Brodie Crawford of Mifflintown started for this place on Monday of last week, but was taken with a severe hemorrhage at Newport and was obliged to return home

Mr. Jacob Markel drives a mule hitch-ed to a sulky, as he travels through Juniata county to take the census. A few days ago the mule suddenly got on his knees going down a hill and Jacob kept right on his way, landing in ad-vance of his steed. The mule got up first and left his driver in the rear with some bruises as a remembrance.

A German emigrant woman gave birth to a child on the Pacific express train over the Penn'a. R. R., on Bun-day morning. The affair happened near Latrobe. The front part of the smok-ing car was utilized for the occasion, and the mother and child were getting along finely when leat heard from finely when last heard from.

There was buried recently in Harris-burg, an infant six weeks old, fully and beautifully developed, which did not weigh three pounds, and the length of which was a fraction less than eight inches. The head was covered with fine curly hair, the cheeks were full and the hands plump, but the latter were not larger than the nail on a delicately formed, ordinary-sized lady's hand.

Shoulder Dislocated. - On Saturday, Mr. Geo. B. Arnold of Centre twp., while engaged in raking, was thrown from his rake and had his shoulder dislocated. The accident was caused by the mule he was driving getting scared and running way. Mr. A. was also considerably bruised but was not seriously injured.

Enterprising Firm .- Messrs. Stephens & Beetem, of Carlisle, have leased a large building on Mulbery alley, in rear of the Episcopal church, which is being fitted up preparatory to placing a number of looms in it, for the manufacture of rag carpet. We understand that the new factory will start with four looms. From such a start many a great industry has sprung .- Sentinel.

Mad Dog Shot .- On Monday last, says the Opinion, as Al. Carbaugh was passing along the road about two and a half miles from town, and in the vicinity of Samuel Leshers, in Green township he discovered a large white dog on the road exhibiting symptoms of being mad. The animal was foaming at the mouth, and had bitten itself severely in the side. Carbaugh went to the house of Mr. Lesher, and procuring a shot gun, went back and killed the animal.

Cut with a Razor .- Mr. Wm. McKnight one of the proprietors of the Pennsylvania Vaccine Farm, at this place, met with quite a serious accident on Thursday evening last. He was engaged in shaving a heifer preparatory to vaccinating her to get the virus, when she got one of her feet loose and kicked Mr. McKnight on the hand in which he held the razor. The instrument flew up into his face cutting a considerable gash and severing an artery in his cheek. He was taken to his home, and medical aid summoned. The wound was dressed, and the gentleman is improving rapidly .- Repository.

A Gas Explosion .- The Chambersburg Herald of Friday says : Yesterday morning when the foreman of the furnace was ready to cast he notified the engineer of the fact. As there was too heavy an accumulation of gas, the engineer should have notified the filler at the top, who would have dropped the bell and allowed the extra gas to pass out at the hopper. Instead of that he saw what was coming and skedaddled into the engine room just in time. The gas rushed down the pipes to the boiler and exploded. The bricks and dust flew' in all directions and the shock was plainly felt by the people living a square away. A mass of smoke shot twenty feet above the smoke stack of the flour mill. Nobody seemed anxious to fool around the concerns, but by opening up the stack all danger was removed and the slight damages were repaired. Those who were in the immediate neighborhood said that it felt like the shock of an earthquake. A Monster Worm .- The Mifflin Democrat & Register says : Wm. A. Patton, a young man twenty-two years old, and a son of Thomas Patton, of Spruce Hill twp., left his home last fall and located at Great Bend, Kansas. At the time he left this county his health was bad. Since living in Kansas he continued growing worse until within the past three or four weeks, when he went and consulted a physician about his case. The doctor informed him his sickness was caused from a tapeworm, and treated him for the same. He required Mr. Patton to fast forty-eight hours,-not allowing him to eat a particle of food, after which he took a dose of medicine as prescribed by the physician. He took the medicine at 6 o'clock in the morning and by 6 o'clock in the evening, sixteen feet of the worm had passed from him in sections, shortly after which time twenty-four feet more of the worm came from him at one time, making the entire length of the worm forty feet. His father received a letter from him last week informing him of the above facts. The letter further stated, that since he was rid of the huge monster, he felt like a new-born man ; had a good regular appetite, and was growing in weight rapidly. The above information we received direct from Mr. Thomas Patton, who was in our town on Wednesday last.

