Saturday, November 23d.—T. W. Tressler, Administrator of C. S. Toomey, will sell in Juniata twp., 3 cows, spring wagon, sled, windmill, grain cradles, sewing machine, and household and kitchen furniture.

Brief Items.

Correspondents who wish their articles published must have them in not later than Saturday. Letters received Monday morning scarcely ever get published.

J. W. H.—The poetry is hardly smooth enough for publication, though it shows considerable poetical talent.

A communication from Landsburg came too late for insertion this week. It will be given space in our next issue.

We would advise all our readers to go to Dr. S. H. Whitmer, in Newport, for the best artificial teeth. Filling teeth a specialty. 474t

We learn that a planing mill is to be one of the industries of Ickesburg, and that Kendig & Co., are to be the proprietors.

We notice that Jacob Baily, Esq., who formerly resided in this place has been elected superintendent of Public Instruction in Richardson Co., Nebraska.

On the 7th inst., Wm. Winn, without any assistance, husked 155 bushels of corn from the shock on the farm of J. B. Ritter, near Loysville.

John Spriggle, of Wheatfield township, received a very severe stroke of paralysis on Tuesday. His entire right side has been paralyzed, causing him to lose his speech.

The "Black" property in this borough was sold on Thursday last at public sale for $1,410. Mr. Alex. Adams was the purchaser, and he has rented it to Mr. Gresh, the newly elected prothonotary.

In the vote of Carroll twp., as published, the temperance vote was omitted. There were thirty-three votes cast in that district for Richardson, temperance candidate for Treasurer.

The recent remarkable advance in the price of sugar is accounted for by reports of a short crop. The advance is nearly three cents per pound within two weeks. It is fortunate that the rise did not come during fruit and berry season.

The foundry in this place met with the loss of a fine horse on Thursday morning. The team had started for Carlisle but within one half mile of town it was noticed that one horse was sick, and the driver at once came back, but the horse died in an hour, and fears were had that his mate would die too, but we are glad to learn that it is improving.

A Harrisburg boy, while playing on the street, was attacked by a bull-dog, and was mutilated in a shocking manner. It was with difficulty that he was rescued from the brute, and then one of his rescuers killed the animal with an ax.

On Friday morning a week, Benjamin Wengert, was turning the wick of a kerosene lamp which had been placed on the window, it exploded, breaking window panes and scattering the burning oil in every direction, which, however, was soon extinguished, without much damage being done.—Franklin Repository.

On a recent visit to Newport, we called to see Dr. Whitmer, who is classed among the best dentists in the State.—We were pleased to see what a fine building he had recently erected, and to note the comforts and conveniences of his office. There are few more pleasantly arranged offices and laboratories to be found outside of the large cities, and he is now better than ever prepared to do first-class work.

The Duncannon "Record" says: Mr. Lawrence Gross met with an accident the other day while on the mountain that might have proved serious. He ran a fox into a hole and was engaged in digging it out when a large rock fell on him in such a way that he could not move. If it had not been for a companion Larry would have been among the missing.

Those interested in good horses will do well to read Mr. Towle's letter published last week on Spain, Ringbone, etc., with Methods of Treatment. We are informed that Mr. Towle is one of the best agricultural writers in Vermont, and no doubt his investigations on this subject will be of great benefit to horse owners.

The Best, Sweetest-tongued and cheapest Organs are "WATERS." For information address, MILTON B. GIBSON, Landisburg, Perry Co., Pa. 3t.

These Bones.—The bones found in the foddering-room in Mr. Stephens' burnt barn were brought to Newport the other day and presented for inspection to a competent physician in this place, who pronounced them not human bones. This leaves the origin of the fire which consumed the barn and contents in unsolved mystery.—News.

Robbery.—The store of Thos. Cluck, in Millerstown, was broken into by some parties on Friday night a week, and a quantity of goods, such as boots, shoes, and various articles of dry goods were carried off. Suspicion was had as to the guilty parties, and a search warrant was issued, but with what success we have not yet learned.

An Old Paper.—In looking over a bundle of old papers a few days since, we came across a copy of the Perry Standard, published by Morrison and Magee, in 1847. In this was the Democrat ticket, as follows:

Sheriff, Hugh Campbell; Treasurer, George Spahr; Commissioner, Jacob Shively; Coroner, John McKinzie; Director of the Poor, Henry Snyder; Auditors, John Withrow, Martin Motzer.

Laysville Items.—A Loysville correspondent sends the following:

In the way of improvement we are not behind. B. F. Ritter, proprietor of the Ritter House, has erected a very good fence around his stock-yard, and also a very pretty yard fence facing Main street.

The Loysville Debating Society met and organized on the evening of the 14th inst. The following were the officers chosen—President, S. Shumaker; Vice President, P. G. Kell; Secretary, N. S. Ebersole; Treasurer, "Squire Wolf; Editor of The Loysville News, P. G. Kell. Then followed some appropriate addresses by S. Shumaker, P. G. Kell and others, after which, the following question, "Resolved that the position of a farmer is a more independent position than that of a mechanic," was chosen for the next evening. To be discussed by "Squire Wolf and Wm. Kell on the affirmative and P. G. Kell and F. P. Gensler on the negative. On motion the Society adjourned to meet two weeks hence, November 28th. OCCASIONAL.

Narrow Escape.—Mr. William C. West of Path Valley met with what might have been a very serious accident on Tuesday last. He was in the barn yard attending to some work, when a cross bull, which they had been keeping in the stable broke out in some way and charged for Mr. West. The bull succeeded in getting him cornered against the barn, and was in the act of horning him, when a neighbor who came to the rescue managed to drive the animal away by the use of a dung hook, as it was Mr. West got an ugly scratch above the eye from the horn of the animal.—Franklin Repository.

