by the hall stones. It was the most severe storm we ever saw in this part of the country.

The course of the storm was from West to East. West of this place it was worse than at this point. At Ickesburg and in Saville twp., the hall was more plenty, and from reports, in larger chunks. But few houses there with windows facing westward escaped from damage, some persons losing from 70 to so lights of glass. Several persons who were caught out with teams had narrow escapes; the ball, together with the sharp lightning and heavy thunder rendering the animals nearly wild with terror. Harry McCoy with his candy wagon was caught four miles west of Ickesburg, and in spite of all his exertions his horse ran nearly two miles before he got him stopped, and then it was only done by the horse butting his head against a post in a covered bridge, which so nearly stunned the animal, that McCoy was again able to control him. The wagon was some broken, and the hall cut the top full of holes.

Orchards, gardens and the grain in the line of the storm were badly damaged. The breadth of the territory which the storm covered, seems to be only about a mile wide, as a short distance north and south of here there was little or no hail. In Madison township the storm was more severe than in Saville, but there was little or no hail. The wind however tore up trees, and did great damage. So many such obstructions were in the way that the main road down the valley was not passable, and vehicles had to come down by the way of the Sandy Hill road.

Eichols, at Losh's Run, on the same night. They aroused him after he had gone to bed, telling him that they had upset a wagon down the bank and wanted help. Mr. E. was suspicious, but would not see a man in trouble without aiding him. So taking a lantern and revolver, he locked his dog in the store and went with them. He found the wagon, down a bank, but it had evidently been put down on purpose. They undoubtedly had intended to commit some depredation on the store, or to do some other mischief, but perhaps seeing Mr. E. so well prepared for them thought it not advisable to try

Team Sunk. - On Saturday last Mr. Samuel Bair, a farmer in Buck's Valley, proceeded to Montgomery's Ferry for a load of sand, having to cross a channel of water three or four rods wide to a little island, where the sand was. Having loaded his wagon with the article desired, and in attempting to drive out, the sand shore being deep and marshy, his wagon sunk in over the hubs of the wheels, and the horses went in up to their sides. With great difficulty the wagon was pried out, the wagon-bed having to be removed. The horses rolled around in the sand and mud, and worked themselves out, escaped with the breaking of some chains, &c. Mr. Bair thus went home without sand, deciding that he would get it at the Juniata river.-News.

A Bold and Successful Robbery .- The office of Deputy Collector Gilbert, of Johnstown, was entered by two masked burglars about six o'clock Tuesday morning, who seized Mr. Gilbert while he was sitting at his desk writing, threw him on the floor, bound and gagged him securely and then took a pocket book containing between $1,700 and $1,-800 in money from the safe, which was standing open. The scoundrels then left, leaving Mr. G. still lying in a helpless state in which he remained an hour and a half before he was released, which was done by a gentleman having some business with him who called at his office. It was a most daring burglary, The Tribune says some facts have been unearthed that may lead to the identifi-

Boodles and Counterfelters .- Ellas Butler, an old colored man who keeps a small store on South street east of the capital, left information at the mayor's office yesterday that a dealer in counterfelt money had approached him and had made him an offer of $100 in bogus money for $35 in good funds, stating that he would call around in the evening. Inquiry made by Chief Cilley developed the fact that one Lewis Parks, an operator between this city and Sunbury, was the man who approached Butler. The chief watched for Parks in the evening, but he came not, and therefore Officer Grimes lay in wait for him. Parks came at 10 p. m., and Officer Grimes, arrested him just as he was about to close the bargain with Butler. Two "boodle" envelopes were found in Parks' pockets (envelopes with only blank strips of paper the size of bank notes in them). At a hearing yesterday morning Parks was committed to prison to answer .- Harrisburg Patriot of 5th inst.

