The Power of Conscience.

A curious instance of the power of conscience is reported from England. A few days ago a rough-looking laboring man of forty-nine years of age, Jonathan Geydon by name the son of a farmer who resided at Walthamstow, presented himself at the Horsham Police Station and after giving his name stated that some twenty years before he had gone into the house of a Mr. Small, at a place called Chingford, in Essex, and as the family were away at church it being Sunday morning, had murdered the woman who was Mr. Small's sister. The officers thinking him drunk or crany, locked him up over night, and next morning the prisoner was asked whether he still adhered to his confession of the previous night. He replied that he did, and wished to have the murder investigated. He was accordingly sent on to Chingford, and an officer was detailed to make inquiries, when it was found that a Miss Mary White aged seventy-two, had indeed been murdered on Sunday morning, the 21st of June 1857. While Mr. Small and his wife were at Chingford Church Geydon entered the house evidently for the purpose of plunder knocked the old lady down with a stick and cut her throat and succeeded in getting away from the house. At an inquest a verdict of "Wilful murder" was returned against some party or parties unknown and a reward of £100 was offered by Goverment for the apprehension of Geydon, who had just been released from prison where he had served a term for horse-stealing and who had been seen near the place. Geydon, when asked what prompted him to commit the murder, replied that he supposed it was the devil. He said that he knew the time Mr. Small and his family went to church and so went to the back gate and knocked at the back door, and when Miss White opened it attacked her and having knocked her down took out his knife and cut her throat. She died instantly. He pulled the body inside the door then took what he wanted. He had been in constant fear of being taken, and he had since wandered thousands of miles, having tramped every county in England, and sailed to various quarters of the globe. Since his imprisonment he has expressed satisfaction at the rest he at last feels. The English authorities have arranged for his prosecution in due form upon his confession, the evidence taken at the inquest, and the testimony of survivors who have fully identified him and who recollect all the circumstances of the murder.

A Spunky Merchant.

A dispatch from Middleton, N. Y., says: At Morsston Station, in Sullivan county, yesterday morning, three masked men entered the store of Divine, Dubois & Co. to rob the safe. They wakened Wilbur Denman, the junior partner, gagged him, and with threats of cutting his throat demanded that he should open the safe, which has a combination lock. Denman refused, when they inflicted serious injuries upon him; during the struggle he tore the masks from the faces of two of them. Failing in their attempt, they tied his hands to the stove and his feet to the safe and left without taking anything. He was unconscious when released, and remained so during all day Sunday. This is the third attempt made to rob the store within a few years, Mr. Denman being attacked both time.

Serious Rail-road Accident.

NEWARK, N. J. November 4.- A train on the Greenwood Lake railroad this morn ing ran off the Hackensack draw bridge.

The only person killed was Ira Dexter, the engineer, who had his neck broken. J D. Wood, baggage master; F. B. Tuttle, a merchant of New York; Mr. Harrison of Woodside; John Matler, the fireman; Wm. Stark the conductor, and Jesse Williams, brakeman were injured-some of them severely. The others suffered no other injury than a drenching in ice cold water and the exposure.

LANCASTER, Nov. 4-At an early hour this morning a man recognized as Harry Crow, a carpenter by trade was found lying in a dying condition under a bridge just east of Downington, where he soon afterward died from his injuries, which are believed to have occured on the road; but how they occurred is unknown. An inquest was to have been held this morning, when it was thought there might be further developments. Crow was an employee of the Pennsylvania railroad company at one time, but had not been employed by them for five months past.

While a hunter named Throm was passing across the farm of Franklin Seidel, near the Marsh post office in Chester county, the other day his dogs flushed and he blazed away. One of his dogs being sent after a partridge that had fallen refused to go beyond a certain line. Throm then started to get the bird, but before he had taken many stops he suddenly sank several feet into the ground and found himself surrounded with fire and ashes. The whole field was on fire, but burning slowly and emitting no smoke, the drought having so dried the ground and roots and all were burning.

Denver now has a population of 40,000. Great cities are the outgrowth of great countries. Twenty years ago Denver was a small trading post on the frontier, now it is a large city, with numerous Churches, Hotels, Theaters, Street-railroads, Gas-works, Water-works, Gold and Silver Smelling and Refining Works, with a United States Mint, and is the great Railroad Center of the West. There are seven First-class Hallroads now running and connecting with all the Principal and Branch Railroads from Maine to California. It is the Capital of Colorado, naturally the richest State in the Union, and located in about the geographical center of the United States. The climate is charming, with the best water and purest air in the world, and the scenery is unexcelled for beauty and grandeur. It is surrounded by the richest Gold, Silver, Copper, Iron, Lead, and Coal Mines and Agricultural Lands in America. It is now the headquarters for Colorado, Kansas, Nebraska, New Mexico, Wyoming, Nevada, Arizona, and Northern Texas. The rich mineral and agricultural resources of this vast country will make Denver the largest and wealthlest city in the West.

WHY LOTS ARE CIVEN AWAY.

WHY LOTS ARE CIVEN AWAY. people locate in Denverand on their property. To oncourage emigration here, the Company will give to any one sending their name and address a warrantee deed, in fee simple, for one or more lots in North Denver, situated in Weld County, State of Colorado, in immediate view of this beautiful city, the only charge being one dollar to pay the Notary Public fees for seknowledging deed and conveyance. The Company does not give every lot away, but each alternate one, and does not expect that every person who gets a lot in North Denver will come here, but a great many will, and they will induce their friends to follow. The increased population will soon make this property very valuable, and this Company retain each alternate lot, which they hold at prices varying from $25 to $500, according to location. For this reason the above proposition is made. The deeds are unconditional, not requiring any one to settle or improve, but with full power to transfer and deed to others. The limit to any one person taking advantage of this offer is five lots. This property is not hill-side, mountain, or swamp, but is level, fertile, and has advantages for building upon too numerous to mention. Full and satisfactory information, with indorsements from our best citizens, will be furnished.

"GENTLEMEN:.—For the past few years we have sold various brands of Porous Plasters. Physicians and the Public prefer BENSON'S CAPCINE POROUS PLASTER to all others. We consider them one of the very few reliable household remedies worthy of confidence. They are Superior to all other Pourous Plasters or Medicines for External use." 46dst
