Juniata county has a new paper. It is called the Juniata Herald, is Republican in politics and is published by Wm. M. Allison.

Several communications for this week's paper came to hand too late. They will appear next week.

A festival for the benefit of the Lutheran church and Sunday School, will be held in Pennell's Hall, Dunannon, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week.

Some of our town subscribers might take a glance at the figures on the direction tab. A little change will help the appearance of those figures. Don't you think so?

The huckster wagon of Mr. Henry Fuhrman, broke an axle while going down the ridge to Newport, last week, and made the driver the trouble of transferring his load.

Quite a number of papers have advanced their subscription price on account of the great advance in paper. We keep our price the same as formerly if payment is made in advance.

We had a call last week from Mr. Joseph Work of the Steelton Item. Joe is looking well and doing well, and we feel proud of him as a graduate of the Times office.

On Friday last, considerable ice was stored in the ice houses in this borough. It was from four to seven inches in thickness. The continued cold, has improved the ice so that as we go to press on Monday still better ice is coming in and all fears of a short supply is now over.

Etiquette no longer requires a gentleman to tip his hat, and bob his head like a cork in the water, when meeting a lady acquaintance on the streets. A polite bow, not too stiff nor profound, is the latest.

The farmers made good use of the sleighing on last Wednesday and Thursday. A large amount of produce was hauled down, and the coal piles of the Newport dealers were called on for return loads.

The Fleming property in Carroll township, was sold by the Administrators to David Sweger, for $925. The property is for rent.

Albright's Advice to Editors.—Having received the following letter from Mr. Albright we publish it for the information of editors in general:

New Buffalo, 2-8-80. Mr. Editor.—It is immaterial to you what the motive is, or might be in Albright's friends contradicting the reports that fly from one false tongue to another. Nor does it become an editor to criticize an article or give his opinion in the case. It is unmanly, unlawfully, ungentlemanly and makes him an intermeddler. But some editors carry it to ad infinitum O Tempora O Moras.

Yours Respectfully, J. A. A.

Lest a Good Horse.—William Moretz, of Howe township, lost a valuable horse a few days ago. In unbiting the horse from the team, which had been hauling wood, the single-tree fell on the animal's heels, frightening him, and he started to run away from what he instinctively felt was danger. Heedlessly he plunged along, and rushing into a gutter fell and broke a leg, necessitating his killing in order to terminate his unrelievable misery.—News.

Fire in Dunannon.—A fire broke out at about 1 o'clock on Tuesday night in the back part of the dwelling belonging to J. R. Cromleigh in Dunannon and destroyed the dwelling and store of Mr. C. and the adjoining building occupied as a store and dwelling by Mr. Samuel Rife. Nearly everything was burned on the premises of Mr. Cromleigh. Most of the property was saved from the store of Mr. Rife, but many articles were carried away after removal and some were injured by the snow. The fire also extended to the building owned by Jacob Weaver Sr., but occupied as a confectionery by Alexander Drummond. The building was destroyed, but the stock was mostly saved.

Both Mr. Rife and Mr. Cromleigh are insured sufficiently to cover most of the loss. Had it not been for the snow, the probabilities are that the destruction of property would have been much greater. It is not known how the fire originated, but it is supposed to have been started by a defective flue in the kitchen.

Since the above was in type another correspondent sends the following:

Mr. S. A. E. Rife owned the house occupied by Mr. J. R. Cromleigh, and had it insured in the Farmers and Mechanics of Millersburg for $1600. The house that he occupied was insured in the Farmers of York, for $1400, and his furniture and clothing, which is almost a total loss, was insured in the same company for $450. Mr. J. R. Cromleigh loses almost his entire stock of hardware, furniture and clothing, which he had insured in the Lycoming Co., for $2500, but it will not near cover his loss.

Mr. James P. Cromleigh, who had about 200 bushels of corn stored in Mr. Rife's ware room lost all of it.

Had it not been for the snow on the adjoining houses we might have had a general conflagration, as the wind was blowing strong all the time of the fire which lasted about 2 1/2 hours. A.

A Mixture.—A gentleman who resides in North Middleton township, came to town in a sleigh, a short time ago, to purchase some articles, among which were some groceries and a crock of molasses. When ready to leave for home the articles, including the crock containing the molasses were put into a box under the seat of the sleigh. While on his way home, somewhere along the Sulphur Springs road, he spied a rabbit, and jumped out of the sleigh and caught it. The rabbit was also put into the box for safe keeping. When he arrived at his home he opened the box, when lo! he beheld the crock upset, the bottom of the box covered with molasses, and the rabbit ensconced in the crock. Since which time it is extremely dangerous to say rabbit to that man.—Carlisle Volunteer.

Local Institute will be held as follows: At Dunannon from Friday evening, February 13th, until the evening of the 14th. At Newport, commencing on the evening of the 20th inst. All teachers who can attend these institutes should be present during each session. Directors, pastors, and all friends of education are cordially invited. Teachers are requested to have their pupils prepare work for exhibition at these meetings. That our country has become, and that it remains what it is, is literally due to our public schools. Each year they are improving. Let us unite in our efforts to bring the schools of Perry County to the highest possible standard of excellence.

