

THE TIMES.

Local Department.

PENNSYLVANIA R. R.—MIDDLE DIVISION.

On and after May 12th, Trains run as follows:

Table with columns for WESTWARD and EASTWARD, listing train numbers, departure times, and arrival times for various stations like Philadelphia, Harrisburg, and New York.

Express leaves Harrisburg at 10.15 P.M. Duncannon at 11.00 A.M. New York at 11.00 A.M. and 11.00 P.M.

Brief Items.

There was quite an advance in wheat during the past week. Prices weakened during a little on Saturday.

The first heavy frosts of the season were seen here on Thursday and Friday nights. On Friday morning thin ice was seen in exposed places.

J. S. Graybill struck a snag in Newport on Tuesday last, and received severe injury. J. S. Graybill is a canal boat, commanded by Captain Miles.

The hog-pen belonging to Squire Vanfossen in Duncannon has been set on fire twice recently by a passing locomotive.

The wife of Rev. J. P. Shindle of Middleburg fell down stairs last week, by making a misstep, and dislocated one of her shoulders.

A Lutheran re-union was held in Cumberland county on the 17th inst., which gathered together about three thousand persons. It was an occasion much enjoyed by those present.

"Christy City" is supposed to be situated in Carter county, Mo. Persons wanting reliable information about it, can, by calling on us, see letters from parties residing in that county.

A little son of John Briner, of this place, while trying to climb on a heavy wagon driven by James F. Flynn, got his legs in the wheels, and made a narrow escape from serious injury.

Jacob Schwartzman, of Conemaugh borough, was sentenced at the recent term of the Cambria county court to eight months imprisonment in the county jail, for refusing to assist two officers in arresting a man.

The Iron City College, of Pittsburg, advertised in another column, is a first-class institution and the only one in the United States exclusively devoted to the practical education of young men for active business life.

Mr. George Helm showed us the skin of a large white squirrel last week, which he shot on Thursday in Madison township. It is something very unusual in this part of the county. The squirrel was nearly as large as an ordinary gray one.

"A READER" asks us to publish the letters we have received from the West regarding "Christy City," so that all can read them. We think our readers are already posted about that place, so it is not necessary to publish these letters, but if a READER or any other person wishes to read these letters they can do so by calling at our office.

On Friday Mr. David Clouser, of this place, received a serious cut on his right wrist while cutting off corn. He was carrying an armful along holding out his right arm. His grandson Morris was also trying his hand at cutting, and as Mr. C. passed him, he brought down his cutter just in time to inflict a severe gash as above stated. The loss of blood made Mr. Clouser rather faint and leaves him a severe wound.

A sad and fatal accident happened to a two year old boy of Mr. Z. T. Collier, of Marysville, on Saturday night last. The parents, going out for the evening, placed the child in bed with two other children until they returned. Coming home between 9 and 10 o'clock the child was found dead, its face buried in the feather bed and the leg of a sleeping brother holding it in that position. The bereaved parents have the sympathy of the community.

Tan Yard Stolen.—On Monday night some person carried off a portion of William C. Brown's tan yard at Liverpool. A lot of finished kip, some calfskins and other articles are among the missing property. Twenty-five dollars reward is offered for the recovery of the property.

Pretty Pictures.—For beautiful pictures we can safely say, that Geo. Stinson & Co., of Portland, Me., are the leading house. They probably publish more than any firm in the world, and the magnitude of their business can be judged when we state that they paid $50,000.00 in postage alone during last year. We have just received from them a lilly chromo, which is a perfect beauty, and for which we return our thanks.

An assortment of Domestic Paper patterns will be found for sale at the store of F. MORTIMER.

Arrested for Perjury.—Maria Hamaker has been arrested for perjury on information of "Keeny" Albright, for testimony she gave before the coroner in regard to her marriage to Miller. This course of the Albrights arouses much comment, and many seem to think it furnishes evidence to prove that Sam is still alive, and that they fear the girl will go to him, thus giving a clue to his whereabouts. Bail was given for Maria's appearance at court, Col. A. G. Cummings, of Harrisburg, being her bondman. If this case comes to trial, it will be watched with much interest.

Spring Township Schools.—The following are the teachers selected to teach the schools in Spring township:—

Table listing teachers and their salaries for Spring Township Schools, including names like D. R. Kane, A. K. Souder, and J. Cal. Shibley.

The above schools begin on the 20th of October.

The Carroll Township Schools were given out on Saturday aweek, with the liberal (?) salaries here stated:—

Table listing teachers and their salaries for Carroll Township Schools, including names like T. B. McCord, J. A. McCaskey, and I. M. Dice.

Schools to commence on the 27th of October. Surely the teachers were made feel that their services will be highly appreciated by the liberal salaries they are to receive.

Notice to Teachers.—A special examination will be held at Duncannon, Saturday, October 4th, commencing at 9 o'clock A. M. All applicants must bring requests signed by at least three members of the Board desiring to employ them, and give satisfactory reasons for not attending a regular examination.