A Bad Arrangement .- Monday of last week there was a slight change made in the Pennsylvania railroad schedule .--The Atlantic Express, which leaves Newport at 9.50 P. M., will not run east of Harrisburg. Passengers going to New York or Philadelphia will lay over for Philadelphia Express, which leaves Harrisburg at 1.05 A. M., or two hours later. This is a bad arrangement for this county, as it now has only one through connection for the east, from its main station. Duncannon is favored with the Pacific Express going east and is consequently that much better off with railroad accommodation. When the railroad is built from here to Newport it is probable more trains will be stopped at that station as a junction of another R. R. always brings more business to a place and compels greater accommodations from a through road .---Let us have the branch R. R.

Mash Up. - Tuesday morning last Misses Annie and Adda Thompson, daughters of Maj. Robert Thompson of Watts township, met with a mishap near the residence of A. V. Hombach, in Howe township, which was of a serious nature, but might have been worse. It seems that the ladies were driving along the road towards the river, when their horse took fright and ran away, upsetting the buggy and throwing both ladies out, one of whom was caught by the top and dragged a short distance. The horse ran to Hombach's stable, where he brought up against the weather-boarding with considerable force, and was secured by Mrs. Hombach before he could back out. After securing the animal Mrs, H. turned her attention to the ladies, who were taken into the house and washed off, when it was found that one of them sustained a bad cut on her head, from which the blood flowed down over her face and clothes, and the other lady had some painful bruises about her person. Although they were considerably scratched and bruised, and the harness and buggy much broken, they fixed up as well as they could, and started on their homeward road. A gentleman led the horse down the road towards the pottery. How they reached home has not yet been reported. We trust their injuries are not serious .- Ledger.

Remarkable Request Carried Out .- Solomon McNaughton, who was buried in the stone church graveyard, on the Middle Ridge, on Tuesday of this week, was buried in the same grave in which the mortal remains of his grandfather had been deposited some fifty-two years before. This was in accordance with a request Mr. McNaughton made some time previous to his death. In the digging down the grave makers found portions of the coffin in which the grandfather had been buried, and some bones were all that were there indicating that a human being had mouldered into dust in the sepulchre prepared half a century afterward to receive the corpse of the grandson.-News.

Lost on the Mountain .- The Harrisburg Patriot of Friday says : Yesterday the O. U. A. M. of this city held a picnic

The C. V. S. S. Assembly .- The second annual session of the Cumberland Valley Sunday School Assembly, which is interdenominational, will be held July 12-17, on the Oakville Camp Ground, on the line of the C. V. R. R. The most eminent talent of the country has been engaged for the occasion, which will be one of rare interest, not only to Sunday School workers, but to all who wish to enjoy a rich intellectual treat under the most pleasant circumstances and at a mere nominal cost. Excursion tickets will be issued on the leading railroad lines. "The Normal Guide," containing all the lessons of the Normal Course, a valuable book, will be sent postpaid to any address on receipt of ten cents. For the "Guide," or any particulars con-cerning the Assembly, address, Rev. W. Maslin Frysinger, Cor. Sec., Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

Juniata County .- We copy the following from the Juniata county papers of lnst week :

During the prevalence of the storm which passed through a portion of the Tuscarora Valley about noon on Satur-day last, two fine cows and two head of young cattle belonging to Mr. Jacob Heinbach tenanton Mr. Henry Ebberts' farm in Spruce Hill township, were killed by the lightning striking a tree under which the cattle had taken shelter. shelter.

