Atlantic Express leaves Harrisburg at 10:15 P. M. and arrives at Philadelphia at 5:30 A. M. ...

Public Sales.—Bills for the sale of the following described property, have been printed at this office:

Brief Items.

Correspondents who wish their articles published must have them in not later than Saturday. Letters received Monday morning scarcely ever get published. Preaching in the M. E. Church in this borough, every evening this week.

Elmer, a ten year old grand son of Mr. John Swartz, of Center twp., a few days ago was badly burned in the face while playing with powder. He had poured some in a hole and laid a coal on it, but as it did not go off as quick as he thought it would, he went to look at it, when it flashed into his face. It was fortunate it did not spoil his eyesight.

At a regular stated meeting of Newport Christian Temperance Union, on Saturday evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing six months: President—Dr. S. H. Whitmer. 1st Vice President—E. B. Wetse. 2d Vice President—S. K. Boyer. Secretary—G. W. Zinn. Cor. Secretary—A. M. Gant. Treasurer—Elias Beaumont.

Marx Dukas so well known as the manager for Isidor Schwartz of Newport, has taken the business this year for himself. We have no doubt he will use still greater pains to please his customers though he has always been known as an accommodating and agreeable salesman. Mr. D. H. Spotts' services will be retained.

Sudden Death.—The community was shocked on last Tuesday morning to learn of the death of Mr. Zach. Rice, of Spring township. He had returned from mill on Monday and was carrying in some grain bags when a severe pain caused him to stop his work. Going into the house he was laid down but complained he could not get his breath, and in two or three minutes was dead.

Another Sudden Death.—Death has again made a very sudden and unexpected call in this neighborhood, and gives us the painful task of recording the decease of Mr. George Swartz, who resided near this borough. On Friday he ate his supper in his usual health, and proposed to his wife that they go down to the festival. The weather being disagreeable, she prevailed on him not to go. Shortly afterwards, he returned from the barn and complained of terrible pain around his heart. Dr. Strickler was sent for, and subsequently, Doctors Sweny and Hunt were called in, but medical aid was of no avail and shortly after daylight on Saturday morning Mr. S. was a corpse.

An Unfortunate Family.—A son of Geo. Keppler residing in Rye twp., in jumping out of the window at school house No. 2, caught his finger ring on the shutter fastening, stripping the flesh from where the ring was to the finger nail. The boy was taken to Dr. Eppler at Marysville, who amputated the finger. Mr. K. and his family seems to be quite unfortunate, as it is only a few weeks since his wife in crossing a fence jumped on a snag that ran into her foot coming out at the ankle, making a terrible wound. Besides these accidents it is only three weeks since we recorded an accident that happened to Mr. K. while crossing the railroad at Marysville.

An Unusual Accident.—On the morning of the 1st inst., says the Opinion, Mr. J. W. Brechbill, of Hamilton township, in hauling in a load of grain to town with a four horse-team, after crossing the Heysler bridge, just as the front carriage of the wagon dropped from the culvert on the south side, (the grading being deficient) the tongue of the wagon struck the saddle beast with great force, breaking the animal's leg. It was found necessary to kill the beast in order to release it from its sufferings. The accident was one of an unusual character, the oldest teamsters asserting that they never knew of a similar case.

A Strange Proceeding.—The Shippensburg News says: On Christmas morning, a child was placed in one of the passenger coaches on the train going East, at Newville, with the following inscription pinned on its breast: "This is Mary Love, a motherless child. She is going to her grand-mother, Mrs. Mecheney, at Indiana, Pa. She is from Newburgh, Cumberland county, Pa. She is sent in the care of the Conductor." Geo. A. Crooker, Newburg, Cumberland county, Pa., December, 25, 1879.

The cars without escort, money or provisions for the long journey. It was found on the seat by Conductor Freize, after the train had left the station, and as the child could give him no intelligible information about itself, he found himself in quite a predicament. The child, in order to reach its destination as indicated on the card, would have to change cars no less than three times. Mr. Freize at once took hold of the dilemma, and when he reached Harrisburg secured transportation, and telegraphed to each station where the child would have to change cars, and receiving favorable answers, sent the child to her destination, which, we presume, it reached in safety.

A man who would send away a young child in that manner deserves the contempt of every person.

Doings in the Register's Office.—Since our former report the following of public interest has been placed on record in the Register's office:

Table with columns: Estate of, Administrator, Bond. Lists names like Isaac N. Shatto, George Fielsher, $50.

LETTERS TESTAMENTARY. Decedent. Executor. James Gillien, Lewis Gillien. Anna M. Beatty, John Beatty.

