See advertisement of Sheriff's sale on eighth page. Also, Executor's sale of Real Estate.

A party of young men from Newville, we learn are camping out at Gibson's Rock.

Harris, son of Mr. Wm. Rice, preached very acceptably to a large and attentive audience in the M. E. church in this borough on Sunday evening last.

David Mitchell, of Newport, received the contract for erecting the new fish-dam at Columbia, he being the lowest bidder. The price was $11,400.

The Dunkards will hold divine service in the German stone church on Saturday evening, the 9th day of August.—A cordial invitation is extended to all.

The members of the Mansville Sunday School, and others, will hold their annual picnic, on the land of David Swartz, near Mansville, on Saturday, August 9th. All are invited to attend.

Clayton McKenize and Wm. Eby, two typos, and former residents of this borough, are on a visit to their friends here. They are both employed on the Philadelphia Times.

A dark brown horse about five years old was stolen from the stable of Mr. J. D. Summers, near Shady Grove, Franklin county, on Tuesday night a week. The thief took with him a new bridle.

A large ham stolen from James B. Clark in this borough last week, was returned after a few days, and placed in an outbuilding, where the dogs found it, and destroyed a portion of it. The thief feared legal investigation.

John M. Smith, of Spring township, cut and shocked seventy-five acres of grain in four and three-fourth days with the assistance of one boy and five men and a Marsh No. 4, Reaper—Fast work, and who can beat it?

A horse driven by the Mansville mail carrier, got his foot fast a few days ago at the railroad crossing near Eshelman's mill at Newport, and was got out just in time to save the fast line the trouble of stopping.

The warm rain of Tuesday last and the shower of Thursday night was quite a relief to the parched vegetation, but it will take a long soaking rain to bring out the corn and even with such a rain, much of it is too far forward to be made more than half a crop.

Since the above was in type we have been visited with a very heavy rain, the fall exceeding 3 1/2 inches.

A Court Order.—It appears that the criminal cases for next term of Court are so numerous, that no civil cases will be tried, as will be seen by the following order:

In Common Pleas of Perry County: And now 22th July, 1879, it appearing that the Criminal list at the ensuing August Term will consume the week, it is ordered that the entire civil list be continued.

B. F. JUNKIN, P. J.

Sneak Thieves.—This town seems to be having a full benefit of mean sneak thieves just at present. During the past week the premises of Mr. Wm. A. Sponsler, Mr. Jas. Clark and Mr. Thos. Clark were visited, and a few days previous meat was stolen from Mr. Henry Rice, sen. That this stealing is done by some one posted in regard to the premises, is proven by the fact that the meat stolen from the house of Mr. Clark was concealed on the garret, where no one would hardly think of looking for such plunder. It is time to get shot guns loaded and be ready to give these pests a warm reception.

Caught at Last.—For some time past Amos Henderson has been wanted to answer to several charges, the last one of which was the robbery of a peddler wagon belonging to Mr. Harkinson.—He has managed to keep out of the way, however, till Wednesday last, when he was seen in Middleton twp., Cumberland county. An officer "went for" him and succeeded in lodging him in Carlisle jail. Word was sent here to that effect and Sheriff Gray went to Carlisle after him, and he now is in jail waiting his trial at the August term of Court. He will probably have a chance to go to Cherry Hill, where his sister now is, having been convicted at the April term of aiding in the above mentioned robbery.

The Cigar Found.—The Chambersburg Herald is responsible for the following: "A lady from town, while at the Hagerstown Lutheran picnic on Thursday at Mt. Alto Park, was on a swing with a gentleman, said gentleman had a lighted cigar in his mouth, but it fell out and was lost. After a little while the lady gave a scream—she had found the cigar. It had burned its way through her dress and let her know unmistakably where it was. It was put out."

Run Away.—On Wednesday evening a horse came running into town with some damaged harness hanging on him. The animal was secured and proved to belong to Mr. Will. Swartz, who had been thrown out of his sulky a little distance from the borough line. Will was not much hurt, but the sulky to which the animal had been harnessed was badly wrecked. How the accident happened the driver does not seem to know.

