HOUSE, FARM AND GARDEN.

When Poultry Should be Killed.

The reason poultry killed at home, though young, is not as tender as that bought at the market, is that the former is generally not killed until wanted and when eaten is still rigid in death, while that bought at the poulterer's has been killed at least hours—more often days. Poultry ought to be killed several days before being eaten, dressed at once, and with a few bits of charcoal in it hung in a cool place. If poultry is kept from food and drink at least twelve hours before killing, the crop and intestines will be emptied, and any superfluity of secretions exhausted, the flesh will be juicy and the fat firm. If three days without food or drink, though in good condition previously, the flesh will be dry and tasteless and the fat soft. Never buy an undrawn fowl. The gas from the crop and intestines will taint the flesh, even though retained out a short time.

Prevention and Cure of Hog Cholera.

The following recipes for the prevention and cure of hog cholera are given by Mr. J. E. Ferrell, of Middle Spring, Cumberland county to the Star of the Valley for the benefit of farmers throughout the State.

Sulphur, 2 lbs.; copperas, 2 lb., madder, 2 lbs.; black antimony, 1 lb.; arsenic, 2 oz. Mix with slop and feed freely. And the following as a preventive to the disease: 1 peck wood ashes, 4 lbs. salt, 1 lb. sulphur, 1/2 lb saltpetre. Pound and mix thoroughly; moisten enough to prevent waste. Put in trough in a dry place where the hogs can at all times eat just as much of it as they please. If predisposed to cholera they will eat it freely.

Worth Trying.

A German newspaper gives the following simple method for exterminating rats and mice, which it states, has been successfully tried by one Baron Von Backhofen and others for some time past: "A mixture of two parts of well-bruised common squills and three parts of finely-chopped bacon is made into a stiff mass with as much meal as may be required, and then bake into small cakes, which are put around for the rats to eat." Several correspondents of the paper write to confirm the experience of the noble Baron and his neighbors in the extirpation of rats and mice by this simple remedy.

The effect of good prices realized by farmers for the wheat crop harvested in August is seen in the fact that they have reserved unusual quantities for seed wheat, and that the acreage of winter wheat sown this fall in central Western States for next year's crop is from 50 to 100 per cent. greater than was ever known before. The amount of land prepared to be sown next March and April with spring wheat is also unprecedented and whatever winter wheat is destroyed by severe weather will be replaced by spring wheat. The winter wheat sown has all sprouted well and the prospects are that the wheat crop next year will be simply enormous, far greater than this country has ever seen before. A year hence these Western farmers may find they have overdone the business: but the chances are that between war, famine and flood, Europe will be able to absorb all the breadstuffs America can spare, and the investment will probably prove as profitable a one as could have been made.

Mrs. Elizabeth S. Baiden, lady editor of Taggart's Phila. Sunday Times, writes to the ladies' department of that paper the following interesting news not only to the public in general concerning the baking of bread in tomato cans: "A young lady from Lancaster has sent me a beautifully-baked and delicious loaf of bread which she baked and in a tomato can. I referred to the possibility of utilizing old tomato cans—she tried baking bread in them. The result was that she found it a great saving in the amount of bread used in a family. The small-sized loaf had a crust all around, and could be cut without waste. The high pan formed by the sides of the tomato can, also made the bread lighter. This reminds us of a fact which housekeepers sometimes forget—that buck-wheat cakes raise much better in a high vessel than in a low one."

Not a Beverage.

"They are not a beverage, but a medicine, with curative properties of the highest degree, containing no poor whiskey or poisonous drugs. They do not tear down an already debilitated system, but build it up. One bottle contains more hops, that is more real hop strength, than a barrel of ordinary beer. Every druggist in Rochester sells them, and the physicians prescribe them."—Evening Express on Hop Bitters.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE

Is a sure cure for spavin, splint, curb, callous, & sprains, swellings, lameness and all enlargements of the joints of limbs. It will completely remove a bone spavin without blistering or causing a sore. It is also a good man as for heat and is used full strength, at all times of the year, with perfect safety. A cure which we are knowing to is a person who suffered 15 years with hip joint lameness and was permanently cured two years ago with Kendall's Spavin Cure. Remember we claim it will cure a bone spavin and completely remove the bunch without blistering.

Statement Made Under Oath.

To Whom it May Concern:—In the year 1875 I treated with Kendall's Spavin Cure a bone spavin of several months' growth, nearly half as large as a hen's egg, and completely stopped the lameness and removed the enlargement. I have worked the horse ever since very hard, and he never has been lame, nor could I ever see any difference in the size of the hock joints since I treated him with Kendall's Spavin Cure. Enosburg Falls, Vt., Feb. 25, 1879. JOHN G. JENNE, Justice of the Peace.

Office U. S. Marshall, Western Dist. of Mich., Kalamazoo, Apr. 14th, 1879.

B. J. Kendall, Enosburg Falls, Vt.—Dear Sir:—I received the two bottles of your spavin cure forwarded by express in January last. I am happy to state that it performed all your advertisements have in it. In three weeks after I commenced using it, the spavin was entirely removed and a valuable horse restored to usefulness. Very truly yours, JOHN PARKER.

Send address for Illustrated Circular, which we think gives positive proof of its virtues. No remedy has ever met with such unqualified success, or our knowledge, for heat as well as man. Price $1. per bottle, or six bottles for $5. Agents have it or can get it for you, or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price by the proprietors. DR. B. J. KENDALL & CO., Enosburg Falls, Vermont.

Kendall's Spavin Cure is now sold by all the leading wholesale druggists and a large number of prominent retail druggists. F. MORTIMER, New Bloomfield, agent for Perry Co., Pa.