Wholesale Killing.—A lot of dogs played sad havoc in a drove of sheep belonging to Mr. Peter Burkholder, of London, on Sunday night of last week. The sheep were pasturing in a field near the house and some time during the night thirty head were killed by the dogs. Mr. Burkholder thinks this is a little too heavy for one night and intends to put an end to some of London's best canines.—Franklin Repository.

Narrow Escape from Suffocation.—Early on Sunday morning the family of Mr. J. R. Bryan, No. 312 Herr Street, consisting of his wife, child and sister, made a very narrow escape from suffocation by coal gas in a cooking stove in the kitchen of the premises above noted. The family retired on Saturday night, closing up the stove as usual, and leaving the door of the kitchen and of the stairway open. About two o'clock Sunday morning Mr. Bryan heard a dull rapping, as he thought, at the front door. Getting up to ascertain, he felt very ill, but in going out of his bed room he heard his sister rapping again on the petition. He knew at once that the rooms were impregnated with gas, and going to his sister's aid found her much exhausted and nearly strangled. Fresh air was immediately let in and the gas escaped by the open windows, much to the relief of all in the house. Mr. Bryan's wife and her child suffered very much, and her sister remained quite ill for some time. Drs. Friese and Jacobs were called and administered the proper restoratives. The little child and Miss Bryan are still suffering from the inhalation of the poisonous gases. But for the timely waking up of Mr. B. the entire family might have been suffocated.—Patriot.

Alfred Potter's Story.—We stated last week that Alfred Potter had seen Samuel E. Albright at Muncy quarry on a recent date. As some doubted the story, he now makes oath to it, as follows:—

My age is twenty years. On or about the 2nd of September, 1879, I was at the Muncy Hills stone quarry, below Williamsport, Pa.; whilst I was there Samuel E. Albright came there, accompanied by a man and a boy [the affiant had gone to the quarry in search of work and had been there about fifteen minutes before Albright arrived]; the boy was about seventeen years of age. There was a young man with me, from Liverpool, by the name of Fry; "when I saw Albright coming towards the quarry I remarked to him, "There comes Albright." When Albright came to the quarry and recognized me he changed color and appeared very uneasy; he placed one hand in his pocket and kept it there all the time he was about the quarry. I talked with him for some time; our conversation was about that section of country and neighborhood. He stated that he was looking for a job. It was about dinner-time; the boarding-house bell rang for dinner; the quarry boss invited us to take dinner; Mr. Fry and I went into the boarding-house, but Albright and his comrades declined.—When we came out they had left. I was not acquainted with the men at the quarry. I was well acquainted with Albright; he and I were raised in Buffalo township, and until I was nearly ten years old resided within a mile and a half of each other in Buck's Valley, Buffalo township. My grandfather, Jacob Bair, and Capt. Samuel Albright, grandfather of Samuel E. Albright, resided on adjoining farms, and Benjamin Albright, father of Samuel E. Albright, resided on a farm adjoining the Captain Albright farm. One of my aunts is married to an uncle of Samuel E. Albright. Nearly all my relations on the father and mother's side now reside, or at least formerly resided, in Buck's Valley, Buffalo twp. When I was nearly ten years old my father moved into Hunter's Valley, about three miles from where Albright resided. I still saw him frequently, Hunter's Valley being in the same township. About four years ago my father, Levi Potter, moved into Liverpool twp., near Liverpool, Pa. I saw Albright frequently up to the time he was convicted for stealing Buck & Krumbler's meat and left the neighborhood.

When Albright came to the quarry he had on a new suit of dark clothes. I recognized him by his voice, his light mustache, his peculiar teeth, and his general appearance. The men in the quarry were at work some distance from us, and Albright stuck so close to me with his hand in his pocket I had no opportunity to inform them as to who he was. I told them who he was after he had left, but they treated the matter with indifference, and went to work.—Mr. Fry did not know Albright, but knows the fact that the men came to the quarry as I have above stated.

(Signed) ALFRED POTTER. The affidavit was made before Squire Tharp, of Liverpool.

Sabbath School Concert.—The Quarterly review of the Presbyterian S. S., of this place was held last Sabbath evening. One feature was the presentation of six bibles to six scholars who had recently recited the catechism each in full to the Pastor and at one sitting. The time generally assigned to such recitations is one half hour to each scholar, but the following is the record made on this occasion. Edw. C. Barnett, 27 minutes; Maggie H. Barnett, 20 minutes; Laura E. Bixler, 23 minutes; Alice R. Barnett, 18 minutes; Maggie E. Long, 21 minutes; Laura C. Witherly, 17 minutes.

The difference in time is not an indication of difference in thoroughness, for all recited with singular accuracy. It simply results from difference in rapidity of speech a point familiar to phonographic reporters. The bibles presented are those furnished by the New York fund to all who thus recite the Westminster Shorter Catechism.

