If the young lady who was seen pick-ing up the five dollar bill in front of the Newcomer House on Sunday morning will please return to the proprietor, she will be liberally rewarded for her trouble.

The Harvest Home picnic, held in Stambaugh's woods on last Saturday passed off very pleasantly. The Landisburg Cornet Band was in attendance and discoursed some delightful music.

Rev. P. Willard of the Loysville orphans home has an apple tree that has 160 apples on one small limb, the limb being about an inch in diameter, and the apples are crowded within a space of three feet. Who can beat it?

W. D. Robinson, the foreman of the railroad gang at Newport, says there is some mistake about the horse getting fast at the crossing below Newport, as that crossing is new and such an accident is not possible. It is possible that our informant made an error as to the location, but we hardly think he wilfully misstated the accident.

The present dog law of Pensylvania is hard on canines, and there is greater inducement than ever for them to be well-behaved. The owner of a dog in the habit of barking at horses or pass-ing vehicles is held to be liable for the damage done, while the owner of a vicious dog can be compelled to restrain him at his peril.

Joseph Moyer of Wild Cat Valley has had a fine barn built this season. The work was done by Wm. Boyer & Son, and was commenced April 28th, and completed the latter part of June. The same carpenters are also building a school house, about a mile from Rope Ferry, which is to be completed by the middle of August.

The D. & B. R. R.—The success of the Duncannon and Bloomfield Railroad seems now to be a fixed fact. The subscriptions are steadily increasing and the determination of the directors is to push the grading through this fall. The committee sent to consult with the P. R. R. officials were assured that if the road was made ready for the iron, that the iron and other equipments for a first-class road would be furnished by them. We sincerely hope that the property owners that will be benefitted by this enterprise who have not already subscribed, will no longer delay in placing their names on the books.

Were it not for the engagements occasioned by court week, the preliminaries required to put the company into working order, would no doubt be completed this week, as it is there will be but a few days more delay. The sooner the road is built, the sooner will the Iron that is in the hills in this vicinity be turned into cash, the sooner will employment be plentifully furnished to our working people, and the sooner will the public feel the benefit of increased business, caused by the circulation of more money in our midst.

Almost Drowned. - On Wednesday of last week a party of Newporters were fishing with a short seine in the little Juniata creek, below Montabella Furnace, and James Murphy, who joined the party at the creek, being unable to help himself out, got into deep water and sank twice, but was caught hold of by a muscular companion on this oceasion and pulled into safety ere he had made the third and farewell dive .-

July Weather Report. - B. McIntire, Esq., hands us the following report of the weather for the month of July, 1879: Average of Thermometer at 8 o'clock A. M. 739, and of the Barometer 30 inches minus 6-tenths. Average of the greatest heat 780 43', and of the cold 600 10'. There fell 6 inches and 3-tenths of rain. Friday the 4th was the warmest day, the mercury running up to 980, and Tuesday the 1st the coldest, the Thermometer sinking to 50°. On Friday the 25th there was the largest rain that there has been in same period of time, for 15

Foot Cut. - On Wednesday afternoon an accident occurred at Cook's saw mill, by which a son of Capt. H. S. Dimm had his foot badly injured. The Captain attends to the sawing of shingles and his son gathers the shingles from the saw. On this occasion, a shingle fell under the saw and the lad attempted to get it with his foot; but instead of getting the shingle the saw caught his foot, and in an instant the lad's foot was cut on the under side almost to the heel and in to the bone. One of his toes was saw ed off, with the exception of a small piece of skin which held it, and another toe was so badly injured that amputation was necessary. Dr. Stites, the attending physician, says that from the nature of the wound, it will take a long time to heal; but, if care is taken, the boy will not be lamed.-Ledger.

