The Maine Legislature.

AUGUSTA, Me., February 3,-In the house an order was passed that the committee on the alleged bribery of members of this house shall be instructed to proceed at once with the investigation, and report as soon as possible. It was also ordered that the judiciary committee inquire as to the advisability of amending the constitution of the state so that the right of suffrage shall be limited to those who are able to read and write the English language.

THE REPUBLICAN State Convention which met in Harrisburg, completed its task and adjourned on Wednesday.

A resolution instructing the delegates to the National Convention to vote for Grant, and to vote as a unit, was passed by a vote of 133 to 113. John A. Lemon, of Blair county, was nominated for Auditor General, and Henry Green for Justice of the Supreme Court.

The effect of the resolution on the presidential question, is looked at, according to the prejudice of the person.-The Blain men are not much scared and the Grant men are not very jubilant, though as a general thing, all except those favoring the Grant movement,and some of them even -think it a great error to instruct at this early day for any one. It is evident that Grant has no chance of being a Presidential candidate by a unanimous choice, and he has several times stated he would not accept a nomination except it was so offered.

A Peculiar Court Scene.

In Washington last week a scene which has never had a parallel in the world was witnessed in the red chamber of the Supreme Court of the United States. Upon the assembling of the court, a Washington attorney arose, and made the motion for the admission of ex-Governor Joel Parker, of New Jersey, to practice before that august tribunal. This was granted. To the surprise of the Judge and the spectators, the famous female lawyer Mrs. Bella Lockwood made a similar motion on behalf of a keen but mahogany-complexioned attorney from Alabama. This also was granted, and then the old war Governor of the Jerseys, the war hoss of the Democracy, and a probable Presidential candidate, stood side by side with the "man and brother" and took the solemn oath. It was a scene worthy of an artist's pencil-a combination of woman's rights, the Fifteenth Amendment and iron-elad Democracy. Ex-Governor Parker was immensely tickled with the incident, and speaks of it as embodying the liberality of the age, which it unequivocally does. The colored lawyer was the first one ever admitted to practice before the Supreme Court.

A Strange Story.

POTTSVILLE, Feb. 2 .- About two weeks ago a little boy in one of the public schools at this place horrified the teacher by remarking that he knew of a new way to kill bables. Being asked what the new method was, he replied: "Pitch it around and eatch it like a ball," adding that he had seen two women doing this on Guinea Hill, a disreputable quarter of the town. The story was placed in the hands of the police, but for several days it could not be traced, and the impression was gaining ground that the boy had been indulging his imagination, when a clue was struck which led to the arrest, on Saturday, of a young woman named Mary Newman on a charge of infanticide. The woman was commited to prison to await a hearing, and the affair was kept quiet; but the principal facts leaked out to-day. So far as can be learned, they are as follows: Mary Newman, a girl of 18, came here from Philadelphia, three or four months ago, and took lodging with a notorious couple named Seitzinger, living on Guinea Hill.

She said she had been sent here by a wealthy Philadelphia gentleman, whose name she refused to give. Though so young she drank heavily; seemed to have little sense of moral responsibility and frequently threatened that if her child was born alive it should not live long. On Christmas day the child was born, and several days afterward, when the mother had regained strength enough to carry out her fiendish threats, she and another woman took the child's life as the boy describes by tossing it from one to the other until the rough handling killed it. Seitzinger then took it away and buried it. This is the story told by the neighbors. Mary was drunk when arrested, and said she was guilty, but did not seem to know what the word meant. She, however, accused the other woman of helping her. This one has not yet been arrested, and her name is, therefore, withheld. A thorough investigation will be had as soon as possible.

. How to Stop a Paper.

The following from one of our exchanges so fully and clearly expresses our view upon the subject, that we copy it with comment:

"You have an undoubted right to stop a newspaper whenever you are disposed, upon paying all arrearages. Do not hes-Itate to do so on account of any "tenderness of feeling " for the editor. Don't you suppose he would stop buying sugar of you, or meat, clothing, dry goods, etc., etc., if he thought he was not getting his money's worth? And when you discontinue your paper, do so manfully. Don't be so pitiful as to throw it back to the postmaster with a contemptuous, "I don't want it any longer!" and have "refused" written on the margin, and have the paper returned to the editor. No gentleman ever stopped a paper in that way, no matter if his head is covered with gray hairs that should be honorable. If you do not wish longer to receive a newspaper, write a note to the editor like a man saying so-and be sure that arrearages are paid. This is the way to stop a paper."

Heavy Bond Robbery.

