PENNSYLVANIA R. R.—MIDDLE DIVISION.

On and after May 15th. Trains run as follows:

Table with columns for WESTWARD and EASTWARD, listing train routes and stations such as Philadelphia, Harrisburg, and York.

Philadelphia Express leaves Harrisburg at 10:10 p.m. Duncannon 10:44 (Chas.) Newport 11:09 (Chas.) and arrives at Pittsburgh 11:50 A. M.

York Express West will stop at Duncannon at 10:40 and at Newport at 9:14 A. M., when desired.

York Express West, the Way Passenger leaves Harrisburg Daily—the other trains Daily except Sunday.

Brief Items.

The Germania boys of Newport, had their picture taken by artist Cobble, on last Thursday, in full uniform.

Mr. James Humes, the poet of Sandy Hill, dropped in to see us Saturday morning. We are pleased to see him looking so well.

Ed. N. Lupfer and Cal. Bernheisel, two printers who graduated from this town, are now in the grocery business in Springfield, O. They report business good.

The Loyalsville Union Sunday School will hold a basket picnic near that place on Saturday the 6th inst. All are cordially invited. By order Committee.

Campmeeting made Bruner's woods look lively on Sunday. Probably 1,500 people were on the ground. Parties were present from Millertown, Newport, Duncannon, and even from as far as Marysville.

The Duncannon Record says: On Saturday last a child of Michael Smith, living near this place while walking down stairs with a lot of clothes pins fell and run one of the pins in her eye forcing it out.

We have just received from J. G. RANDALL, 1113 Chestnut St., Philadelphia, the September "Metropolitan" Fashion Paper. Any of our lady readers can secure a copy gratis by sending her address to Mr. Randall as above.

Last Friday as a party of young men of this place were going out to Bruner's Campmeeting Ground, at which place a meeting is now in progress, they killed a large copperhead snake which was lying in the road.

A Campmeeting under the auspices of the United Brethren Church began at Bruner's Camp-ground last Friday evening, and will continue till next Thursday night. There are twenty-one tents pitched, and good order prevails.

The Greenbackers of Juniata county met in convention on Monday and nominated for sheriff, W. B. McCahan; S. W. Allen for recorder; Nelson Night for jury commissioner, and Daniel A. Notistine for coroner.

The picnic which was to be held at Laurel Grove, August 16th, has been postponed until Sept. 13th, when all persons are invited to attend at one o'clock. Those wishing to enjoy themselves in a grand hop are invited to attend. By order of the Committee.

Buck's and Union Sunday Schools of Bucks Valley, Buffalo township, will hold a basket picnic in James M. Finton's grove on Saturday the 6th of September. There will be good music, and a number of speakers will be present. All are invited.

By order Committee.

A novel plan for evading the payment of excessive bridge tolls as practiced by York county farmers attending Columbia markets is, when driving double, to unhitch one of the horses, leaving him in York county. To a stranger these single teams on the streets with a double team pole looks odd.

SAMUEL ROATH, P. M.

A Singular Freak.—Mr. George Swartz, of Centre township, has a three year old heifer that has not had a calf and yet she gives milk. As an experiment they began trying to milk her, and the second day she gave two quarts, and continues to give a fair quantity, and is now milked as regularly as the other cows, giving about as much as any of them.

A Young Convict.—At Harrisburg, Samuel Harley, colored, aged 14, on trial for manslaughter in causing the death of Joseph Tennis, aged 10, at Highspire in June last, was found guilty and sentenced to three months imprisonment in the county jail. Tennis was thrown violently to the ground by Harley during a quarrel, and died in a few hours.

The D. & B. R. R.—Some of the opponents of the D. & B. railroad are jubilant over the report that the P. R. R. Co., have withdrawn their promise of assistance. These chaps should not get happy too soon, as that fact does not by any means kill the enterprise. It had life before the P. R. R. was applied to and has the same vitality yet. There is money in the world that is not controlled by that company, and those people who are now so happy, may learn before long that "there is a rod in pickle" for them, that they know not of. The committee from the P. R. R. reported that the loss of freight over the 14 miles of the main line would be great, and were fearful that the gain that would pass over the main line from the new road would not offset it. Even did this prove to be the case, it is only an argument to show that the proposed road would be a paying investment, as it would have to carry not only the amount of freight that now passes up the valley from the east, but nearly all the coal, besides the thousands of tons of iron ore that in case the road is built would be placed in market. There is no doubt but what the freight that is not carried now by any road would be very large, and when this quantity is added to the freight that the P. R. R. cannot afford to lose over the fourteen miles, between Newport and Duncannon, on its main line, what is there to prevent the new road from earning enough to pay the interest on $100,000, and its running expenses besides?