A Singular Case. - The Harrisburg " Patriot" says : A most singular case of paralysis occurred in Middletown, this county. It seems Miss Ellenata Diehl went to Hummelstown on a visit last October where she remained for one week. Upon returning to her home in Middletown where her parents reside she, the day after her return while sitting in a rocking-chair, at once began to swell at the hips to such an extent as to fasten her in the chair. She did not feel that she touched the chair even, but it seems that she did not feel because she was paralyzed-in the lower half of her body. Her friends after taking her out of the chair laid her on the bed and she immediately took a position of lying on her stomach. She laid in this position for three months. It was found on examining her that there were two large spots, one on each hip about the size of a man's hand, one on her back and one on her ankle, where the flesh was perfeetly black and dead. These were poulticed to make them soft, and then cut out, all except one; this was in the back and it remained hard. Her brother, Mr. Samuel Diehl, an intelligent laboring man, poulticed it for a couple of days, until it became soft like the rest and then without the assistance of the doctor cut it out himself. In doing so he said he could see her spine exposed for a space of several inches. The young girl is now sitting up and seems to be happy and contented. What is remarkable about this case is that there was nothing that she knew of to produce this condition of her system, and that during her confinement in bed and since she has been as hearty as she could be, and able to eat, in the language of her father, "like a wood chopper."-She seemed, through the whole of her confinement, to be gay and happy, as may be evidenced by the fact that while the doctor was cutting the dead flesh out of her he accidentally cut a blood vessel, and the blood spurted out in quite a stream across the room. The doctor was afraid she would faint, but she only laughed heartly and seemed to think it was amusing.

The doctor in attendance was Doctor Behm, of Middletown. Every person, as well as the doctor, was completely bothered by her case - never having seen or heard of anything of the kind before. The young lady is eighteen years old, is quite intelligent and bright. Dozens of people have been to see heras many as nineteen in a day - on account of her singular case.

Duncannon Items .- The Factory has suspended operations a few weeks to repair the bollers.

A cow belonging to Cornelius Baskins was killed on the railroad at the upper end of town on Thursday last.

Two heifers belonging to General Langhorn Wister were poisoned the other day by eating Paris Green. One died in two and the other in three days after eating the poison.

Mr. Joseph Smith at the Juniata Bridge had a lot of provisions stolen from his cellar on Monday night.

A young son of Eleazer Elliot while pushing a small car with a lot of other boys at the rolling mill on Sunday last and was run over by the car, receiving a cut on the arm and bruised some about the body .- Record.

Fatal Accident. - The Chambersburg "Spirit" says an accident which unfortunately had a fatal result occurred on the farm occupied by Mr. Baker, near Frederick's mill, a mile west of Marion, on Saturday last. A wagon shed was being moved and a number of neighbors were present and assisting-among them John Crist, who lives near Guitner's school-house. In taking down the frame of the shed, one of the upper timbers fell on Mr. Crist, throwing him down and striking him across the upper portion of his abdomen. He was rescused immediately and sat up and said he was not much hurt, but it was soon perceived that he was seriously injured and they carried him into Mr. Baker's and put him to bed. This was about 6 P. M., on Saturday. A physician was sent for, but he did not arrive till Sunday morning. His services did not avail to save the unfortunate man, who died about ten o'clock on Sunday night.

Juniata County .- We copy the following from the Juniata county papers of

The Trustees of the Lutheran congre-Tuesday, and resolved to repair the church building. Joseph Brindle was authorized to report a plan with specifications, on Saturday a week, at a cost not to exceed two thousand dollars.

Last Sabbath morning, about the time of the close of the morning service in the Lutheran church, Mr. Hinkle, Jr., of this place, fell to the floor in an un-conscious state. He was carried into the vestibule, where he soon regained his consciousness.

One night last week Mr. John Philips, of Bealetown, lost a valuable horse. The animal had been in the habit of scaring at the lightning, and during the night a heavy shower of rain fell accompanied by thunder- and lightning, and it is supposed the horse became frightened and jumped over a fence and fell down a steep embankment into the creek, and in falling broke his neck.

