

The Sad End of a Wedding Trip.

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 21.—Another sad catastrophe occurred at Niagara Falls this morning, which resulted in the going over the falls of Mrs. A. Rowland. Mr. and Mrs. Rowland arrived at the Falls on the 18th inst., from the west. They registered at the Falls Hotel from 34 Rue Magnan, Paris, France. They had visited the various points of interest at the Falls several times, and seemed to enjoy themselves very much. It was their intention to leave at noon to-day for New York. Tickets by railroad had already been purchased: thence they had been intending to take the first steamer for France. After breakfast they went out for a last view of the Falls. They walked leisurely to Goat Island Bridge, which they crossed, taking the right hand road on the opposite side, which led them to Luna Island. They stopped at the Cave of the Winds, but concluded after reaching there not to go through. They then went out on the point where Terrapin Tower used to stand, thence to the Three Sister Islands, which they reached about half-past nine o'clock. They crossed to the third island, went down the steps to the right, where they met two gentlemen coming up. Following the example of a boy whom she saw getting water, Mrs. Rowland asked her husband for a small silver cup, which she took, and, stepping to a place where the bank is little more than a foot above the water and where the rapids are exceedingly swift, she stooped to dip up the water and fell forward into the stream. Her husband was looking in another direction and was a few steps from her. When her shriek pierced his ear he turned and saw his wife whirled rapidly to destruction. He became frantic, and ran for the stream, but she was quickly out of sight. Mr. Rowland, who is a manufacturer of firearms in Paris, was married to the lady who has met such a tragic fate about two years ago, and after visiting the Paris Exhibition, started, in October last, for a pleasure trip around the world. Going through the Suez Canal, India, China and Japan, they crossed the Pacific Ocean to San Francisco, visited Chicago, and, as mentioned above, reached the Falls on the 18th. He will remain here for a time, if possible to recover her body.

A Rotten Boiler.

ALLENTOWN, Pa., June 21.—A terrific explosion occurred at half-past five this morning at the ore mines on the land belonging to Stephens & Imoyer, two miles from Etna, Pa. The boiler burst with terrific force, killing five men outright and seriously wounding four others, one of whom has since died. The list of killed is as follows: Frank Fegley, the contractor; Morris Schmoeyer, John Schmidt, Frederick Ettinger, Charles Derr, aged ten, a driver at the mine; Benjamin Keck, the engineer, and Wilson Derr, aged twelve (a brother of Charles Derr.) All the bodies were terribly mangled. The injured are Wm. Hull, Frank Heimback, and Daniel Hess, seriously. Great excitement prevails about the mine, which is operated by the Lehigh Iron Company. The washery and engine house were completely demolished, the force of the explosion being sufficient to project a portion of the boiler, weighing over a ton, a distance of one hundred yards. Benjamin Keck, the engineer, who died at 1 P. M., left a statement, in which he avers that he notified the contractor, Fegley, three months ago, that the boiler was unsafe. Wilson Derr, the seventh victim of the explosion at East Texas, died this afternoon.

It is stated that Keck, the engineer, was drunk yesterday, and the accident is attributed to his letting the water in the boiler run too low.

G. J. Henninger, an engineer at Etna, in a letter in the Sunday edition of the "Daily Times," calls attention to the fact that the boiler belonging to this company, which exploded with such fatal effect about two years ago, killing several people and maiming others, is the same one that did the deadly work on Saturday. It had been patched up and used since, notwithstanding repeated warnings that it was not safe.

The Murderer of Mrs. Hull Arrested.

NEW YORK, June 23.—The police search for the murderer of Mrs. Hull seems to have been successful at last. Police Inspector Murray received a dispatch tonight from S. J. Adams, chief of police at Boston, saying that he has "the negro;" that the watch and ring, which were two of the most costly of the missing jewels, were found in his possession, and that the negro confesses the crime. His name is Chastine Cox, and he worked at a house directly opposite Mrs. Hull's, thus gaining knowledge of her habits, her money, and jewelry, etc. The news is not yet known throughout the city, but will inevitably cause some excitement to-morrow, because of the wanton way in which suspicion has been turned by the police and some newspapers on Mrs. Hull's aged and feeble husband.

John Haberton, 10 years old, of Marietta, O., while fishing from the apex of Muskingum dam, fell into the river, and his fish-line winding about his limbs, was drowned before help could reach him.

STRAWBRIDGE & CLOTHIER

PLAIN INVITE ATTENTION TO THE FOLLOWING STATEMENT OF FACTS.

A FEW PLAIN WORDS TO ALL BUYERS OF DRY GOODS. WE DEAL IN DRY GOODS EXCLUSIVELY.

The results of a lifetime experience in this special line of business; the concentration of all our time and personal attention upon it; the facilities afforded by ample capital invested in DRY GOODS ALONE; a thorough knowledge of all markets, European and American; constant personal supervision of every detail of the business—all these advantages combined enable us to constantly unfold opportunities to our patrons which can scarcely be found elsewhere. Other houses may lead in other special lines of business, or even attempt to do a little in all branches of merchandise; we prefer to DO ONE THING WELL, and

TO LEAD IN THE DRY GOODS BUSINESS.

Owning the largest retail stock of Dry Goods in Philadelphia (having six floors of our large building packed with goods) all purchased EXCLUSIVELY FOR CASH in the best markets of the world, we submit that we are in a position to offer unequalled inducements to all buyers of Dry Goods. In addition, our store, built by ourselves, for our own business, is conceded to be the most conveniently appointed and the best lighted business establishment in the United States. To be able to examine goods under a perfect light is no small advantage to every prudent buyer. Consumers everywhere within reach of Philadelphia cannot fail to see the advantage of obtaining their supplies where not only the heaviest Dry Goods stock is carried, but where the largest business admits of the smallest profits.
