THE STORM of Friday last extended over a great part of the country. At Cleveland, Indianapolis, Toledo and at many other places considerable damage was done.

HON. EDWARD McPHERSON, has severed his connection with the Philadelphia Press, for the purpose of accepting the Secretaryship of the National Republican Committee.

THE House Committee on Coinage has agreed to report a bill to retire the trade dollar. It is time this was done. It is a legal tender or it is not. If it is not, then Congress should realize both the necessity and expediency of calling it in, and giving to the country "the dollar of the daddies," which is recognized by people and Government as the only rightful silver dollar, even though intrinsically its value is less than the trade dollar.

Horses Afflicted With Smallpox.

The smallpox which has broken out among the horses excites less alarm as the nature of the disease becomes known. Montreal was visited by it in February, 1877, when it was not as prominent as at present, it having spread considerably of late. It is not fatal, but it is a cutaneous affection known as variola equina. It is easily communicated to man, but never with any more disastrous effect than is experienced from the ordinary vaccination of a human being with cow virus.

The Last Survivor of Perry's Victory Dead.

A Shelby Ohio exchange says: On Sunday morning last the news spread over our town that Mr. John Rice died at 8 o'clock. Many were heard to say, "and so the old veteran is gone at last." He was a few months over ninety years old, and, we believe, was born in Juniata county Pennsylvania.

The funeral services were held on Tuesday 10th inst., and hundreds were in attendance, thus paying their last respects to the remains of the last survivor of Perry's victory. His remains were escorted to the grave by the Shelby Cornet Band, the Shelby Light Artillery and the Shelby Light Guards; also Mr. Solomon Firoved, a veteran of 1812, and soldiers of the Mexican and late civil war. The clergy of the village conducted the funeral services in the M. E. Church, which were very impressive.—The public schools dismissed for the day and the pupils and teachers attended in a body. Col. John Dempsey had charge of the arrangement for burial, and deserves much credit for his ability in conducting it. The principal cities of Ohio paid their respects by lowering flags to half mast. We cannot close this article without referring to the aged hero's experience at Put-in-Bay, Sept. 10th, 1813.

In the summer of 1813, he enlisted under Com. Perry. By August 2d, Perry's fleet was equipped and on the 4th sailed to meet the enemy. Being disappointed in this they cruised in the vicinity of Malden till the 10th, when the fleet consisting of nine vessels and fifty four guns sailed to meet Commodore Barclay, who was in command of the British fleet of six vessels and sixty guns. The Union Jack was hoisted at eleven o'clock, having for its motto the dying words of the lamented Lawrence: "DON'T GIVE UP THE SHIP."

This was received with repeated cheering by officers and crews. The subject of this sketch was on board the Scorpion, commanded by Captain Champion, and his duty was to carry powder to the guns. He said, in relating what he remembered of the battle, that broadside after broadside was hurled against Perry's vessels, and he saw the gallant Commodore after his flag ship "Lawrence" was shot to pieces, being rowed to the Niagara. Two of the enemy's vessels were within gunshot of his course as he was passing the Niagara, and a third one even nearer, while the balls struck around the gallant little crew thick and fast, dashing the water in all directions and making their chance to reach their destination seem hazardous in the extreme. Amid deafening cheers and shouts they boarded the good Niagara, and amid the same cheers, up rose again the colors that had been shot from the ill-fated Lawrence, and once more they waved over a gallant crew. The final result is a matter of history and now the very last participant in that world renowned action, on the side of the victorious Americans, has been laid away, and will no more tell of the roar of cannon as he heard it on September 10th, 1813.

Mr. Rice, years ago, settled as a farmer a few miles from this place. His life has been a quiet uneventful one for many a year. For some time past he has made his home with Mr. A. Straub, of Shelby, when he died.

[His only brother, now resides in Madison township, this county, and is about 80 years of age. Mr. Rice was born, some of his friends say in Chester county, and some think in Juniata Co.—ED. TIMES.]

A special dispatch from Slaughterville, Ky., to the "Gazette" says: Town Marshal Brown on Monday last shot Edward Griffin in the abdomen, from which he died yesterday. Griffin had just returned from two years service in the penitentiary for an assault on a woman, and had threatened to "get even" with Brown, who had been instrumental in his conviction. He attacked Brown while drunk with the above result.

The frequency of shooting in this vicinity will show that the place is appropriately named.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., March 4.—Waring Schooley, aged fourteen years, son of Joseph Schooley, a prominent citizen, was found in an unconscious condition. On examination it was discovered that he had been shot, and probably fatally wounded, by some person unknown. When the boy was carried into the house his mother dropped dead. Great excitement prevails over the affair.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, March 4.—A dispatch from Circleville, Ohio, says: "The Cincinnati and Muskingum Valley railroad depot was struck by lightning at an early hour this morning and the building with its contents was burned to the ground. Loss, $4,000. Insurance small."

Within a circle of three miles of New Oxford, Adams county, there are at present more than fifty cases of diphtheria and scarlet fever, and many are dying, mostly children.

The Allentown Chronicle, under the head of "A Matrimonial Fix," states that Mr. Smith, a widower of Grimsville, Lehigh county, has married the widow Snyder's daughter and Mr. Smith's son has married the widow.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 3, 1880.

It is believed by everybody in Congress that the rules yesterday adopted by the House will facilitate legislation by allowing the will of the majority to be more readily expressed. There are only about one third as many rules as before, and they are no more difficult to understand, each by itself or collectively, than the others, yet they cover everything covered by the larger number.

