Two Sudden Deaths .- On Sunday a week Mr. Henry Long and his family, came to visit his brother Darius, in Centre township. In the evening after running around apparently in good health, he had an attack of Strangulated hernia.-Doctors Strickler, Hook and Conrad, were called in and performed an operation, but after terrible suffering until Monday noon, he was released by death. The deceased was an estimable citizen of Saville township.

On Tuesday morning the citizens of this borough were shocked to hear that the body of Miss Ida Abrams would be brought home that day. She had been on a visit for several weeks among her friends in Maryland, and was expected to return home very shortly. Notice of her death had not been preceded by any intimation of her illness, and consequently the shock was the greater. Her death occurred in Baltimore, where she had stopped to visit some relatives .-Miss Ida was a daughter of Mr. Joseph Abrams, a former merchant of this borough, and was a young lady who was esteemed by all who knew her. The family have the sympathy of the entire community in this sad and sudden offliction.

A School Decision .- State Superintendent Wickersham has decided that there is but one time in the year when directors can adopt a new series of text books or the schools under their charge, or change old ones, and that is between the time of electing teachers and the opening of schools, and that it must be done immediately after the election of teachers, at a joint meeting of directors and teachers, and furthermore, books cannot be changed in a school district mere frequently than once in three years.

Of Interest to Supervisors .- Judge Futhey, of Chester county, in his charge to the grand jury, last week, made some points which are of importance to township supervisors. He alluded to the fact that there are many places in the public roads and at bridges, where, on a dark night serious accidents might occur. He says that there is no doubt that the supervisors of the townships in which such accidents may occur can be held responsible therefor, and he drew attention to the case recently tried in the court of which he presides, in which the township of Schuylkill was held liable in heavy damages in a suit brought against it by the widow of Charles Crossman.

Watches Stolen .- On the first of January some persons entered W. H. Gantt's jewelry store and purloined four watches which had been left for repairs. Mr. Gantt kept the matter quiet, hoping to gain a "clue" to the thief, and was rewarded on Wednesday morning by hearing that R. L. Armstrong, blacksmith, had a watch which he had taken on pawn, and which proved to be one of the stolen time-pieces. Mr. Armstrong stated that he received the watch from a man named Wm. Goodyear, sometime since, and advanced him $1.50 on it.— Constable Saylor was notified, and in a very short time had Goodyear in custody and soon learned that the remaining watches were pawned in Harrisburg .-The Constable accompanied Goodyear to Harrisburg on Wednesday where one of the watches was recovered; but the best one had been traded off the day they were stolen for one old almost worthless, and that one pawned. Another, and the last watch, he disposed of to a woman named Fannie Carothers, who keeps a "hotel" along Canal street, in Harrisburg. This one was not recovered, Mrs. C. having disposed of it. Good-year and the constable returned to Newport by the evening train, and the watches were handed over to Mr. Gantt. We have not heard whether suit will be entered, but there should be at least an arrest made and the culprit bound over for trial.-Ledger.

Cumberland County .- We copy the following from the Cumberland papers of last week :

The citizens of Shippensburg borough have made a grand improvment by introducing gas into their houses, churches and street lamps. For this step they deserve to be congratulated, but it should be followed up ere long with the introduction of water, and a first class steam fire engine with about 1600 feet of hose. They already have a number one place to but the steamer and hose. to put the steamer and hose.

A sad, and rather sudden death occurred in Newville last week. Mrs. Myers who had been ill for some time, suddenly sprang from her bed and fell upon the floor. Her husband who was near at the time, placed her on the bed and quickly summoned a physician but before his arrival, the vital spark of life had fled.—Apoplexy is assigned as the cause of her death.

Early last Friday morning Mr. Joseph Kutz and family, of North Middleton township, were awakened by the crack-ling caused by the burning of the roof of their smoke-house. The whole fami-ly was at once aroused and rushing out they by some considerable effort succeedthey by some considerable effort succeeded in quenching the flames by throwing water thereon. The family of Mr. Newman, on Main street, narrowly escaped suffocation by coal gas, on Saturday a week. Mr. N. was away, and the inmates consisting of wife, children and Nellie Woodburn, found themselves all very sick in the morning. It was occasioned by a bed of sahes which had been thrown on the fire, intended to keep it, which forced the gas out from below. Others should take warning by this method of preserving fire through the night.—Newville Star.

