Brief Items.

The Festival at the Presbyterian church last week netted about $190.

The nail factory at Duncannon had to stop last week for repairs to the boilers. Dr. Sheeder formerly of New Bloom-field has located at Shermansdale.

Shermansdale boasts of one of the best millers in the county.

The repairs to the Furnace at Duncannon will require 150,000 bricks.

Crist. Clegg, of this place, captured a twenty pound wild turkey on Thursday,

James Burns of Lewistown, well known to most of our citizens, died on Sunday morning.

Dry weather has caused the Penn'a. R. R. Co. to erect an engine to pump water for the locomotives at Baily's station.

Andrew J. Clouser, of Centre twp., left at this office one day last week a turnip which measured 24 inches in circumference. Andy is some on turnips.

For the prettiest assortment of Ruches in the county go to F. MORTIMER.-

Owners of fish-baskets in the Juniata have not had a happy time for a week or two past. Fines and costs, have cost more than the fine fish.

J. L. Sheets and his partner are still in the 'upper end fixing sewing ma-chines, and are meeting good success and giving satisfaction.

A gentleman of Five Forks, had a horse killed at the Franklin House sta-ble, in Hagerstown, on Thursday of last week, by the giving way of the flooring.

J. A. Kawler of Letterkenny town ship, Franklin county, has been gather-ing ripe strawberries from his vines, for the past six weeks. They are of fine size and excellent flavor.

Ladies' cloths, Momie cloths, and other Dress Goods, in a variety of styles, can be bought of F. MORTIMER.

The barn belonging to D. Daniels, in Wheatfield twp., was burned on the 17th ult. The stock was saved, but the crops in the building were all lost. No

A short distance beyond Concord, Franklin county, in "The Narrows," stands a white oak tree that has become historical. The three counties of Frank-lin, Huntingdon and Juniata intersect

On Monday of last week the wife of Mr. Jacob Crist of this borough had a paralytic stroke that was quite severe. We are glad to state however, that her speech has returned and she is in a fair way to entirely recover.

J. G. Ramsdell, 1113 Chestnut street. Philadelphia, sends us the November "Metropolitan" Fashion Paper—an es-pecially fine number—which he offers to send gratis to any of our lady readers on receipt of address.

On Monday afternoon Cloyd Pannebaker, of this place, while performing on the bar that is erected in the School house yard for gymnastic purposes, fell from it and broke both bones of the left arm near the wrist. Dr. Crawford was summoned and reduced the fracture.—

Juniata Register.

On last Tuesday evening a horse which was hitched in front of Mortimer's new store room, broke loose and started at a lively trot down Main street toward the bank, but before any damage was done the animal was caught by Williard Shearer, of Centre township.

Don't Forget the Auction of Store Goods, in MORTIMER's old store room, on Friday evening of this week.

The Church Festival .- The Presbyterians netted during last week $191.27. Total receipts $232.68, total expenses $41.41. Good for the ladies, and thanks to all who kindly aided and patronized them.

Fire.—On Thursday last the dwelling house occupied by Mr. J. S. Kerr, in Saville twp., took fire and was entirely destroyed. A large part of the household furniture was also destroyed. The loss is about half covered by an insurance in the home Company. The fire origin-ated from a defective flue.

We Hope It is True. - A Lancaster county exchange says: "The Rev. J. B. Soule, pastor of Salem Church of God, Lancaster, is reported to have fallen heir to more than a half a million in money." We heartly hope that the above is true, and the many friends of Mr. S. in this county will Join in the wish.

Auction. - A closing out sale of the goods in my old store room will take place on next Friday evening. The goods consist of Muslins, Prints, Flan-nels, Pant Stuff, Caps, Cutlery, Wall Paper, Letter, and Note-paper, and lots of other articles. Sale to commence at 64 o'clock. F. MORTIMER.

Our Libel Suit didn't promise to "pan out" to the satisfaction of those who instigated it, and so they withdrew the suit thus putting themselves to considerable expense. We are rather sorry for our friend Crist, and think if he had not been very badly advised he would never have gone into the business of prosecuting an editor. However, we forgive him this time, and he has promised not to get caught so again. As he seems to be quite a pleasant old gentlemad we hope he will in future have better luck.

Concert.-An instrumental and vocal concert will be given in the Court House next Friday at 7 P. M., by the following able musicians; Miss E. McKee, Miss Annie Augsperger, Miss Minnie Junkin, Miss Emma Morrow, Miss Laura Halbert, Miss Ella Burkholder, Mr. S. A. Peale, Mr. W. H. H. McClintock, Mr. E. R. Sponsler.

Premature Discharge of a Gun. - On Wednesday evening Mr. Lemuel Brown was examining Mr. Jeremiah Thompson's double-barreled shot gun in the dining room in connection with Mr. E. B. Fleck's establishment at the railroad and Walnut street. In looking it over, the cock of the gun, which was heavily loaded with "T" shot, struck a chair, exploding the percussion cap, and discharging the fire-arm with a frightful sensation, for there were a number of spectators in the room at the time. Fortunately, however, the shot came in contact with no one, the gun happening to be pointed on an angle which sent the leaden messengers of death through an inch pine-board partition, and they lodged harmlessly in the ceiling of the store-room under the same roof. In their passage through the partition the shot made an opening an inch and a half wide and two inches long.-News.