Simon P. Leyder and David Kauff-man, citizens of Mifflin county, were re-turning in a buggy, from a visit to turning in a buggy, from a visit to friends in this county, one day last week. At Stroud's Mills, in the former county, the horse frightened, wheeled in the road suddenly, upset the buggy, and threw both men out. Kauffman, who was unhurt; caught the frightened animal. Leyder was severely bruised. One wheel of the buggy was broken, and the top of the buggy was damaged.

Cumberland County .- We copy the following from the Cumberland papers of last week :

While Ed. Crane was sprouting the other week he heard a noise in the leaves behind him, and on looking up he saw an enormous blacksnake poised for a spring. He jumped back and his snakeship alighted at his feet. He was much frightened, but managed to kill it. It measured about five feet.

On Thursday last, Mr. Robert Penderrass, an inmate at the County Poor House, whilst at work, made a misstep, and injured his right leg badly. Steward Pollinger, not wishing to put any additional cost on the county, and knowing that Mr. Ege was a good mechanic, had had him examine the limb. He found it broken between the ankle and knee. He immediately got to work and reduced the fracture, and Robert is getting along quite comfortably.

A young man named Sherick, at present stopping near Plainfield at-tempted to shoot a bird with a shot gun. He claimed to have hit it and knocked some feathers off, but a comrade named Eberts, contended that he had not, and that he could not hit him if he fired at that he could not hit him if he fired at him at a fair distance. The distance was agreed upon, and Eberts placed himself in position as target. Sherick simed, and fired, but came so near it that Eberts heard the shot whizzing by him. This is queer kind of amusement, but boys are up to all sorts of sport now-adays and must be indulged.

On Saturday afternoon last about two o'clock, says the Echo Mr. A. Mansfield, superintendent of the Mt. Holly paper company, met with accident miraculous in its results. particulars of which are about as follows: He was on his way to the brick paper mill and while in the act of crossing the bridge which spans the creek, a short distance west of the mill, the horse he was driving frightened at some new plank which had recently been put down, and commenced backing. The wagon was brought against the side railing of the bridge with such force as to cause it to give way and all were precipitated to the water beneath, a distance of about fifteen feet. The noise of the accident soon brought a number of persons to the scene and Mr. Mansfield was taken from the water, which was about four or five feet deep, and, strange to say, was not injured in the least. The horse fell upon its back and was considerably used up. The only damage done to the wagon was the breaking of one of the iron stays which support the top.

Picnic.-The O. U. A. M. of Perry county will hold their Pienie in T. M. Dromgold's grove near his Tannery on the Duncannon road in Carroll twp., on Saturday Aug., 16th. Able speakers will be in attendance, come all.

Ballou's Magazine for August.

This popular magazine promptly made its appearance on the day of publication, and is just as good and just as interesting as the most devoted lover of literature could desire. There are some remarkable things in this number, and among them we find a splendid illustrated article on artesian wells, a thrilling sea-story, an adventure that is well worth reading, some remarkably good poetry, several domestic tales, choice engravings on many subjects, and other things too numerous to mention. Here is the things too numerous to mention. Here is the list of contents: "Artesian Wells;" "The House-Fly;" "Suabla and its People;" "The Mirage;" "A Life Lost and a Life Won;" "A Quiet Nook;" "Sweet Marjory;" "Grand's Prayer;" "The Haunted Chamber," and lots of other good acticles.

Prayer; The Haunted Chamber, and lots of other good articles.

Kansas Letter.

BELLE SPRINGS, Kansas, July 28, 1879. Ms. Eprros: Thinking a few items would be interesting to your many readers relative to this western country, will notice some in this vicin-ter.

Interesting to your many readers relative to this western country, will notice some in this vicinity. The clicking of the harvesters are no more heard. Wheat is a failure here this season, it will hardly average eight bushels per acre. Late frosts and the Chinch bug is the cause of the failure. These bugs came very early in the Spring, but they did not appear to hurt the wheat much until it was about heading out, by this time their number increased very much and they went through wheat fields killing all the wheat as they went, late spring wheat was destroyed the most, a number of acres were not harvested at all. Headers were in demand this season as the straw was very short. We have the promise of a great yield of corn, the corn is already made. I have no doubt but there will be four bushels of corn this season to one of last season, the weather was very favorable for corn the past four weeks.