Another Speculator Beat. - The Mechanicsburg Independent Journal, speaking of the rush for four per cent. certifi-cates in that place, tells the sorrowful tale of another speculator scooped in as follows: Several parties were present from Harrisburg, for the purpose of Investing in the bonds, and had given to a large number of persons one hundred dollars and sixty-seven cents for that purpose, but the certificates being all sold privately, our visitors did not get any, and when they came to collect their money from their agents, lo! and behold there was $100 missing, and couldn't be found, notwithstanding they made diligent search for the same, so they went home wiser if not sadder men. During Friday and Saturday there was disposed of at that office $20,000 of these certificates, and yet the demand is still for more.

Cumberland County .- We copy the following from the Cumberland county papers of last week :

The lad Koser, of Frakford township, who was so severely injured in a runa-way accident in Carlisle on Tuesday of last week, died of his injuries at his home on Thursday.

Stewart Grabili, a well-known citizen of Shippensburg, died suddenly on Monday morning. He had been ill from Thursday only, and had been walking about the house the evening before his Henderson's wagonmaker and black-smithshop, near the basin was destroy-ed by fire on Wednesday night. It is supposed that the building was set on fire. There was no insurance, except on the tools of the wagonmaker, Mr. Tom-linson, who had a risk of $200. Total loss $500.

The following is the Republican ticket nominated last week:—Dr. A. Agnew Thompson was placed in nomination for sheriff by acclamation. For directors of the poor, Samuel Eberly, of Hampden, and George Walters of Southampton. Jury Commissioner, Ira D. Coover of Upper Allen. Coroner Maj. Jacob Rheem of Carlisle.

For a number of years, John A. Souders, of near Blosserville, was the possessor of a horse which was very cross. No one could approach him but Mr. S., and that often at the risk of his life.—This spring he became unmanagable and had to have him closely confined for some time past. On Wednesday last he had intended to have him shot and while in the act of sharpening a knife preparatory to skinning him a horse buyer dropped in and purchased him.—Newville Star.

On information made by John Mc-Bride, three cows belonging to Charles Meck, were on Monday last, taken up by Officer Sheafler and put in the pound. The cows were running at large contrary to a borough ordinance, and the impounding of them either incensed or troubled Mr. Meck so that he procured a dose of poison, with which to put an end to his existence, and after delivering a speech made up of spread eagle nonsense and blasphemy, declared he was "going to die for old John McBride, for arresting my cows, and here is what's going to do it." He swallowed the potion but an emetic administered by Dr. W. W. Dale, prevented a Meck funeral for the present.—Carlisle pound. The cows were running at large Meck funeral for the present .- Carlisle

Juniata County .- We copy the following from the Juniata county papers of

The barn of Mr. George W. Kough in Tuscarora township, was entirely destroyed by fire on Saturday afternoon of last week, together with nearly all his farming implements. The origin of the fire is involved in mystery. We did not learn the extent of Mr. Kough's loss, but we understand he had the barn insured for $200 insured for $200.

On Monday evening Henry Varner, son of John Varner, of Fayette twp., wishing to empty a gun for a clerk in McAllster's store, shot at a store box, but neglected to look beyond it, and the shot passing a short distance after going through the box, struck a little girl about seven years old in the forehead, and imbedded itself in the bone. Dr. O. H. McAllster extracted the ball and thinks she will recover. It was a child of Mr. John Shell, who lives just below the store.

Penn Township Letter.

DUNCANNON, June 4, 1879. On Sabbath the 1st inst., the Union Sunday School held an anniversary to obtain as complete an account of the opening and working of this institution in Allen's Cove as possibly could be done the books and record of the first ten years, being lost. Five of the persons who were pres-ent at the opening of school thirty-eight years ago were present with us on this occasion. The names of those are Messrs. R. C. Branyan, A. G. White, present superintendent: Joseph Osburn and Mrs. Margaret Branyan. These are all that are left of sixty-two, two of the original number. The day, or a part of it, was devoted to histories given from memory by these persons. They were interesting throughout, and the attention was good and the attendance large.