Information Wanted.—We are in receipt of the following letter, and publish it for the benefit of those concerned:

Shewsbury, Pa. F. MORTIMER & Co. Gentlemen.—If you will send me the full particulars of Mr. Brenner's loss of his valuable mare and harness, and Mr. Selber's buggy, I will by return mail give them some idea where to find them.

Address, DAVID GLADFELTER, Shewsbury, Pa.

Cumberland County.—We copy the following from the Cumberland papers of last week:

Under the special act regulating the county printing at the disposal of the County Commissioners, Sheriff and Treasurer, to the two papers having the largest circulation, the award was made to the Carlisle Herald and the Valley Sentinel for the year 1880.

On Saturday afternoon Howard Koser, of the Doubling Gap Fruit farm, met with an accident whilst attempting to turn the corner of West and Louthere streets, near Col. Williamson's residence, by the buggy coming in contact with the fire plug. Mr. Koser was picked up in an insensible condition and a physician summoned. We are pleased to record that no limbs were broken.—Carlisle Herald.

At the time of the conviction of the three Windowmaker brothers, for torturing and robbing Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Abrams, a wealthy and aged couple living in this county, and who were sentenced to imprisonment, many persons thought them innocent. A petition signed by almost one thousand of the best citizens of the county will be presented to the Board of Pardons at its next meeting, asking that they be discharged. Recent developments still further substantiate their innocence.

Juniata County.—We copy the following from the Juniata county papers of last week:

Mr. Samuel Yohn, of Turbett township, had his right thumb broken on Tuesday of last week, while attempting to unlock a wagon, caused by the handle on which the thumb was resting flying off the ratchet and striking against a cross piece on the wagon bed.

Mr. Benjamin Stimmel, of Port Royal died Sunday night. He ate a hearty breakfast Sunday morning, walked out a while and when he returned to his house he was seized with an apoplectic stroke and died that night about 11 o'clock. Mr. Stimmel was about 70 years old, and was respected by the community in which he lived.—Dem. and Register.

One night last week some nefarious person or persons gained an entrance into the smoke-house of Mr. Dillman, who resides along the pike, about one and a half miles north of town. The smoke-house contained four hams, three shoulders, one fitch and a backbone, all of which were taken except the backbone. This is rather a serious loss to Mr. D. who is a laboring man.

Two of Weller's sons, on the Island, went out a few days ago to catch muskrats. Among the implements of destruction was an axe. As the boys marched, Indian fashion—that is, one behind the other—suddenly the one that had the axe across his shoulder stopped and the boy behind walked up till his head struck the bit. An ugly gash was cut in his forehead.

The accident Mr. Jacob Sulouff met with on Tuesday of last week was a serious one, and it is a miracle that it did not prove fatal. It seems he was engaged in hauling logs, and while his team was off with a load, he was attempting to jack up a log that measured 2 1/2 feet across, when he slipped and fell and the log rolled on him from the left knee to the hip, where fortunately it remained stationary. He cried for help for some ten minutes, in the meantime suffering most excruciating agony. At last Mrs. John Chapple and another woman heard his cries, went to his relief, and with the teamsters who just then returned, released him from his perilous situation. He was under the log for fully 15 minutes. Besides the injury to his leg and hip, his system was so shocked that he could not be removed to his home, but has been lying since at his farm house beyond Horningtown.

Newport, Pa., Jan. 31, 1880.

At a stated meeting of the Newport Christian Temperance Union, on Saturday evening, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted by a rising vote:

Resolved, That a vote of thanks be tendered by the Newport Christian Temperance Union to Mr. M. B. Eshelman, our worthy President of the Perry County Temperance Society, for his untiring energy and devotion to the cause of Temperance, in organizing Christian Temperance Societies in the towns and townships of our County he is the right man in the right place. May the good work continue in his hands until King Alcohol is driven from our County and State.

Resolved, That the above resolution be published in the papers of our County.

HERSCHE-BEAVER—In referring to the marriage of the above parties, we find a lengthy notice in the Providence Independent, from which we make the following extract:

The bridal party consisted of the groom, Rev. S. M. Hench, pastor of the Glade charge, Walkersville, Md., and the bride, Miss Mattie J. Beaver, of this place. The attendants were Rev. George Sorber and Miss Mary Beaver, and as ushers, Revs. Percy Y. Shelly and John H. Bomberger, Messrs. Earnest R. Cassidy and J. Perry Beaver.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. O. P. Smith, pastor of the church, assisted by Rev. J. H. A. Bomberger, D. D., President of Ursinus College. After the services the bridal party and guests proceeded to the residence of the happy bride.

After receiving the numerous congratulations and happy wishes of all present, the party gathered around a table loaded with cakes, fruit and many other good things, prepared in latest style by Mr. J. H. Richards, Colleague.

Music, both vocal and instrumental, was kindly furnished by Misses Cora Rambo, M. T. Kratz, and George Brendlinger. The bride and bridesmaid were handsomely dressed in garnet silk. The former wore a large white veil and orange blossoms. The happy pair received many handsome presents. Among the many might be mentioned a large silver ice piteher from the members of the class of '77, of which Mr. Hench is a member.