One day last week Miss Annie Landis, daughter of Mr. John Landis, of Tur-bett township, while engaged in picking cherries felt the limb on which she was standing giving way, and in order to save herself from falling she jumped to the ground, spraining one of her ankles very badly, since which time she has not been able to go about much.

Mr. McMurtrie, of the Juniata House supposed his cow had strayed and ad-vertised for her, but strange to say, the advertisement failed to find her. Adadvertisement failed to find her. Ad-vertising was thought to be a failure but printers knew better. They said the notice hadn't a fair chance, and so it proved, for after a lapse of a few weeks, he found little bits of the cow he recog-nized, on the railroad above Patterson.

While Robt. H. Patterson, the enterprising young merchant of Pern Mill, was in Philadelphia last week, he met with a very severe accident. He was out at Fairmount Park and in descend-ing a terrace his foot caught and threw him down, a distance of several feet.— His left arm was pronounced several leet.— His left arm was pronounced severely sprained by a surgeon, but next day a further examination was made, on ac-count of its painfulness, when it was discovered that the arm was broken close up to the shoulder joint. He was compelled to stay in the city on account of the infurzy of the injury.

Cumberland County .- We copy the fo!lowing from the Cumberland papers of last week :

While a number of boys were playing with a toy cannon on Thursday last, it exploded, severely injuring about the face, Elmer, son of Nathan Adams, liv-ing on East North street.

Wm. Wonderlich, of New Kingston, on Friday last, June 11, cut and shocked a field of wheat. This is the first cut-ting of wheat we have heard of this summer, and we doubt if that cereal has ever been harvested earlier in this county.

During the storm of Saturday after-noon John Spahr, (of William) was working on a kiln at one of the brick yards in the eastern part of town and was blown therefrom by the hurricane prevailing, nothing daunted, and not hurt muchly, he mounted the kiln again and was again blown off, this time re(Reported by Ches. H. Builley, Reg. T

Court Proceedings .- The special Court called for Monday the 21st inst., con-vened at 7 o'clock A. M., and in a session of a few minutes disposed of the following business:

Inquisition in lunacy on Joseph Seiler confirmed and Michael Seiler appointed Induiting the Michael Seiler appointed his committee. Rule granted on Wm. Lodge, assignee of Michael Bitting to show cause why the real estate to him should not be vacated, or other relief furnished to pro-tect him in the said purchase. Calvin Nellson, Esq., appointed a commissioner to take testimouy in the matter of the rule granted to show cause why John R. Logan should not be sub-rogated to the rights of the plaintiff in the judgment of Wm. H. Minich vs. Samuel Daniels, No. 289 April term 1876. A decree was made authorizing Geo. Earnest, guardian of Laura B. Bryner, who was discharged upon his own appli-cation to pay the balance due his ward into court.

Mr. James Young, of Middletown, Inst week shipped 23 head of cattle being the last of 552 head fed by Mr. Young this season. The average weight of the outdo non-done non-done weight of the eattle was 1,500 pounds.

A horse belonging to Mr. W. J. Har-ter, of Greenwood township, after help-ing to haul a load of bark to Newport, was taken sick and died. It was a valuable animal.

The army worm has made its appeartown, Cumberland county, in numbers sufficient to create much alarm among the farmers.

Even the people of Mexico have waked up to the importance of railroads. We wonder if the Mexicans could not impart a little of their zeal and energy to some of the people of this valley.

Brick thieves are troubling the brick makers in Newport. Six or eight hun-dred were carted away a few nights since from the yard of W. O. Rhoades, Who the thief was he would be glad to know.

Mr. Andrew Coller, of Ickesburg, lost a very valuable horse in Patterson by death, on Thursday. This is six horses he has lost within the past year, which appears to be more than his share, and which has fallen heavily upon him.

Thieves broke into the office of the coal company at Losh's Run on Wednes-day night. Papers and books were strewn around in the hunt for valuables which could not be found, because they were not there.