If, now, the House will wrestle for a month or two with the appropriation bills, giving its time only to them and a few other measures of general interest, there may be realized the Speaker's prophesy of adjournment in May. This will leave the business of the country to take care of itself, which is what is needed and what it wants, and will remove from men's minds the idea that Congress is resolving itself into a machine to influence Presidential nominations.

By three separate votes the House Committee on Ways and Means showed its determination not to interfere with tariff matters at this session. Except in the matter of printing materials there had been no greater influence brought to bear in favor of change than was presented against change. It may be considered settled, I think, that Congress will order a commission of citizens, who will be authorized to inquire into necessary and judicious changes in the tariff laws, and that no important action will be taken until the report of the Commission is received and considered.

Senator Randolph on Monday, called up the noted case of Gen. Fitz John Porter, and spoke subsequently in behalf of the bill, which in substance restores that officer to his rank in the army from which he was dismissed after trial in 1863. The bill for restoration is based on an inquiry subsequently made by authority by Generals Schofield, Terry and Geety, who, after examining new evidence, declared the General not guilty of the offences for which he was dismissed. Senator Logan spoke yesterday in opposition to the bill. There will be a considerable debate probably, but not a partisan one, and the bill is sure to pass.

What are known as the "States rights" cases were disposed of on Monday by the U. S. Supreme Court. The decision virtually declares for one thing that State laws which prevent the selection of colored men as jurors are in violation to the fourteenth amendment of the Constitution.

The public debt statement is reported by Secretary Sherman to have been decreased to the amount of nearly six million in February. This is very good showing.

Miscellaneous News Items.

A valuable Pottsville horse bit his tongue so severely on Monday that three and a half inches of it had to be cut off. He will be saved.

The rollers of the Birdsboro, Bucks county, iron works are out on a strike, their demand for a 20 per cent. advance in wages having been refused.

A Pottsville lad, in imitation of the girls, jumped 384 times and then gave up for want of breath. In the evening he took violently sick, and died two days later.

Mark Sumner, a Baptist minister, was sentenced by Judge Brown, in the United States District Court at Louisville, to confinement of six years in the Albany, N. Y., penitentiary for forging pension papers.

CINCINNATI, March 2.—To-day Luke Smith, a butcher, found his wife holding improper relations with John Hannahan. He at once attacked Hannahan with a knife and cut him seven times, with fatal effect.

SCRANTON, March 2.—Last evening some prisoners attacked the keeper of the Warren county, New Jersey, jail at Belvidere. The keeper was overpowered and nine of the prisoners escaped.

A young man at Omaha did not wish to marry the girl to whom he was engaged, but she would not release him until he gave her his grocery business as a recompense. She now runs the store, while he works elsewhere on small wages, and the bargain pleases both.

ALLENTOWN, March 2.—Work in the rail mill of the Allentown rolling mill company was shut down this evening by the managers on account of the demand by the employees for an advance of ten per cent. About two hundred men were thrown out of work.

While a Mr. Caples, living near Edwinstown, Ga., was clearing a new ground, a daughter, some ten or twelve years of age, carried a little brother to where her father was at work. On reaching the place she sat the little one down and picked up an axe with which she felled a small tree. In falling, the tree struck the little one and killed it almost instantly.

An unprovoked murder was committed at Waldo, Ohio, Wednesday night. Enoch Young got into a fight with two boys in a saloon and received rough handling. He left saying he would fix them, and returned with a large knife. With this he stabbed Israel Bensley, who had taken no part in the affray, twice, once in the face and once in the region of the heart, causing instant death. Young is now in jail.

Tribute of Respect.

At a meeting of the Perry County Medical Society, held at Bloomfield, on Friday, March 5, 1880, the following proceedings were had, to wit:

WHEREAS, Divine Providence has removed from our midst W. D. Ard, M. D.;

And whereas, it is eminently proper that we should place on record our high estimate of his personal character and professional worth;

Resolved, That in Dr. Ard, the profession has lost a member of great moral and professional integrity, an earnest worker, an upright and intelligent practitioner.

Resolved, That the community have met with a severe loss in the decease of one who has ministered to their wants with skill and patience, and, who by his kindness and sympathy, has endeared himself to all who knew him.

Resolved, That the Perry County Medical Society has lost an active and earnest member, a man who has taken a lively interest in its success, and contributed much to its support and advancement.

Resolved, That, ever anxious to maintain the honor and dignity of the profession, and ever honorable in his intercourse with his professional brethren, Dr. Ard had, at the close of a short but useful career, set an example worthy of imitation, and for these his sterling virtues, we will fondly cherish his memory.

Arm and Hammer Brand.

Absolutely and Chemically Pure.

CHURCH & CO'S

BI-CARB.

SODA

SALERATUS

Which is the same thing.

Insure Saleratus or Bi-Carb Soda (which is the same thing) is of a slightly dirty white color. It may appear white when examined by itself, but a COM-PARISON WITH CHURCH & CO'S ARM AND HAMMER BRAND will show the difference.

See that your Saleratus and Baking Soda is white and pure, as should be ALLSIMILAR SUBSTANCES used for food.

A similar but severe test of the comparative value of different brands of Soda or Saleratus is to dissolve a dessert spoonful of each kind with about a pint of water (hot preferred) in clear glasses, sitting until all is thoroughly dissolved. The deleterious matter in the inferior Soda will be shown after settling some twenty minutes or sooner, by the milky appearance of the solution and the quantity of floating fleecy matter according to quality.

Be sure and ask for Church & Co's Soda and Saleratus and see that their name is on the package and you will get the purest and whitest made. The use of this with sour milk, in preference to Baking Powder, saves twenty times its cost.

See one pound package for valuable information and read carefully.

SHOW THIS TO YOUR GROCER.