Fish Baskets .- The fish warden appointed by the fish commission, ex-Policeman P. Ludwig, of this city, returned from Perry county on Tuesday and reports that he had prosecuted the following parties for violating the fish laws by allowing "baskets" to exist in the Juniata river at and near Newport in direct violation of the fish laws: He brought suit before Esquire Zinn, of Newport, against D. H. Smith and John Black for maintaining fish baskets, and before Squire Keim against John W. S. Kough, John and Jacob Sauceman, of Newport, and C. J. Wright and Henry Morton for maintaining baskets in the river at Millerstown and Al. Rhinehart for keeping up a basket at the Millerstown dam. The parties were all tried before Squire Kelm at Newport on Tuesday. Messrs. Black and Smith had been tried before Squire Zinn for the same offense, found guilty and fined $25, which they paid and took a receipt. This receipt they produced and Squire Keim discharged them. The others were discharged for want of evidence. Mr. Ludwig only had one witness, and he refused to answer some of the questions that would have secured the conviction of the prisoners. The warden will not relinquish his efforts to beat the violators.-Patriot.

Cumberland County.—We copy the fol-lowing from the Cumberland papers of last week :

A little daughter of Mr. C. C. Faber, aged about six years, received a very painful and severe cut on the forehead, just above the right eye, on Tuesday morning. Several spittoons were on the pavement, in the yard, which had just been cleansed. The little girl picked one of them up, with the intention of taking it into the house, when unfortunately she slipped and fell, the spittoon breaking, and her forehead striking the fragments, injuring her as above stated. A little daughter of Mr. C. C. Faber,

Two young men from Boiling Springs while out pleasure riding, on last Sunday night one week ago, drove into a hole near the Stone House, upsetting the buggy and causing a smash-up generally. Neither was injured.

Our townsman, Capt. Jos. G. Vale, has just received his back pension, amounting to $3,000. He will also receive a pension of $18 per month during the remainder of his life. Mrs. Daniel Low has also received $1,200 back pension.—Her son died some years from a disease that was contracted in the service.—Carlisle Volunteer. lisle Volunteer.

FOR THE BLOOMPIELD TIMES Court Proceedings .- A formidable trial list was prepared for the October term which convened on last Monday the Forty-three cases were announced for trial by entry on the Watch Book, but the number had been reduced so as to include the 31st case by an order of Court. Afterwards a number of the cases had been settled by the parties, others were continued by agreement, and when the list was read over in court on Monday afternoon, it seemed that what was left would constitute a light week's work. The work of the term was begun by calling over the list of constables and receiving their returns.

Four times in each year do these local dignitaries answer to the Protheonotary's Roil call, and then say upon their oaths and affirmations, that the returns they make are true and lawful and that they withhold nothing from them which should be made known to the Court. These returns from the different districts inform the Court whether there have been certain violations of the law since the last session, such as the transgression of the license law for 27th ult.

tain violations of the law since the last session, such as the transgression of the license law for seiling liquors, killing of deer out of season, neglect of the supervisors to keep up finger boards, and any increase of the population different from that authorized by the act of Assembly in such cases made and provided. After this returning board was dismissed, the Grand Jury was called and sworn to perform their peculiar duties without prejudies or partiality. A constable was assigned them during their deliberations, and after the selection of constables to attend the Traverse juries, the miscellaneous business hereafter recited was taken up and continued until Court adjourned.

On Tuesday morning the first case called was Catherine Miller, Mary Miller and Elizabeth Miller, vs. J. H. Irvine, cashier of Newport Deposit Bank. This suit originated in the following manner; M. & T. Miller for some years past have been carrying on a Pottery on the left bank of the Jaulata river, in Howe twy. Finding themselves in failing elr-cumstances in December, 1877; they confessed a judgment to David Kline for himself and in trust for other creditors among whom were their wives and mother, the pilffs. In this suit. An execution was issued upon this judgment, and by vitue thereof the crockery ware, and all the rest of the dt/'s, personal property was sold and purchased mainly by Kline the pilf. It was agreed that the property bought by Kline, should remain on the premises, and that M. & T. Miller should sell it and pay out certain of the parties in whose favor judgment had been confessed to Kline, and the residue was to go to their mother and sisters. After a portion of the property had been sold the women above mentioned agreed to take the balance of their claims in the property and if it sold at a gain it was their gain or if it sold at a loss, it was their foss.

About that time the balance of this property, and sold it as the property of M. & T. Miller. The mother and sisters claiming the property, and eigned issue was formed under the Sheriff's Interpleader law to try the title to the property. In the trial of the case, the jury under the instructions of the Court, found a special verdict of the lacts substantially as herein stated, and what the Johnsel of the same and Markel for plaintiff is Sponsler for defendant.

Sarah J. Light vs. A. J. Clouser, like David's Pasims, was "another of the same." A Sheriff's Interpleader to try the title to certain personal property claimed by the plft, and sold by the defendant.