A Fish Story.—A citizen of Carroll township relates this remarkable fish story: He was fishing in a boat below Young's dam in Sherman's creek, when suddenly he felt something strike him between the shoulders. On looking around he beheld, to his great surprise, a large bass struggling in the bottom of the boat. There is nothing very remarkable about the bass jumping into the boat, but the weight of this one is remarkable, as he reports it weighing six pounds.

Terribly Early Starting.—We are informed that a young brother of the murderer, Samuel E. Albright, aged about thirteen years, one day last week, while playing with a quite young son of Mr. Fred Buck's, in the same section where the Albrights live, drew a pistol and fired one shot at the Buck boy, fortunately missing the little chap. It is also said that this thirteen-year old Albright boy carried, concealed in his clothes, a revolver or pistol all last winter, and that he took it with him to school daily, and made the remark that no teacher would whip him at school. This is vouched for by a very responsible party, and although frightful to contemplate must be believed until plainly proven to be incorrect.—News.

Horse Stolen and Recovered.—On Thursday night a horse was stolen from Wm. Sheaffer, residing on the Walnut Bottom road near this place, who put the matter in the hands of our police Friday. On Saturday a young man named Allen, whose parents reside in Loysville, Perry county, was arrested in this place by Chief Sheaffer, was committed for court and will be tried this week.

On Friday a Mr. Nipple, of Leckesburg, Perry county, purchased a horse from Allen that he thought was stolen, for a watch and a few dollars in money, Allen having represented that he had bought the horse in Carlisle for $10. Mr. Nipple on Saturday brought the horse to Carlisle, learning on the road that an animal answering its description had been stolen. He put up at the Thudium House, when he saw Allen. He went up street to find the owner of the horse, (the cards offering a reward giving merely the address Carlisle, Pa.) and while he was so engaged the arrest was made. Mr. Nipple purchased the horse, he says, knowing it to be stolen, but did so to save the owner loss, and his sincerity is shown by his bringing the horse to this place.—Carlisle Mirror.

Christy City.—The Van Buren, Mo., Times says: The above is the name given to a place that exists only in the mind of a low, unscrupulous and villainous scoundrel by the name of John Crist whose supposed place of residence is either in Dauphin or Perry County, Pennsylvania. The Clerk has received well executed plot for filing. The place is supposed to stand on the sw qr of sw qr of sec. 21 tp. 27 r. 1 e. This puts it out in the hills about two miles south east of Van Buren where a ground hog could not exist. This is the way the poor class of the East are swindled out of their hard earnings. They purchase what they suppose to be valuable property and spend their last cent to get here and find they have been deluded. Then it is they realize their condition—in a strange land among strangers and without a cent. This very often leads to a desperate act. Who is to blame? These hellish demons that have about as much feeling for their fellowman as they have for a dog. There ought to be some way to reach these thieves and when caught hung to the first tree in sight.

(The affidavit to the plot was taken before S. W. Fleming, Notary Public, Dauphin County.)

The Pictorial Bible Commentary by Ingram Cobbin is a new work prepared as a bible commentary for the use of families. It is so arranged that it is calculated to interest children, and thus induce them to search the scriptures. The work is handsomely illustrated and is sold at such a price that it is within the reach of every family. It is sold only by subscription, and the agent for this county, Mr. F. L. Oakes, will shortly call on you to give you a chance to subscribe for it, as you will be pretty sure to do after an examination.

Cumberland County.—We copy the following from the Cumberland papers of last week:

The lost boy of Cumberland county, Samuel Long, who is an idiot, and for whom a reward of $20 was offered, was found on Friday on Kauffman's farm, at Wild Cat, by a York policeman, who took him to his home.

Shortly before adjournment, Monday noon, the Court issued an order that hereafter all small boys must be excluded from the court room. This will have the effect of breaking up a practice which has been carried on too long.