On Saturday last, Mack Bryner and his brother William, and Wm. Taylor, of Spruce Hill township, came to Port Royal, and managed pretty easily to put themselves on the outside of a large amount of bad whiskey, and after staggering through the streets of our village for some time, they started for home.—
When in the vicinity of Mr. Jacob Sulouff's lime kiln, it is said Mack and his brother commenced quarreling with each other and in the melee Wm. Taylor was stabbed with a knife several times in the shoulder and neck. His condition is very critical.

Mr. Editor :—Landisburg is still with an occasional event of interest to the general reading public, one or two of which I will note for their benefit.

On Monday evening the 19th of January, the Rev. John Garman of Shermansdale addressed the people of this community at the Fresbyterian Church Lecture Room, on the subject of Temperance. Mr. G. is an experienced hard at the business, from both aspects of the subject pro and con, having at one time been a tavern keeper and now for many years having been a temperance advocate and preacher of the Gospel. He is withal generous in his treatment of the poor fellows who are the victims of the appetite for strong drink. He says it is not the mean, slingy man who is so much in danger, as the generous young chap, who "plants" his last quarter on the counter and says, "Come boys, who cares for expenses." It is often too the bright, intelligent man of the country who is addicted to this vice. From these points of view he argued the importance of saying these liberal and intelligent once for the wifare of the community and the benefit of the church of Jesus Christ. They are lost to usefulness as citizens and to duty and liberality as christians. These are important facts and reasons. Coming, too, as they do from one who knows by a wide observation and comparison of the facts and truth of them at least in his experience, they should have their weight—with all good temperance people in and out of the church. Duncannon has no broils of any account by reason of Intemperance. Landisburg, or Spring township. I am sorry to say has, or recently has had. At one of the eales held in that township there were a number, some say forty or more young men, drunk and bolsterons. It is alleged that they brought stimulants with them. The says here the country or more young men, drunk and bolsterons. It is alleged that they brought stimulants with them. The says here and the says in the s ance. Landsburg, or spring township. I am corry to say has, or recently has had. At one of the cales held in that township there were a number, some say forty or more young men, drunk and boisterons. It is alleged that they brought stimulants with them. This is probably true, but they added to what they brought after they got there. One man by the name of Morrison was turned out of the grounds by the parties reciding on the place, but afterwards kept bis stand on the public road unmolested. It is alleged that he had hard cider and beer (7) what kind we don't know. The Sheriff and Constable had better make it their business to find out, as both of them were on the grounds, so that there may have been have been no violation of the license law, which has been canacted to protect us from irresponsible people selling that which intoxicates, if we are by the church to be protected from "irresponsible" temperance advocates.

We have had another event, more pleasing in its nature. This was the presence and preaching of a colored brother, Rev. Bosley. As you had him in your community previously to our having had him here, it may not be necessary to relate what he said. People in other parts of the County will probably be favored by him with an opportunity of hearing his story, and can then judge for themselves. He is "quite a good specimen," as he himself says, "of the colored race." He preached here in three of the churches on the Sabbath day, and lectured on his escape from slavery and the religious progress of his race since the war, on Monday evening the 9th inst., in the war, on Monday evening the 9th inst., in the war, on Monday evening the 9th inst., in the war, on Monday evening the 9th inst., in the war, on Monday evening the 9th inst., in the war, on Monday evening the 9th inst., in the war, on Monday evening the 9th inst., in the war, on Monday evening the 9th inst., in the war, on Monday evening the 9th inst., in the war, on Monday evening the 9th inst., in the war, on Monday evening the 9th inst., in the wa

FOR THE TIMES. The Temperance Reform.