A Mill Stopped by Eels.—Mr. John Heitzel, miller at the Iron Rock Mills, on Bermudian creek, near Kraltown, this county, formerly owned by Mr. Amos Kidd, informs us that one day last week the mill did not work right.—On the following morning, finding it impossible to proceed with his work in a satisfactory manner, he closed the water gate and commenced to investigate.—What was his surprise, when examining the water-wheel—a small iron wheel—he found it clogged, not with leaves, as he had supposed, but with twenty-seven large eels. The eels were considerably cut up by the wheel and were unfit for use. Mr. Heitzel is a miller of about fifty years' experience, and states that as the first occasion of the kind that ever came to his notice.—Dillsburg Bulletin.

The following notice speaks for itself: "We will gladly furnish all Superintendents of Sunday Schools with as many copies of "Our Picture Books" as they can distribute among their scholars, and print the name of the School on the cover.

"We will prepay expressage to destination. Signed STRAWBRIDGE & CLOTHIER, Eighth and Market Sts., Philadelphia."

Ballou's Magazine for December is a splendid number. It seems as if the publishers meant to finish the year by showing how good a Magazine they could publish. The contents is well selected and well assorted. Published by Thomas & Talbot, Boston, at $1.50 per year—or Ballou's and THE TIMES will be furnished to any address, both post paid for $2.00.

Minutes of previous evening were read and approved. Miscellaneous business was next in order. The Ex. Com., was instructed to draw up a constitution to be ready for adoption at next meeting. The President made a few remarks which were followed by the reading of "The Drunkard's Daughter," by Miss Alice Conrad. "Rescue the Perishing," was then sung by the congregation, after which the meeting was declared open for any remarks; the following named gentlemen availed themselves of the opportunity to speak; Messrs. David Smith, Solomon Bernhiesel, D. K. Reeder, and Rev. Langsdorff. Singing, "What Shall the Harvest Be?" Meeting adjourned to meet in two weeks hence, place to be designated by Ex. Com. Doxology. Juniata County.—We copy the following from the Juniata county papers of last week.

The Fitzgerald farm, in Spruce Hill twp., owned by Mr. James Fitzgerald, was sold one day last week to Mr. John Leonard, of Lack twp., for the sum of $8,000.

On Saturday afternoon of last week Mr. James Coyle and his sister Miss Grace, accompanied by Miss Annie Wharton, went pleasure riding in a buggy drawn by a gentle horse, but, as the sequel proves, the pleasure of the ride didn't pan out worth a cent. Grace was driving and all went well until turning the corner at Prof. Wilson's orchard, opposite the Tuscarora creek at a pretty lively rate of speed, James and his sister were thrown out, the latter receiving a severe cut on the forehead and was otherwise injured, and the former sustained a few scratches and bruises. The horse proceeded on his way at a brisk gait with Annie Wharton as sole occupant of the buggy, but becoming terribly frightened, Annie attempted to get out of the buggy. In doing so her waterproof got fastened around the hub of the wheel and at every revolution it became tighter, but fortunately a gentleman who was along the road saw her perilous situation and succeeded in stopping the horse, thus preventing any serious injuries befalling Annie.—Port Royal Times.

Cumberland County.—We copy the following from the Cumberland papers of last week:

On Friday last, Wm. Gephart, an employe in Gardner & Co's. foundry, while handling pig iron, had his foot smashed by one of the pigs falling upon it.

A valuable horse belonging to Mr. Anthony Mellinger, of Jacksonville, for which, if we are correctly informed, he paid $240, was found dead in the stable a few mornings ago.

On Tuesday evening Janitor Claudy locked up the Court House, unaware that Judge Herman was in the building. The latter found some difficulty in getting out, but finally found egress through a window on the ground floor.

Miss Sally Britton, an aged lady, who resides in the township north of this borough, on Saturday morning of last week, while sitting on a chair, and in the act of reaching for her shoes, accidentally fell to the floor, and broke her thigh bone. Drs. Stewart and Marshall reduced the fracture, and the aged sufferer is resting quite comfortable. Miss Britton is about ninety years of age, and her ultimate recovery can hardly be expected.—Shippensburg News.

The Mt. Holly "Echo" says: Last week a man representing himself to be a cow drover "took in" one of our land-lords one evening. About 5 o'clock he called at the hotel and engaged accommodations for a lot of fresh milk cows. After treating several persons and getting a pint of whisky he started in pursuit of the German who was driving the cows. The drover failing to return, the landlord, of course, soon realized that the whole thing was a swindle and he had been cheated out of the whisky. Landlords, beware of him.

Dr. James B. Marshall, on Thursday night of last week, while riding in the vicinity of Cleversburg, his horse stumbled, and not only threw him violently to the ground, but rolled on him, injuring the Doctor quite severely. He was in company with John Carey, who took him to his house, where he remained until morning. The Doctor was bruised considerably, not only about the head and face, but on other parts of his person. Dr. Marshall can account for the accident in no other way than that the horse stepped on a rolling stone, and, going at a lively gait, his escape from fatal injuries was quite fortunate.—Shippensburg News.

A farmer living a few miles South of Newville has become, rather unexpectedly, as well as unintentionally, the sole owner and possessor of no less than a score of wind-mills by signing what he thought a contract to serve in the capacity of agent for the firm with which he was negotiating, and which was represented by an oily-tongued general agent, but this contract now proves to be a promissory note, by which our farmer friend is made responsible for the payment of nearly two hundred and fifty dollars. When will our friends in the rural districts learn to refrain from this signing of any such contracts as these, knowing, as they surely do know, that nine-tenths of them are made by men whose sole object is to extort money from unsuspecting, honest and hard-working farmers.