MR. EDIMOR.—The Bucks Valley Christian Temperance Union met at the Union church in Bucks Valley, Jan. 3d, 1880, for the purpose of bringing before the people the evil of intemperance. The roads were muddy and rain seemed on the programme for the night, but nevertheless, people came from a distance. The exercises were opened by reading the 1st Psalm and prayer by L. E. Bucke, after which Mr. Jacob Billow the old temperance lecturer was introduced and gave quite an entertaining lecture on the "Two Roads." The first he described as a road of beauty and ease, the second as a dark, hard, and very difficult road to travel. The lecture was quite entertaining, and very forcible. Before the meeting closed, twenty-two names were added to the list of temperance soldiers. J. J. ASPER, Sec.

Juniata County.—We copy the following from the Juniata county papers of last week.

Mr. T. Vosburgh, of this place, while engaged in cleaning his revolver, on Wednesday last week, the piece was accidentally discharged, the ball entering at the wrist and coming out in the palm of the hand. Dr. Woods Sterrett was summoned and dressed the wound, and it is healing rapidly.—Fort Royal Times.

A house belonging to Mr. Jeremiah Zeiders, in Greenwood twp., was destroyed by fire on Monday night, December 22, 1879. The building was a log structure. The household goods were lost in the fire save a few bed clothes and some meat. The family were in bed at the time the house caught fire. The origin of the fire is unknown.

About noon on Saturday, Martha Elizabeth Washington, a colored child, aged about three months, was found dead in its mother's bed in Will's hotel. When the mother saw the child alive the last time, which was about 9 o'clock in the morning, it was to all appearances in good health. An inquest was held by Squire Loudon. Verdict—Accidental strangulation.

On Saturday evening as the wife of Mr. B. F. Martin, of Beale twp., was engaged in ironing, a lighted coal oil lamp was accidentally upset, setting fire to her clothing, but the husband and daughter coming promptly to her rescue she was saved from being seriously and perhaps fatally burned. Mr. Martin was severely burned in his efforts to subdue the flames which had communicated to the carpet, and by his heroic efforts saved his house from destruction.

Cumberland County.—We copy the following from the Cumberland papers of last week:

Dr. John A. Hatton, of Shippensburg, is, we learn, in the Hagerstown jail awaiting trial. The charge against him is, that he took an overcoat at Reiley's hotel, in the above place, and did not return it.

Daniel Ebersole of Hampden twp., lost a fine gray mare last week. He had been working her all day, and in the evening, while returning from the watering place she suddenly began to stagger, and in a few moments dropped dead. No cause is assigned for the sudden manner in which she met her death.

A young man named Clough, was accidentally shot in the left leg, a few inches above the knee, by a young son of Mr. Harry Walters, on Wednesday night of last week, on the public square, in Shippensburg. The wound although quite painful, is not considered dangerous. Both lads were engaged in "shooting off the old year."

On Monday afternoon, a young, well-dressed man was noticed breaking into the residence of Rev. Young, pastor of the U. B. church, living on Railroad street, in Newville, during the absence of the family. The alarm was given when he fled, pursued by officer Best and a number of men. When near Ahl's mule yard, about one-fourth mile from the borough, the accused pulled out his revolver when shots were exchanged between him and officer Best. They finally clinched, and during the melee the officer was shot in the leg above the knee by the prisoner who was at once taken into custody. Officer Byers placed the prisoner, who gave the name of Frank Howard, in jail on Tuesday. He represented that he was a resident of Washington City, and worked in a barber shop on Pennsylvania Avenue. He is said to have been perfectly sober at the time, and says when he broke into the house he was in search of something to eat. In our opinion old Mother Cumberland will pay for his boarding for some time. Constable Best's wound was attended to by Dr. Stewart, who probed it, but was unable to obtain the ball.

Local Institute.—A Local Institute will be held at Landsburg, commencing Friday evening, Jan. 23d and continuing till Saturday evening. All teachers in adjoining districts are expected to be present. Directors, patrons and all friends, of education, are cordially invited to be present and to participate in the discussion. S. B. FANESTOCK, Co. Supt.

The family of the deceased desire to say their thanks to the people of the town and vicinity for their kindness and sympathy in their affliction.

Lines on the death of our school-Charles A. Evans who died Jan. 3d, 1880, requested to be published in the Bloomfield Times.

Clasp his pale fingers Above his white breast; Lay him down softly And leave him to rest. Sweetly he slumbers, For sickness is o'er; Love and caresses He needeth no more. Press on his forehead, The last kiss of love, Angels have welcomed Our darling above. Jesus hath called him, Pure, undefiled; Take comfort sad weeper, 'Tis well with the child. Composed by one of the pupils belonging to his school in East Waterford.
