Extortion at Chicago.

The Chicagoans have secured the Republican National convention for their city. They made fair representations—promising moderate charges in the hotels for visitors and fair reports of the proceedings by their newspaper men.

Excitement at Bangor.

BANGOR, Me., Dec. 25. — Excitement was created here to-day by reports of the intended removal of arms and ammunition from the State Arsenal to the depot for transportation to Augusta.

The public excitement was increased by a report that J. L. Smith, the Greenback candidate for Governor, S. W. Hoskins, Fusion Indian agent, and Maj. M. M. Folsom of Oldtown were closeted at the Penobscot Exchange during the day.

After Many Years.

After twenty years separation a lost child, now a beautiful young woman of 22, has found her parents. They formerly lived in Cass county, Michigan, and now reside in Kansas.

Counterfeiters Arrested in Pittsburg.

PITTSBURG, December 25. — J. W. Fleck, alias "Swab," and G. L. Myers, alias Thomas, were arrested by the police about 3 o'clock this morning, while engaged in passing counterfeit trade dollars, standard dollars and half dollars. They had between three and four hundred dollars worth of bogus stuff in their possession. Fleck had just arrived from Denver, and Myers met him in this city by appointment, coming from Clarion for the purpose.

The counterfeiters are excellently well executed and were passed without trouble. The prisoners were turned over to the United States authorities and have been committed for a hearing. They had passed quite a number of the pieces.

A Sensible Chap.

A wedding party was assembled at the residence of the bride's father at Rochester. The groom and the rest were waiting for the girl, who lingered in her room. Half an hour after the appointed time the announcement was made that she had been united to another suitor, having changed her choice at the last moment.

Miscellaneous News Items.

- Boston has a Chinese Sunday-school of fifty pupils. Fifteen thousand loyal whites have emigrated west from North Carolina in ten years past. A New York woman makes a specialty of attending to finger nails for a living. She calls herself a manicure.

AYERSTOWN, N. J., Dec. 23.—The residence of James Gleason, situated near here, was entirely consumed by fire yesterday morning and three of his children, two boys and a girl, the eldest being ten of age, perished in the flames.

READING, Pa., December 23. — The warehouse, machine shop and part of the foundry of the extensive hardware works of Rick Brothers were destroyed by fire at 6 o'clock this morning. The loss is $45,000, and the total insurance on the building $25,000.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26. — Detectives of this city have arrested two men, and have others under surveillance, who had formed a conspiracy to steal Gen. Grant's Arabian horses, now on Gen. Beale's farm, near here.

The confederate brigadier turns up in a new role. His name is Daniel Ruggles, of Fredericksburg, Va., and he petitions Congress to appoint a special committee to consider his plan for producing rain by sending up balloons charged with dynamite, and exploding them in mid-air.

"Now, then, who is the plaintiff in this case?" asked his Honor, as a case was called. "I don't know anything about plaintiffs," replied a man in the corner as he slowly arose, "but if you are asking for the chap who was chased a mile and a half and then mopped all over his own barnyard by two desperadoes, I'm your man."

George Richardson, an employee of the Sweet torpedo company, was driving a wagon loaded with glycerine near Knox City, M'Kean county. In turning out of the way to let another team pass, his wagon was thrown over an embankment. Strange to say the glycerine did not explode, but the teamster was the most frightened man in the county.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Dec. 18.—William Fredericks and John Sayers, who were yesterday sentenced to fifteen years' imprisonment for robbery and incendiarism in Sussex county, were being conveyed to Trenton by the Sheriff this morning, shackled together, jumped from the train and were terribly injured. They were recaptured, and begged to be killed.

Dr. Gilbert of Chestnut Hill, recently relieved a lady of a snake which she swallowed fifteen years ago. For several years she has suffered intensely, the reptile frequently crawling almost into her mouth in search of food. It had grown to very large proportions, greatly to the discomfort and disgust of the lady, who had spent large sums of money in her efforts to get rid of the unwholesome guest.

At Vermillion, Dakota county, Minn., one afternoon last week, James Dunn, farm hand in the service of Bennett Bros., in order to frighten one of the hired girls, who was feeding the calves near the hay-loft, wrapped a quilt around him and slid off the hay. He landed square on his feet, fell back insensible, and never spoke afterward. He was 37 years old.

Mrs. Susan Coonly has been convicted of trying to ruin Miss Ida Breeman, of Lancaster, the young girl whom she persuaded to marry one Dr. Edgar de Leon, who lived with the girl two nights and then "skipped." The case caused some little excitement in Lancaster, because the widow had been very active in trying to find a wife for the alleged doctor, and it is supposed she had some ulterior motive.

The Danville "Record" gives the following evidence of increasing prosperity in that town: "One of the cheering signs of coming prosperity is the additional number of workmen who get drunk and larrup their wives. For a long time time they have lain idle and their wives have taken in washing and supported them; but now they are earning enough to buy liquor and feel that they are men again."

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Dec. 22.—This morning a man named M. Lepold, a traveling salesman for a Louisville tobacco house, was instantly killed at the Union depot.—He had breakfast at the Union depot and went out on the platform to take a train for New York. He took a position near a bumper, and while standing with his back to a train backing into the depot, was crushed to death. The man lived at Louisville, and his friends have been advised of his tragic death.

An impecunious young man started afoot from San Luis Obispo to Soledad, in California. Getting fatigued and desperate, he resolved to become a highwayman. He had no weapon, and was physically insignificant; but strategy more than made up for these lacks. He built a fire in the woods near the road, to give the impression that a party was encamped there, put his hat and coat on a log to represent a second man and, when the stage came along shouted: "Throw out the box or you are a dead man." The driver dropped the treasure box, which contained $320, and was glad to get away with his life.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 25.—Fred. Vowles, the defaulting cashier of Mr. Houston, contractor of the Cincinnati Southern Rail Road, who left Chicago on Saturday last, was tracked here by the detectives, who telegraphed to Chief of Police Boylan last night. Captain Bachemin, with his aids, Mike and Dave Hennessey, traced Vowles to No. 186 Custom House street. When Bachemin entered the room Vowles attempted to draw a pistol, but was quickly covered by the Captain. He then swallowed something. The aids rushed in and overpowered him, and finding he had taken poison, took him to the Charity Hospital, where he died in a few minutes. He was en route for Havana. A sum of money was found on him, and he was given a decent burial to-day.