During the session of the Chicago Convention, the citizens of this place were indebted to the kindness of Miss Light at Newport for prompt informa-tion regarding the ballots. We presume she will this week give us similar tele-graphic reports of the Cincinnati doings.

Mr. John Minich took six fine driving horses to Harrisburg last week, and among them was the handsome pair of matches that were so greatly admired in this town. They were sold to George Roads of Connecticut for $550. The other horses brought fancy prices too.

If you cannot come to town and want a pretty Lawn dress, Laces for trimming &c., send for samples, to F. Mortimer.

at Mont Alto park, which was largely attended. John Kurzenknabe, aged 14, son of Prof. J. H. Kurzenknabe, of this city, and Lizzie Sharon, of Montgomery's Ferry, Perry county, employed in Harrisburg as housekeeper for Mr. J. S. Mikle, were at the picnic and during the afternoon strayed off into the woods together. They were last seen at 3 p.m. gathering laurels flowers on the mountain side at Pearl Spring, about two and one-half miles from the picnic grounds. They were not missed until 5 o'clock, when an alarm was at once given. Colonel Wiestling, who lives at Mont Alto, at once sent out four men to search for the wanderers, so the train was delayed until 6:30 in the hope of hearing something of their whereabouts. But no tidings came. Mr. Mikle then made arrangements to have them sent home on the next train, if they were found, and the picnicers left for Harrisburg. When the late train arrived in this city over the Cumberland Valley road Mr. Mikle received word that the missing ones had not been found. He telegraphed back that the search should be continued all night .--Col. Wiestling then put out a large force to scour the mountains, and between ten and eleven o'clock Mr. Mikle received a telegram stating that the country for three miles around Mont Alto had been thoroughly searched and still the lost were not found. Up to one o'clock this morning nothing further had been been had been heard.

[The missing parties were found next morning, having spent the night at a farm house they reached about ten o'clock.—Ed. TIMES.]

ceiving a severe cut on his forehead, and Nothing serious is likely to result, though he is very sore.

In Carlisle on Monday last, two colored men named Charley Andrews and James Johnson engaged in a fisticuff in James Johnson engaged in a fisticulf in which Johnson got the better of An-drews. Andrews left the scene and secured a razor, when he returned and commenced talking to Johnson express-ing himself as satisfied, until he got close enough to his intended victim, when he drew the razor and commenced an attack on him; he succeeded in in-flicting a severe wound on Johnson's flicting a severe wound on Johnson's arm between the wrist and elbow. Andrews was arrested, and gave ball for his appearance in court.

A sad and terrible accident happened A sad and terrible accident happened to Mr. Joseph M'Cune, of Newton twp., on Saturday last during the storm. Mr. M'Cune was in the act of closing the large doors of his barn, when a sudden and heavy blast of wind drove the door against him with such force as to fracture his skull, and otherwise injure him. He remained unconscious until nine o'clock in the evening when nature gave way to the shock, and he passed from life to death. The accident occur-ed at about 2 P. M. His remains were taken to the Presbyterian graveyard at Middle Springs.

On Wednesday night last, after War-ren Carter's family had retired to bed, but before any of them had time to get to sleep, the young man in the employ of Mr. C., heard a noise outside of the house. In a few minutes later he was confronted by a man coming in at the window. Johnny (for that is the young man's name) raised op in bed and bade him in a sharp manner to get out : but him in a sharp manner to get out; but instead of obeying his command, the thief, or would be thief, or murderer or whatever might have been his inten-tions, stood there looking very deflant.— But Johnny told him if he did not go he would shoot and by this time he was The thief immediately jumped down from the window and beat a hasty re-treat down through the yard and our hero with the pistol sent a bullet after him. There were two men seen to run, and a pair of pantaloons left lying on the cellar door. The owner of these pants can get them by calling and prov-ing property and stating reasons for the visit.