Mr. E. H. Branyan has built a little house ad-joining the porch of the old one, for cooking purposes during summer seasons

For cheapness-costing not over $40-and sim-For cheapness—costing not over $40—and simplicity, but for perfect convenience, the writer of this thinks that it equals, if not excels anything he ever saw for that purpose on a cheap scale.—The large bell can be tapped from the store almost by means of a cord and by a simple contrivance all the waste from the kitchen can be removed by lifting a trap-door and pouring into a vessel. Could not all have as good?

FOR THE BLOOMPIELD TIMES.

ICRESURG, Perry County, Pa.

Mn. EDITOR: Dear Sir—Allow me a little space in the columns of the TIMES to communicate to its readers a brief account of the destructive hall and rain storm that occurred recently in this

its readers a brief account of the destructive hall and rain storm that occurred recently in this valley.

The hall and rain storm that passed over this valley hast night about 7 o'clock, was the most destructive to the growing wheat, garden vegetables, fruit, etc. that has occurred in this section of the counts for a great many years. The storm-cloud which formed in the north-west and moved in the direction of south-east, discharged (in this locality) in connection with much rain a great quantity of hail, which resulted in the total destruction (almost) of the wheat crops, the fruit, etc., on the farms belonging to Henry Hall, Andrew Miller, Geo. Ickes. (Wm. Shuil, renter) and Wm. Rice of Bloomfield, (Jno. Souder, renter), as these farms happened to be in the track of the most effective part of the storm. Other farmers of this vicinity for a distance of about three miles westward from Ickesburg, sustained considerable damage to wheat, fruit, etc. The writer of this overheard Mr. Souder remark that he was of the opinion that he will not realize as much wheat from his crop of eighty-four acres as will pay the cost of reaping.

The dwelling houses within the storm belt had each from 30 to 75 panes of glass destroyed by the hail, which made them quite airy for the balance of the night.

Your correspondent did not measure any of the hall that fell in this vicinity, but he had reports each from 30 to 75 panes of glass destroyed by the hall, which made them quite airy for the balance of the night.

Your correspondent did not measure any of the hall that fell in this vicinity, but he had reports from different persons in this valley, variously estimating their size from one to two inches in diameter.

The horse attached to Smith's (of Duncannon) confectionary wagon on its way from Blain to Ickesburg, became frightened at the approaching storm, and ran away, the driver unable to restrain that he succeeded, after a race of about a mile, in bringing the horse to a stand still, with wheel boxes of his wagon in a smoking condition. He also said that the oileight everying of his wagon was considerably cut by the hall.

The storm overtook John Kendig's bark teams just as they were entering Ickesburg, the mules became frightened and unmanageable for the driver, but the fearless courage and presence of mind of Master John Kinert of Ickesburg, who rushed—bareheaded—out into the storm and drew the rubbers of the wagon, to which the first team was attached, then quickly turned and grasped them to one side of the storm had gone by, and quiet to the frightened animals had been restored and prevented what might have resulted in serious injury to man and beast.

I have not been able at this writing to learn the result of last night's storm, beyond this valley, but I would suppose from the appearance of the storm cloud, that it marked its course for a considerable distance in the direction of Bloomfield.

SUBSCRIBER.

NOTICE TO SCHOOL DIRECTORS.

Blank forms for the Annual District Report, Blank forms for the Annual District Report, and Affldavit and Certificate have been sent to each Secretary in the county. These should be properly filled up and signed, that they may be forwarded to me immediately after the new board is organized. The State appropriation is paid to districts in the order in which these reports are received. Delay in forwarding the reports last spring was the cause of many districts not receiving the appropriation until this spring.

Perry county is the only one in the State in which all the districts have received last year's appropriations. Notice the "Directions" and "Special Directions" carefully in preparing reports. Last spring four-fifths of them were incorrectly prepared. Do not place figures, &c., on the dot-ted lines, but in the proper columns. The ac-count should balance as in the example given with explanations.