Another cyclone is reported to have passed over Brookville, Saline county, on last Friday the 25th inst. We have had these destructive storms all around us this summer, but this section of country escaped them tous far though we had some heavy winds but doing no harm. I would like to say more but I must conclude for the present.

EDITOR TIMES: Saturday the 2nd day of August 1879 will long be remembered by many who attended the grand picnic in Stambaugh's woods near Green Park. Before eight o'clock the crowd began to assemble, pedestrians after pedestrians, and vehicle after vehicle continued to come in from all directions, until by two o'clock the number of persons present exceeded one thousand in number. Nearly half a score of bucksters had stationed themselves in the most prominent places on the selves in the most prominent places on the ground to supply the demands of the hungry

About noon the aunouncement was made through a number of bills posted up in conspicuous places that the Landisburg Cornet Band would be addressed at two o'clock P.M. When the appointed time arrived the Band marched to the place designated for the audience to assemble, at the same time discoursing some avecilent manie. After the audience to assemble, at the same time discoursing some excellent music. After the playing of the band for a short time, Mr. S. P. Stambaugh formerly a student of Millersville Normal School introduced Prof. G. W. Gehr, who then delivered a very able, appropriate and eloquent address. Although Prof. Gehr never had much practice in public speaking, it is conceded by all who ever heard him, that he has more than an ordinary talent as an orator. Taking all things into consideration the picule passed off very pleasantly.

FOR THE BLOOMFIELD TIMES. The Sandy Hill Festival.

Mn. Entron: Saturday July 26th, the day appointed for this festival, dawned with a lowering sky and with a continuation of the showers of Friday necessitating the postponing of the festivities until Monday or the "first fair day" that "old Probs.," in his goodness of heart should grantus. That many were disappointed it is needless to moniton, we have all telt the same under similar circumstances. But why should we find fault with the weather? The rain was needed and the growing crops were suffering greatly for the want of it, and instead of idiy coin-plaining, we ought always, under such circumstances, accept thankfully the gifts "the Gods grants us."

On Monday morning, notwithstanding the threatening appearance of the heavens, and the depression necessarily produced by one disappointment, the managers, with commendable real, went to wark early, and soon the beautiful grove presented an animated spectacle. The tents and booths erected the preceding week were soon filled with all kinds of edible food. Visitors in holiday garb began to come in, and cre long the heart of the "watermillion" man and of the generalissim of the toe cream department, began to swell with admiration for the wonderful appetites of their customers. I must not forget the pear nut stand; crack, crack; on all sides; Who can calculate the amount of motive power necessary to move those powerful maxiliarys whose every upward motion foretoid death to some single or double jointed pear nut.

We are happy to say that all those objectionable features usually found at festivals were "complications by their absence." The transactions were, in every respect, legitimate; an innovation that cannot be too soon adopted by those who conduct festivals.

During the forenoon Rev. M. C. Piper, the moving spirit of the enterprise, stated that the object of the featival was to help pay the debt resting on the M. E. parsonage in Biain. His remarks were clear-cut and foreible, and exactly whited the day and occasion.

In order to give variety to the exercises, some music-loving spirits, under the direction of Mr. S. W. Bixler sang, with organ accompaniment, quite a number of choice pieces.

The dinner I will not attempt to describe; sufficient to say its appearance was a credit to the liberality of the community that provided it.—Many of the choicest cakes and best dishes were furnished by persons out-side of the M. E. church, and thanks are due them and cheerfully given for their offerings.

Your reporter has little more to say, the festival committee had provided food and drink which they wished to dispose of, the people came, saw, bought and devoured. Everything was soid at a reasonable price; the customers were well treated; the arrangements were complete, and we are confident all persons who were present, and the moselves credit. The new band was present and did themselves cr