Among some of the guests from abroad were Dr. E. M. Beaver and wife, of Palm, Mrs. Dr. Brandt, of Alburtus, Mrs. Shellenberger of Philadelphia, Miss Lizzie Weaver of Macungie, Lehigh county, Miss Georgie Brendlinger of New Hanover, J. A. Straesberger, Esq., and others. On Friday the happy groom and bride left for Washington city, and from there to Perry county, this state, from whence they will proceed to their new home in Walkersville, Md. May happiness be theirs is the wish of their many friends. J.

Penn Township Letter.

MR. EDITOR:—Allow me to make a contribution once more for our as well as your paper. Your contributor has been silent ever since his bee stealing, and as he has completely recovered from the injuries he received on that occasion will now attempt to furnish a few items for the public. In the first place I notice at times, locals, praising your Bloomfield Fur Company. Yes, honor to them, but not all the honor. We are having several agencies in our township that are working the business up very lively. After the sporting companies of Dunannon had almost exhausted the fox chase by the many they had run down and killed, Mr. E. H. Branyan, one of our citizens tried trapping, and has succeeded in capturing five of the sly old Reynards, (so old that they needed a set of artificial teeth.) Others are working up the business successfully; among them our friend R. C. Branyan.

Our town—Dunannon, had a very serious fire on Monday night. The hardware store of John R. Cromleigh, the store of S. Rife and four dwelling houses were entirely destroyed. Mr. Rife's goods were nearly all saved; Mr. Cromleigh's nearly all lost but covered by insurance. Cause of fire was from a chimney that caught from the kitchen stove in the afternoon and broke out in the night.

Quite a number of changes are taking place among our farmers this spring. Mr. J. M. White intends to quit his farm and with that view will sell his large amount of personal property and retire to a less active pursuit. He proposes to make changes at the old Galley homestead and to make that his home.

The property belonging to the Dunkle heirs, known as the Harper farm was sold some time ago to John Kutz for $3,000, and Mr. Kutz will again take his place among us after an absence of several years. A change occurs at the old Branyan farm, and a large sale will be held there where I suppose one never was before. A. G. White is making preparations for building another barn—a White barn of course.

Our schools are all supposed to be in a flourishing condition as the visits of the patrons and those interested in educational matters fully testify. In this letter we extend an invitation to all our friends to call and see us.

The matrimonial market bids fair to be brisk and active in this town as the storm of another winter blow over it. Our young friend A. B. White led off at the opening of the season and to him and lady and all who follow we wish a long, happy life. As my letters come only at long intervals I had better change my name from Dave to SELDOM.

Dunannon, Pa. Feb. 5, 1880.

The following letter from a former resident of this county, who has located in Kansas, may interest our readers:

Buffalo, Grove Co., Kans., Jan. 25, 1880.

Mr. Editor—As I am anxious to hear the news from other parts, I will try to give you some from this country. This is grand Kansas, but I have not seen any roasted turkeys on the fence stakes yet. We have settled in a good locality on the Salline River, 25 miles west of Wakeeny and 7 miles from Buffalo Park, and 5 miles from the Railroad.

Your many readers may wish to know what kind of soil we have in this section. It is the best in the State. The ground, to the depth of two feet, is as black as "mother's dinner-pot," and under this for eight feet, the earth is of an ash color. The older settlers say it is just as good as the top. There is nothing like gumbo land in this country. We can boast of what old Perry cannot, and that is of native lime—it is nice and white, makes good mortar and nice white wash, but not so strong as your lime in the east. This country has no high grass—it is buffalo grass, three inches long and very thick on the ground. It is good for stock. I have seen horses and cattle here that have had no hay, grain, or shelter, and they are in good condition.

The climate is mild—no snow and little more wind than in the east. Some of our readers may think this country is as level as a floor, but it is not. The prairies are rolling, which is all the better for farming purposes.—There is not a tree, fence, or stone to bother a man here. The road is wherever you drive.—It appeared strange to me at first, but I have got used to it. We have all kinds of houses. Some of wood, stone, sods and some dug-outs. A dug-out is a hole dug in the ground, about 6 feet deep, covered with willow brush, then ground on top. These are numerous, and you can't see them until you are close by. A sod house is built of sods. The walls are two feet thick, sod roof and plastered inside. Cook, sleep and eat all in one room. In most of the houses in this country, the roof forms the ceiling. Frontier life is pretty rough—our bread is what we call fish mull, something made of flour, soda and water, meat and molasses is our grub. I will tell you some other time what we have for fuel. I would not advise any person to come here without money enough to keep him for one year, or he will see hard times, especially a laborer. A mechanic, will do well, particularly a stone mason, there being plenty of that work here and the best of material; we use saws in place of hammers. This country is wild, the people work and hunt on Sunday. There is no preaching here—few christians hold a prayer-meeting on Sundays. There is plenty of room for some good preacher here, and I think some ought to come. Single men are best, they can stand the frontier life better. I will close for fear of taking up too much space in your valuable paper and worrying your many readers. You will hear from me again.

Yours respectfully, W. P. DELANCEY.
