Found Gagged and Bound.

Information has reached Lebanon from near Union Deposit, Dauphin county, of the finding, in an exhausted condition, of Samuel Smith, a Dunkard, who resides in the handsome brick mansion of Mr. John H. Yingst, cast Cumberland street. Mr. Smith is a son-in-law of Henry O. Light, and for several days has been missing from home, his whereabouts not being known to any one. On Sunday while a party of people were coming from a love feast they came upon this almost exhausted man, who had rolled from a steep hill to the foot of it. He was bound in chains, and was gagged in such a manner as to be unable to talk, and a closer examination revealed the fact that the pocket of his vest had been cut out, and in doing this, his side was punctured sufficiently to draw blood and soil his vest and linen. The gag was fastened in his mouth by means of a stout piece of wire which was dextrously drawn around the back of the head where it was firmly twisted, and making it almost impossible for Mr. Smith to release himself, even if he had the free use of his hands, which, as before stated, were tied together. When found he was in a semi-conscious condition, frothing from the mouth and unable to give any intelligent information regarding himself, even after the gag was removed. Finally he was asked whether he could read and write, to which he replied with a nod of the head that he could, when paper and pencil were given him and he wrote down the name Samuel Smith. A physician was immediately summoned, when he revived sufficiently to state that he had been brought by a party in a spring wagon to the top of the hill and there left in his helpless condition. It is believed that he was the victim of a conspiracy; that he was gagged by the party and then robbed. The chains were cut from him with axes and great excitement existed in the neighborhood over the affair.

How to Cook a Husband.

The first thing to do is to catch him ! Many a good husband is spoiled in the cooking. Some woman keep them constantly in hot water, while others freeze them with conjugal coldness; some smother them with contention, and still others keep them in a pickle all their lives. These women serve them with tougue sauce .--Now, it is not to be supposed that husbands will be tender and good if treated in this way; but they are, on the contrary, very delicious when managed as follows: Get a large jar, called the jar of carefulness; place your husband in it, and place him near the fire of conjugal love; let the fire be pretty hot, especially let it be clear; above all, let the heat be constant; cover him over with affection; garnish him over with the spice of pleasantry, and if you add kisses and other confections let them be accompanied with a sufficient portion of secrecy, mixed with prudence and moderation.

Turned the Joke.

The late famous Rev. Dr. Macdonald was croasing at Kessock on one of his frequent journeys. The day was very stormy and there was difficulty in getting the boat across. An old woman, one of the passengers, quoted the saying that " where there were black coats there was always bad weather," and asked the doctor if he could give any reason for it. He answered with babitual quickness that "ministers. are at war with Satan, and that he suppossd the latter, as prince of the power of the air, was at the bottom of the matter."-Coming back some time after, the day being fine, the old woman was there again, and this time quietly remarked, to the discomfiture of the doctor, "I see you have made your peace with the prince of the power of the air."

A Plucky Woman Goes Gunning For a Tramp.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 25. - In East Greenwich, this morning a tramp entered the farm house of Charles T. Hopkins, and when Mrs. Hopkins returned after a brief absence she found him gathering up the spoons and other silver. He turned on her threw her down, pounded her shockingly and stripped off her clothing, when she told him he could have the money which was in the house if he would let her get up. Eager for the money he relaxed his hold, when she seized a loaded gun. The tramp tried to wrest it from her, but unable to do so he sprang from a window, when Mrs. Hopkius fired. He gave a scream and fled to the woods, where a search is now being made for him. A doctor was summoned for the brave woman. She is dangerously hurt.

Didn't Know about Beans.

A citizen of Visalia, Cal., who was not raised on a farm, is growing a vegetable garden. Recently he planted some beans, The morning after the heavy rain, on examining his garden, he found that they had aprouted and that the beans were being pushed above the ground. He had nover seen a bean growing before and not understanding what made them come up, be went around the patch and pushed them all back into the ground with his finger .-His wife expresses the opinion that that particular patch of "early six-weeks beans will prove a failure."

Literary Revolution and Universal Knowledge.

An Encyclopædia in 20 vols., over 16,000 pages; 10 per cent more matter than any Encyclopædia ever before published in this country, and sold, handsomely and well bound, in cloth for $10, in half morocco for $15, and printed on fine heavy paper, wide margins, bound in half Russia, glit top, for $20—an enterprise so extraordinary that its success, beyond all precedent in book publishing, may be fairly claimed to inaugurate a Literary Revolution.

The Library of Universal Knowledge is a reprint entire of the last (1879) Edinburgh edition of "Chamber's Encyclopædia," with about 40 per cent of new matter added, upon topics of special interest to American readers, thus making it equal in character to any similar work, better than any other suited to the wants of the great majority of those who consult works of reference, and altogether the latest Encyclopædia in the field.

SPECIMEN VOLUMES in either style wil be sent for examination with privilege of return on receipt of proportionate price per volume.

SPECIAL BISCOUNTS to early subscribers, and extra discounts to clubs. Full particulars with descriptive earlague of many other standard works equally low in price, sent free Leading Principles of the AMERICAN BOOK EXCHANGE;

III. Sell to buyers direct, and save them the 50 or 60 per cent commission commonly allowed III. Sell to buyers direct, and save then the to dealers.

IV. The cost of books when made 10,000 at a time is but a fraction of the cost when made 500 at a time—adopt the low price and sell the large quantity.

V. Use good type, paper, etc., do careful printing, and strong, neat binding, but avoid all "padding," fat and heavily-leaded type, spongy paper and gaudy binding, which are so commonly resorted to to make books appear large and fine, and which add greatly to their cost, but do not add to their value.

VI. To make $1$ and a friend is better than to make $5$ and an enemy.
