A Surprise,-Last week we noticed the sudden death of Mrs. Nancy Elliott, of Miller township. The News says :- A days afterwards, relatives of the deceased found $1,200 lying in a bureau drawer, which the old lady had placed there perhaps only a short time before her death, having but recently received a back pension from the U. S. Government.

Postmasters who don't know their duties and responsibilities under the postal laws are altogether too numerous.

They have no business to return a paper because it is not lifted. The law provides them blanks and stamps to notify the publishers, and failing to send such notice and allowing a paper to continue renders them liable for the subscription price. In some cases P.M.'s return a paper without even putting their office stamp on it leaving the publisher to guess where it comes from. This not only is a positive violation of law but is very apt to make the printer feel lenient towards a man who is profane, when provocation is great.

Daring Theft in Broad Daylight .- On Saturday afternoon a young man arrived in this city on his way down the Lebanon Valley. His trunk was carried to the Reading depot, and placed on the baggage platform, where he was told by a porter that it would be perfectly safe. While waiting to have his baggage checked, he strolled away for a short time and when he returned the trunk was gone. Inquiry revealed the fact that none of the railroad employees had taken it to check, and the inference was that it had been stolen. Officer Carlin was informed of the circumstance, and got a clue that two men, one white, the other colored, had been seen carrying away a trunk, but though he traced them to Broad street he had to give up the hunt, as the trail was lost at that point. This was a most daring daylight theft.-Harrisburg Telegraph.

Temperance Convention .- We are requested to give notice of the Cumberland County Temperance Convention to be held in Franklin Hall, Mechanicsburg, Dec. 4th and 5th, begining at 3 P. M. Thursday Dec. 4th. Eminent speakers will be present, Rev. Jos. Cheaney of New Jersey, Pres. McCauley of Dickinson College and many others. Delegates from adjoining counties are invited with same privileges as Cumberland men, and free entertainment. The only exception to this will be the voting on purely County matters. The object as stated by the call is to devise "methods of relief from the liquor system," and the call is signed by Rev. Wm. McCarrell of Shippensburg, and others as an executive committee with W. D. Blackburn of Mechanicsburg, as chairman. All delegates are to proceed to Franklin Hall,immediately on arrival in Mechaniesburg.

How Dean Got a Ride. -On Wednesday last Dr. Dean, residing on the top of the mountain, was in town and gave the District Attorney some information he was glad to get. The information was to the effect that Dr. Rodgers, who is wanted here to answer a serious charge in connection with the death of Miss Peck, could be had if officers were sent to his father's residence, as he was now there. The Sheriff was notified and the deputy with a posse at once left to arrest the prisoner, taking Dean along with them. When at the top of the mountain, Dean pretended to be drunk and was very pugnacions, making it necessary for the Sheriff to give him a good shaking. This it will be readily imagined he could do with a good grace, when it proved that the whole story told about Rodgers was only told by Dean for the purpose of getting some one to take him over to the Gap. Some, however, think that Dean came over in good faith on purpose to give the information, and that his heart failed him as he neared the locality where Rodgers was supposed to be. At any rate they could not get Dean to go and show them the place and identify the man and the party did not arrest Rodgers.

The Cumberland Murder .- After a six days' trial of Mrs. Zell, for the poisoning of Mrs Kiehl in May last, the case was given to the jury at 2:33 Monday afternoon, and they returned a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree. The prisoner, a rather prepossessing woman received the verdict with much composure. The verdict was a surprise to everybody, as it was generally supposed she would be acquitted. An application was at once made for a new trial. 'Squire Wynkoop, her paramour, who is now in jail, will be tried in January. It will be remembered that susplcion was aroused after Mrs. Kiehl's burial, and her body was disinterred, and in the stomach and other portions of the body were revealed enough of the poison to have killed several persons. On the strength of these discoveries Mrs. Zell was arrested, and as Justice of the Peace Wynkoop (no relative) was bequeathed all the property of the deceased, he, too, was taken into custody on suspicion of having employed the woman to polson Mrs. Kiehl. He was admitted to $5,000 ball and Mrs. Zell was committed for trial. Last week true bills were found against both, but only she was tried. Mrs. Zell is married to her second husband. The first is now serving out a long term in the penitentiary for burning the feet of an old couple in the county for the purpose of compelling them to tell where they had money secreted.

FOR THE TIMES. Quite an Item.