There are in every neighborhood good christian people, leaders of society, patterns of propriety, and to whom the people look for the advancement of education, morality and religion. To these persons we would address a few kind words. Next to the Church, the Temperance meetings are the most important and useful in training the young in the way they should go. No person is too good to take a part in them, and until the churches make it a subject of preaching and prayer, the temperpart in them, and until the churches make it a subject of preaching and prayer, the temperance meetings will be necessary. If you wait until the people all ask for a meeting, that time will never come; for the Evil One is working all the time, privately, and we must fight him publicly or not at all. We must educate the people before they will feel right on this question. A volcano may be quiet for years, and then without warning, burst forth in all its fary; but people are not volcanoes. Did you ever know of a church revival without the church members organized the meeting, and made an effort to interest the people? Just so is this case, you don't know what a strong temperance sympathy is lying dormant among your people until you try to arouse it. If you wait for grand beginnings you will always wait. Two or three earnest souls in a township or village can kindle a fire that will arouse all the dormant. Brother, if upon you devolves the responsibility of forming a tempervolves the responsibility of forming a temper-ance society, don't wait for better times, don't wait for some one to get excited. Go to work now; announce your meeting, procure an carnest sober speaker; trust in God, pray for now; announce your meeting, procure an earnest sober speaker; trust in God, pray for grace and help, and though slow may be the progress, sure will be your reward. There are to-day in Perry county several good working Unions which started with very inauspicious prospects, but they have done a great good, and helped the revivals in the churches. The full benefit will never be revealed until the resurrection day, and not until that day will the workers be rewarded. This week we have helped to organize the Fairview Union in Oliver township, with Mr. John Mitchell, President; and we expect great results therefrom. The Methodist church in Newport which has taken a very active part in temperance reform, is now enjoying a great revival and have had forty conversions, while almost every meeting brings out more anxious ones. God will bless the temperance churches, and we pray daily that His grace will so enliven the members that they will soon all be temperance churches, and then Satan will soon lose his moral support, and be forced to wage his warfare under his true colors. Dear temperance friende, let us work with a will, with faith, and with love to all. When you need help let me know and if possible I will be with you.

> For THE TIMES. Blain Fur Company.

Blain Fur Company.

Mr. Editor:—Reading in your paper the reports of different fur companies, we will endeavor to give you a brief sketch of the Blain Fur Company. They have properly and fully organized now, and one new member has been added to their ranks. The shoemaker shop of Wm. M. is their head-quarters. In their main hous the whole company is engaged in the pursuit. At other times there may perchance be only one or two on the chase. Every chase is reported at head-quarters, an entry of which report is made in the records of the company. Their business is transacted in a systematic and business like manner. The reports thus far this season, show that the company have caught 19 Raccoon, with the prospect of catching many more. The exact number of foxes caught we can not report, but we know that last week they came in with four, and Nimrod and the 'Squire say that, if, on their last hunt, the shoemaker would have kept up, they could have secured several more. But he, (the shoemaker) being rather short winded, like the Irishman's horse, got more wind the farther he went, and was therefore compelled to lay over, and the chase was abandoned. The last animal they captured was a catamount. On this day the whole band was out, accompanied for the first time by the new member, D. S. This young man was unused to the wild and fearful scenes of a hunting expedition; and when they came in contact with this frightful animal, and noticing the forceity with which it gave battle, he took a straight streak down the mountain.

FOR THE TIMES.

The minutes of the District Institute composed of the townships of Tyrone, Spring and borough of Landisburg, are as follows:

Institute was called to order. Mr. Clarence Cooper was chosen President, and Milton B. Gibson, Secretary.

The first question discussed was, "How can we best prevent tardiness in the morning?" and was opened by Mr. J. C. Preisler, followed by Mr. A. Hager, Mr. D. W. Dunkleberger, M. B. Gibson and Mr. Cooper. The next question, "How can we best teach spelling in primary classes?" opened by Mr. Hager, followed by Mr.Preisler, Mr. Cooper and Mr. Dunkleberger. The third question, "What is the method of holding a public examination?" opened by Mr. Cooper, followed by Mr. Cooper, followed by Mr. Hager.

Query: "Should pupils be allowed the same playshings at school as a judicions parent would allow them to use at home?" answered by Mr. Preisler in the affirmative.

It was resolved that the next meeting of the Institute be held in the St. Peters school house on Thursday evening, March 11th, 1880. The questions proposed for the next meeting are as follows; flow can we best teach grammar? How shall we teach current events ? How do you dismiss your school. Institute then adjourned to meet as above stated.