Fourteen one thousand dollar bonds were stolen yesterday afternoon from the Guarantee Trust and Safe Deposit Company's building, Chestnut street, below Fourth. Treasurer Brown states that he had completed the entry of the bonds and had placed them in an envelope to be put away in his safe, when a man entered the office and inquired of him what four per cent. government bonds were worth. Mr. Brown made an examination and found there were no quotations. He told the individual, and then the latter said, "Well, I guess I'll have to go to the Board of Brokers." He then left the building. A few seconds after his departure Mr. Brown missed the envelope containing the bonds. He inquired of Mr. Cochran, the President, whose desk is in an adjeining room, but commands a view of the treasurer's desk, whether he had taken the bonds. He received a negative response, and then it was discovered that the bonds had been adroitly abstracted. The stolen bonds are six per per cent, gold mortgage coupon bonds of the Crane Iron Company, Nos. 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 638, 639, 640, 641, 642, 643 and 644, of $1,000 each, making in all $14,000. The bonds were held by the Garantee Trust and Safe Deposit Company as collateral. Notice has been given that they have been stolen, and are therefore not negotiable.-The North American, of the 3rd inst.

A Little Girl's Sad Fate.

A little girl recently lost her life in a strange manner when on her way to school. While crossing the railroad track at Whitehall Station her foot got caught between a plank and the rail, and she was unable to extricate herself Her brother, who was with her, tried to help her out of her perilous position, but did not succeed. To add to the horror of her position, passenger train No. 1, due at Allentown at 8:42 A. M., came thundering along, and the little girl, notwithstanding the frantic efforts she and the boy made to free her, was held as in a vise with a horrible death staring her in the face. As the train approached she made a last desperate struggle to disengage herself, and the boy pulled and tugged at her, but all to no purpose. She realized the impending danger and laid down with her head from the track and both legs across the rail. The train came along and cut off both legs, one at the knee and the other at the ankle. She died in about five minutes after suffering great agony. The brother did all in his power to save her life, but his heroic efforts availed nothing. Had it not been for a gentleman who hastened to the rescue of the girl and pushed the boy off the track two lives would have been lost. The engineer did all in his power to stop the train, but the speed was too great to be checked in time to avoid the accident. The Coroner held an inquest this afternoon and rendered a verdict of accidental death.

Crazed by a Bequest of $5.000.

A visitor at the house of Wm. Wells, of Sheridan township, Calhoun county, Mich., a few days ago, was surprised to see a regal court set up in the humble home. In the centre of a room a throne had been placed, and there sat Wells as a king and his wife as a queen, while the three children served as loyal subjects-Wells and wife having jointly become insane, and their insanity having taken this form.

It appears that Wells, recently became heir to a small share of a $5,000 luberitance, and the prospect of getting this small share of a small fortune upset his reason, his wife subsequently following him in his strange hallucination. The affliction came suddenly, but it is thought it will succumb to treatment, in the woman's case at least. Wells is violent and has to be guarded.

The"Herald"Irish Fund.

The New York "Herald" prints a detailed statement of the distress in Ireland, giving in tabular form, County, town and parish and number of suffering in each parish. It appeals for funds to be distributed by its own committee in Ireland, promising that every dollar shall go to relieve actual want, and will print in full names and residences of all donors and give a detail statement of how the money is expended. It heads this "Herald Relief Fund" with a subscription itself of One Hundred Thousand Dollars!

The Recent Earthquake in Cuba.

Letters from Cuba say the recent earthquake was most severe at Vuelta Abajo. Shocks occurred daily from the 22d to the 29th ult. In San Cristobal all publie and most of the private buildings are in ruins, and a company of engineers has been sent there to clear away the debris. No lives were lost but seventeen persons were injured. The shocks were accompanied by a rumbling sound like thunder underground. At Vuelta Abajo, sulphurous eruptions took place and clocks stopped instantly. In some localities great chasms appeared in the earth, through which were projected spouts of water, sand, fossils and fragments of roots of trees.

In a recent mooted court trial one of the disputants, closed his argument in a way that to say the least, was novel and which ran something in this wise: " From what I have said, your Honor, the law, in this case appears to be about all on our side, and if it does not so appear, it is the fault, not of the law, but of a feeble interpretation."-Columbia

The Code brothers, now the most extensive cattle men in Nebraska, began life twenty-two years ago in Nebraska City, supported an aged mother and themselves by selling water by the barrel. Now their cattle range is 85 miles long and 18 miles wide, and in this immense pasturage are 17,500 head of cattle belonging to the brothers.

Miss Knight refused to believe it, and remained faithful to him all these years in the hope that he would return and claim Thurlow Weed says he is Jay Gould's philanthropic adviser. "Whenever a really deserving charity is brought to my attention I explain it to Mr. Gould. He always takes my word as to when and how much to contribute. I have never known him to disregard my advice in such matters. His only condition is that there shall be no publie blazonry of his benefactions. He is a constant and a liberal giver, but he doesn't let his right hand know what his left hand is doing."