Attempted Rape.—On the evening of the 13th inst., as Miss Addie Shelly, a young lady residing with her grandfather in Watts township, was going to a neighbor's, about a mile distant, she was met by a young chap named Huggins, who attempted to commit an outrage upon her. Her screams brought Samuel Albright to her rescue, and Huggins took to the woods and so far has escaped arrest. The young lady was so badly scared that she was ill for several days.

A Case of Poisoning.—Cumberland county is likely to have another case in her criminal courts rivaling the celebrated Schoeppe case in its remarkable circumstances. An old lady, Mrs. Kiehl, of North Middlesex township, over seventy years of age died suddenly about three weeks ago. She made a will by which she left property, in value about $2,000, to one Squire Wyncoop, her business agent, having quarrelled with daughter. The old lady had lived alone for several years, having in her employ at the time of her death a young woman to wait upon her. Shortly before her decease a reconciliation took place between her and her daughter and she had expressed to several people her intention of changing her will. Her death was so sudden, and accompanied by such suspicious symptoms that her body was exhumed, a post-mortem examination held, and Dr. S. B. Nieffer declared before the inquest that the inflammation of the stomach and liver strongly indicated symptoms of arsenical poisoning. A strange fact is that at the time the post-mortem was held all the parts of the body except the stomach and liver had undergone decomposition. A chemist was employed to make an analysis of the contents of the stomach, and reported to the inquest that he had discovered large quantities of arsenic. The coroner's jury rendered a verdict that Mrs. Kiehl came to her death by poison administered by some person or persons unknown. A caveat was entered by the heirs-at-law to the probate of the will, on the ground of undue influence on the part of Wyncoop, but the register admitted the will to probate and granted letters testamentary to Wyncoop. The heirs of course will oppose. The case is now in the hands of the district attorney, who will use every effort to ferret out the guilty parties.—Patriot.

If we are not soon favored with a good, soaking rain our supply of water will be short. At present there is only about four feet of water in each reservoir and the water in the Conodoguinet creek is so low that it is with difficulty the pumps at the water works are kept in operation.—Carlisle "Volunteer."

On Thursday last Mr. Benj. Martin, of Hamilton township, went to Chambersburg and got a check cashed, having sold his wheat a few days before. On his way home he was stopped in the road by a highwayman, who presented a revolver and demanded the cash, which Mr. Martin handed over—amounting to $118. No trace of the footpad has been found.

On Wednesday last Mr. Geo. Thompson, who is employed at F. Gardner & Co's, machine works as "striker" in the blacksmith shop, received an injury which may result in the loss of one of his eyes. While engaged at his work he was struck in the eye by a "spawl" of red-hot iron, which injured it so severely that the attending physician is of the opinion that the sight is destroyed.

Benj. D. Kutz, a well known resident of Middlesex township, died very suddenly on Tuesday morning. He complained of a choking sensation early in the morning, but left his home and went to his farm which lies along the Leort Spring some distance below Carlisle, where he superintended some improvements to the buildings. While there he was seen to suddenly fall, and when the workmen picked him up he was dead. The doctors pronounced it heart disease.

Mr. Frank W., son of Dr. John A. Ahl, of Newville, a young man about twenty-three years of age, left his home on Monday morning last about eight o'clock, with the intention of going a fishing. Nothing more was seen or heard of him until about four o'clock p. m., when his brother Parker found his lifeless body lying in the Big Spring, near the Paper Mill. It is supposed that he had dug worms for bait, as the mattock was lying near, and then going to the edge of the stream for the purpose of washing his hands, and was taken with a spasm, being subject to something like epileptic fits, and fell into the water and was drowned.

David Moist, a farmer living near the river opposite Manayunk, fell dead from his chair in his own house on Tuesday evening, the 13th inst., without any warning to his family. The cause of death was probably apoplexy. He had never been sick a day in his life. His age was about 60 years.
