Shooking Tragedy.

The Harrisburg Patriot says: a correspondent writing from Bainbridge, Lancaster county, under date of February 16, gives the following particulars of a tragedy which was discovered on Saturday morning last.

Charles Laue, wife and two children, came to Bainbridge last May from the state of Maryland, and commenced keeping house in town until November last, when they again visited their native state. The husband returned again in a few days without his family, saying they had separated, and commenced selling off what household goods they had; but about the 14th of December the wife, with three children, returned again, the youngest child being only three weeks old, they again set up housekeeping after being fostered by the people of the town for a week or more and nothing was thought of it until Saturday forenoon when the nearest neighbor, John Miller, imagined that something was wrong, not having seen any of the family for three or four days. After making it known an investigation was made when it was discovered that the father had murdered the wife and two children and then suicided by taking poison

There seems to be more of a mystery connected with the tragedy than is explained by the facts furnished by our correspondent, as above given. It seems incredible that a whole family should be driven to desperation through destitution in a neighborhood of liberality and plenty. It looks to us at this distance as if Lane had quarreled with his wife, and, striking a fatal blow, concluded to cover up the crime by making a clean job of the whole family. If to put the family out of misery were his only object, why not confine himself to poison as the only instrument of death?

An Extraordinary Acoldent.

The N. Y. World of the 16th inst says, Uar No. 7, of the Fourth avenue line, was going up town yesterday afternoon at about 1 30 o'clock filled with passengers, including a number of ladies. At Twelfth street the progress of the car was suddenly arrested. The horses had been trotting at a six-mile gait. Before anybody in the car could move, a long strip of iron forced its way endwise through the floor of the car, passed through the seat on the west lower corner on which Samuel Glover, forty years old, a merchant of Fairfield, Conn., was sitting, and crushing through the thin seat penetrated Mr. Glover's thigh and passing on lodged against the end of the car. The car was brought to a stand still. The strip of iron was in such a position that Mr. Glover, who had become almost unconscious from the agony he was suffering, was literally nailed to his seat. Officer Mulcahey, of the Mercer street police, came up and procured axes and saws, with the assistance of several of the passengers cut away the rear end of the car to release Mr. Glover. After fifteen minutes hard work the rail was released from its lodgment, but still the unfortunate passenger could not be released. With a penknife Officer Mulcahey managed to cut away the lacerated flesh of Mr. Glover's thigh and to release him. A hack was procured and he was taken to the Ashland House, where he was stopping. Physicians were sent for and pronounced his injuries exceedingly serious.

The accident was of a very singular character. The tracks of the road are used not only by the street-car but by heavily laden freight-cars, in transit from the Grand Central Depot to the freight depot in Centre street. On steam roads such things have happened before, but they have not been reckoned hitherto among the dangers of horse-car travel.

A Dr. Pruden, of Benton, Minn., walk. ed into a prayer-meeting recently with an open Bible in his hand and an open, that is to say a cocked, revolver in the other. He intimated there was quite too much controversy ever the meaning of a certain Scriptural passage, and that he intended to shoot any one who differed with him on the subject. It is needless to say that the congregation unanimously adopted his

Captured by a Dog.

New York, Feb. 18 .- The term of imprisonment of Joseph Boeckman, one of the desperadoes who terrorized Reading. Pa., last winter, expired this morning and he was released. A Reading officer was on hand to rearrest him, but on seeing the the officer he fled. He was captured by a Newfoundland dog, and will be sent back to Reading.

A Mean Man.

A farmer three miles north of Cairo, Ill., was owing a hired man $12, and it was the hired man's misfortune, in felling a tree, to kill a yearling calf. The thrifty farmer charged him $13 for the calf, and sold the meat and bide. A Cairo justice, however interfered to protect the laborar.

C. B. LITTLEFIELD & Co.— DEAR SH:— I have been troubled with Catarrh in all its forms for the last 20 years, and have used all remedies recommended to cure, but received little or no benefit, until I tried the Constitutional Catarrh Remedy. I have only used one bottle and a half, and I am so much better that I can say it has cured me. My daughter-in-law has also been afflicted for the last four years. She is now using the remedy with the same result. I can truly say it is a wonderful medicine, as I know from experience that it will cure any case of Catarrh. I formerly lived at Napanee, Ont. Hoping that you will introduce the medicine through the Dominion thoroughly, so that my fellow sufferers may have an opportunity of getting cured of this disease, Yours respectfully.