Mack Hamilton, a copper colored negro about thirty years of age, was convicted of rape on a white girl not over eleven years of age. Judge Herman imposed the full penalty of the law, and sentenced Hamilton to fifteen years solitary confinement in the eastern penitentiary. The outrage was committed on the 21st of July on the farm of W. Carol Brewsteridge, six miles southwest of Carlisle. Hamilton resembles an Indian in appearance.

FOR THE TIMES.

NEW GERMANTOWN August 30, 1879.

MR. EDITOR.—After years of absence I have been permitted to visit the home of my boyhood and I must ask of your kind indulgence to grant me room in your "room to tell" what I don't know, about several things.

Upper Perry county seems to be improving in all that goes to make up a prosperous and moral community; and among the rest, the Methodist brethren are not behind, both in religious and material prosperity. Believing in the motto that charity begins at home, they have during this season erected a parsonage which, in architectural beauty and general neatness of appearance, is an ornament to the thriving village of Blain, in which it is located.

The success of the enterprise is largely due to the untiring labors of the pastor, Rev. M. C. Piper, assisted by the benevolent and open-handed liberality of the brethren and sisters under his care.

For the purpose of liquidating the debt contracted in the erection of their parsonage, they determined to hold a church festival on the 16th ult., but the weather proving unfavorable, the feast was postponed until Saturday the 23d. The delay was favorable to the cause, as the correspondent, as it enabled him to attend, to partake of the good things on hand, and to have his youth renewed and his heart gladdened by witnessing the enjoyment of all, both old and young.

The grounds selected—about midway between Blain and Germantown, are pleasantly located, and although they lack in not having a spring of good water, this inconvenience is more than balanced by the absence of temptation to indulge in any more stimulating but less innocent beverage. This may account for the more than creditable behavior upon and around the grounds, and the absence of all unbecoming or immoral conduct. Indeed I have never attended an outdoor meeting so free from every objectionable feature. The community may well be proud of the record made.

The dinner (furnished at the low price of twenty-five cents) reflects credit upon the culinary ability of the fair ladies by whom it was prepared. Were I not so convinced an old bachelor would be tempted to inflict a punishment upon some Methodist sister by marrying her, I would no doubt refuse me, but this is to inform all that I am still in the market as an old Bachelor with all the benefits and appurtenances thereto belonging.

In quality, the dinner was good, better, best, bonus, melior, optimus, etc., ad infinitum. In quantity it was out I must speak geographically to the "square meal" free, gratis, for nothing, into the bargain. All the preparations were on so bountiful a scale that these good people could say, "Come, and buy without money and without price."

To entertain me had an appropriate address by Rev. M. C. Piper; a lavish amount of choice music by Blain Cornet Band; plenty of excellent singing by an extemporized glee-club, and last, but not least, the successful and triumphant ascension of the balloon "Mastodon," which rose to the height of 1,500 feet and sailed majestically eastward to the distance of three miles. To the clever artists who constructed it, the thanks of the writer are hereby tendered for the pleasure afforded by their labor of love.

But I must not forget to mention that many contributions came from persons not connected with the church. I am authorized to tender to such the thanks of the members of the church with the hope that they will soon give them an opportunity to reciprocate.

This moment learn that the net proceeds of the entertainment, after deducting all expenses, reach the snug sum of $150 cash, and have already been appropriated to the purpose intended. One hundred dollars, plus improved health, plus liberality of heart, plus sociability, plus charity, minus selfishness, minus bigotry, minus envy, etc., sums up into increased religious ardor and purity of heart.

Lippincott's Magazine.

Lippincott's Magazine for September has three beautifully illustrated articles, all well suited to the season. The concluding paper on "Catekill and the Catekill Region" breathes the very spirit of that "land of mountain and valley." L. Lejeune gives a sprightly account of the fashionable French watering-place, Trouville; and Dr. Felix L. Oswald continues his entertaining Summerland Sketches. There are several stories in the number. "His New Birth" a graphic sketch of life and manners in Colorado; "My Husband's Hobbies," a satire on "Collectors;" "Mr. Carmichael's Conversion;" "Through Winding Ways" approaches completion, and the interest is well sustained in the present installment. The "Gossip" is full of bright and entertaining papers, including a discussion of "Picnics;" "The New Crusade" against the Jews; "Woman Suffrage in Wyoming Territory;" and "The American Colony in Paris."

Specimen Numbers mailed, postage paid, to any address, on receipt of 20 cents.
