

Girls in the Wine Vats.

A resident in Italy vouches for the following: In the vineyards in Perugia the girls mount ladders and clip the rich bunches, dropping them into the baskets. With industrious workers one day is enough to clear an average vineyard. When the grapes are gathered in they are carefully picked from the stems for the pressing. This last process is the same primitive, simple operation that was performed by the patriarch Noah. The grapes are thrown into an enormous vat, where the juice is tramped out of them by the bare feet. At this stage of the vintage you may see hundreds of the young ladies of the City of Perugia coming forth in groups in the morning, beaming with pleasant mystery and excitement.

Your ordinary tourist, whose only intellectual and instructive pabulum is gathered from the guide books, has not the remotest conception of their object. He may think they are out for an early constitutional. But early constitutionals are not the rage with Italian ladies. Shall I tell you the secrets of all that mystery and excitement? They are off to the country to tread in the wine presses. It is a novel holiday to them, besides being a most salutary exercise. Even prim old dowagers are known to "wade in" and banish the rheumatism by a half day's exercise in the wine press. Apart from the healthful exercise of tramping, the new mash acts as a bath to the limbs, while the up-rising fumes are considered eminently stomachic. After the treading performance these ladies wash themselves in hot wine, taking a moderate decoction internally for the stomach's sake. The effect is pleasant and rejuvenating, and is especially noticeable in the vim with which they participate in the dance, which is the usual sequel to treading in the wine press.

A Sinking Town.

Honeybrook, a village near Hazleton, has experienced a terrible earth-sink from robbing the mines underneath. On Sunday morning a street and the houses on either side settled from four to eight feet, and were twisted out of shape, some having nearly tipped over. Families rushed in terror from their homes, running falling, screaming and crying, and furniture in the houses was turned topsy turvy. Fifteen blocks of houses were moved more or less, and two hundred yards of street have been thrown into hillocks and gullies. Great cracks extend half a mile athwart the village. Strange to say, no one was seriously injured. At the latest advices the mines under another part of the town were "working," and it was expected that another and more serious settlement of the surface would take place, involving greater danger to lives and property. — Scranton Republican of the 9th inst.

Saw a boy Drown and Would not Save Him.

While bathing at the foot of Bridge avenue, in Camden, last week, a 7 year old boy named Dory Max, who could swim but little, was carried out by the tide and drowned. One of his companions, aged 13, started to help him, at the same time calling upon a man in a boat near by to render the drowning lad aid. The man answered, "Let him drown if he can't stay away from here," and the boy sank before his companion reached him.

Hard on Attorneys.

An old attorney said, a little before his death, that he had been reckoned a very great rascal, and believed he was so, for he had done many roguish and infamous things in his profession; "but," said he, "by what I can observe of the rising generation, the time may come, and you may live to see it, when I shall be accounted a very honest man in comparison with those attorneys who are to succeed me."

A colored bootblack in Richmond the other day picked up a secondhand seegar in the gutter, went into a beer saloon, and asked for a match. The proprietor said "we don't keep matches to give away." "Do you sell them?" inquired Blackey. They sold them, and he bought a two-cent box, took out one, lit his seegar, and returned the box to the proprietor, saying, "Next time a gent'man asks you for a match, jes give him one out'er my box." They haven't got done teasing that saloon-keeper yet about the way he treats "gent'men," white and colored.

A boy at St. James, Watonwan county, Minn., was struck by lightning, while plowing in the field, and his hair and clothes partly burned off. The boy was apparently dead, but a doctor was summoned who took the body and laid it in a newly-plowed furrow and covered it with fresh earth up to the neck. In a half-hour the boy showed signs of life, and at last reports had partly recovered.

Wm. Boehm, of Quarryville, Lancaster county, is the owner of a pair of very large German rabbits, two or three times as large as our ordinary rabbit. On Tuesday of last week the female gave birth to seven little long-eared bunnies, and on Sunday, five days afterwards, as-toulished her owner by giving birth to fourteen more.

MEDICAL NOTICE!

DR. O. P. BOLLINGER, Having located permanently in

NEW BLOOMFIELD,

Offers his professional services to the citizens of the Borough and surrounding country.

Dr. B. has been engaged in an extensive practice for over 35 years. He has also served his country in the capacity of Surgeon to the 75th Pa. Vol. Infantry during the late Rebellion, holding his Commission from the then Governor of this Commonwealth. His credentials are from one of the best Medical Colleges in America. His success as a practitioner of medicine is acknowledged by recommendations from former patrons, which are free for inspection at all times.

IN THE TREATMENT OF

he has had very extensive experience, and has cured many hopeless cases, after years of suffering, and expense incurred in seeking relief elsewhere.

Among the many chronic complaints treated successfully are Asthma, Bronchitis, Laryngitis, Hemorrhage of the Lungs, Consumption, (first and second stages), Heart Disease, Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Melancholia, Scrofula or King's Evil, Skin Diseases, Chronic Rheumatism, Gout, or enlargement of the Glands of the Neck, Dropsy, Piles, chronic Diarrhoea, Constipation of the Bowels, Sick and Nervous Headache, Neuralgia, Diseases of Females, Turbidity, Chronic Discharge, Enlarged Spleen, Epilepsy, Deafness, Chronic Chills and Ague, Diabetes Mellitus, old running sores, Tapeworms removed.

Dr. B. does not confine himself to any one particular system of medicine. He uses all the late improved methods and remedies, as also Magneto-Electric, or which is so successfully used at the present day in many forms of nervous complaints, in the treatment of the Lungs and air passages he uses which carries the medicine direct to the diseased parts.

When an incurable case presents itself he is free and candid in telling the patient that he cannot cure him, thus avoiding further expense.

In chronic ailments it is always best for patients to call at his office for personal examination and treatment, when that is practicable.