Church Notices.

Presbyterian Church.—Preaching each Sunday at 11 A. M. and 7 P. M. Sunday School at 9 P. M. Prayer meeting Wednesday evening at 7 P. M.

The Lords' Supper will be administered in the Reformed Church next Sunday at 10 A. M. Preparatory services Saturday at 2 P. M. Preaching on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings.

Junata County.—We copy the following from the Junata county papers of last week.

Some time ago action was brought against the School Board of Millintown, before Squire London on charge of "engaging in promoting the sale of school books, and also interested in the furnishing of books, stationery and supplies.—Prosecutor, H. H. Wilson. Saturday, the 20th day of September, 1879, was set as the day upon which to have a hearing. At ten o'clock A. M. on said day the parties appeared before the Squire.—Lawyers and Stons for plaintiff, and Patterson and Atkinson for defendants.

Philo Pannebaker was called as the first witness, but before the testimony was taken, Patterson, one of the lawyers for the defendants arose and said the defendants waived a hearing; whereupon the witnesses were discharged, and both plaintiff and defendants put under bond, and the case carried up to the court for investigation and settlement.

Cumberland County.—We copy the following from the Cumberland papers of last week:

George Meals, a former tax collector of South Middleton, has been arrested and committed to jail, charged with misappropriating the money he collected as taxes.

Jacob Sites, of West Hill, was the owner of a hog which weighed about 200 pounds. A week or more ago this hog was feeding on some peach seeds and happened to get one into its windpipe, of which it died several days afterwards.

On Thursday evening a little child of Mr. John Downin, had a narrow escape from serious injury. While crossing Corporation street, a young man from the country drove along at a rapid speed, striking the child and knocking it down, inflicting a severe cut in the head and other injuries. Dr. S. H. Brethor, dressed the injuries.—Newville Enterprise.

Mr. Samuel Myers, of Hogestown, escaped a serious accident a few days ago. He was cleaning a well for Mr. Eckert, and among the debris was a large stone which they hoisted to the top of the well by a rope. When they got it to the top the rope slipped and the stone fell to the bottom of the well again, barely escaping Mr. Myers' head.

The Kiehl poisoning case in Carlisle had a hearing Saturday, and the result was a strong prima facie case against Mrs. Zell. Squire Wynkoop, charged with being participes in the case was admitted to bail in the sum of $5,000. Mrs. Zell was remanded to prison. A case on a par in many respects with the Schoppa-Steinnecke trial of 1869 is expected.

The blacksmiths of Newville, according to the "Star," have a movement on foot looking to the erection of a monument to William Denning, the Revolutionary blacksmith who made such a heroic effort to furnish the patriot army with wrought iron cannon. He succeeded in completing several, a feat never before accomplished. Mr. Denning's remains lie in the Presbyterian graveyard, at that place.

On Monday evening, Mr. Jacob Hoffman, residing in "Georgetown," in the Third ward, whilst going down stairs with a coal oil lamp, had a fainting spell and fell headlong down the stairway, cutting himself in the neck with the glass. Drs. Kieffer and Krise were called in and applied restoratives to the injured man, who bled very copiously. Fortunately the lamp was not lighted. It will be remembered that this same gentleman sustained severe injuries by falling from a scaffold during the erection of the new market house, and since that time has been in bad health.—Carlisle Volunteer.

Stoves for Sale.—A parlor heater, and a small eggs stove for sale at half price. Apply at F. Mortimer's store. The heater is as good as new.

To the Independent Democratic Voters of Perry Co.—Having been solicited by a number of my personal friends to offer my name as an independent Democratic candidate for the office of Jury Commissioner, I have consented to offer myself as a candidate for said office and most respectfully ask your support. If elected, I will endeavor to perform the duties of Jury Commissioner with fidelity, and to the best of my ability. WM. KANE. Spring twp., Sep. 29, 1879.

Lost.—On Sunday evening last on the road between Stouffer's saw mill and one mile beyond the Warm Springs, a pocket book containing between eight and ten dollars. The finder will be suitably rewarded, by returning it to S. Beam, Dellville, Pa.

"Wide Awake." This Magazine for October has been received and we find it as usual full of interesting articles and pretty illustrations. As a children's Magazine, "Wide Awake" is just what you want. Published by D. LOTHOP & Co., Boston, at $2 per year.

Soldiers' Re-union.—The Veteran association of the soldiers of Perry County, will hold a re-union in Liverpool, on Thursday, 16th day of October. Distinguished speakers from a distance have been invited, and are expected to attend. Speakers and bands of this county have been engaged, and a large attendance is assured. Each delegation will elect its own officers, and the Captain as soon as he arrives, will report to Chief Marshal, D. C. Orris. Business meeting will be held in the school house at 10 A. M. Z. T. SHULER, Pres. pro tem. E. C. LONG, Secretary.