EDITOR OF THE TIMES:—We read of murders, suicides, high life, bank robberies, Indian outrages, big corn and large pumpkins, and have thought it would not be amiss to give the following on the use of tobacco and strong drink in the borough of Bloomfield, and if any one can improve on it we will be glad to hear from them.

Out of 117 persons who are not females, employees or minors, there are 48 who chew, smoke, and drink; 12 who chew and smoke; 4 chew and drink; 13 only smoke; 4 only drink. Now suppose there is an average expenditure by each one of 15 cents per day, and allowing 360 days to the year, you have the nice sum of $6318. Am I too high? Look at it! You will see by the above that tobacco and strong drink are very intimate friends.

Juniata County .- We copy the following from the Juniata county papers of last week.

The Post Office Department discontinued the post office at Farmdale, this county, last week. Reason—No candidate for the position of postmaster.

Judge Tyson sold his farm in Walker township to David Rickenbaugh for $6,000. The farm has been known as the Dr. Hamlin farm.

A child about three years old, son of Henry Arbogost, Jr., of Turbett town-ship, fell into a well about thirty feet deep, last Friday. There being no one present but the child's mother, she had to go a quarter of a mile for assistance. Strange to say, the child was taken out alive, although there was about seven feet of water in the well.

A young man named Pry, residing with Mr. Lehman Boyer, in Turbett township, was kicked by a colt in the abdomen on Friday last, and injured severely. At the time the accident occurred, he was leading the colt from water, a hog in front of the colt, the animal turned suddenly around and attempted to kick the hog, planting his foot in the young man's stomach. His injuries are not likely to prove fatal.

Cumberland County .- We copy the following from the Cumberland papers of last week :

A little girl of Geo. W. Ensminger, of Mifflin township, fell off a load of corn one day last week, the wheel passing over her leg and breaking it close to the thigh. Dr. S. H. Brehm attended the wants of the little sufferer.

On Thursday last, a son and a daughter of Mrs. Swanger, of Dickinson twp., aged respectively ten and six years, died of diphtheria and were buried in the same grave.

Harper's Young People. - Harper & Bros., New York, have begun the publication of a Youth's weekly with the above title, and it gives promise of success. It contains numerous illustrations and is full of interesting short and serial stories for the young people. A puzzle page will also be found first-rate. It is an eight-page paper about one-half as large as the pages of Harper's Weekly, and is gotten up in a manner calculated to please the children. Subscription $1.50 per year.

FOR THE TIMES. Mg. EDITOR.—The cause of Temperance has received an impetus in this borough during the past three weeks, which bids fair to carry it forward to higher achievments in the immediate future.

First there came the County Temperance Convention in the Presbyterian church with its ninety-three delegates present, who by their attendance as well as by their unusually attendance as well as by their unusually carnest and interesting addresses delivered on that occasion helped us in this movement in our community. This was followed by two clear and eloquent speeches on the two evenings succeeding the convention by Mr. J. M.

clear and eloquent speeches on the two evenings succeeding the convention by Mr. J. M. Emerson, of Selinsgrove. These were listened to by a good sized andience in the Bethel church, and resulted in thirty-five signatures to the Murphy Pledge. This was followed by a practical feature of Temperance work on the first Tuesday of this month, when eighteen votes were cast for the Prohibition candidate for State Treasurer in the borough and four in the township, making Landisburg and vicinity the third on the list of Temperance voting communities in the county, Carroll twp., and Newport being the two leading ones on this roll of honor.

The Monday succeeding the election, Mr. Jacob Billow, Sr., of Carroll twp., the old "war horse" and "tar bucket" of Temperance in this county addressed a large meeting of our citizens in the Methodist church here, and made an impression that will not be easily effaced on this subject. His "three-legged stool" which he used to introduce his subject with, and the points made in connection with it in his address were very telling. At times the audience was roaring with laughter as he related facts and incidents in connection with the Temperance work. The seat or level surface of the stool he represented as the general drinking and dram selling community.

The legs were respectively, moderate drinkers, church members, and the government, any one of which had the power to upset the whole whisky business, and all three together could bring it down with a whack. He also spoke very pointedly to the ladies and told of their influence and how it could be used in this reform, the point of which was on a banner borne on one occasion by the ladies of Harrisburg with this inscription;

"Intermperance is our for

"Intemperance is our foe Temperance or no beau."

We expect to have other interesting meetings in connection with the Temperance organization here, "The Landisburg Christian Temperance Alliance," and will keep your readers informed concerning them.

Very Sincerely Yours, Landisburg, Nov. 15, 1879.]
